No. Medl. 429/6A-4/49.—4th February 1949.—The following revised rules for the co-option of members of the General Council and State Faculty of Ayurvedic Medicine, West Bengal, which the Governor is pleased to make in supersession of notification No. 1424Medl., dated the 18th May 1944, under sub-clause (iii) of clause (a) of sub-section (2) of section 29 of the Statutes promulgated with Government resolution No. 315-Medl., dated the 2nd February 1937, as subsequently amended, are published for general information:—

Rules for the co-option of members under clause (f) of section 2 of the Statutes of the General Council and State Faculty of Ayurvedic Medicine, West Bengal.

1. After the publication of the names of the members of the General Council and State Faculty of Ayurvedic Medicine, West Bengal, elected, appointed and nominated under clauses (b) to (e) of section 2 of the Statutes of the Council, a meeting of these members shall be held for the co-option of two members under clause (f) of that section.

2. The meeting shall be held at the office of the Ayurvedic Council on a date fixed by the President or in his absence the Vice-President of the Council, which shall be within three weeks from the date of publication of the names of members, elected, appointed or nominated under clauses (b) to (e) of section 2 of the Statutes of the Council. Necessary notices shall be issued by the Registrar to all the members at least ten days before the date fixed for the meeting.

3. The presence of at least six members shall be necessary to form a quorum for the purpose of this meeting.

4. The President, or in his absence, the Vice-President, shall be the Chairman of the meeting and in absence of both the members present shall elect one from amongst them as their Chairman.

5. Nomination of candidates for co-option as members shall be in writing in Form No. 1 herewith annexed and shall be signed by the proposer and seconder who must be members of the Council and also by the candidate. All nomination papers must be sent so as to reach the Registrar of the Council not later than 3 p.m. on the fourth day before the date of the meeting.

6. Nomination papers shall be supplied by the Registrar of the Council to any member applying therefor.

7. Each nomination paper shall contain one nomination only but any member may nominate two, but not more than two, candidates for co-option by means of separate nomination papers, provided that if two candidates are nominated or seconded by the same member one of them must be a registered Ayurvedic practitioner. If any member nominates more than two candidates all the nominations by that member shall be void.

8. The nomination papers shall be scrutinised by the President of the Council who shall reject any nomination paper in respect of which there has been any contravention of the procedure herein prescribed.

9. The Register shall then cause ballot papers to be prepared in Form No. 2 herewith annexed containing the names of all candidates duly nominated for co-option as members. The Chairman shall read out these names at the meeting and if the number of candidates so nominated be two of which at least one is a registered Ayurvedic practitioner or if the number be reduced to two including at least one registered Ayurvedic practitioner by the withdrawal at or before the meeting of any of the candidates nominated for co-option he shall forthwith declare these two candidates to be duly co-opted.

10. (a) If there be only one candidate, whether a registered Ayurvedic practitioner or not, for whom valid nomination has been received, the Chairman shall declare him to be duly co-opted and the failure of co-option in respect of the other seat shall be reported to the Provincial Government for appointing a person in the seat remaining vacant.

(b) If there be more than two candidates, for whom valid nomination papers have been received, but all of whom happen to be registered Ayurvedic practitioners, the Chairman shall hold a ballot in the manner laid down in rule 9 and declare the two candidates having the largest number of votes as duly co-opted. In case of equality of votes the co-option shall be decided by lot.

(c) If there be two or more candidates for whom valid nominations have been received, but none of whom is a registered Ayurvedic practitioner, the Chairman shall hold a ballot in the manner laid down in rule 9, and declare the candidate having the largest number of votes as duly co-opted. In case of equality of votes, the co-option shall be decided by lot. The failure to co-opt a registered Ayurvedic practitioner shall then be reported to the Provincial Government for appointing such a person in the vacant seat.

11. If there be more than two candidates duly nominated of which at least one is registered Ayurvedic practitioner the Chairman shall call upon the members present to record their votes:

Provided that if only one registered Ayurvedic practitioner is duly nominated he shall forthwith be declared to be duly co-opted to the seat reserved for such practitioners. The members shall thereupon be asked to record their votes for co-option of a member to the remaining seat.

12. Voting shall be by ballot in Form No. 2 herewith annexed. Each member shall have not more than two votes, provided that if he exercises both the votes one of them must be given to a registered Ayurvedic practitioner. No member shall give more than one vote to any one candidate.

13. Each member shall place on the ballot paper a cross against the name or names of the candidate or candidates for whom he votes, shall fold the counterfoil so as to conceal the votes recorded, sign his name on the back of the counterfoil, and shall then deliver the ballot paper to the Chairman.

The voting paper shall be invalid if (i) the mark × is placed opposite the names of more than two candidates, or (ii) it is so placed as to render it doubtful to which candidate such mark is intended to apply. If however, only one out of two cross marks on a ballot paper is doubtfully placed then the vote indicated by that mark only shall be cancelled by the Chairman.

14. The Chairman if he be a member of the reconstituted Council shall be entitled to vote.

15. As soon as the ballot papers have been delivered to the Chairman he shall, in the order hereinafter specified,—

(1) reject any voting paper which is unsigned or of which the counterfoil is not properly folded;

(2) tear off the counterfoils containing the signatures and place them apart from the voting papers proper;

(3) reject any voting paper which is irregularly marked or is wholly void for uncertainty;

(4) read out the names of the candidates against which the mark × has been validly placed; and

(5) count the votes.

16. The candidate duly nominated from among the registered Ayurvedic practitioners who secures the largest number of votes shall first be declared by the Chairman to be duly co-opted to the seat reserved for such practitioners. Of the remaining candidates, the person for whom the largest number of votes has been recorded shall then be declared to be co-opted to the other seat irrespective of the fact whether he is a registered Ayurvedic practitioner or not.

17. Where an equality of votes is found to exist between any candidates and the addition of one vote will entitle any of those candidates to be declared co-opted the determination of the person or persons to whom such one additional vote shall be deemed to have been given shall be made by lot to be drawn at the meeting in such manner as the Chairman shall determine.

18. The names of the persons co-opted shall be forthwith communicated by the Chairman to the Registrar of the Council who shall report these to the Provincial Government for publication in the Calcutta Gazette.

19. The ballot papers shall be made over by the Chairman to the Registrar of the Council and shall thereafter be preserved in the Council's office for three months unless their retention for a longer period is found to be necessary.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 547Lab.—8th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 135-Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and their associate firms specified in column 1 in the two lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said order, and their clerical and all subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some trade unions mentioned against firms in column 2 of the lists aforementioned, and others represented by such other registered trade unions as might have been permitted by the Industrial Tribunal hereafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, were referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, as Chairman and Sri Sailes Chandra Chakravarti and Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, Additional District Judges, as members;

And whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having no longer been available, the said Chairman and Sri Sailes Chandra Chakravarti, another member aforesaid, have given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between two of the firms mentioned hereinbefore, namely, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, Royal Exchange, Calcutta, being item No. 247 and the Tata Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., 102A, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, being item No. 156, both of list No. 1 aforementioned and their employees, as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the firms aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial disputes between the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, 2, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Indian Employees' Union, 2, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and in the matter of the Tata Iron and Steel Company, Ltd., 102A, Netaji Subhas Road, and their employees.

PRESENT:

SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,

AND

SRI SAILES CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI, Member.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal by order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, constituted a Tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman, and Sri Sailes Chandra Chakravarti and Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta as members to adjudicate upon the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms had been divided in two lists in the Government order. Some of the firms compounded their differences with the employees while the employees did not come to us in a number of cases. These cases have already been disposed of by awards made from time to time.

Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members, had been absent and as his services were not available, the matter was heard by the Chairman and the other member. Leaving aside few stray cases the employees came to be represented in three groups:—Mercantile Employees' Federation, Bank Employees' Federation and the Federation of the Insurance Company Employees.

At a certain stage a question arose about competency of the Tribunal to deal with the cases of individual firms separately. We decided that this was a collection of references of separate disputes and we could deal with different firms separately. To this view we still adhere.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce (No. 247 of list No. 1) is an association for the advancement of trade and all the different firms are affiliated to it. Bengal Chamber of Commerce exercises a guiding influence over other firms. It frames scales of pay and condition of service of clerical and subordinate staff and recommends them to its constituent members. The expectations are that the constituent firms will respect the recommendations though there are members who do not follow these recommendations. On behalf of the employers it was argued that if the case of Bengal Chamber of Commerce were taken up first and an award made, this might resolve the disputes of many of the firms. It was pointed out that at this stage the award of the Tribunal which will hear all the cases will be more persuasive than the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce. To this course the different Federations agreed; only if the case of Tata Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. (No. 156 of list No. 1), was also considered. Both parties having agreed to this, the Tribunal had nothing to object. The Tribunal had to take up cases one after another and as the parties settled the order of precedence the Tribunal accepted it.

For Bengal Chamber of Commerce: Mr. S. Chowdhury, Counsel, with Mr. Ginwallah, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For Tata Iron and Steel Co., Ltd.: Mr. S. Chowdhury, Counsel, instructed by Mr. S. N. Bose, Solicitor.

For the Federation of Mercantile Employees: Mr. N. De and Mr. B. K. Chowdhury, Counsel, instructed by the Federation office-bearers.

Amongst the various issues the following are necessary for the two firms:—

(1) Pay.
(2) Dearness allowance.
(3) Retiring benefits and benefits on termination of service.
(4) Bonus: past, present and future.
(5) Canteen and tiffin.
(6) Accommodation allowance.
(7) Children's education facilities.
(8) Medical aid.
(9) Working hours and holidays and overtime.
(10) Leave.
(11) Travelling allowance on duty as also on leave.
(12) Service conditions—
  (a) Probation and confirmation;
  (b) Service record;
  (c) Enquiry before punishment;
(13) Recruitment rules: Recruitment, promotion and transfer.

(14) Dismissal, discharge and retrenchment or other punishments.

(15) Uniforms and umbrellas for menials.

(16) Can this Tribunal adjudicate on firms covered by the award of the Engineering Tribunal, if published?

(17) Recognition of the Unions as also jurisdiction of the Tribunal to order for recognition.

(18) Jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate against the following firms:—

(1) * (2) * (3) * (4) * (5) Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

(19) to (26) * * * * .

(27) Adjustment of pay and allowance—

AWARD FOR BENGAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Issues Nos. 1 to 8.—Pay, dearness allowance, bonus, canteen and tiffin, accommodation allowance, children's education facilities, medical aid, retiring benefits and benefits on termination of service.

Formerly people with little education entered the services of mercantile firms. As education spread more people obtained higher education. As they did not find occupation, they tried to enter the firms as clerks. The management also found it more convenient and advantageous to give employment to better educated persons on the same pay. Standard of living improved and a consciousness that they by their position in society and education were entitled to better emoluments intensified. These were accentuated by the effects of World War No. II. Calcutta was the supply base for the eastern theatre of war and wages rose very high. On account of inflation and paucity of production of civilian goods the prices jumped up very high. Though the employers responded to the rise in prices by grant of dearness allowance, the remedy was ineffectual to compensate for the rise wholly. This was felt very keenly by the clerical staff as very little margin was left after meeting bare necessaries. Thus from 1946 agitations were made for increase of emoluments.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce intended to introduce a pay scale on the basis of pre-war prices and then to compensate for the rise by dearness allowance. For this purpose Bengal Chamber of Commerce sought the help of "Capital", a weekly periodical. "Capital" took a large number of samples of living costs of clerks of mercantile firms. It came to the conclusion that Rs. 60 at pre-war level was the living cost of a middle class family. No doubt some good criticisms can be advanced against the procedure followed in arriving at this figure, but there is one significant point. More than one year after, the Central Pay Commission published their recommendations. They also suggested that Rs. 55 should be the minimum pay of clerks.

The initial salary of a clerk was Rs. 40 and pursuant to the investigations by the "Capital", Bengal Chamber of Commerce adopted some scales of pay. Bengal Chamber of Commerce has two departments, viz., (1) the General Department and (2) the Licensed Measurers Department. For the General Department the following scales were adopted:—

Special Grade—Rs. 250 and upwards; increments at the entire discretion of the Secretary.

Grade A—Rs. 150—10—250.

Grade B—Rs. 100—7—170.

Grade C—Rs. 60—4—124.

Grade D—Rs. 60—2—90.

Typists' grade—Rs. 70 to Rs. 250.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Licensed Measurers Department.

The basis on which the dearness allowance is calculated for clerical staff is:—

On the basis of every 10 point rise above the middle class cost of living index figure 180.

The index figures above 180 are divided into groups of 10 points each, i.e., the first group is 181—190, the 2nd 191—200, the 3rd 201—210 and so on until now the present group is 311—320. Now every time the middle class cost of living index figure moves into a higher group, the scale of dearness allowance is raised by 5 per cent. on the first 100, 2½ per cent. on the second 100 and 1¼ per cent. on the remainder of salary. Thus when the figure in August of 1946 stood in the group of 251—260 the scale of dearness allowance for clerical staff was 40 per cent. on the first 100, 20 per cent. on the 2nd 100 and 10 per cent. on the remainder of salary. At present, when the figure which is 331 stands within the group 331—340, the scale of dearness allowance recommended by the Chamber is 80 per cent. on the first 100, 40 per cent. on the second 100 and 20 per cent on the remainder of salary.

The minimum dearness allowance is calculated on the basis of an increase of Rs. 3 for every rise of the index figure into the next 10 point group. Thus when the index stood within the group 181—190 the minimum dearness allowance was Rs. 4 and in August of 1946, when the index figure stood within the group 251—260, the minimum dearness allowance was Rs. 25; when it moved into the group 291—300, it was Rs. 37 and now when the figure has moved into the group 331—340 the minimum dearness allowance allowable is Rs. 49.

Subordinate staff draw a flat rate of whatever is the minimum dearness allowance recommended under the sliding scale applied to the clerical staff. Thus, the minimum dearness allowance recommended in the case of clerical staff at present is Rs. 49 and the flat rate of dearness allowance given to subordinate staff is this amount. With the adoption of this scheme in 1946 the clerks of the General office were given a flat increment of Rs. 20. Increments were also granted to the subordinate staff. This, however, did not satisfy the employees who carried on agitation and the Tribunal came to be formed.

The demands of the employees are as follows:—

We should make reference to another episode. While the agitation was going on, Bengal Chamber of Commerce appointed a Committee to examine the service conditions and make recommendations. The recommendations were apparently accepted by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce when offer was made to employees for its acceptance. The employees did not accept it. Mr. Chowdhury for Bengal Chamber of Commerce contended that the offer was made at that time for purchasing peace and as it failed its purpose, it stood cancelled. We consider it necessary and expedient to reproduce the recommendations (vide Annexure A).

With all good intentions Bengal Chamber of Commerce as also the Committee were misled on one point. Salary should include house rent and this cannot be brushed aside by saying that clerks live in their own houses. Clerks living in own houses within the municipal area of Calcutta have got to pay for taxes and periodical repairs. Those coming from suburban areas have to pay less taxes but have to bear train fare and cost of repairs. In either case these houses have a letting value. If it is ruled that the employers should pay the employees proper salary which includes costs of feeding, clothing and housing, without reference to the private properties of the employees, ancestral or self-acquired, they cannot be deprived of the prospect of an extra income from their own houses.

Investigation by the "Capital" proceeded on the footing that the clerks lived in their own houses. "Capital" made no allowance for taxes and repairs. This was the initial mistake by the "Capital". When no allowance was made for taxes, repairs, train fares, etc., it was not necessary to examine if the assumption made by the "Capital" was correct. We, however, examined the position and found that about 25 to 30 per cent. of the clerks serving in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce lived in their own houses within the municipal limits of Calcutta. The assumption made by the "Capital" might have been true in remote past but not correct for the present.

The Committee in 1948 refused to consider the case of house rent as this was taken into consideration in fixing the salary. The Committee was misled on this point. The Committee had been thinking in a very rational way that house rent must have been taken into consideration in fixing the salary. Our examination reveals that there was a mistake which was overlooked. The Committee, it appears, was ignorant of the unjustifiable assumption made in collecting data for fixing the salary. We feel confident that if the Committee had been aware of this, provision would have been made for house rent allowance.

Rupees 10 at pre-war level may be taken as the rent for residence, the increase in cost being met from the dearness allowance.

We imagine that if facts had been placed, Bengal Chamber of Commerce would have fixed the initial salary at Rs. 70. We consider that the logical conclusion of Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme is to fix Rs. 70 as the starting pay for the clerks.

The figure Rs. 70 stands well in comparison with the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission for persons working in big cities like Calcutta and Bombay.

Inadequacy of the amount has been contended on the ground that Pay Commission arbitrarily took a low figure of dependants and considered a lower cost of living. The value of the investigation which will decide the fate of a large number of clerks employed in the country cannot be overlooked. It must be remembered that Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scheme of dearness allowance is more liberal than the Pay Commission scheme. In view of the fact that the firms do not plead incapacity to pay any amount found reasonable by the Tribunal, we have been asked to make a departure from the current wages system and fix a wage structure which may comfortably meet all the demands and aspirations. Special treatment to a section in the social circle to which it belongs may create an unrest and it will not be possible, till the national wealth per capita is increased, to raise everybody to that standard. Special treatment is not justified, for that may disturb the social structure.

It has been argued that these are firms of foreigners and by increasing the pay of clerks we would be preventing a drain of money from India. The only short answer is that judges are not politicians.

When a person enters service he is young and has no burden of educating children and of marrying daughters. These burdens arise as years advance and by increment in the salary additional costs are met. The reproach that the Pay Commission failed to take a realistic view of the number of members to be maintained by a clerk entering service for the first time has been exaggerated.

To meet all the needs of the worker, ignoring the value of the work may lead to the destruction of the industry. In this case we cannot think of the loss of any industry. Trading concerns may recoup the money by raising the price of commodities, i.e., by taxation on consumer public. Consumer public may make a just grievance that it should not be made to pay excess if the Company wants to pay more than the value of work.

The primary problem is to find the value of the work of a clerk. We are to fix the salary for the job and not for the man. We are convinced that a Matriculate can carry on the works of a clerk in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and that is the minimum qualification insisted. There may be graduates among the candidates and the employer may appoint men with higher qualification but this does not raise the value of the job. It is easy to find the value of labour when some tangible goods are produced. Such rules are not appropriate in assessing the value of a clerk's work. When there is so much unemployment, competitive hire value is unsatisfactory.

A fairly satisfactory way is to see what pay has been fixed for clerks by the other tribunals or by the Committee Reports. In the Imperial Bank case, the initial salary has been fixed at Rs. 70. In the Standard Vaccum case the initial pay has been fixed at Rs. 70. Rupees 70 compares favourably with the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission. Except for an award in Bombay Rs. 70 is the highest figure for clerks. There are lower figures for clerks in some awards. We may quote an extract from Applied Economics by Bye and Hewett (Fourth Edition), pp. 535 and 536, "It is possible to fix a wage by law and to enforce its payment by employers, provided it does not differ from prevailing market rates for the type of labour in question. * * * Higher wages induce them (employers) to dispense with certain marginal employees who are just barely worth their hire when the wages were lower * * *. If by compulsion we fix a higher wage than that which formerly prevailed, we simply raise the margin." This is also an answer to the contention of the Federation that the wage prevalent in the neighbouring comparable industries and fixed by awards should be ignored totally.

Initial pay of Rs. 70 with dearness allowance of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scale brings to the clerks advantages greater than Pay Commission scale and much greater than what the West Bengal Government can afford to pay their employees. We do think that on account of less security of service, greater efficiency required and less chances of the mediocre to rise to the top, the scale of pay in the mercantile firms should be more favourable than in Government offices. Therefore a little more favourable terms are justified. Under this scheme the clerks will get Rs. 70 as basic pay and at present Rs. 56 as dearness allowance totalling Rs. 126. This he will get when possibly he will have his wife only and may at best have a child.

A healthy scheme of pay includes all such items as accommodation, children's education, medical aid to the members of the families, etc. These as separate items are refused as we have made no exclusion of them in fixing the minimum basic pay.

We fix the initial salary of the clerks at Rs. 70. This means an increase of Rs. 10 over the present pay.

The total emoluments of the subordinate staff does not go below Rs. 67 and we consider that their cases do not require interference.

We do not propose to reconstruct the grades anew. Some changes are necessary. There are two grades C and D, in the General Department. In both the starting pay is Rs. 60. These are recruiting bases. The upper grade will be fed mainly by the persons recruited in these grades. As C grade is meant for a better type of men, men of D grade will get less opportunity of going to the upper grade. We fancy that there may be cases where a man may have to pass all his life in grade D. If despite want of efficiency, a man is retained in service, he must be paid. We must extend the grades C and D so that bare subsistence is secured in advanced age when a clerk will have obligations to perform, as a family man. We reconstruct the grades as follows:—

Special Grade—Rs. 260 and upwards.

Grade A Rs. 160—10—260.

Grade B—Rs. 110—7—180.

Grade C—Rs. 70—4—134.

Grade D—Rs. 70—3—130.

Typists—Rs. 80—8—160—E.B.—10—260.

Necessary changes must be made in the License Measurers Department as follows:—

Grade I—Rs. 70—3—100—4—132.

Grade II—Rs. 70—4—132.

Grade III—Rs. 100—5—150.

Grade IV—Rs. 160—10—230.

Grade V—Rs. 240—10—260.

The present proportion of clerks in the highe grade shall not be curtailed. For all clerks we giv a flat increment of Rs. 10 a month. If the pay o any clerk does not reconcile with any stage in th revised scale he should be placed at the next highe stage. Probationers will draw the lowest pay of th category to which they are appointed.

Bonus.

Bonus has been claimed under two heads—

(a) Fixed bonus,

The question of profit-sharing bonus does not arise with Bengal Chamber of Commerce which is a non-profit-making concern.

We shall have to consider the question of fixed bonus. A fixed bonus takes the shape of deferred pay. Provision for deferred pay may be necessary for employees, who on account of their comparative illiteracy cannot be expected to adjust their expenditure so as to make a saving out of their income for meeting occasional needs. In such cases, pay has to be adjusted so as to set apart a portion of the pay proper in the hands of the employer as deferred pay. But in a case like the present one, we consider it desirable to have the pay scale so adjusted that a man gets his full salary at the close of the month or as soon as it is over. An accident happening before disbursement of the deferred pay may deprive an employee of the benefits. Durga Pujah is a national festival in Bengal and it is customary to make presents to near and dear ones and to relatives at that time. It is difficult to make savings out of the monthly income of the poorly paid clerks for these purposes. It has become traditional and customary in Bengal for employers to make a monetary grant at the time of Pujahs. Bengal Chamber of Commerce has not been slow to appreciate this and has been granting Pujah bonus equivalent to one month's current pay. Mr. Chowdhury on behalf of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce assured us that there was no intention to discontinue it. In view of this assurance we leave this matter outside adjudication.

Dearness allowance.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce's dearness allowance is considered fair and is accepted by this Tribunal.

Retiring benefits and benefits on termination of service.

We like to refer again to the scheme, dated 21st January 1948, formulated by Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. S. Chowdhury argued that excess offers were made on the eve of the constitution of the tribunal to purchase peace and this should not be made basis of an award. Mr. Chowdhury further argued that the liberality of Bengal Chamber of Commerce must not be punished by making the recommendations as the basis over which improvements are to be made. One point, however, should be made clear. In discussing the question of remuneration Bengal Chamber of Commerce observed:

"As regards clerical and subordinate staff salary scales, which are likely to be the subject of a forthcoming adjudication under the Industrial Disputes Act, the Chamber Committee are not prepared in anticipation of the award under that adjudication, to depart from the existing scales which are those recommended by the Chamber itself to its members and adopted by the vast majority of the firms and companies in the membership of the Chamber."

It is not unreasonable to say that despite the apprehension about disturbance or increase in the wage structure the recommendations were made. We do appreciate that the entire scheme is one organic whole and it is unfair to pick out some items as Chamber's concession and reject or enlarge the others. If, on the whole, we find the scheme fair we may adopt it as our own, making slight alterations without affecting the spirit of the recommendations.

After very careful consideration we find the scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce to be fair and much in advance of a vast number of employers. We have up to this time raised the salary in each case by Rs. 10 and this is in terms of the spirit of the report. In disposing of the claim for house rent the Committee observed:

"The Chamber is unable to accede to its demand for an allowance in respect of house rent as this item has been taken into account in fixing the allowance claimed and dearness allowance raised."

If Bengal Chamber of Commerce had not been misled on this point, the authors who produced such a reasonable scheme, would have made provision for this and the other recommendations were made with the clear idea that wage structure might be raised. Therefore, by raising the salary a little we do not disturb the spirit and structure of the scheme.

The scheme of Bengal Chamber of Commerce is:

"(a) The scheme will apply to all Indian clerical and permanent subordinate staff of the Chamber.

(b) The rate of contribution to the existing Provident Fund, membership of which will be open to the permanent subordinate staff and will be compulsory for all such future staff, will be increased from 8⅓ per cent. to 10 per cent. of basic salary, a like contribution being made by the Chamber in accordance with the rules of the present Fund.

(c) The Chamber will grant a retiring pension at the age of 55 years and completion of 30 years service with the Chamber, the annual rate of pension to be 50 per cent of the average basic annual salary of the employee during the three years preceding retirement less an amount equivalent to the annuity income obtainable at an average representative Annuity rate for whole life assurance from the total of the amounts contributed by the Chamber to the employee's Provident Fund account, i.e., the Chamber's contributions plus interest thereon, which Provident Fund will however continue to be paid in full to the retiring employee in terms of the Provident Fund Rules.

(d) For employees of over 20 but under 30 years' service at the age of 55, and those retiring below the age of 55, with over 20 but under 30 years' service on grounds approved by the Chamber, the amount of the retiring pension will be that proportion of half pay, calculated on the average of the three years preceding retirment, as the years of service bear to 30 years, reduced as above by an amount equivalent to the annuity income obtainable at an average representative annuity rate for whole-life assurance from the total of the employer's contribution plus interest thereon to the retiring employee's Provident Fund.

(e) For employees retiring owing to incapacity with the sanction of the Chamber, gratuities as follows to be payable in addition to Provident Fund in terms of the rules:—

15 years or over but under 20 years' service—One month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

10 years or over but under 15 years' service—½ a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

5 years or over but under 10 years' service—¼ of a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

The pension/gratuity is payable to the retired employee only and does not pass on to his dependants.

It will be appreciated that the foregoing is only a very rough outline of the scheme and that in framing it, it will certainly be necessary, in order to cover all cases, to define the conditions in greater detail."

We award in these terms.

The details will be fixed up by the Chamber of Commerce.

Canteen and tiffin.

In the Clive Street area where the firms are located accommodation cannot be had for any canteen and Mr. N. De argued for a monetary grant. We do feel that after a healthy wage structure is fixed the claim for tiffin is an ex-gratia payment depending on the goodness of the firms. As there can be no compulsion in goodness, the matter is left outside adjudication.

Medical Faculties.

The clerks are to work in Calcutta and are not denied the enjoyment of any facility offered by the State in comparison with other men. In the circumstances it is not obligatory on the Company to arrange for medical treatment of the clerks and their dependants. The Company, however, has some arrangement for giving medical aid and we do not propose to compel the Chamber to enlarge it.

We dispose of Issues Nos. 1 to 8 in this way.

Issue No. 9.—Working hours and holidays and overtime.

The Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scheme is quoted below:—

"(7) Office Hours.—The existing hours, which have been arranged in consultation with the staff, will continue, viz.:—

9-30 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. with half an hour recess on weekdays, and 9-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. on Saturdays without recess.

Holidays.—Since 21st January 1948, the Chamber observes all Negotiable Instruments Act holidays.

We award in these terms.

(8) Overtime.—It has been decided to introduce the following arrangements with effect from the 1st February 1948:—

Weekdays and Saturdays.—Any member of the clerical or subordinate staff of the Chamber required, on direct instructions from the Officer-in-charge of the department concerned, to work beyond 5-00 p.m. on weekdays or beyond 2-00 p.m. on Saturdays, will be paid 1½ times his hourly basic pay for each hour or part of an hour worked after and calculated from 5-00 p.m. on weekdays and 2-00 p.m. on Saturdays. For the purposes of this arrangement, hourly basic pay will be the individual's monthly basic pay divided by 160, being the average monthly working hours.

Sundays and holidays.—Any member of the clerical or subordinate staff required, on direct instructions from the Officer-in-charge of the department concerned, to work on a Sunday or recognised holiday [vide item 15(b) below] to be paid 1½ times his hourly basic pay, calculated as above, but subject to a minimum of three hours basic pay and a maximum of six hours work."

We consider the scheme to be fair and adopt it in our award. We, however, make two observations. The first one relates to the observance of office-hours. We do not decide that hours of clock mentioned should be rigid. What should be rigid is the total hours of employment in the week. It will be permissible for the Chamber of Commerce to ask some of the employees to come a bit earlier and relieving him after he remains on duty for the specified time. Another observation that we want to make is that we considered that a respite for half an hour during mid-day might not be sufficient for a clerk to go outside to take tiffin. To meet this objection the Bengal Chamber of Commerce agreed that the clerks would be entitled to take their own tiffin on their working tables and there would be men who would purchase for them their tiffin and would also supply water. In view of this accommodation by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce we consider it unnecessary to extend the period of recess.

We may also note that overtime payment as schemed by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce is not unfavourable as compared with the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act.

Issue No. 10.—Leave.

We quote below the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scheme:—

"In view of the large number of holidays now prevalent, the Chamber is unable to go beyond the limits of the following arrangement:—

(i) Privilege leave (subject to exigencies of the office)—

(ii) Casual leave: 10 days, non-cumulative, not to be taken in extension of privilege leave or gazetted holidays or for periods of more than 4 days at a time.

(iii) Sick leave: Subject to medical certification, one month's sick leave for each year of service subject to a maximum of 12 months in all during the whole of an employee's period of service. Sick leave will not be granted when privilege leave is available."

We delete the last sentence which runs thus:

"Sick leave will not be granted when privilege leave is available."

For these words we substitute "The Bengal Chamber of Commerce may in its discretion examine an employee at his house through their own doctor if so advised." We consider that the rules are quite fair. With this modification, we adopt the rules. It is no doubt true that in the beginning of the service, an employee will not earn as much privilege leave with pay as a senior clerk but the necessity for leave is less with younger people.

Issue No. 11.—Travelling allowance on duty as also on leave.

Travelling allowance when on duty is always borne by the Chamber of Commerce and it is not proposed to give any travelling allowance while going to enjoy leave.

Issue No. 12.—Service conditions.

It is agreed that the period of probation shall not exceed 6 months though confirmation may be made earlier if the candidate is found suitable.

The Chamber of Commerce maintain Service records and this should be done.

Adverse remarks in the Service record.

The Federation wants that notice of an adverse remark to be incorporated should be given to the person concerned and that his representation, if any, may be considered. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce have no objection and we award accordingly. The Federation wants something like Standing Orders about conduct. The Tribunal considers this to be unnecessary.

(c) Enquiry before punishment: And Issue No. 14.—Dismissal, discharge and retrenchment or other punishments.

The Bengal Chamber of Commerce agree on principle that in case of retrenchment, the principle of "last come, first go" should be applied. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce, however, say that exception may be made in cases for people with exceptional abilities. We consider that in exceptional cases this may be done, otherwise the principle of "last come, first go" shall be followed.

So far as discharge is concerned Mr. S. Chowdhury on behalf of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce maintains that termination of service shall be made in cases of retrenchment and by way of punishment and that discharge for other reasons must be considered as extraordinary. The undoubted legal right of an employer to discharge the employee cannot be denied by the Tribunal. And, therefore, taking a realistic view of the implications of considering discharge for other reasons as extraordinary we feel that there will be rare cases of termination of services in this way for which there will be no remedy.

Now comes the question about dismissal and punishment. The employer has no doubt the right of punishing an employee but we frame the following rules which must precede any punishment:

The first thing to be done is that a charge shall be framed and the person proceeded against shall be furnished with a copy of the charge and the facts on which the person proceeded against shall submit his explanation. Then a future date should be fixed for the matter to be enquired into. If the person proceeded against is found innocent, the matter ends. If, however, he is found guilty, the clerk concerned shall be supplied with a copy of the findings and the punishment proposed to be imposed. The clerk will get an opportunity again to plead about the punishment only at this stage. If the enquiring officer himself is competent to inflict punishment on the person proceeded against, he will hear his pleadings and order what he thinks best. If the enquiring officer is anybody other than the Secretary, an appeal shall lie with him within seven days of the communication of the order punishing the clerk. In case the enquiring officer is not competent to inflict punishment, he will forward the proceedings to the authority competent to punish and that authority will hear the person again and then pass orders. If that authority be other than the Secretary an appeal shall lie likewise with the Secretary. In all cases where the proposed punishment is discharge or dismissal, the papers must be laid before the Secretary who will hear the person proceeded against and then pass orders. The clerk proceeded against shall have always the right to be defended by any other employee or by any other retired employee. These are domestic matters and bringing outside agencies is not helpful to the person proceeded against. Any outsider may defend a person proceeded against with the permission of the enquiring officer.

We hope that the rules framed by us will remove apprehensions about abrupt termination of services and will give to the employees a sense of security which is essential for efficient working.

We decide that a man shall retire on completing 55 years. We do not favour extension of services, thereby blocking the way for younger people to get employments. In exceptional cases where both the employer and the employee agree, extension of services may be granted.

Issue No. 13.—Recruitment Rules: Recruitment, Promotion and Transfer.

Transfer means allocation of different work. The Federation wants that there should not be any such transfer. We feel however that transfer of tables is necessary for two purposes: (1) to make a particular clerk know work of the various departments; and (2) for stock taking of arrears of any one particular clerk working in a department for a sufficiently long period.

We do not approve of the idea that recruitments should be done through the Union or the Federation. The Employer will select his own men.

Recruitment.

(i) Other things being equal, preference should be given to relations of employees, retired or in service. Between relations of employees, the appointment shall go to the more qualified.

(ii) Preference should be given to retrenched employees, if qualified.

(iii) In the matter of appointment to the higher grades of clerk, promotion from lower grade shall be the rule. Only in exceptional cases, recruitment may be made from outside.

Then comes the question of promotion from the clerical grade to the Officer's grade. We award that there should be no bar to promotion from clerical grade to the Officer's grade or from subordinate staff to clerical grade. As selection must depend on the management, we cannot dictate that a certain percentage or a certain number of clerks must be promoted to the Officer's grade. This must depend on suitability according to the standard of the management. We, however, like to remind that such promotions do change the outlook of the clerk and are conducive to more efficient work by the clerical staff.

Issue No. 15.—Uniforms and Umbrellas for Menials.

The Chamber agrees that for doing official work these will be supplied.

Issue No. 16.—Can this Tribunal Adjudicate on firms covered by the Award of the Engineering Tribunal, if published?

This issue does not relate to this firm.

Issue No. 17.—Recognition of the Unions as also Jurisdiction of the Tribunal to order for recognition.

Recognition of the Union is not a condition of service and is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of Industrial Disputes Act. Labour Courts are going to be established soon and it will be the business of that Court to order for recognition of the Unions.

Issue No. 18.—Jurisdiction of the Tribunal to Adjudicate against Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

We decided at an earlier stage that the Tribunal has jurisdiction to adjudicate against this particular firm.

Award in the case of the Tata Iron and Steel Company, Ltd.

Mr. S. Chowdhury, Counsel on behalf of the Company, protested against the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate on any of the issues except issue No. 18 on the ground that these were not disputes on the date of reference or, in other words, there have been enlargements of disputes since the reference.

On 12th of August 1946 the Union submitted Charter of Demands listing the claims which were eighteen in number. They included claims of all kinds that an employee could seek. Negotiations were carried on and ultimately on 13th January 1947 the parties came to an agreement, the text of which is given in Annexure B. This gave a quietus to the past disputes. It has been accepted as a sound principle by some of the tribunals to which we agree that an adjudication or settlement in general terms without reservation wipes away past disputes though only partial relief is obtained. Fresh disputes must be made by making demands afresh.

The scheme of the agreement was to pull up men below the lower salary to the minimum. This did not operate as uniform or proportionate increment and further a large body of men obtained only Rs. 5 as increment. The grade increment did not bring much special advantage to some. The payment of half a month's salary was for delay in implementing the agreement. Everybody, however, got advantage by the surcharge of dearness allowance.

On account of absence of uniformity in getting increments in salary and denial to a section there was a discontent and the Union Secretary negotiated for this and ultimately submitted his compromise formula on 4th June 1947. This is reproduced in Annexure C.

This was a new demand made after the compromise. There were, however, some other demands made after the compromise in several letters. One was the demand for tiffin without being specific either about the value or about the items. Another was the claim for a sliding scale of dearness allowance on the lines of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. It may be noted that Tata employees were given dearness allowance less than Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Tata raised the amount to a figure above Bengal Chamber of Commerce. Thereafter the latter in October 1948 raised the amount to a figure higher than the Tata in some respects. The deficiency in the dearness allowance of the Tata employees has been amply compensated by a higher initial pay and better scales of increment. Even after the recent increment of dearness allowance by the Chamber of Commerce, the total emoluments of an employee in any of the clerical grades are generally higher than those of an employee in the corresponding clerical grades of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. We have found out on actual calculation that a junior clerk in the Chamber of Commerce gets more than a clerk in the corresponding grade of the Tata only at the 5th, 6th and 7th stages.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

Junior Grade.

Stage.	Pay.	D. A.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
5th	86	68½	154½
6th	90	72	162
7th	94	75½	174½

Tata Iron & Steel Co., Ltd.

(Sales Department.)

Junior Grade.

Stage.	Pay.	D. A.	Total.
	Rs.	Rs.	Rs.
5th	95	59½	154½
6th	100	60	160
7th	110	61·8	171·8

Members of the subordinate staff were given a better scale and grade. This was a benefit of a permanent nature, although their total emoluments including Dearness Allowance may be slightly lower than those of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. About pay there was the demand for increase of salary but never the initial pay was demanded in excess of Rs. 75 which was the present minimum for clerks. All these were in 1947.

Then comes the letter from the Union on 8th January 1948. The most important paragraphs are paragraphs 6 and 7, but as they cannot be wrenched out of the context, the copy of the whole of it is given in Annexure D. It will appear that the real demand was only acceptance of the compromise formula and the rest were threats if the formula was not accepted. It was stated in paragraph 7 that Union executives were considering the grievances. The compromise formula was the consolidated claim for monetary help till that day. There however remained another claim about the observance of holidays. The Union demanded observance of all holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act. This also remained subsisting.

This Tribunal is of opinion that the valid and subsisting disputes on the date of reference were, (1) the disputes relating to implementation of the agreement, i.e., by making adjustments for the persons who did not get much under the agreement, and (2) the dispute relating to the observance of holidays. The first is contained in Issue No. 18.

We propose to deal with the case of implementation of the agreement first. When a new pay scale is fixed the matter of adjustment becomes arbitrary. This was also appreciated in the report of the Central Pay Commission. The scheme of the agreement was to pull up all men from the subnormal grade to the normal condition. When this was the central idea, it is no wonder that the persons who were already in the normal conditions were not so much cared for. On account of the large increments that were obtained by persons who were drawing low pay there has been regret in the minds of some. This is quite natural. The Union has also been sensible to this because in the compromise formula they did not claim amounts for superior grade clerks.

When increments above the normal stage have got to be done arbitrarily, it is useless for us to formulate any scheme on principle. We feel that cases of the clerks whose initial salary has been between Rs. 75 and Rs. 90 on the 1st of April 1947 were hard and their cases require some consideration. Amongst them some got some advantage subsequently by being promoted either permanently or temporarily to the superior grades which brought them on acting allowance of Rs. 30.

After considering the cases of others individually we award that Messrs. B. P. Ghose, B. L. De, S. K. Bose, S. C. Bhatta, N. L. De, S. K. Ghose, R. K. Chakravarty and T. N. Gopalkrishnan be given increment of Rs. 5 each.

The following clerks shall get increment of Rs. 10 each:—

Messrs. K. C. Mookerji, K. Roy, S. B. Nandy, B. B. Sarkhel, B. C. Banerji, B. M. Mamtora and A. Basu.

The following clerks shall get increment of the amount noted against their names in their substantive appointments in the junior grade:—

B. B. Bhattacharjya—Rs. 10.

Kaloo Sing—Rs. 10.

S. R. Bose—Rs. 10.

M. A. H. Isphani—Rs. 5.

S. C. Marick—Rs. 10.

N. K. Sen Gupta—Rs. 10.

C. R. Tarapdar—Rs. 10.

We have considered the cases of the subordinate staff and we feel there has been no such hardship.

This disposes of this dispute.

The next one is about the observance of holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act. We award that the Company shall follow the holidays as declared under the Negotiable Instruments Act.

ANNEXURE A.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

NOTE.

Terms of service of the Chamber's Clerical and Subordinate staff.

In accordance with the decision intimated in a note to the staff, dated the 5th November 1947, the Committee of the Chamber with the assistance of a special Sub-Committee have reviewed as a whole, and with special reference to the points raised in recent staff representations, the existing terms of service of the Chamber's Clerical and Subordinate employees.

The following notes reflect the attitude and decisions of the Chamber on the several points that have been raised:—

(1) Recognition of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce Indian Employees' Union.—(a) While still preferring a Staff Association or Committee, the Chamber is prepared to co-operate with and recognise the Union provided (a) the Union representatives with whom Chamber officials are asked to deal in the discussion of matters affecting the staff are direct employees of the Chamber and representatives of all sections of the staff including those with long service, and (b) the Union exercises no influence as to membership on the part of those in a managerial/executive position or on those employed in a confidential capacity by the Chamber. Proviso (a) has already been accepted in terms of the note forwarded with the Union's letter of the 27th November. As regards proviso (b), "those employed in a confidential capacity" are as follows but there is no intention on the part of the Chamber of interfering with membership on the part of any who are already members of the Union or who may in future become members and it is suggested that, equally, there should be no action on the part of the Union should those in question resign from the Union or refrain from joining:—

(1) All Local Assistants.

(2) The Head Cashier.

(3) The Joint Accountants.

It is also recommended that a Sub-Committee representative of the Licensed Measurers Department staff, members of the Union, should be formed to discuss with the Superintendent of the Department all staff matters connected with that Department before they are referred to the Secretary of the Chamber.

(b) It is confirmed that "no action will be taken by the employers against the employees for joining the Union".

(c) The demand is that "no member of the Union shall be punished, suspended or discharged without holding an impartial enquiry in conjunction with the Committee of the Employees' Union".

The Chamber is not prepared in any way to prejudice its right to suspend, discharge or take any other form of disciplinary action against any employee, whoever he may be, for reasons adjudged by or on behalf of the Chamber to be sufficient to justify such suspension, discharge or disciplinary action. Nor is the Chamber prepared to make any such disciplinary action subject to prior discussion with the Union. It will be open to the Union, on recognition, to submit evidence on views which will be fully considered.

(d) The demand is that meetings of the Union Executive Committee, Board of Representatives, etc., will be allowed to be held within the office premises.

On recognition of the Union, meetings of the Executive Committee and of the Board of Representatives may be held in the office premises outside office hours provided they are conducted in an orderly fashion but the Chamber cannot agree to anyone other than direct employees of the Chamber attending meetings in the office premises.

Meetings between representatives of the Union and of the Chamber will ordinarily take place within office hours.

(2) Distribution and Delivery Staff.—(a) The position and remuneration of those enumerated in the Union's letter No. 87U/L of the 20th November will be investigated as part of the detailed examination of individual cases referred to under item (3) below and any changes will be effective from 1st January 1948.

(b) The present term "Ticca Staff" will be replaced, as suggested, by the term "Outdoor Subordinate Staff". Recruitment to the permanent Outdoor Subordinate Staff will take place from the temporary Outdoor Subordinate Staff in order of length of service but subject always to the suitability and good work of the temporary employee concerned, the Chamber being the sole judge of suitability. As the numbers of the permanent outdoor staff must be adjusted to the demands of the work, it is regretted that no assurance of permanency of service can be given after a minimum period of temporary employment. Efforts will be made to arrange for the Licensed Measurers Department to recruit their outdoor subordinate office staff from the Chamber's pool of temporary outdoor subordinate staff.

(3) Remuneration and (9) Pujah allowance.—It is convenient to deal with these two points together. The demand under the head "remuneration" is for a starting pay of Rs. 80 per month for clerks and Rs. 40 for subordinate staff, with higher grades for "section in charge", shorthand typists, stenographers, etc., senior subordinate staff and technicians. Under item (9), the request is for a Pujah allowance of one month's salary.

It has been decided that the revised terms of service of the Clerical and Subordinate staff will include the payment annually, at or about the time of the Pujah holidays, of an allowance equivalent to one month's current basic pay to all clerical and subordinate staff who as on the last day of the month preceding that in which the payment falls due have completed one year's service with the Chamber and proportionately to those with less than a year's service but subject to a minimum of one full calendar month's service. It is to be clearly understood that continuance of this annual supplementary payment must remain at the discretion of the Chamber Committee according to circumstances in the future.

As regards Clerical and Subordinate staff salary scales, which are likely to be the subject of a forthcoming adjudication under the Industrial Disputes Act, the Chamber Committee are not prepared in anticipation of the award under that adjudication, to depart from the existing scales which are those recommended by the Chamber itself to its members and adopted by the vast majority of the firms and companies in the membership of the Chamber. They have, however, given directions that, in conjunction with the determination of increments to be granted with effect from the 1st January 1948, the cases of all members of the Clerical and Subordinate staff will be individually investigated, within the flexible range of the current scales, to ensure (on this first review of the grading introduced a year ago) that they are (a) correctly placed in their respective grades according to their length of service, merit and performance and (b) receiving a good average rate of basic salary by comparison with comparable employees in other commercial offices. Preliminary review on this basis indicates that the Chamber's junior staff of up to ten years' service are at present receiving such treatment and that in the middle-senior and senior posts some improvement in terms may, on investigation of individual cases, be found to be justified. All sanctioned revisions in grading and placing within grades will have retrospective effect to the 1st January 1948.

(4) Promotion.—The Chamber will give sympathetic consideration to all claims to promotion but must remain the sole judge as to the qualifications, experience and degree of efficiency necessary for appointment to any post in the service of the Chamber, including the Licensed Measurers Department. The Chamber Committee are not prepared to prejudice in any way their right of selection for any post.

(5) Provident Fund/Pension and (6) Gratuity.—It has been decided that a Provident Fund/Pension and Gratuity Scheme on the following lines will be introduced with effect from the 1st January 1948, though it will be appreciated that the details will require a considerable time to work out and formalise:—

(b) The rate of contribution to the existing Provident Fund, membership of which will be open to the permanent Subordinate staff and will be compulsory for all such future staff, will be increased from 8¼ per cent. to 10 per cent. of basic salary, a like contribution being made by the Chamber in accordance with the rules of the present fund.

(c) The Chamber will grant a retiring pension at the age of 55 years and completion of 30 years' service with the Chamber, the annual rate of pension to be 50 per cent. of the average basic annual salary of the employee during the three years preceding retirement less an amount equivalent to the annuity income obtainable at an average representative annuity rate for whole life assurance from the total of the amounts contributed by the Chamber to the employee's Provident Fund account, i.e., the Chamber's contributions plus interest thereon, which Provident Fund will however continue to be paid in full to the retiring employee in terms of the Provident Fund Rules.

(d) For employees of over 20 but under 30 years' service at the age of 55, and those retiring below the age of 55 with over 20 but under 30 years' service on grounds approved by the Chamber, the amount of the retiring pension will be that proportion of half pay, calculated on the average of the three years preceding retirement, as the years of service bear to 30 years, reduced as above by an amount equivalent to the annuity income obtainable at an average representative annuity rate for whole life assurance from the total of the employer's contribution plus interest thereon to the retiring employee's Provident Fund.

(e) For employees retiring owing to incapacity with the sanction of the Chamber, gratuities as follows to be payable in addition to Provident Fund in terms of the rules:—

15 years or over but under 20 years' service—One month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

10 years or over but under 15 years' service—Half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

5 years or over but under 10 years' service—One-third of a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

The pension/gratuity is payable to the retired employee only and does not pass on to his dependants.

It will be appreciated that the foregoing is only a very rough outline of the scheme and that in framing it it will certainly be necessary, in order to cover all cases, to define the conditions in greater detail.

The additional cost to the Chamber of the introduction of a scheme on these lines is estimated at Rs. 35,000 per annum.

(7) Office hours.—The existing hours, which have been arranged in consultation with the staff, will continue, viz.:—9-30 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. with half an hour's recess on week days and 9-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. on Saturdays without recess.

(8) Overtime.—It has been decided to introduce the following arrangements with effect from the 1st February 1948:—

Week days and Saturdays.—Any member of the Clerical or Subordinate staff of the Chamber required, on direct instructions from the Officer-in-charge of the department concerned, to work beyond 5-00 p.m. on week days or beyond 2-00 p.m. on Saturdays, will be paid 1½ times his hourly basic pay for each hour or part of an hour worked after and calculated from 5-00 p.m. on week days and 2-00 p.m. on Saturdays. For the purposes of this arrangement, hourly basic pay will be the individual's monthly basic pay divided by 160, being the average monthly working hours.

Sundays and holidays.—Any member of the Clerical or Subordinate staff required, on direct instructions from the Officer-in-charge of the department concerned, to work on a Sunday or recognised holiday [vide item 15(b) below] to be paid 1½ times his hourly basic pay, calculated as above, but subject to a minimum of three hours' basic pay and a maximum of six hours' work.

(10) Medical aid.—The Chamber Committee, who have carefully considered this matter together with the proposals put forward by the staff in the Union's letter of the 27th August, have decided on the appointment of an Office Doctor, who will attend office daily and for whom there will be maintained a stock of medicines and preparations ordinarily applicable to the more usual ailments, including Paludrine for the treatment of malaria. The Chamber Committee are not prepared to undertake responsibility for the treatment of wives and families of the Clerical and Subordinate staff. As regards (a), the dispensing of medicines and (b) the treatment of employees in their homes, these points will be considered when the Office Doctor is appointed; but in the case of (b), attendance outside the office will in any case be restricted to special cases of serious illness and only on the direct instructions of the employer in individual cases.

(11) House rent.—The Chamber is unable to accede to this demand for an allowance in respect of house rent as this item has been taken into account in fixing salary scales and dearness allowance rates.

(12) Security of service.—Three months' probation will be the rule in future for other than temporary appointments daily paid employees; and one month's notice of termination will—as in the past—be observed in all cases other than those of grave misdemeanour justifying immediate suspension or dismissal.

(13) Retrenchment.—The staff are again assured that the Chamber will do its utmost to absorb into permanent service staff employed on a temporary basis or in departments which may have to be closed down as surplus to requirements. Any such surplus staff will be given the first chance of filling permanent vacancies provided they have the necessary qualifications and experience. It will be appreciated that this arrangement will necessarily rule out for some time the past practice of giving employment to the sons of retired and retiring employees.

(14) Dearness allowance.—The existing schedule of dearness allowance will continue in operation.

(15) (a) Leave with pay.—In view of the large number of holidays now prevalent, the Chamber is unable to go beyond the limits of the following arrangements:—

(i) Privilege leave (subject to exigencies of the office)—

(ii) Casual leave.—Ten days, non-cumulative, not to be taken in extension of privilege leave or gazetted holidays or for periods of more than 4 days at a time.

(iii) Sick leave.—Subject to medical certification, one month's sick leave for each year of service subject to a maximum of 12 months in all during the whole of an employee's period of service. Sick leave will not be granted when privilege leave is available.

(b) Observance of gazetted holidays.—The present practice, which has been in operation for many years, is for all Negotiable Instruments Act holidays declared by the Chamber to be "Chamber Holidays" under Charter Party and Shipping Orders to be observed in full and for other "Act" holidays to be working days up to 1-00 p.m.

It has been decided in future and in supersession of all previous arrangements or conventions to observe all Negotiable Instruments Act holidays and it is hoped that the staff will reciprocate this and other improvements in service by doing their utmost to keep the work of the Chamber up to date.

(16) Tiffin.—In view of the undernoted factors, the Chamber Committee after full consideration and investigation have decided that they cannot accede to the demand for the service of free tiffin to the Clerical and Subordinate staff, or for the payment of an allowance in lieu thereof, but will of course abide by any award on the point made in the forthcoming adjudication:—

(i) It is not an amenity commonly provided in commercial employment as represented by the firms and companies in the membership of the Chamber, the great majority of whom are not in a position to grant it.

(ii) The lack of suitable accommodation for a canteen in the Chamber premises and the prohibitive cost of building.

(iii) The very heavy cost of the provision of tiffins estimated in the case of the Chamber at Rs. 75,000 per annum.

(17) Sale of rationed commodities in the Chamber grain shop.—In the light of the unsatisfactory experience, both in the Chamber and elsewhere, and of Government's declared policy of progressive decontrol, the Chamber does not favour any addition to the commodities sold at cost price through the Chamber shop. In the cases of cloth and mustard oil, experience shows that there is extreme difficulty in obtaining supplies suitable to the requirements of the staff and there is in any event no room in the Chamber shop for the handling of cloth and oil.

ANNEXURE C.

Copy of letter No. TEU/90, dated the 4th June 1947, from the Secretary, Tata Employees' Union, Calcutta, to J. R. D. Tata, Esq., Chairman, Board of Directors, Messrs. Tata Industries, Ltd., Bombay House, 24, Bruce Street, Fort, Bombay.

DEAR SIR,

Since writing my letter No. TEU/86 of the 12th May 1947, I find from your radio broadcast that a Committee has been set up consisting of Mr. K. M. Madan, Deputy Agent, as Chairman, Mr. Hughes, Director of Personnel, and Mr. N. J. Haley, General Superintendent, with the object of examining the wage structure in detail and recommending, as quickly as possible, modifications designed to remove the present defects in respect of such matters as grades, etc. I would, therefore, take this opportunity of bringing to your notice the cases of those low-paid old employees of the Calcutta Offices and the Branch Offices of the Sales Department, who have not at all been immediately benefited by the new wage scheme.

2. For your information, let me explain the whole position.

The grades of the employees before 1st April 1947 were as follows:—

Typists and Junior Clerks—Rs. 50—5—90.
Senior Clerks—Rs. 95—5—135.
Stenographers—Rs. 75—6—135.
Assistants—Rs. 140—15—250.
Bearers and peons—Rs. 22—10—35.

The new grades are as follows:—

Junior Clerks and Typists—Rs. 75—5—100—10—150.
Senior Clerks—Rs. 150—10—200.
Junior Stenographers—Rs. 100—10—200.
Senior Stenographers—Rs. 200—20—300.
Assistants—Rs. 200—20—300.
Bearers and peons—Rs. 30—2—40—2—60.

So far so good. The trouble, however, arises in fitting each individual into the new grades. All employees who were drawing salaries less than the starting pay of their respective new grades on the 31st March 1947 have been brought up to the minimum of their respective new grades, but those drawing above were not given proportionate increments. To be more precise, employees drawing salaries between Rs. 50 and Rs. 70, and Rs. 95 and Rs. 135 were put at Rs. 75 and Rs. 150 respectively but no proportionate increments were given to those drawing salaries in between Rs. 75 and Rs. 90. A similar procedure has been adopted in other grades. Besides, an all-round one-grade increment has been sanctioned to all, with the introduction of the scheme on 1st April 1947. Apart from the fact that no consideration has been given to the old employees with long years of service (3 years' men and 25 years' men have all been put on the same salary under the new scheme), the majority have received practically no immediate benefit. This one-grade increment is practically of no help because in most cases annual increments were due. However, in a spirit of "give and take" principle, the members of the Union do not mind much for letting down the older hands in the Senior Clerks' and Assistants' grades, but in the cases of the older hands in the Junior Clerks' grade drawing salaries between Rs. 75 and Rs. 90 on the 31st March 1947, the members feel that the grossest possible injustice has been done to them. Among these categories, there are employees with long years of faithful service to their credit (10 to 15 years) and many of them are graduates of the University; their only disqualification is that they come out of poor family. These men have all along been paid below the living wage. If enquiries are made, it will be found that in the past so many members of the staff from this category suffered from T.B., nervous debility and other devitalising diseases due to under-nourishment, which in itself is enough to tarnish the fair name of the Company.

With advancing years, their liabilities have further increased and naturally they expected that they would not be left in the lurch and that their cases would receive first consideration. More to the higher paid and less to the needy low paid staff seems to have been the maxim of the Company. No Union has a right to exist unless it can bring immediate relief to these neglected categories of staff. "Future" is immaterial to these people unless they are able to exist at the moment. A rosy picture cannot relieve them of their agonies. For your further elucidation of the point, I may quote from a letter addressed by me to Sir Jehangir:—

"You will agree with me that no formula is good unless it levels up to a certain extent the glaring disparity and yours in that respect is very much below the mark, as will be evident from the fact that these categories of people drawing salaries between Rs. 75 and Rs. 90 have been deprived of any immediate benefit. They will get only one grade increment of Rs. 5 in April. This is no good to them as not only is the amount small but also the increments of 90 per cent. of these people are due in April, May, June and July 1947. Please however, look at another side of the picture. The employees now drawing salaries between Rs. 95 and Rs. 135 will be put straightway at Rs. 160. Don't you see the glaring disparity? Rs. 95 man going up to Rs. 160 and Rs. 90 man, who may be stuck up for a long time, will be absolutely deprived of anything."

I, therefore, put the following concrete suggestions for ameliorating the condition of these suffering classes of people. This will satisfy all members of the Union.

Salaries before 1st April 1947.	Salaries after 1st April 1947, i.e. present pay.	Amount of additional increment to be given.
65	80	10
70	80	15
75 to 90	80 to 95	20
26	32	2
30 to 35	32 to 38	6

The staff involved is about 80 only and the additional cost to the Company will not be more than Rs. 1,500. The argument that this concession will have repercussion in Jamshedpur is absolutely untenable. Workers at Jamshedpur get maintenance and production bonuses and they are more concerned with them than the wages. In the case of Calcutta Office staff and the Branch Office staff, no such bonus is granted. Naturally the members lay much stress on an immediate benefit out of the new grade structure.

The Pay Commission Report, Ecroyd Enquiry Committee Report, in fact, all the reports issued so far for ameliorating the condition of the lowly paid staff, recommended compensation to older hands. The Bombay House Scheme sponsored by you took cognizance of this fact also and increments were accordingly recommended. Our next-door neighbour TOMCO has got the benefit of this Bombay House Scheme but in our case, though originally it was offered, I do not understand why the management subsequently withdrew it and forced the iniquitous wage scheme. If, therefore, the members of the Union demand justice for a few really deserving cases of lowly paid old employees, would you call it illogical? Anyway, the members of the Union are very sore over it and unless the modification of the wage structure, as recommended above, is done, no amount of concession in other spheres of money spent by the management on any other account for their betterment is going to allay their feelings and misgivings.

As you are the Chairman and the members consider you to be a man of head and heart, I took the liberty of addressing you so that you may take steps to remedy the wrongs.

Trust you will reply early.

Yours faithfully,
P. K. GHOSH,
Secretary.

ANNEXURE D.

Copy of letter No. TEU/172, dated 8th January 1948, from the Secretary, Tata Employees' Union, Calcutta, to the Director, Messrs. Tata Industries, Ltd., Calcutta.

DEAR SIR,

I am in receipt of your letter No. C/1/48, dated the 6th January 1948.

2. It is regretted that my "compromise formula", which was even less than the just demands of the staff, has been turned down by you. The Union all along moved in a spirit of "give and take" but in spite of the Industrial Truce this spirit has not been reciprocated. It is further unfortunate that the "human aspect" is lacking in your reply and you have taken recourse to legalistic way. I would, therefore, like to survey the whole position and to clear the legal mist, if there be any.

3. You are quite aware that negotiations were started by me regarding various points of dispute as far back as 12th August 1946. In that connection, I had several interviews with you in Calcutta. All along you insisted upon us to accept a wage scheme, which, to our estimation, was much below our just demands. Especially, Mr. Mathulla's formula "More to the newcomer, less to the older hands" was utterly unacceptable to us. To support my contention, I draw your attention to my circular letter of the 14th December 1946 (copy sent to you). Let me quote the relevant portion from it:—

"The question now revolves round how to give effect—how to translate the above (the grades) into practice. And what immediate relief the staff would get? According to Mr. Mathulla's scheme, only the salary of those will be changed whose present pay is off the new grades, to bring in tow with it, plus one increment to all from 1st January 1947. This means only a few will get some benefit at the moment, but the majority, especially those who have wasted the best part of their lives in the service of the Company, will have to remain contented with the "rosy picture" only. We want food immediately, but only a great hope is presented."

4. Naturally, I resisted all your overtures for settlement for some time. I was then suddenly called to Jamshedpur on the 13th January 1947 and was presented as a fait accompli the new wage scheme. In spite of all my pleading you and Mr. Mathulla were not ready to deviate from the formula "more to the newcomer, less to the older hands", since both of you feared repercussions at Jamshedpur Works. The course open to me then was either to accept your wage scheme or to go in for wilderness and jump headlong for a strike. This latter course would have been detrimental to the interests of the country and I, therefore, had to accept your wage scheme under duress. This fact was pointed out to you, vide my letter No. TEU/97, dated 6th August 1947, to the Deputy Agent. At the time of the Agreement I also repeatedly drew your attention to the fact that the new wage structure with Mr. Mathulla's formula (i.e., more to the newcomer and less to the older hands) would have a bad effect upon the moral of the staff and that the Jamshedpur workers would react to the formula very badly. How true was my prediction would be apparent from the happenings at Jamshedpur Works in April/May 1947. In this connection, I draw your attention to the copy sent to you of my letter No. TEU/86, dated 12th May

1947, addressed to Mr. J. R. D. Tata. I may quote a few lines for your attention again:—

"So what I predicted to Sir Jehangir long ago has come true. The workers at Jamshedpur are much agitated and have taken recourse to violence. It is, therefore, necessary that I should apprise you with all the facts in case you are not aware of the causes underlying the unrest."

5. These were the circumstances under which I had to accept the wage scheme. Even after my acceptance, I appealed to Sir Ardeshir to grant relief at least to a few of the elder low paid hands. As a sort of compromise I did not even raise the question of all the older hands who did not receive the benefits. My letter, however, evoked an indirect threat from Sir Ardeshir, vide his letter No. G/165 of 30th January 1948. I, therefore, decided to give a fair trial to the wage scheme. The injustice was, however, so glaring that it created much discontentment among the members. Not only so, the scheme with the formula was found out to be so absurd as to be of no value to the majority of the staff. I had, therefore, to raise the points over and over again. The Union under my guidance also waited patiently for one year upon your goodwill and resisted the demands of the general members for a direct action, as it was considered to be a wrong step in the present critical condition of the country. It now appears that the management does not appreciate this attitude of the Union. One year has passed away and much water has flowed through the Ganges since the day of my first appeal to you all. The Jamshedpur workers have thrown overboard Mr. Mathulla's formula. The Pay Commission Report and the judgments of the Tribunals in various disputes have recognised the rights of the older hands and have recommended increments on the basis of length of service. These things were pointed out to Mr. J. R. D. Tata, the Chairman of the Company, in my interview with him on the 27th October 1947 and also in several of my subsequent letters to the Agents' office. All my efforts have, however, been in vain.

6. Since you have turned down my "compromise formula" for immediate relief to a few of the older hands and you are not agreeable to any amicable settlement on that question, my terms for the same are hereby withdrawn and I would like to put on record the following points of dispute which exist between the Union and the Company:—

(i) All the older hands including the Senior Clerks and the Assistants should get reasonable increments commensurate with the years of service put in by them. In no case, however, it should be less than Rs. 25, Rs. 30 and Rs. 40 for Junior, Senior Clerks and Assistants, respectively.

(ii) Other points of dispute raised in our original Charter of Demands and in our various letters regarding which you have refused to entertain, stand.

(iii) The question of compensation to the riot victims of Lahore and Karachi also require to be settled.

7. The entire question of our grievances is being considered by the Union Executive and if a way for compromise is not found out, it will be really a matter of regret for all.

8. Before I conclude, I would like to refute some of the statements made in your letter under reference:—

(i) Proportion of Senior to Junior Clerks.—I wanted the number of Senior Clerks (excluding Assistants) to be 50 per cent. to that of Junior Clerks. Even taking together the number of Senior Clerks and Assistants, the proportion is much below that of 50 per cent. of the Junior Clerks. Hence your statement is not correct.

(ii) Furlough.—You have tried to show that on an average we get 13 days' leave per year as furlough. You are very well aware that an employee is entitled to furlough only after completion of 7 years' service. Thus the value of 13 days' leave per year is much vitiated and it cannot offset the sick leave and 15 days' casual leave.

9. I note, however, that you have agreed to consider the question of dearness allowance and temporary promoted hands.

10. I write this letter with a heavy heart, since my efforts for a better relation between the employer and the employees of our Company have failed because of your adamantine attitude. How I wish the whole question to be settled amicably, but it appears the logic of events are driving the management of the Company and our Union to opposite poles.

Yours faithfully,

P. K. GHOSH,

Secretary.

ORDER.

No. 587Lab.—10th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4267Lab., dated the 26th November 1948, the industrial dispute between Sree Radhesyam Mills, Ltd., 220, Naskarpara Road, Ghusury, Howrah, and its workmen represented by the Ghusury Sutakal Mazdoor Union, 50, Girish Ghosh Road, Ghusury, Howrah, over the question of payment of Puja Bonus to workmen, was referred for adjudication to Sri A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri A. Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Sree Radhesyam Mills, Ltd., 220, Naskarpara Road, Ghusury, Howrah, and its workmen represented by the Ghusury Sutakal Mazdoor Union, 50, Girish Ghosh Road, Ghusury, Howrah.

PRESENT: SRI A. DAS GUPTA, Tribunal.

For the Company: Mr. Percival R. Damzen, General Manager.

For the workmen: Sri Taradas Bhattacharjya, Vice-President of the Union.

AWARD.

By order No. 4267Lab. of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, dated the 26th November 1948, I have been appointed Tribunal to adjudicate an industrial dispute between Sree Radhesyam Mills, Ltd., 220, Naskarpara Road, Ghusury, Howrah, and its workmen represented by the Ghusury Sutakal Mazdoor Union, 50, Girish Ghosh Road, Ghusury, Howrah, over the question of payment of Puja Bonus to workmen.

The management raised the dispute by a written statement and the Union filed a written reply. The dispute arose after the award of the major Tribunal in respect of 36 cotton mills in West Bengal which was given on the 28th of July 1948. There was a general demand for bonus—profit-sharing and annual, from 1942 to 1945 and for the period posterior to 1945. And there was also a special demand of the workmen of Radhesyam Cotton Mills and Victoria Cotton Mills for Puja Bonus for 1947. These were points 5 and 47, respectively, in the award of the major Tribunal. The management contends that the decisions of the major Tribunal on points 5 and 47 are anomalous and cannot both stand. The management practically claims exemption from implementing the award on point No. 47. The Union disputes the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to review the award and urges that the decisions on the two points are neither contradictory nor anomalous.

The following issues arise for adjudication in the present case:—

(1) Is there any conflict between the decisions on points 5 and 47 in the award given by the General Cotton Textile Tribunal?

(2) If so, which of the two decisions should prevail?

(3) Are the workmen entitled to get any amount in addition to what has already been paid to them as interim relief, or are they liable to refund the amount paid to them?

(4) Has this Tribunal any jurisdiction to review the award given by the General Cotton Textile Tribunal?

DECISION.

I take up all the points together. The major Tribunal was constituted with myself as Chairman and with Sri S. C. Chakrabartty and Sri S. C. Dutta Gupta as members. The services of Sri S. C. Dutta Gupta are no longer available for the Industrial Tribunal. The Union prayed for summonses on Sri S. C. Chakrabartty and Sri S. C. Dutta Gupta. This is considered a vexatious procedure, for Judges cannot be expected to give evidence beyond what is in the judgment. The summons was not accordingly issued. As a Chairman of the major Tribunal I am thought by the Government to be quite competent to give the clarification wanted by the management. It is why the reference has been made to me. The other two Judges cannot give any additional light on this point.

In our award on Point No. 5 in the case of 36 cotton mills in West Bengal we made it clear that Festival Bonus, Independence Bonus, etc., are ex-gratia bonus and we linked the demand of the workmen for bonus with profits and dividends. We allowed one type of bonus to the workmen which was payable only when the Company has earned a profit. The workmen of Sree Radhesyam Mills and Victoria Cotton Mills demanded Puja and Id Bonus for 1947 at Rs. 100 per head. This was considered under Point No. 47. The original claim of the workers was a month's wages and to avoid the strike which was threatened the management entered into a compromise with the workers at the intervention of the then President of the Provincial Congress Committee and Rs. 33 was paid to each worker as an interim relief. It was agreed that the point would be placed before the major Tribunal and the amount paid would be adjusted after the award was published. We allowed one month's pay including dearness allowance as bonus under this head. Having held that Festival Bonus is an ex-gratia payment under Point No. 5, we should not have allowed the demand of the workmen for Puja and Id Bonus. We paid our best attention to the general points that affected the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal as a whole. And we had to hurry over the special points which were not considered to be so very important as a general point. This is how the contradiction crept in. A question may arise as to whether the award on Point No. 47 would prevail. If the decision be in the affirmative the award on Point No. 5 cannot stand. Apart from the technical difficulty to hold such a view in the absence of all the parties, there are considerable substantial difficulties in upholding the decision under Point No. 47 superseding the decision under Point No. 5. A Festival Bonus which is undoubtedly an ex-gratia payment cannot be preferred to a bonus linked with profit. A Festival Bonus being an ex-gratia payment cannot be the subject-matter of an industrial dispute nor can it be forced by an award on the employer. A demand for bonus linked with profits and dividends, on the other hand, is undoubtedly an industrial dispute and can be awarded by the Industrial Tribunal. Having carefully considered the point raised before me, I am clearly of opinion that the decision of the major Tribunal on Point No. 47 was mistaken and cannot stand.

A question has been raised as to whether this Tribunal has jurisdiction to review the award given by the General Cotton Textile Tribunal. There is no clear provision in the Act either way. It is not a case of review but a case of clarification as to which of the two conflicted decisions should prevail. As contradictory decisions in one and the same award cannot stand, the management wants clarification as to which of the two contradictory decisions shall stand. Apart from the contradiction the decision on Point No. 47 of the award was illegal, inasmuch as an ex-gratia payment is outside the scope of the Industrial Disputes Act and cannot be forced by any Tribunal on the employers. When the matter was referred to me as a Chairman of the major Tribunal, it will be unfair and against all sense of equity and good conscience on my part to keep silent without pointing out the contradiction, the mistake and the effect of contradiction.

In the result Point No. 47 in the award of the major Cotton Textile Tribunal being outside the jurisdiction of an Industrial Tribunal, the award on this point is a nullity and shall be deemed as not existent. I accordingly cannot direct any further payment to the workmen to make up one month's wages and dearness allowance. Then about the question of refund of Rs. 33 paid to the workers, the General Manager was persuaded to withdraw his claim on this point on the ground that any direction for the refund of this amount will be a great hardship on the workmen. Besides the payment was made partially to meet the demand of the workmen for Puja and Id Bonus. This was an ex-gratia payment and is outside the scope of the Industrial Disputes Act. I do not, therefore, make any order for refund of the amount already paid to the workmen.

The management of the Victoria Cotton Mills is said to have implemented the direction of the major Tribunal on Point No. 47. This does not cure the defect.

ORDER.

No. 588Lab.—10th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3952Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the industrial dispute between Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba, 46, Chakraberia Road, Calcutta, and his employees in connection with the cases of Totaram and Guram Singh, represented by Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, 1/2, Rustomji Parsee Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba, 46, Chakraberia Road, Calcutta, and his employees in connection with the cases of Totaram and Guram Singh as represented by Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, 1/2, Rustomji Parsee Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the employer: Sri Harshanath Banarji, Pleader.

Present for the Union: Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, Secretary.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 3952Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the above industrial dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The dispute related to the cases of two employees, namely, Guram Singh and Totaram, who were discharged by the employer Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba, who is the owner of two motor buses plying in Calcutta. I issued notices to the parties and on 17th November 1948 Guram Singh, one of the employees concerned in this dispute, appeared in person and filed a petition stating that he had got no grievance and that there was no dispute between him and the employer Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba. Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, Secretary of the Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, who was to represent the two employees concerned in this dispute, stated that in the circumstances he would not submit any statement of dispute on behalf of Guram Singh. The position with regard to Guram Singh is that there is no dispute between him and the employer and the award will be made accordingly. Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya submitted a statement on behalf of the other employee Totaram alleging that he had been dismissed on account of his allegiance to the Bus Mazdoor Union and he demanded his reinstatement and full pay for the period of unemployment. The employer filed written statement on 10th December 1948 stating that Totaram was dismissed in March last because he was careless and dishonest and rude to the passengers. Certain instances of his dishonesty were mentioned in the written statement. Issues were framed on 17th December 1948 and they are as follows:—

(1) Was Totaram dismissed for dishonesty, carelessness and incivility to the passengers? Dis his dismissal amount to victimisation?

(2) Is he entitled to reinstatement and full pay for the period of non-employment?

Issues 1 and 2.

There is no evidence that Totaram was dismissed for any Trade Union activities or for his having taken part in any activities of the Bus Mazdoor Union. No such ground was taken in the letters which the Union addressed to the employer or to the Labour Commissioner after discharge of Totaram. From the copies of letters filed by the Union it appears that the only ground taken therein was that Totaram was discharged without any reason. The Union alleged for the first time in the written statement filed in this case that Totaram had been discharged on account of his allegiance to the Union. Totaram has been examined in this case. He stated that he was dismissed because of the fact that he used to work for the Union and collect subscriptions. There is, however, no evidence that he actually used to collect subscriptions. He says that he used to realise subscriptions after his day's work. If so, then it could not have interfered with his day's work. There is no evidence that any demand was forwarded to the employer after the formation of the Union. Nor was there any allegation to this effect. The employer's son Pritam Singh has denied that Totaram was discharged for his Union activities and on the evidence before me I do not find any reason to suppose that he was discharged on account of any such activity or that his discharge amounted to victimisation or unfair labour practice.

The employer's case as to why Totaram was discharged is, as I have already stated, that he was careless, dishonest and rude to the passengers. These facts were mentioned in the letter which the employer wrote to the Labour Commissioner on 20th April 1948, a copy of which has been filed. So far as incivility to passengers is concerned, Pritam Singh, son of Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba, gave evidence that he received complaints to that effect. There is, however, no written record on the point. As to dishonesty, Pritam Singh has mentioned certain instances of purchase of petrol and of motor parts by Totaram for which prices above the market price were charged by him. According to Pritam Singh, Totaram was the conductor of bus No. 158 belonging to Niranjan Singh and it was his duty to submit account of the fares realised by him from the passengers and of expenses incurred by him on the employer's account. A pocket book has been filed which purports to contain daily accounts of realisation and expenditure by Totaram. This pocket book contains an entry, dated 20th January 1948 (Exhibit 1), showing that 12 gallons of petrol were purchased for Rs. 27-9. It purports to contain signatures of Totaram and the driver of the bus. It is said that the price of petrol then was Rs. 1-15-6 per gallon and that as such the price of 12 gallons ought to have been Rs. 23-10. Totaram denied that this account was in his handwriting or bore his signature. According to him the driver used to write the accounts and purchase petrol and motor parts and that he used to pay for them at the direction of the driver. It appears, however, from the Way Bill, dated 30th January 1948, filed by the employer that actually 14 gallons of petrol were purchased on that day. There are two cash memos. with the Way Bill which prove this. Rs. 23-10 were paid for 12 gallons of petrol and Rs. 3-15 more were paid for 2 gallons, according to the cash memos. filed by the employer himself along with the Way Bill. I cannot hold therefore that Totaram or the driver of the bus overcharged the price of petrol on 30th January 1948. There are two other entries in the accounts, dated 16th September 1947 and 8th November 1947, respectively (Exhibits 1A and 1B), on which the employer has relied to show that Totaram overcharged the prices of certain motor accessories. The account, dated 16th September 1947, contains an entry showing purchase of one platinum point for Rs. 9 and the account, dated 8th November 1947, shows purchase of a bucket for Rs. 4. The employer has examined a witness, Sangat Singh, who is the Manager of a store of motor accessories and his evidence is that one platinum point is worth Rs. 3-4 and a bucket As. 10-6. To prove that these prices were actually charged by his store in September and November 1947, he has produced certain cash memos. These entries in the accounts do not contain signatures of Totaram. The evidence of Pritam Singh is that they are in Totaram's handwriting but this has been denied by Totaram who says that the driver of the bus Amarnath Banerji used to write the accounts and make the purchases. The account, dated 8th November 1947, purports to contain a signature of A. N. Banerji. Amarnath is no longer in the service of the employer, and his whereabouts are said to be unknown. There is of course no substantive evidence that Totaram actually made the purchases shown in the accounts of these days, but it is to be remembered, as admitted by him, that the general practice is for the conductors to purchase motor parts and petrol and to keep and submit accounts. In the case of this particular bus the practice was said to have been different because the driver of the bus was an older employee. Whether Totaram actually made these purchases or not, it is clear that he collected the fares and paid for the purchases and was responsible for the money. He has admitted that he used to pay for the purchases made by the driver. So if higher prices were mentioned in the accounts for motor parts purchased for the bus, Totaram could not totally avoid responsibility therefor since he was the person in charge of the money and the payments must have been made by him. If the motor parts mentioned above were purchased for higher prices, as has been proved by the Manager of the store examined by the employer, during the period when Totaram was in the service of the employer, there can be no question that the employer had reasonable cause for suspecting Totaram's honesty in the matter. Thus, though Totaram's complicity in the matter of these purchases may not strictly have been established there was enough room for suspicion against him.

In this view of the matter it cannot be said that Totaram's dismissal was absolutely without any reason. Nor can there be any reasonable ground for believing that his discharge was connected with his activities, if any, for the cause of the Union which has not at all been established. I put it to the Secretary of the Union if an employee is suspected by his employer to be dishonest, whether it would be proper to force the employer to reinstate him? The Secretary of the Union agreed that in such circumstances it would not be desirable to reinstate the employee and he frankly told me that he would not press for the reinstatement of Totaram. Totaram is at present employed in another bus, but he was out of employment for about three months from March to May 1948. The Secretary of the Union did not press for reinstatement, but pressed only for compensation for the period of non-employment. In the circumstances mentioned above, I do not think that Totaram is entitled to reinstatement. I cannot also hold that he is entitled to compensation for the period of non-employment since his discharge was not wrongful and cannot be said to have been without any cause. I find, however, that he was discharged without any notice and therefore he is entitled to pay for the period of notice. He was a daily worker on a pay of Rs. 3-10 per day and Rs. 1-12 as tiffin which should be treated as a sort of dearness allowance. As a daily worker he was entitled to seven days' notice. I hold accordingly that he is entitled to seven days' pay and allowance as compensation.

My award accordingly is that the claim for reinstatement of Totaram should be rejected but that he should get compensation for seven days at the rate of Rs. 5-6 per day from the employer Sardar Niranjan Singh Gariba. This compensation should be paid within one month from the date of the publication of this award. As regards Guram Singh my award is that there is no dispute.

VERY IMPORTANT

Office of the Accountant-General, West Bengal

NOTIFICATIONS.

Subject:—Instructions regarding bills payable by the Accountant-General, West Bengal, within the current financial year (1948-49).

No. TM/839.—2nd February 1949.—With the concurrence of the Secretary, Finance Department, the following instructions are issued for information and guidance of all Drawing and Disbursing Officers in Calcutta under audit of this office.

2. In order to ensure payment before the close of the financial year, all Travelling Allowance, Contingent, and other bills payable within the year, should, as far practicable, be presented at the counter of this office by the 15th March 1949. The words "To be paid on or before the 31st March 1949" should be written prominently in red ink on the top of each bill. In respect of charges actually incurred, or claims accruing on or after the 15th March, the bills should be presented with the utmost expedition without losing even a single day. Please remember that during the last week of March this office is pre-occupied with the passing of monthly pay bills payable on the first working day of April.

3. Three clear days are required by this office to complete all processes connected with pre-audit. On the fourth working day from the date of presentation of a bill, the payee or his messenger should call at the delivery counter to demand payment. If for any reason payment cannot be obtained on that day, he should call on the next day, or on the second or third following day—should it become necessary. Any complaint regarding undue delay in payment should be lodged with the gazetted officer in charge of the section. No attempt should be made to get into direct touch with the sectional staff.

4. It should be particularly borne in mind that unpassed bills are not returned by post; they are required to be received back at the counter on surrender of tokens.

5. Please take all possible care to see that the bills presented are free from defects and irregularities. There may not be time left for resubmitting the bills when once returned unpassed with audit objections.

6. It will facilitate the payment of bills if the following instructions are borne in mind:—

(a) If the appropriation for the current year is likely to be or has already been exceeded, an additional appropriation should be obtained in time to meet the excess and the order sanctioning the additional appropriation attached to the bill.

(b) If any charge requiring sanction of a higher authority is claimed in a bill, the sanction should be attached to it. As no payment can be made on the authority of copies of orders, the sanctioning authority should be requested to communicate the orders to this office in time.

(c) If no distribution of any appropriation has yet been made, formal orders of the competent authority sanctioning the distribution should be attached to the bill.

(d) A bill extract giving particulars of the major, minor and detailed heads of account to which the amount of the bill is chargeable and the designation of the officer controlling the expenditure should invariably be attached to bills.

7. Between the 15th and 31st March please make it a point to check your Bill Register every day with a view to receive all payments in good time.

8. As a special concession to payees, the Cash Payment, and Cheque Delivery Counters of this office will be kept open till 5 p.m. on the 31st March. No payment will be made after that hour.

No. TM/840.—2nd February 1949.—It has been reported by the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, New Delhi, that Schedules and Vouchers, which are under the existing arrangement sent to his office direct by Treasury Officers, are often mismarked, and do not reach the proper section of his office. In order to avoid this, all Treasury Officers in West Bengal are, hereby, requested that such documents which are to be sent to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, New Delhi, direct may be addressed to A. C. C. Section of his office. The number and date of the memorandum forwarding these documents to the Accountant-General, Central Revenues, should invariably be noted in the list of payments/Cash Accounts, furnished to this office.

Subject:—Payment into treasuries of revenues under the Bengal Ferries Act, the Cattle Trespass Act, etc.

No. L.A.1447.—5th February 1949.—Attention of all Treasury Officers in West Bengal is invited to Note 2 under S.R. 49 of the Treasury Rules, Bengal, Volume I, and also to this office letter No. TM/907, dated the 17th February 1941, on the subject noted above. It has come to the notice of this office that the instructions contained therein are not being properly followed by most of the Treasury Officers with the result that it has become almost impracticable for the officers of the District Boards and Municipalities to post and maintain properly the Pound and Ferry receipt registers, to exercise the necessary control over the realisation and to take timely action for the realisation of these dues. It has become difficult also for audit to exercise proper check over these receipts for want of necessary details in the registers of the local bodies.

To obviate the difficulty and to meet the requirements of the local bodies, it is requested that the procedure outlined in paragraph 2 of this office letter No. TM/907, dated the 17th February 1941, may invariably be followed in respect of payment into treasuries of revenues referred to above.

Calcutta, the 7th February 1949.

NOTIFICATION No. TM/845.

Attention of all Treasury Officers in West Bengal is invited to rule 48 and note thereunder of Bengal Financial Rules regarding recovery of house-rents, etc., by the Disbursing Officers. It has been reported to this office that rents and taxes specified in the rent statements issued by Executive Engineers are not always recovered from the pay bills of the officers concerned. It is requested that the rents, etc., as specified in the statement of rent may invariably be recovered henceforth from the pay bills of Government servants concerned without prior reference to them and one copy of the statement duly filled in returned to the issuing officers without fail.

S. K. SARKAR,
Deputy Accountant-General, West Bengal.

Civil Appeals under the Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdiction) Act, 1947 (Act No. I of 1948).

1. The following rules shall apply to appeals brought to the Federal Court under the provisions of the Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdiction) Act, 1947 (Act No. I of 1948):—

Leave to appeal.

2. All appeals to the Federal Court shall be brought either in pursuance of leave obtained from the Court appealed from, or, in the absence of such leave, in pursuance of special leave to appeal granted by the Federal Court upon a petition in that behalf presented by the intending Appellant.

Special Leave to appeal.

3. A petition for special leave to appeal to the Federal Court shall state succinctly and clearly all such facts as it may be necessary to state in order to enable the Court to determine whether such leave ought to be granted, and shall be signed by the Junior Counsel who attends at the hearing or by the party himself if he appears in person. The Petition shall deal with the merits of the case only so far as is necessary for the purpose of explaining and supporting the particular grounds upon which special leave to appeal is sought.

4. A Petition for special leave to appeal may be lodged at any time after the date of the judgment sought to be appealed from, but the Petitioner shall, in every case, lodge his Petition with the least possible delay.

5. The Petitioner shall lodge not less than six copies of his Petition for special leave to appeal together with the Affidavit in support thereof prescribed by rule 40 hereinafter contained, and, unless a Caveat as prescribed by rule 38 has been lodged by the other parties who appeared in the Court below, an Affidavit of service of notice of the intended application upon such parties or their agents or the Advocates who represented them in the High Court.

6. Where the Federal Court grants special leave to appeal it shall in its Order specify the amount of the security for costs (if any) to be lodged by the Petitioner, and the time within which such security is to be lodged, and shall unless the circumstances of a particular case render such a course unnecessary, provide for the transmission of the record by the Registrar of the High Court concerned to the Registrar of this Court and for such further matters as the justice of the case may require. Unless the Court specially directs otherwise, any security for costs to be furnished by the Petitioner shall be lodged in the High Court from whose judgment special leave to appeal has been granted, and the High Court shall deal with such security in accordance with the directions contained in the Order of the Federal Court when determining the Appeal.

7. Where security is required to be furnished in this Court, it shall be given to the Registrar or to such other officer as the Court may specially direct, and the Court may permit or order him to assign the same to any other person for the purpose of enforcing it upon such terms as the Court may think fit.

8. Every person, other than a Guarantee Society, offering himself as a surety, shall produce such evidence as the Registrar may require for the purpose of proving that he is worth the amount required.

9. A Guarantee Society, duly approved by the Court, may be accepted as surety upon its joining in a bond with the person ordered to give the security.

10. Where the appellant has lodged security for the respondent's costs of an Appeal in the Registry of the Court, the Registrar of the Court shall deal with such security in accordance with the directions contained in the Court's Order determining the Appeal.

11. Save as otherwise provided by the eight last preceding rules, the provisions of rules 37 to 47 (both inclusive) hereinafter contained shall apply mutatis mutandis to petitions for special leave to appeal.

Special leave to appeal in forma pauperis.

12. The provisions contained in Order XVI of Part II-A shall apply in the case of any person seeking to appeal to the Federal Court as a pauper.

Preparation of Record, etc.

13. As soon as the Appeal has been admitted, whether by an Order of the Court appealed from or by an Order of this Court granting special leave to appeal, the Appellant shall, without delay, take all necessary steps to have the Record transmitted to the Registrar of this Court, and the Registrar of the Court appealed from shall, with all convenient speed, certify to the Registrar of this Court that the Respondent has received notice, or is otherwise aware, of the Order of the Court appealed from admitting the Appeal, or of the Order of this Court giving the Appellant special leave to appeal.

14. Where an Appellant, who has obtained special leave to appeal by an Order of this Court, fails to have the Record transmitted to the Registrar of this Court with due diligence, the Registrar of this Court shall call upon the Appellant to explain his default and if no explanation is offered, or if the explanation offered is, in the opinion of the said Registrar, insufficient, the said Registrar may issue a Summons to the Appellant calling upon him to show cause before this Court at a time to be specified in the said Summons why the special leave to appeal granted should not be rescinded. The Respondent shall be entitled to be heard before this Court in the matter of the said Summons and to ask for his costs and such other relief as he may be advised. The Court may, after considering the matter of the said Summons, rescind the grant of Special leave to appeal, or give such other directions therein as the justice of the case may require.

15. Whenever the decision of the Appeal is likely to turn exclusively on a question of law, the Appellant may, with the sanction of the High Court, print such parts only of the Record as may be necessary for the discussion of the same.

16. The Registrar of the High Court, as well as the parties and their agents, shall endeavour to and generally to reduce the bulk of the Record as far as practicable, taking special care to avoid the duplication of documents and the unnecessary repetition of headings and other merely formal parts of documents; but the documents omitted to be printed shall be enumerated in a type-written list to be transmitted with the Record.

17. Where in the course of the preparation of a Record one party objects to the inclusion of a document on the ground that it is unnecessary or irrelevant and the other party nevertheless insists upon its being included, the Record as finally printed shall, with a view to the subsequent adjustment of the costs of and incidental to such document, indicate, in the index of papers, or otherwise, the fact that, and the party by whom, the inclusion of the document was objected to.

18. The Record shall be printed under the supervision of the Registrar of the High Court according to the practice hitherto obtaining in the High Court in relation to the preparation of the Record in appeals to His Majesty in Council. When the Record has been made ready, the Registrar of the High Court shall—

(i) at the expense of the Appellant transmit to the Registrar of this Court such number of copies as the Federal Court may direct, or, in the absence of any special direction, 25 copies of such record, one of which copies he shall certify to be correct by signing his name on, or initialling, every eighth page thereof and by affixing thereto the seal of the Court appealed from;

(ii) give notice of the despatch of the Record to the parties; and

(iii) send to the Registrar of this Court a certificate as to the date or dates on which the notice under the preceding sub-clause (ii) has been served.

19. When the Record arrives in the Registry of this Court the parties shall, upon perusal, consider whether the order of the documents is in accordance with the said practice, and, if it is not, they shall agree upon the proper order in which they ought to be arranged. In the event of the parties being unable to agree, the matter shall be referred to the Registrar of the Court, who, if he thinks fit, may require the parties to attend before the Judge in Chambers for directions. The Appellant shall then rearrange copies of the Record for the use of the Court and the other parties.

20. When the Record is received in the Registry of this Court, and, if necessary, is rearranged in accordance with rule 19 above, it shall be registered in the said Registry with the date of arrival, and the names of the parties. Appeals shall be numbered consecutively in each year in the order in which the Records are received in the said Registry.

21. The parties shall be entitled to inspect the Record and to extract all necessary particulars therefrom for the purpose of entering an Appearance.

22. Each party who has entered an Appearance shall be entitled to receive, for his own use, four copies of the Record.

23. Subject to any special direction from the Court to the contrary, the costs of, and incidental to, the printing of the Record shall form part of the costs of the Appeal, but the costs of, and incidental to, the printing of any document objected to by one party, in accordance with rule 17 above, shall if such document is found, on the taxation of costs, to be unnecessary or Appellant's Appearance and Lodging of Petition of Appeal.

24. The Appellant shall enter an Appearance before taking any step in the prosecution of the Appeal, and after entering such Appearance shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Respondent.

25. The Appellant shall lodge his Petition of Appeal within a period of thirty days from the date of the service of notice of despatch of the Record by the Registrar of the High Court.

26. The Petition of Appeal shall be lodged in the form prescribed by rule 37 hereinafter contained. It shall recite succinctly and, as far as possible, in chronological order, the principle steps in the proceedings leading up to the Appeal from the commencement thereof down to the admission of the Appeal, but shall not contain argumentative matter or travel into the merits of the case.

27. The Appellant shall, after lodging his Petition of Appeal, serve a copy thereof without delay on the Respondent, as soon as the latter has entered an Appearance, and shall endorse such copy with the date of the lodgment.

Withdrawal of Appeal.

28. Where an Appellant, who has not lodged his Petition of Appeal, desires to withdraw his Appeal, he shall give notice in writing to that effect to the Registrar of this Court, and the said Registrar shall, with all convenient speed after receipt of such notice, by letter notify the Registrar of the High Court that the Appeal has been withdrawn. The said Appeal shall thereupon stand dismissed as from the date of the said letter without further Order, and the costs of the Appeal and the security entered into by the Appellant shall be dealt with in such manner as the High Court may think fit to direct.

29. Where an Appellant, who has lodged his Petition of Appeal, desires to withdraw his Appeal, he shall present a Petition to that effect to the Court. On the hearing of any such Petition a Respondent may apply to the Court for his costs.

Non-prosecution of Appeal: Change of Parties.

30. The provisions contained in rules 2 to 5 of Order XV in Part IIA shall apply in the case of failure on the part of the Appellant to prosecute his Appeal, and rules 6 and 7 thereof in case of change of parties.

Appearance by Respondent.

31. The Respondent may enter an Appearance at any time between the transmission of the Record by the High Court and the hearing of the Appeal, but if he unduly delays entering an Appearance he shall bear, or be disallowed, the costs occasioned by such delay, unless the Court otherwise directs.

32. The Respondent shall forthwith after entering an Appearance give notice thereof to the Appellant.

33. Where there are two or more Respondents, and only one, or some, of them enter an Appearance, the Appearance Form shall set out the names of the appearing Respondents.

34. Two or more Respondents may, at their own risk as to costs, enter separate appearances in the same Appeal.

35. A Respondent who has not entered an Appearance shall not be entitled to receive any notices relating to the Appeal from the Registrar of the Court, nor be allowed to lodge a Case in the Appeal.

36. Where a Respondent fails to enter an Appearance in an Appeal, the following rule shall, subject to any special Order of the Court to the contrary, apply: (a) If the non-appearing Respondent was a Respondent at the time when the Appeal was admitted, whether by an Order of the Court appealed from or by an Order of this Court giving the Appellant special leave to appeal and it appears from the terms of the said Order or otherwise from the Record, or from a certificate of the Registrar of the Court appealed from, that the said non-appearing Respondent has received notice, or was otherwise aware of the Order of the Court appealed from admitting the Appeal, or of the Order of this Court giving the Appellant special leave to appeal, and has also received notice, or was otherwise aware, of the despatch of the Record to this Court, the Appeal may, if all other conditions of its being set down are satisfied be set down ex parte as against the said non-appearing Respondent at any time after the expiration of sixty days from the date of the lodging of the Petition of Appeal; (b) if the non-appearing Respondent was made a Respondent by an Order of this Court subsequent to the admission of the Appeal, and it appears from the Record, or from a Supplementary Record, or from a Certificate of the Registrar of the Court appealed from, that the said non-appearing Respondent has received notice, or was otherwise aware, of any intended application to bring him on the record as a Respondent, the Appeal may, if all other conditions of its being set down are satisfied, be set down ex parte as against the said non-appearing Respondent any time after the expiration of sixty days from the date on which he shall have been served with a copy of the Order of this Court bringing him on the Record as a Respondent:

Provided that where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Registrar of this Court, by Affidavit or otherwise, either that an Appellant has made every reasonable endeavour to serve a non-appearing Respondent with the notices mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) respectively and has failed to effect such service or that it is not the intention of the non-appearing Respondent to enter an Appearance to the Appeal, the Appeal may, without further Order in that behalf and at the risk of the Appellant, be proceeded with ex parte as against the said non-appearing Respondent.

Petitions Generally.

37. All Petitions shall consist of paragraphs numbered consecutively and shall be fairly and legibly written, typewritten or lithographed on one side of standard petition paper, demy foolscap size, with quarter margin, and endorsed with the name of the Court appealed from, the full title and Federal Court number of the Appeal to which the Petition relates, or the full title of the Petition (as the case may be) and the name and address of the Agent (if any) of the Petitioner. Unless the Petition is a Consent Petition within the meaning of rule 44 at least six copies thereof shall be lodged.

38. Where a Petition is expected to be lodged or has been lodged, which does not relate to any pending Appeal of which the record has been registered in the Registry of this Court, any person claiming a right to appear before the Court on the hearing of such Petition may lodge a Caveat in the matter thereof, and shall thereupon be entitled to receive from the Registrar notice of the lodging of the Petition, if at the time of the lodging of the Caveat such Petition has not yet been lodged, and, if and when the Petition has been lodged, to require the Petitioner to serve him with a copy of the Petition and to furnish him, at his own expense, with copies of any papers lodged by the Petitioner in support of his Petition. The Caveator shall forthwith, after lodging his Caveat, give notice thereof to the Petitioner, if the Petition has been lodged.

39. Where a Petition is lodged in the matter of any pending Appeal of which the Record has been registered in the Registry of this Court, the Petitioner shall serve any party who has entered an Appearance in the Appeal, with a copy of such Petition and the party so served shall thereupon be entitled to require the Petitioner to furnish him, at his own expense, with copies of any papers lodged by the Petitioner in support of his Petition.

40. A Petition not relating to any Appeal of which the Record has been registered in the Registry of this Court, and any other Petition containing allegations of fact which cannot be verified by reference to the registered Record or any certificate or duly authenticated statement of the Court appealed from, shall be supported by Affidavit. Where the Petitioner prosecutes his Petition in person, the said Affidavit shall be sworn by the Petitioner himself and shall state that, to the best of the deponent's knowledge, information and belief, the allegations contained in the Petition are true. Where the Petitioner is represented by an Agent, the said Affidavit may be sworn by such Agent and shall besides stating that, to the best of the deponent's knowledge, information and belief, the allegations contained in the Petition are true, show how the deponent obtained his instructions and the information enabling him to present the Petition.

41. The Registrar may refuse to receive a Petition on the grounds that it discloses no reasonable cause of Appeal, or is frivolous, or contains scandalous matter, but the Petitioner may appeal, by way of motion, from such refusal to the Court.

42. As soon as a Petition and all necessary documents are lodged, the Petition shall thereupon be deemed to be set down.

43. Subject to the provisions of the next following rule, the Registrar shall, as soon as the Court has appointed a day for the hearing of a Petition, notify all parties concerned of the day so appointed.

44. Where the prayer of a Petition is consented to in writing by the opposite party, or where a Petition is of a formal and non-contentious character, the Court may, if it thinks fit, make an Order thereon, without requiring the attendance of the parties, and the Registrar shall not in any such case issue notice as provided by the last preceding rule, but shall, with all convenient speed, after the Court has made its Order, notify the parties that the Order has been made and of the date and nature of such Order.

45. A Petitioner who desires to withdraw his Petition shall give notice in writing to that effect to the Registrar. Where the Petition is opposed, the Opponent shall, subject to any agreement between the parties to the contrary, be entitled to apply to the Court for his costs, but where the Petition is unopposed, or where, in the case of an opposed Petition, the parties have come to an agreement as to the costs of the Petition, the Petition may, if the Court think fit, be disposed of in the same way mutatis mutandis as a Consent Petition under the provisions of the last preceding rule.

46. Where a Petitioner unduly delays bringing a Petition to a hearing, the Registrar shall call upon him to explain the delay, and if no explanation is offered, or if the explanation offered is, in the opinion of the Registrar, insufficient, the Registrar may, after notifying all interested parties, place the Petition before the Court for such directions as the Court may think fit to give thereon.

47. At the hearing of a Petition not more than one Counsel shall be admitted to be heard on a side.

Lodging of Case, etc.

48. No party to an Appeal shall be entitled to be heard by the Court unless he has previously lodged his Case in the Appeal:

Provided that where a Respondent who has entered an Appearance does not desire to lodge a Case in the Appeal, he may give the Registrar of the Court notice in writing of his intention not to lodge any Case, while reserving his right to address the Court on the question of costs.

49. Each party shall lodge twelve copies of his Case, printed or neatly typed with quarter margin, on one side of standard petition paper of the same size and quality as that used in the printing of the Record in the High Court.

50. The Case shall consist of paragraphs numbered consecutively and shall state, as concisely as possible, the circumstances out of which the Appeal arises, the contentions to be urged by the party lodging the same, and the reasons of Appeal. References by page and line to the relevant portions of the Record as printed shall, as far as practicable, be printed or typed in the margin, and care shall be taken to avoid, as far as possible, the reproducing in the Case of long extracts from the Record. The Taxing Officer in taxing the costs of the Appeal shall, either of his own motion, or at the instance of the opposite party, enquire into any unnecessary prolixity in the Case, and shall disallow the costs occasioned thereby.

51. Two or more Respondents may, at their own risk as to costs, lodge separate Cases in the same Appeal.

52. Each party shall, after lodging his Case, forthwith give notice thereof to the other party.

53. Subject as hereinafter provided, the party who lodges his Case first may, at any time after the expiration of three clear days from the date on which he has given the other party the notice prescribed by the last preceding rule, serve such other party if the latter has not in the meantime lodged his Case with a "Case Notice" requiring him to lodge his Case within thirty days from the date of the service of the said Case Notice and informing him that, in default of his so doing, the Appeal will be set down for hearing ex parte as against him, and if the other party fails to comply with the said Case Notice, the party who has lodged his Case may, at any time after the expiration of the time limited by the said Case Notice for the lodging of the Case, lodge an Affidavit of Service (which shall set out the terms of the said Case Notice), and the Appeal shall thereupon, if all other conditions of its being set down are satisfied, be set down ex parte as against the party in default:

Provided that no Case Notice shall be served until after the transmission of the Record by the High Court, and also that nothing in this Rule contained shall preclude the party in default from lodging his Case at his own risk as regards the costs and otherwise, at any time up to the date of hearing.

54. Subject to the provisions of rule 38 and of the last preceding rule, an Appeal shall be set down ipso facto as soon as the Cases on both sides are lodged, and the parties shall thereupon exchange the Cases by handing one another, either at the offices of one of the Agents or in the Registry of the Court, six copies of their respective Cases.

Binding of Records, etc.

55. As soon as an Appeal is set down, the Appellant shall attend at the Registry and obtain ten copies of the Record and Cases to be bound for the use of the Court at the hearing. The copies shall be bound in cloth or in one-fourth leather with paper sides, and six leaves of blank paper shall be inserted before the Appellant's Case. The front cover shall bear a printed label stating the title and Federal Court number of the Appeal, the contents of the volume, and the names and addresses of the Agents. The several documents, indicated by incuts, shall be arranged in the following order: 1. Appellant's Case; 2. Respondent's Case; 3. Record (if in more than one part, showing the separate parts by incuts, all parts being paged at the top of the page); 4. Supplemental Record (if any); and the short title and Federal Court number of the Appeal shall also be shown on the back.

56. The Appellant shall lodge the bound copies not less than ten clear days before the date fixed for the hearing of the Appeal.

Hearing of Appeals.

57. All Appeals filed in the Registry shall, as far as possible, be heard in the order in which they are set down.

58. The Registrar shall, subject to the provisions of rule 35, notify the parties to the Appeal of the day fixed for the hearing.

59. Subject to the directions of the Court, at the hearing of an Appeal not more than two Advocates shall be heard on a side.

60. The Appellant shall not, without the leave of the Court, rely at the hearing on any grounds not specified in the Petition of Appeal or the Case filed by him.

61. Where the Court, after hearing an Appeal, decides to reserve its judgment therein, the Registrar shall notify the parties through their Agents of the day appointed by the Court for the delivery of the judgment.

62. A Respondent may within the time limited for Appearance deliver to the Registrar and to the Appellant a notice in writing consenting to the Appeal, and the Court may thereupon, if it thinks fit, make an Order upon the Appeal without requiring the attendance of the person so consenting.

Miscellaneous.

63. The filing of an Appeal shall not prevent execution of the decree or order appealed against, but the Court may, subject to such terms and conditions as it may think fit to impose, order a stay of execution in any case under appeal to the Court.

64. A Respondent may apply for the summary determination of an Appeal on the ground that it is frivolous or vexatious or brought for the purpose of delay, and the Court shall make such Order thereon as it thinks fit.

65. A Party to an Appeal who appears in person shall furnish the Registrar with an address for service and all documents left at that address, or sent by registered post to that address, shall be deemed to have been duly served."

Insert the following as a new chapter after the existing Chapter VIA:—

"Chapter VIB."

Civil Appeals under the Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdiction) Act, 1947 (Act I of 1948).

1. The provisions of Chapter IV shall apply so far as may be, to petitions under Order XLV, rule 2, Civil Procedure Code.

Note.—Until further orders applications may be typed on both sides of the paper.

2. Matters connected with appeals to the Federal Court, other than those with which the Registrar is authorised to deal, shall ordinarily be heard at such time as the Division Court appointed to deal with such matters shall fix.

3. Matters relating to (1) service of notices or other processes; (2) substitution of parties and appointment or discharge of next friends or guardians ad litem of minors or persons of unsound mind, before the admission of an appeal; (3) preparation of paper-books; (4) return of documents, and (5) matters not expressly required to be laid before the Division Court for orders, shall be dealt with and disposed of by the Registrar.

4. Applications for an order (1) to transmit Orders of the Federal Court for execution to the lower courts, where no special directions are required; (2) to transmit securities to the mufassal courts for investigation as to their sufficiency; and (3) for refunds of surplus deposits made for the purpose of preparing translations, manuscripts, etc., may, in ordinary circumstances, be made to, and disposed of, by the Registrar without notice to the opposite party other than inclusion in the daily cause list.

5. In all other applications regarding matters connected with appeals to the Federal Court, including petitions for leave to appeal, notice under rule 6 of this chapter is necessary, in addition to any other notice herein prescribed.

6. Notice of an application under the preceding rule shall be given by the applicant or his Advocate by delivering to the proper person (ordinarily the Advocate for the appearing opposite party) a copy of the petition, together with a notice, in the following form:—

"Take notice that this application will be filed with the proper officer of the Court, and that you are required to attend and show cause against the application at the hearing, if you desire to do so."

7. All applications which have been duly filed with the clerk-in-charge of Federal Court Appeals will be set down in a list in the order in which they are notified to him. The cases in the list will be called on peremptorily in their turn; and if, by the fault of the applicant, the application cannot be proceeded with, it will be liable to be dismissed.

8. Every petition under Order XLV, rule 2, Civil Procedure Code, shall be presented to the Stamp Reporter. Such petition shall be accompanied by—

(1) a court-fee of Rs. 16 for drawing up an estimate of the expense of preparing and forwarding to the Registrar of the Federal Court the record of the case;

(2) the fee for the issue of the notice of the application for leave to appeal to all the respondents who did not enter appearance in the High Court at the hearing of the appeal;

(3) forms of notices to all respondents, duly filled up in the manner prescribed in rule 15; and

Note.—A petition presented without a copy of the decree appealed from shall forthwith be returned to the Advocate or party presenting it, who shall refile it with the copy wanted within the period of limitation and in case it is refiled after the period of limitation it shall not be accepted without an order of the Division Court.

9. If the Stamp Reporter finds that the petition is barred by limitation he shall forthwith lay the same before the Court for orders. If it is filed within the prescribed period of limitation he shall lay it before the Registrar with a report whether it has been filed in accordance with the rules of the High Court and whether the stamps filed therewith are sufficient.

10. Upon receipt of such petition with the Stamp Reporter's report, the Registrar shall, in case the petition is not in proper form or is not accompanied by the requisite court-fee stamps, fix a period within which the additional fees may be paid or within which the petition may be amended, or lay the same before the Court for orders. If such petition is sufficiently stamped and complies with the provisions of the rules, he shall, upon receipt of such petition, direct notice to be served on the opposite party to show cause why the certificate should not be granted.

11. Where more than one such application is made by the same party at the same time relating to decrees or final orders made in pursuance of the same judgment and only one record is required to be printed, the Registrar may order that only one court-fee of Rs. 16 be paid, or that one certified copy of the judgment be accepted, or may refer the matter to the Court for orders.

12. As soon as the Registrar has directed notice to be served under rule 10 of this chapter, the clerk-in-charge of Federal Court Appeals shall forthwith proceed to issue notice of the application for leave to appeal to all the respondents who did not appear at the hearing of the appeal before the High Court. He shall also serve notices of the application for leave to appeal on the Advocates for the respondents who appeared at the hearing before the High Court but in case such Advocates refuse to accept service, the notices shall be served directly on the respondents concerned.

13. A notice which it is necessary to serve under these rules (other than notices under rule 6 of this chapter) or under Order XLV, rule 3 or rule 8, Civil Procedure Code, may be served in the manner provided by the Code for the service of notices, or, unless the Court or the Registrar otherwise directs, upon any Advocate who appeared for the party to whom notice is to be given in the appeal to this Court, unless the vakalatnama of such Advocate has been cancelled with the sanction of the Court. If there is no Advocate upon whom notice can be served, then, unless the Registrar shall otherwise direct, the notice must be served upon the party in Calcutta through the Registrar, Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, or in the mufassal through the proper court in the district in which such notice is to be served, on paying the usual fee. The fee for the issue of the notice must be paid into Court at the time of filing the application. Such payment is to be made by stamp affixed to the notice intended to be served.

14. Nothing in these rules requiring any notice to be served on, or given to, an opposite party or respondent shall be deemed to require any notice to be served on, or given to, the legal representative of any deceased opposite party or deceased respondent in a case where such opposite party or respondent did not appear either at the hearing in the High Court or at any proceedings subsequent to the decree of the High Court:

Provided that notices under sub-rule (2) of rule 3 and rule 8 of Order XLV, Civil Procedure Code, shall be given by affixing the same in some conspicuous place in the court house of the Judge of the district in which the original suit was brought and by publication in such newspapers as the Court may direct.

Notices under the proviso to this rule may be issued in the manner prescribed to the legal representatives of the deceased respondent or opposite party in question without specifying such legal representative by name.

15. (1) With the fee for the issue of the notice the applicant shall also file printed forms of such notice duly filled up in the prescribed form [see Form No. 6 (Civil)] the date of appearance and the date of the notice being left blank.

(2) The information entered in the form must be filled up in the vernacular (or in English if the party to be served is a European British subject or a resident of Calcutta) in a bold, clear and easily legible handwriting.

(3) The date fixed for the hearing of an application will be inserted in the form and the notice will be dated by the clerk-in-charge of Federal Court Appeals, before it is signed by the Deputy Registrar.

(4) The necessary number of printed forms of notice in the prescribed form will be supplied to applicants or their Advocates, free of cost, on application to the Forms Clerk.

(5) The Registrar may, in his discretion, direct in any particular case that the forms of notice be entirely filled up in the office of the Court.

16. The date fixed for the hearing of the application shall be regulated by the time-table prescribed in rule 46, Chapter V.

17. As soon as it shall appear that the notices of the application for leave to appeal have been duly served on all the respondents, the clerk-in-charge of Federal Court Appeals shall lay the application for leave to appeal before the Division Court for orders under Order XLV, rule 3(1), Civil Procedure Code.

18. On the receipt of a report from the court of first instance under Order XLV, rule 5, Civil Procedure Code, as to the amount or value of the subject matter of the suit and of the proposed appeal, notice shall forthwith be given to the applicant and to the appearing respondents, and any party objecting to the report shall, within seven days from the date of the notice, file his objections, if any, and also serve a copy thereof on the other side. The case shall thereupon be laid before the Court for orders without delay.

19. Immediately after the grant of the certificate, the clerk-in-charge shall call for the transmission, ordinarily within seven days, of the record and all material papers.

20. The Advocates for the parties shall be notified of the arrival of such record as soon as it is received in the office of the Court.

21. Whenever it shall be impossible for the lower court to comply with the requisition within the time stated, such Court shall report the reason of its inability, and shall ask for such further time as may be necessary.

22. (1) Immediately after the grant of a certificate for leave to appeal, the clerk-in-charge shall prepare and serve on the applicant an estimate with reference to (a) Parts I and II of the paper book used in the appeal to the High Court; and (b) the papers required to be added under rule 25, post, excluding item (7) of the latter rule. The amount due on such estimate shall be deposited within the time limited by Order XLV, rule 7 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

(2) If the application is for leave to appeal from the judgment of the High Court in an appeal other than an appeal from an original decree or order, the applicant shall deposit a lump sum of Rs. 400 within the time limited by Order XLV, rule 7, on account of the cost of the preparation of complete Parts I and II of the paper book. The estimates in such cases will be prepared and served as soon as possible after the receipt of the records and the filing of lists by the parties, but the said deposit of Rs. 400 shall be made within the prescribed time irrespective of the service of estimates.

22A. In the event of there being an appeal to the Federal Court, whether under section 205(1) of the Government of India Act, 1935, or under the Federal Court (Enlargement of Jurisdiction) Act, 1947 (I of 1948), 35 copies of the paper-book shall be prepared in accordance with the provisions of this chapter on the appeal being finally admitted.

23. (1) If the appellant desires to include in Parts I or II of the paper-book used at the hearing of the appeal in the High Court any papers on which the decision of the appeal to the Federal Court depends, and which have not already been included in the paper-book; or to exclude therefrom any papers on the ground that they are irrelevant to the subject matter of the appeal to the Federal Court, he shall within one week from the date of service upon him of the notice under rule 20, apply to the Registrar for an order accordingly, and file with his application a complete list of the papers to be included in, or excluded from, the printed paper-book; and he shall, at the same time, serve copies of his application and list on the appearing respondents.

(2) Within one week from the date of the receipt by them of copies of the application and list mentioned in clause (1) the appearing respondents shall, if they so desire, file a similar application and list and simultaneously serve copies thereof on the appellant.

(3)(a) In the case of applications for leave to appeal from the judgment of the High Court in an appeal other than an appeal from an original decree or order the appellant shall file a complete list of the papers which he wishes to include in Parts I and II of the paper-book with the clerk-in-charge within two weeks of the service of notice under rule 20, and shall simultaneously serve a copy thereof on the appearing respondents who shall thereupon prepare and file their lists with the clerk-in-charge within one week of the receipt of the appellant's list and simultaneously serve copies thereof on the appellant.

(b) If any party considers that any paper, or portion thereof, should be included in, or omitted from, the lists, he may within one week from the receipt of a copy of the list of the other side, and after giving notice to the other side of his intended application, apply to the Registrar for an order that such paper, or portion thereof, should be inserted in the paper-book, or be omitted therefrom.

(4) It shall be competent to the Registrar to pass any orders which, with reference to the said applications, he may consider proper, and any costs incurred on this account shall be borne in such manner as the Registrar may direct: Provided that if the Registrar is unable to arrive at any conclusion as to whether a document should be included or not, and as to which party should bear the cost of inclusion of any document, he may make a note, which will form part of the paper-book, to that effect. Such applications shall bear a certificate under the hand of the Advocate presenting them to the effect that the inclusion of the papers specified in their respective lists is necessary in order to arrive at a proper decision of the appeal, or that the papers are irrelevant and should be excluded from the printed record required for the Federal Court.

(5) Where an order is passed under clause (4) for exclusion on an application under clause (1) the excluded portion or portions shall be indicated by asterisks, where portion or portions of a paper are excluded, and a footnote shall be made by the Editor giving reference to the order of the Registrar. Where a paper or papers are excluded in entirety, a list of the paper or papers excluded shall be made and shall form part of the transcript record to the Federal Court. The order or order passed by the Registrar under clause (4) shall also form part of such transcript record.

24. Parts I and II of the paper-books shall contain brief marginal notes, but shall otherwise be prepared in accordance with the provisions of Chapter IX of these rules.

Each part shall have a complete index of all the papers included in it; and all the documents omitted from the transcript shall be enumerated in a typewritten list to be transmitted with the record.

Note.—Each document shall have a marginal note which shall be repeated on each page over which the document extends, viz.—

Part I.

(a) Where the case has been before more than one Court, the short name of the Court should first appear. Where the case has been before only one Court, the name of the Court need not appear.

(b) The marginal note of the document should consist of the number and the description of the document in the Index with the date, except in the case of oral evidence.

(c) In the case of oral evidence, the words "Plaintiff's evidence" or "Defendant's evidence" should appear beneath the name of the Court and then the marginal note consisting of the number in the Index and the witness's name, with "examination", "cross-examination", or "re-examination", as the case may be. The date is not required.

Part II.

(b) The marginal note of the Exhibits shall then appear consisting of the exhibit mark and the description of the document in the Index, with the date.

The parties shall agree to the omission of formal and irrelevant documents, but the description of the documents may appear (both in the Index and in the Record), if desired, with the words "not printed" against it.

25A. Whenever the decision of the Appeal is likely to turn exclusively on a question of law, the Appellant may, with the sanction of the High Court, print such parts only of the record as may be necessary for the discussion of the same.

All such objections will be disposed of at the next sitting but one of the Division Court after the arrival of the report.

38. When the security has been furnished and the deposit made in accordance with the provisions of Order XLV, rule 7, Civil Procedure Code, the clerk-in-charge shall lay the application before the Court for orders as to the admission of the appeal.

39. After the admission of the appeal the transcript of the record will be prepared for transmission to the Federal Court.

43. In case there is no next friend or guardian upon the record, a separate application for appointment of a next friend or guardian must be made.

44. (a) When a party, who has been successful in an appeal to the Federal Court, applies for a certificate of the costs incurred in the appeal in this Court, the Deputy Registrar shall, upon production of the order of the Federal Court for the payment of such costs, prepare such certificate and place it on the record of the Federal Court Appeal.

45. The Registrar shall periodically, and at short intervals, place in the Court's list all appeals which are in arrears and call on the appellants to show cause before the Court why the appeals should not be dismissed for want of prosecution.

6. Repeal of Ordinance XXI of 1948.—The Payment of Taxes (Transfer of Property) Ordinance, 1948 (XXI of 1948), is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to safeguard the loss of revenue in the case of persons who dispose of their properties with the intention of leaving India and settling somewhere else. Following the issue of an Ordinance in Pakistan in December 1947, a corresponding Ordinance was promulgated in India in February 1948. This Ordinance was due to expire on the 6th August 1948 and was renewed on that date by another Ordinance called the Payment of Taxes (Transfer of Property) Ordinance, 1948, which is now being repealed by this Bill.

K. C. NEOGY.

NEW DELHI;
The 17th August, 1948.

Notes on Clauses.

Clause 1(3).—This sub-clause gives retrospective effect to the Bill from the date of the promulgation of the original Ordinance called the Transfer of Property (India) Ordinance. That Ordinance came into force in some of the provinces, viz., West Bengal, Bihar and Ajmer-Merwara on later dates, but on its coming into force the recovery provisions of the Ordinance applied with retrospective effect in relation to any property transferred after the 14th August 1947.

Clause 2.—This clause prohibits a registering officer, revenue officer, etc., from registering any document relating to the transfer of immovable property other than agricultural land unless the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner of the area in which the property is situate gives a tax clearance certificate that the person who is transferring his right, title or interest in the property is either not liable to income-tax or has made satisfactory arrangement for the payment of taxes or that the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner is otherwise satisfied that the registration should be allowed.

Clause 3.—In respect of any immovable property transferred after the 14th August, 1947, without obtaining the tax clearance certificate, and in the case of any movable property other than stocks, shares and securities transferred after the said date, the Income-tax Officer may require the transferer to produce the tax clearance certificate from the Inspecting Assistant Commissioner and if he fails to do so, the Income-tax Officer may issue a certificate to the Collector requiring him to recover the tax due from the person. For this purpose, the Collector may treat any property transferred by the defaulter after the 14th August 1947, as if it were his property and recover the tax by attachment.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE WEST BENGAL

Calcutta, the 28th January 1949.

First Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of West Bengal for 1948-49.

Explanatory.—Three forecasts of spring oilseed crops issue from this Directorate. The present one deals with the area sown.

The character of the season.—Period of sowing generally varied from September to November in different districts. The weather conditions have not been favourable in all districts. Flood and rain affected the crop in the districts of Murshidabad and Jalpaiguri. Bad weather conditions and irregular rainfall in some districts account for the diminution of acreage sown this year compared to last year.

Acreage sown.—The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is estimated at 168,800 acres this year compared to 205,500 acres and 210,700 acres reported in the corresponding and final forecast of last year.

Linseed.—29,000 acres are estimated to be under linseed this year compared to 42,100 acres and 41,600 acres reported in the corresponding and in the final forecast respectively of last year.

Rape and mustard.—122,900 acres are estimated to be under rape and mustard this year compared to 144,500 acres and 146,700 acres reported in the corresponding and final forecast respectively of last year.

Other oilseeds (excepting til).—16,900 acres are estimated to be under other oilseeds this year as against 18,900 acres and 22,400 acres reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecast of last year.

R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

The award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the International Engineering Works, 52/55, Kali Temple Road, Kalighat, Calcutta, and their workers represented by International Engineering Mazdoor Congress, 52, Kali Temple Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company—Sri J. Basu, Pleader.

For the Congress—Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 3654Lab., dated the 5th October 1948, I was appointed a Tribunal for adjudication of the above dispute.

The International Engineering Works is a concern managed by one Bhutnath Karmakar, proprietor of the concern, and that according to the Congress the Company is having a prosperous business but the workers are under-fed and not suitably paid. The Congress complains that there were lots of grievances and that the Company had in the past never paid suitable wages or dearness allowance, that the Company deducted a good portion of wages of some 13 workmen illegally and without any justification for some 14 days of May 1948 and that the Company deprived the 29 workmen of their legal and legitimate 10 days' statutory leave in the year ending before 28th June 1947. The Company on getting a charter of demands by the Congress had retrenched some 15 workmen on 1st September 1948 quite arbitrarily. The Congress urges the Tribunal to fix suitable living wages and dearness allowance and also to sanction bonus and refund of deducted wages and in the last but not least to reinstate the discharged workers. The details of the demands will be discussed in the body of the Award.

The Company submits a written statement and alleges that the workmen are indisciplined, disobedient and disorderly and that they have adopted go-slow tactics with the result that there was enormous fall in the production so much so that several contracts of the Company had been cancelled by its constituents for failure by the Company to supply goods in time. Regarding basic wages and dearness allowance, the Company urges that any further increase of wages and dearness allowance will financially hit the Company and that the Company is not financially strong enough to take up any additional burden of increased expenditure.

ISSUES.

1. Recognition of the International Mazdoor Congress.
2. Conditions of service.
3. Basic wages.
4. Dearness allowance.
5. Bonus.
6. Leave and holidays.
7. Security of service.
8. Refund of deducted wages of workmen referred in paragraph 1(12).
9. 4 days' wages for the Durga Puja, 1948.
10. Reinstatement of 6 workmen mentioned in paragraph 1(27).
11. Arrears of wages of the discharged workmen mentioned in paragraph 1(27).
12. Full wages for the forced leave period of workmen referred in paragraph 34.
13. Provident fund.
14. Medical arrangement.
15. Statutory leave of the previous year.

Issue No. 1: Recognition of the International Mazdoor Congress.

The Congress urges that this is the only Union of the workers and that all the workers had joined this Union. The Company urges, however, that it is a matter outside the scope of Industrial Disputes Act. Reliance has been placed in an Award given by Sri N. C. Chakraverty in the matter of F. N. Gupta & Co. published in Calcutta Gazette, dated 24th July 1948 at page 648. The further objection raised by the employer is that no rules have been framed or sent to them for approval by the Union. Whatever that may be, I am not prepared to go so far as to hold with my whilom colleague Mr. Chakraverty that the Tribunal has got no jurisdiction in the matter. I am rather definitely of opinion that the Tribunal has got unlimited power to adjudicate all matters over which there is any industrial dispute.

But as the Labour Courts are soon going to function, I refrain from adjudicating on this point.

Issue No. 2: Conditions of service.

The Congress urges some change in the working hours and urges that the working hours should be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on all working days except Saturday when work will be from 8 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. with half an hour's recess from 12 noon to 12-30 p.m.

The Company objects stating that the Company alone has a right to fix the working hours, according to it's convenience. No reason has been assigned why this change is sought for. The Company apparently restricts the working hours in a week within 48 hours. No interference by the Tribunal is called for since the Company alone in my opinion has the right to fix the working hours on the principle that he who pays for the piper has the sole right to call for the tune. The Congress claims that Sundays should be paid holidays. Regarding this, the Company submitted that this demand was not mentioned in the charter of demands, dated 28th August 1948, which formed the subject-matter of conciliation proceedings. I am not inclined to entertain this new demand and agree with the pertinent observation of my learned colleague Sri N. C. Chakraverty in the matter of F. N. Gupta & Co. published in Calcutta Gazette of 24th July 1948, page 648, as follows:—"It is not open to the workers after reference of the dispute to the Adjudicator to widen the scope of their demands or to alter their nature." I may also profitably quote the following few lines of Issacs J. in King vs. Ex Parte Whyprow & Company and others: "There is nothing in the world to prevent employers and employees from making their respective demands as wide as they please; but when they choose to select one particular limited demand as the subject or point of dispute, and refer that to the Court, then that is what the Court has to decide. It may be anything between the maximum and the minimum limits of the dispute, but it can pass neither further forward than the maximum, nor further back than the minimum."

Issues Nos. 3 and 4: Basic Wages and dearness allowance.

The Congress urges the minimum basic wages for—

Unskilled—Rs. 39 per month or Rs. 1-8 per diem,

Skilled—Rs. 65 per month or Rs. 2-8 per diem, and in the case of coolies the minimum demand of basic wages was Rs. 37 per month or Rs. 1-7 per diem for unskilled coolies and Rs. 40 per month or Rs. 1-9-6 per diem for skilled coolies. Regarding dearness allowance, the minimum claim was Rs. 45 per month according to the scheme of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for all categories of workers.

From the pay sheet submitted by the Congress as also of the Company, I find that the Company had in the beginning a very poor pay for its workers but has since increased more than once the emoluments and for the last time in January 1948. But even now the minimum basic income per month varies from Rs. 27-10 to Rs. 39 in the case of unskilled workers. So far as the skilled and the highly skilled are concerned, the Company makes handsome payments varying from Rs. 2 to Rs. 4 per diem. Regarding semi-killed, the minimum in some cases is Rs. 1-8 per diem.

Regarding the wages of the skilled and the highly skilled no interference is necessary. With regard to semi-skilled and unskilled workers, the Company is to enhance the wages. In my opinion, the minimum living wages of all categories of workers should be fixed. Before fixing the minimum wages, it is necessary to consider the financial position of the Company which is not at all happy. The Company is not being able to work its full capacity for want of raw materials. From the papers produced before me, I am satisfied that the Government quota of raw materials supplied to this Company was considerably curtailed with the result that this Company had failed to supply goods in time to its constituents; with the result that the contracts were cancelled. It is also urged that the attitude of the workers was partially responsible for the lesser output. The Company urges that due to the go-slow tactics of the labourers, they are financially handicapped. The Company, however, is prepared to link up wages with production. As a matter of fact this Company has already got a scheme by which the workers producing excess quota over standard output get increased rate of wages. This fact is not denied by the workers. In my opinion the willing workers can take full advantage of this system. The system is prevalent and has been adopted without any grudge or murmur. So, easily willing workers can earn more by better outturn than their fellow workers. In my opinion, this system is beneficial for both the employer and the employees. Nevertheless it is necessary to fix minimum living wages and considering all the above facts I proceed to fix the rate as follows:—

Minimum basic wages—

Unskilled workers—Rs. 26 per month.

Semi-skilled—Rs. 31 per month.

Skilled—Rs. 35 per month.

Highly skilled—Rs. 40 per month.

The Company pays dearness allowance varying from Rs. 6 to Rs. 8 per month. The basic wages, however, were proportionately higher. Whatever that may be, the dearness allowance should be paid separately at the minimum rate of Rs. 20 per month for all categories of workers.

The rate above of wages and dearness allowance is fixed as the minimum and it will not otherwise affect the emoluments of the workers who are already drawing higher pay and dearness allowance from the Company. Nor will it be interpreted to mean that those who are already getting higher than this minimum from the Company will be entitled to more on the basis of this Award or the plea that minimum dearness allowance fixed is Rs. 20. To illustrate, a skilled worker, to wit Satish Karmakar is now getting a total wages of Rs. 2-15 per diem—Rs. 2-12 being wages 3 annas being dearness allowance. He cannot say that over and above his daily wages of Rs. 2-12 he will be entitled to dearness allowance of 12 annas 6 pies per diem. What I mean to say is that total minimum emolument is not to be lower than already fixed above.

Issue No. 5: Bonus.

From the balance-sheet submitted by the Company I do not find that the Company has earned any profit, on the other hand, some loss is suffered. This may be due to the cut of the quota. Whatever that may be, no question of bonus can arise in the present circumstances.

Issue No. 6: Leave and holidays.

Regarding leave and holidays, I would like to make an award in terms of the decision of the Major Engineering Tribunal Award in which I had been a party. There should be 22 holidays including festival holidays and 10 days' statutory holidays under the Factories Act. This may be divided as follows:—

10 days' continuous holidays under the Factories Act, which is equivalent to 8 or 9 paid holidays according as there is one Sunday or two within the period of 10 days.

8 festival days.

5 or 6 days' other leave with pay which may be taken in continuation of the 10 days under the Factories Act or separately at the option of the workmen. This other leave for 5 or 6 days will accumulate for 2 years, as provided for the 10 days' leave under the Factories Act.

Sick leave.—15 days sick leave on half pay in a year of service. This leave will accumulate, i.e., if in one year the employee does not take sick leave, in the next year he may take sick leave with half pay up to 30 days and so on, but this leave, will be discontinued as soon as the Employees' State Insurance Act comes into operation.

Issue No. 7: Security of service.

Regarding security of service, I am also inclined to make an Award in terms of the Engineering Tribunal. No order of dismissal should be made unless the worker himself is informed in writing of the alleged misconduct and given the opportunity to explain the circumstances alleged against him and that an order of suspension may be made in writing at the same time and may take effect immediately on delivery of the order to the workmen concerned.

The Congress urges that when a retrenchment is genuinely felt necessary by the Company, the decision should be arrived at a joint conference of the Congress and the Company and in case of difference of opinion between the two, the matter shall be referred to a Tribunal for final adjudication. This claim cannot be accepted both on ground of expediency and policy. The Company is to manage its affairs and knows best when to retrench and the interference of Union men in the matter will lead to chaos and trouble for the feeling between this Congress and the Company is not at all happy. The claim must be rejected.

Issue No. 8: Refund of deducted wages of workmen referred in paragraph 1(12).

It is urged that the Company deducted a good portion of the wages of the 13 workmen of the Company illegally in the period from 17th May to 30th May 1948. The Company's version is that the workmen referred to in this item had been doing job works. The arrangement was that any workman who fails to produce his quota of work should get wages proportionate to his work, the wages being fixed for a particular quota. If, however, the Company had illegally deducted the wages, the employees may seek remedy by proceeding under the Payment of Wages Act. In any case, from the materials before me I am satisfied that there was no illegal deduction of wages.

Issue No. 9: 4 days' wages for the Durga Puja, 1948.

The Company according to the Congress refused to allow 4 days' holidays during the Pujas as in the previous years, and allowed only one day as holiday and as such the workmen prayed that full wages for 4 days be paid. This demand was not included in the original charter of demands. From the principles already laid down, this claim cannot be entertained. Moreover, I am satisfied from the papers that the Company never allowed 4 days' holidays during the Durga Puja. In 1947, four days' holidays were granted to the workers as part of the statutory holidays to which the workers are entitled under the Factories Act. The Company was ignorant of the rule that the statutory leave for 10 days should be a continuous one and as such the holidays during the Durga Puja of 1947 were given under a mistaken notion and as such cannot be made a precedent. The Company already addressed a circular to the workers to the effect that the factory should remain open but the workers deliberately absented themselves from the work and took forced leave. I cannot blame the Company if they deducted the wages of the workers for those days.

Issues Nos. 10 and 11: Reinstatement of 6 workmen mentioned in paragraph 1(27): Arrears of wages of the discharged workmen mentioned in paragraph 1(27).

According to the Congress, the Company had discharged 15 workers of the Company on 1st September 1948 quite arbitrarily and that these men were the active workers of the Congress and on occasions more than one, the said workmen were advised by the Company's agents to dissociate with the Congress and its activities. The matter went up to the Labour Commissioner who suggested that the men should be reinstated and the Company allowed the workmen to work as agreed but did not allow any one of them to be marked present in the Register. It is urged that the attendance of (a) Gour Hari Dutta, (b) Kanchan Mazumdar, (c) Kalipada Mondal, (d) Panchanan Ghose, (e) Mihir Lal Jana, and (f) Madan Deb Nath has not been recorded in the Register of the Company and that they are not paid their wages for the period from 12th September to 28th September. It is also urged that the Company by a notice, dated 21st September 1948, transferred the 6 workmen to their factory at Etelghata, and that the workmen accordingly recorded their attendance on 22nd September 1948 but as no suitable job was available there, they again came back in the factory and continued to work as usual but on 28th September 1948 these 6 workmen were served with a notice of retrenchment but were allowed to continue in service at the intervention of Sri K. K. Mitra, Assistant Labour Commissioner.

According to the Company, the fact about the matter is that the 15 workmen were discharged by a notice of 15 days for shortage of material due to cut in quota by the Government. This is a circumstance over which the Company had no control. The matter was discussed with the Labour Commissioner who requested the Company to provide them anyhow. These workers were then asked to join the Company's Etelghata workshop but they refused to work there. As the Company could not provide any other work they were discharged. I had gone through the correspondences of the Company as also of the Congress to Labour Commissioner and I find that out of 15 workmen who were discharged, 3 had since left the service and the Company had provided 6 workmen with work at the request of the Labour Commissioner. The remaining 6 were asked to join Etelghata workshop but they refused to work. According to the workmen, the work at Etelghata was of a different type. Whatever that may be these workmen committed breach of the peace by assaulting the Manager, and by insulting the Proprietor's son for which they were discharged. A case is still pending against them. By the refusal of the workers to work at Etelghata factory, they had forfeited every right to claim any relief for their discharge as they themselves are responsible for the same. The legal maxim is "Nullus commodum capere potest de injuria sua propria—No one can take advantage of his own wrong." These workers by their misdemeanour and misconduct have also forfeited the claim to be reinstated. There is no satisfactory evidence to show that this was the case of victimisation for Union activity. On the other hand, the Company has produced papers which will show that there are good reasons for retrenchment—primary reason being reduction in the quota of raw materials by the Government. Judging all the circumstances I am inclined to think that these workers cannot claim any of the reliefs. These workmen, however, are found to have worked uptil 15th September 1948 and had been paid upto 13th September 1948. According to the Company they refused to take the balance of their wages though offered. They are at liberty to receive the balance of their wages from the Company.

Regarding arrear wages from the period of discharge, no relief can be granted as I have held that this was a discharge justified by proper circumstances.

Issue No. 12: Full wages for the forced leave period of workmen referred in paragraph 34.

It is urged by the Congress that the Company from motive of victimisation refused to allow some 14 workmen on the plea of shortage of raw material. According to the Company, forced leave had to be granted to the workmen for shortage of material. The documentary evidence fully corroborates the version of the Company. Out of these, some 8 have been already taken back and regarding others they accepted 15 days' salary and had left. None of these workmen is coming before the Tribunal to support their case. No relief as such can be granted. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 13: Provident fund.

Claim be rejected for the present for reasons already stated.

Issue No. 14: Medical arrangement.

The Company is too small a concern to provide for a doctor and a furnished dispensary. Workmen however are sent for medical advice to a doctor when they need such advice. A first-aid box has been provided in the factory for treatment of minor injuries or accidents.

Issue No. 15: Statutory leave of the previous year.

It is urged that the first 24 workmen of the Company referred to in paragraph 1(16) and Annexure B be paid 10 days' wages at overtime rate or due leave in lieu thereof be paid. On scrutiny of the necessary records by the Congress, no irregularity as complained of was found. It is only said that the papers are not genuine but such sweeping condemnation without proper material is unjustified. No relief can be granted.

Conclusion.

I however feel that in this case the minimum living wages and dearness allowance fall somewhat below that granted by the Major Engineering Tribunal but the financial position of the present concern is a handicap. Any more financial burden will ruin this small concern and it would be killing the goose which lays golden eggs.

PRESENT: SRI MATISH CHANDRA BANERJI, Additional District Judge, Tribunal.

AWARD.

The Empire Bone Mills at Bansabatti is a factory carrying on the process of crushing animal bones for manufacture of bone dust (bone-meal), sized bones and their bye-products. Bone-meal is used as a fertiliser and is mostly consumed in this country. The other products of the factory are exported out of the country for manufacture of Glue, Gelatine and Ossein. The concern is owned by Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co., Ltd., of Nos. 1 and 2, Old Court House Street Corner, Norton Buildings, Calcutta. There is a similar Bone Mill of the same name at Pagladanga near Beliaghata owned by the same Company Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co., Ltd. The construction of the plant of the Mill at Bansabatti was commenced some time in 1942 and the Company was registered in May 1948 and the factory started its operations in July 1948. There are about 300 employees in the Company, of whom about 230 are unskilled manual labourers of the rank of coolies, stackers and carriers. There are also 38 mechanics, 7 clerks and 18 durwans. The Bone Mill at Bansabatti and the workmen employed therein are the parties to this dispute.

The workmen of the Mill formed the Empire Bone Mills Labour Union in March 1948 and had it registered under the Indian Trade Unions Act in May 1948. Very soon thereafter disputes between the Company and the workmen cropped up and the Union alleges that the Company did not accept the formation of the Union with a good grace and started victimising the prominent members and discharged 9 such employees during the period between April and October 1948. Conciliation proceedings were started by the Labour Commissioner of West Bengal, where the reinstatement of the discharged workmen and also other demands in regard to terms of employment and conditions of labour were urged by the Union. The Company maintained before the Labour Commissioner that the discharge complained of related to some temporary hands who were in excess of the requirements of the establishment, and that the terms of employment and conditions of labour availing in the factory were reasonable and decent. The Labour Commissioner failed to effect a settlement of the disputes and recommended to the Government that the disputes be referred to the Tribunal for adjudication.

By Order No. 4141Lab., dated 17th November 1948, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, acting under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act referred the disputes between the Company and its workmen to me for adjudication. Notices were duly issued to the Company and the Union and they filed written statements. Issues were framed on 10th December 1948, and the case was heard on 6th January 1949, 7th January 1949 and 11th January 1949.

The appearances for the parties at the hearing were as follows:—

For the Union—Sri P. K. Sannyal, Advocate, Sri Nirmal Kumar Sen, President, and Sri Kanai Lal Das, Joint Secretary.

For the Company—Mr. S. R. Zacharia, Chief Personnel Officer, Mr. N. Zacharia, Officer in charge of the Bone Department in the Head Office, and D. S. Abraham, Manager, Empire Bone Mills.

The issues framed were as follows:—

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1: (a) Was the discharge of the following workmen unlawful; are they entitled to reinstatement:—

(1) Sri Bimal Bikash Chakravarty,
(2) Sri Debabrata Bhattacharyya,
(3) Sri Bibhuti Bhusan Chakravarty,
(4) Sri Santosh Kumar De,
(5) Sri Sanatan Samal,
(6) Sri Haradhon Halder,
(7) Sri Gopal Das,
(8) Sri Asoke Hom Roy, and
(9) Sri Ekadeo.

(b) Are these workmen or any one of them entitled to any compensation for the period of their non-employment?

It was alleged by the Union that the 9 employees named above were permanent members of the Union and some of them were office-bearers and that they were discharged by the Company with a view to crush the trade union activities of the workmen. In other words the Union alleges that all these 9 employees were victimised for their trade union activities. It is stated that Bimal Bikash Chakravarty was the Treasurer of the Union, Debabrata Bhattacharyya was the Organizing Secretary, Bibhuti Bhusan Chakravarty was the Joint Secretary, Santosh Kumar De and Ekadeo were the members of the Executive Committee and the other four were the ordinary members of the Union.

The Company stated that certain employees were engaged in the sister-plant at Pagladanga for training and for turning out the required materials for the plant that was to be erected at Bansabatti, that as the work neared completion, the temporary staff from Pagladanga were transferred to Bansabatti and as the work of construction of the plant progressed some of the temporary staff appointed for the purpose of erecting the plant were found to be in excess of requirements and were discharged. The Company submitted that there was no question of victimising any worker and that the temporary status of the workers were duly notified to them at the time of the starting of the work in the factory.

At the time of the hearing of the case I requested both the parties to come to a settlement on the demand of reinstatement of the workers mentioned in this issue. I am glad to place on record that the negotiations of the parties on this issue at the time of the hearing bore fruit and both the parties agreed that Sri Bimal Bikash Chakravarty who was discharged on 24th April 1948, Sri Debabrata Bhattacharyya who was discharged on 8th May 1948, Sri Santosh Kumar De who was discharged on 3rd July 1948, Sri Haradhon Halder who was discharged on 3rd July 1948, Sri Asoke Hom Roy who was discharged on 10th July 1948 and Sri Ekadeo who was discharged on October 1948, should be reinstated to their ordinary posts. I accept this agreement of the parties and award accordingly. It was also agreed that Ekadeo should be given the same type of duties as he used to perform in September 1948 and I award accordingly. It was alleged that Ekadeo, a durwan, was entrusted with duties of a somewhat superior type among the durwans, and that since September last he was made to do the work of an ordinary durwan for guarding boats and doing other work of a similar nature. The Company agreed that Ekadeo will be given the same type of work as he used to do under the directions of the Company up till September 1948. The Union informed me that Ekadeo would be satisfied if he was so treated by the Company. It was also agreed by the parties that the other discharged employees, namely, Sri Bibhuti Bhusan Chakravarty, Sri Sanaton Samal and Sri Gopal Das should not be reinstated and I award accordingly.

It was further agreed by the parties that the period of non-employment of the workmen who were to be reinstated should be treated as leave without pay and that on reinstatement these employees should be considered to be employed as permanent workmen under the Company. I accept these agreements and award accordingly.

This issue is answered accordingly.

The parties also filed an agreement as to the reinstatement of 5 other workmen who have not been mentioned in the issues and prayed that this agreement may be made a part of the Award. The application of the parties filed before me containing the agreement is reproduced below. These employees also should be reinstated as agreed between the parties.

Application, dated 11th January 1949.

Sd. by P. K. SANNYAL, Advocate, for the workmen.

Issue No. 2: Revision of basic pay and Dearness Allowance and fixation of grade scales of basic wages.

It appears that the male unskilled workmen get a basic pay of Rs. 4-10 per week amounting to Rs. 20 per month, a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 4-12 per week or Rs. 20-8 per month and an Attendance Allowance of 8 annas per week or Rs. 2-2 per month, making a total remuneration of Rs. 42-10 per month. The female unskilled workers get a basic pay of Rs. 3-6 per week or Rs. 14-10 per month and Dearness Allowance and Attendance Allowance as paid to the male workmen. The total remuneration of the female workers amounts to Rs. 37-4 per month. The skilled workers get a basic wage of more than Rs. 50 per month and all the manual workers get a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 20-8 per month and an Attendance Allowance of Rs. 2-2 per month. The minimum basic pay of the clerical staff is at Rs. 40 per month and they get a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 30 per month. The minimum emoluments of a clerk, therefore, amount to Rs. 70 per month. The durwans get a basic pay of Rs. 20 and a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 24 per month. The Head Durwan gets Rs. 6 more than a durwan in basic pay.

The Union complains that the present average monthly labour costs of the Company amount only to Rs. 14,000 including salaries of clerks, durwans and boatmen and that the present average monthly income after deduction of the aforesaid costs and other costs is about Rs. 4 lakhs. The Union complained that the wages paid to the workmen were grossly inadequate and claimed the following scales of basic pay and Dearness Allowance for the workers and the clerks:—

	Basic wage.	Dearness allowance.
	Rs.	Rs. a.
Unskilled male and female	40—2—60	.. 32 8
Unskilled, hard and dirty, and semi-skilled	.. 50—2—70	.. 32 8
Hard and dirty, semi-skilled and skilled.	.. 60—4—100	.. 32 8
Highly skilled { A	.. 70—5—150	.. 32 8
Highly skilled { B	.. 100—10—250	.. 32 8
Clerks .. { A	.. 70—5—150	80 per cent. on the first 100 and 50 per cent. on the second and third 100.
Clerks .. { B	.. 100—10—250
Durwans	.. 40—2—60	.. 32 8
Havildars	.. 50—2—70	.. 32 8
Jamadars.	.. 70—5—150	.. 32 8

The Company stated that the financial prospects of the Company were anything but bright and that the profit and loss statement of the Bone Mill at Pagladanga under the same proprietors as the Bone Mill in question exhibited a loss in the year 1947. It also states that the Bone Mill at Bansabatti have to recoup the expenditure made on purchase of land, materials and the cost of erecting a plant and that the statement of the Union that the Company is making a monthly profit of Rs. 4 lakhs is too good to be true. It is also stated that the foreign markets that used to take the crushed bones for the purpose of making Gelatine have now contracted in their demands, as substitutes for the manufacture of that article has been found in pig-skin, and hide-cuttings. The Company also states that the price of the finished commodity of the Mill has dropped by about £12 during the last 6 months and that Government was at present purchasing the entire output of the Mill at Rs. 170 per ton which did not yield any profit to the Company. The Company contends that the work that has to be done by the unskilled labour in the Bone Mills consists only in handling raw bones, picking sinews, etc., and that a workman of this type is not generally paid more wages than they receive from the Company and that the scales of wages allowed by the Company were reasonable and decent.

The balance-sheet and the profit and loss account of the Empire Bone Mills at Pagladanga and Bansabatti for the year ending 15th October 1947 has been filed before me and it shows a trading loss of Rs. 2,75,000 and odd for the year. It may be observed that during the year the proprietor Company had to undertake a substantial amount of expense for the Mill at Bansabatti without deriving any trading profit from it as the manufacturing operations there were started only in July 1948. The balance-sheet shows that the Proprietor Company had to lay out during the year a sum of more than Rs. 2½ lakhs in machineries, etc., for the Mill at Bansabatti and a sum of about Rs. 45,000 in establishment costs and wages at Bansabatti. It may, therefore, be expected that since the manufacturing operations in the Bansabatti Mill commenced, the financial burden upon the Proprietor Company for this concern will diminish and profits will be obtained from both the Mills at Bansabatti and Pagladanga. Even then it appears that the demand in the market for the finished products of this Company has deteriorated of late and it is admitted by the Union that the godown of the Company is full of finished products which have not been removed for shipment or disposal in the market for some time. I have, therefore, some doubts as to the prospects of the Company in the immediate future and propose to deal with economic demands of the workers cautiously so as not to impose too great a burden on the finances of the newly started industry.

The minimum emolument of Rs. 42-10 per month for a male worker appears to be much below the living wage, in view of the rise in the cost of living. As at present availing, the minimum basic pay is Rs. 20, the Dearness Allowance is Rs. 20-8 and the Attendance Allowance is at Rs. 2-2 per month. The Dearness Allowance and the Attendance Allowance therefore make up Rs. 22-10 per month. The Union complained that the Attendance Allowance was hedged in by such conditions as to make it unavailable to most of the workers. The Company, however, stated that both these allowances were available to the workers in general. We may, therefore, consider that at the present moment a male worker gets Rs. 20 as his basic pay and Rs. 22-10 in Dearness and other allowances making the total emolument at Rs. 42-10 per month. The Union stated that there was no reason for the Tribunal to allow less than Rs. 55 per month in basic pay and Dearness Allowance as it was allowed by the Award of the Engineering Tribunal. The Company pointed out that in view of the fact that the Company has not even finished the first year of its life and that the circumstances of world market were unfavourable as the demands of the products of this factory were gradually shrinking, the Tribunal should not lay too great a burden on the resources of this infant concern. Giving my anxious considerations on this question I have come to the conclusion that for the present, the workers of this Mill should be satisfied with somewhat low emoluments and that they should wait for the Company to grow into a prosperous concern when it will be able to give them a greater dividend. I, therefore, consider that the minimum basic wage of a male worker in this factory should be at Rs. 6 per week of 48 hours, or Rs. 26 for a month of 208 hours and further, that they shall get a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 5-10 per week or Rs. 24-6 per month. There shall be no Attendance Allowance. The minimum emolument thus determined will amount to Rs. 50-6 per month. The minimum basic pay of a female worker should be a little less than that of a male worker and it is fixed at the amount that is availing in the Company at present for male workers and shall be as follows:—

Basic pay—at Rs. 4-10 per week or Rs. 20 per month.

The Dearness Allowance shall be—at Rs. 5-10 per week or Rs. 24-6 per month.

There shall be no Attendance Allowance.

For all other manual and mechanical workers the Dearness Allowance is fixed at Rs. 5-10 per week or Rs. 24-6 per month and the Attendance Allowance is abolished. Those other workers who were getting emoluments above the minimum mentioned above shall get a flat increase of Rs. 5 per month in the basic pay.

The minimum emolument of the clerks as at present availing is at Rs. 40 in basic pay and Rs. 30 in Dearness Allowance. There are also certain clerks who get basic pay at Rs. 50 or Rs. 55 per month. The Union demanded two grades of clerks as follows:—

Grade A—Rs. 70—5—150.

Grade B—Rs. 100—10—250.

The Company stated that the clerical staff of a small concern like this has very simple work to do and the qualifications usually required are that of non-Matriculates. Considering the circumstances of the case, it is decided that the clerks should have a scale of pay as follows:—Rs. 50—55—3—85. All the clerks should be fitted into this scale. The starting salary should be given in all cases and the pay fixed should not be less favourable than the stage in the proposed time-scale just above the pay the clerk is now drawing. The clerical staff shall continue to get the dearness allowance of Rs. 30 per month as before.

As to the durwans, they are at present drawing a basic pay of Rs. 20 and a Dearness Allowance of Rs. 24. I fix the scale of basic pay of the durwans at Rs. 30—1—40. The Dearness Allowance shall be at Rs. 24 as before. The Jamadar shall be given an additional pay of Rs. 5. The starting salary is to be given in all cases and in addition one increment should be given for each 3 years of service put in when the fitting into the allowed scale is made.

Issue No. 3: Supply of milk and soap to workmen.

The Union claimed that one seer of milk should be supplied daily to each workman coming in direct contact with bone dust and two chataks of washing soap should be supplied to all such employees as come in contact with bones and its products. The Company objected to both these demands. At the time of the hearing the Union did not press for the supply of milk as it would throw an enormous burden on the Company. It is awarded that sufficient soap should be kept in the factory premises to enable the workers to wash themselves after work.

Issue No. 4: Provident Fund or Gratuity.

At the time of the hearing, the Union did not press for Provident Fund but pressed for a scheme of gratuity. The Company stated that it had already undertaken the question of establishment of a Provident Fund on their own initiative and the draft deed was under consideration. At the time of the hearing the representatives of the Company also agreed that a system of Provident Fund for a small concern like the Empire Bone Mills at Bansabatti will be inconvenient both to the employers and the employees. On a consideration of the matter it is decided that there should be a scheme for payment of gratuity by the Company and that there should be no provident fund in this concern. The following rules are made as to gratuity payable to the workers of this concern:—

(a) On retirement after not less than 25 years' continuous service—Half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service, subject to a maximum of 15 months' basic pay.

(b) On death of the employee while in service—Half a month's pay for each completed year of service, irrespective of the length of service but subject to the maximum of 15 months' basic pay, to be paid to the employee's heirs.

(c) On resignation or retirement at any time before the completion of 25 years' service, with the written consent of the employer, owing to illness, old age, or any other sufficient cause—Half a month's basic pay for each year of completed service.

(d) On termination of service by the employer, either as the result of reduction of his establishment or in any other circumstance not justifying dismissal—Half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service, irrespective of the length of service.

(f) Gratuity is to be calculated on the basis of average substantive pay during the last 12 months of service.

Issue No. 5: Medical Aid.

It appears that there is a qualified medical practitioner who visits the factory every day for one hour in the morning. The Medical Officer Dr. Bibhas Chandra Kundu appeared before the Tribunal and I heard from him about the medical arrangements. I learnt that his house was very near the factory and that over and above attending the factory once every morning he rendered his services whenever called at any hour of the day and night in case of necessity. In consultation with him I find that it will be most convenient for the workers if he attends the factory for one hour every morning between 7 and 8 a.m. The Company should, therefore, arrange for the doctor to attend the factory for one hour from 7 a.m. in the morning every day. The services of the doctor should also be available in case of necessity at all hours of the day and night as at present. The Union suggested that there should be a whole-time compounder and a dispensary in the factory. The Company informed me that the dispensary building is under construction and is expected to be completed very soon and the representatives of the Company assured me that when the dispensary building is completed, a dispensary with all necessary equipments will be set up and a whole-time compounder will also be appointed. In the circumstances, the Union should wait for setting up of the dispensary which the Company expects to do within the next 3 or 4 months.

Issue No.6: Rest shelters and Cheap Canteen.

The Union stated that there should be a cheap canteen provided for the benefit of the workers. The parties were heard on this point. It is awarded that the Company should start a canteen for the supply of tea and snacks on a non-profit basis for the benefit of the workmen in the Mills.

The Union also claimed that a rest shelter should be constructed. Under section 47 of the New Factories Act which will be in operation from 1st April 1949 every factory, wherein more than 150 workers are ordinarily employed, should provide for adequate and suitable shelters or rest rooms and a suitable lunch room with provision for drinking water. It is awarded that the Company should provide for a suitable rest shelter as required by section 47 of the New Factories Act as soon as possible.

Issue No. 7: Safety measures for workmen in the factory.

The parties were heard on this question. The Union complained that many workers are to work in an atmosphere laden with bone dust and that suitable masks should be provided for the safety of those workers. The claim appears to be reasonable. It is awarded that suitable linen masks should be provided by the Company for the workers who have to work in bone dust. The Company should also take suitable measures to prevent inhalation of any offensive dust or accumulation thereof in the work room, and arrange for exhaust appliances if it is so necessary for the purpose.

Issue No. 8: Standing orders on—

(a) Probationary period,
(b) Rules as to discharge and dismissal,
(c) Promotion to higher posts,
(d) Leave and holidays, and

The parties were heard on these points and the following rules are framed thereon:—

(a) Probationary period.—An employee shall be taken in the permanent service of the Company after a satisfactory period of probation of 3 months.

(b) Rules as to discharge and dismissal.—Dismissal.—No employee shall be dismissed or discharged without affording him an opportunity of explaining the charge levelled against him. He shall be entitled, if he so chooses to take the assistance of another employee, who may be a member of the Union, in defending himself against the charge that may entail his dismissal or discharge. No order of dismissal shall be made except by the proper authority competent to pass such an order.

Discharge by way of retrenchment.—In the matter of retrenchment, the Company should apply the principle of "last come first go" as far as practicable, consistently with efficiency. I, however, recommend that at the time of fresh appointment the Management should consider the claims of the retrenched hands if they seek re-employment. In all cases of retrenchment the workmen shall be entitled to a notice of 15 days in the case of weekly paid employees and of one month in the case of monthly paid employees or the pay for the corresponding period in lieu thereof.

(c) Promotion to higher posts.—On a consideration of the matter it is awarded that promotion should be made to higher posts from the existing staff as far as practicable according to seniority and merit. The Management alone shall have the authority to decide the question of efficiency and merit. It is further awarded that the Management should maintain regular service books of all the employees and the claims of promotion or efficiency should be decided having due regard to the service records and other factors as may be considered necessary.

(d) Leave and holidays.—The following leave and holidays are allowed: Privilege leave on full pay and Dearness Allowance for 21 days in the year is allowed for clerks. This leave shall be cumulative for 2 years. Privilege leave for 15 days in the year on full pay and Dearness Allowance is allowed to the durwans and also the factory workers. In the case of factory workers this period shall be inclusive of the statutory leave under the present Act. This Award as to the privilege leave for the factory workers shall be inoperative with effect from 1st April 1949, on which date the New Factories Act will be in operation for the factory workers and guide the leave admissible to them.

All the employees of the concern shall get 8 festival holidays on dates to be determined by the Company.

Sick-leave is allowed for 15 days in the year on full pay and Dearness Allowance for the clerical staff and on half pay and Dearness Allowance for the other employees till the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, comes into full operation, i.e., to say, till the "sickness benefit" as provided for by section 49 of that Act becomes actually available to those employees.

(e) Maternity benefit.—The women employees are at present entitled to the benefit of the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act IV of 1939. The course of legislation in this direction has proceeded still further since the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act was enacted. We have now the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, and section 50 of that Act has provided for maternity benefit of a substantial character under a scheme of insurance. Section 61 of that Act provides that when a woman is entitled to any maternity benefit provided by that Act she shall not be entitled to receive any similar benefit admissible under the provisions of any other enactment like the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act. The result is that when the Employees' State Insurance Act comes into full operation in respect of a particular woman, she will not be entitled to receive any benefit under the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act, and will be entitled to such maternity benefit as would be available under the Employees' State Insurance Act. I, therefore, direct that maternity leave or maternity benefit should be given in accordance with the provisions of the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act of 1939 for the time being or in accordance with the provisions of the Employees' State Insurance Act of 1948 when the latter Act comes into actual operation.

Conclusion.

This award relates to a factory which was started only about 6 months back and it is not possible to ascertain the degree of success it may really attain in the trade. In view of that fact the emoluments of the employees could not be sufficiently raised. There have been some retrenchments in the staff, possibly owing to the employers not being able to get a clear idea of their real requirements as to the complement up to the present time. I, however, noticed that the employers responded to the claim for reinstatement of the discharged workers with great sympathy and a large majority of the retrenched hands have been amicably taken back. I would urge on both the parties to see that there is no further trouble in this infant industry and that peace is established to enable the concern to make a headway in the trade. The workers are requested to step up production so that the Company may earn profits and be able to grant them larger emoluments than I could at the present moment afford to them under this Award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between (Messrs. Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd., 17, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Saxby & Farmer Mazdoor Union, 17, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, and Sri J. K. Ghose, Pleader.

For the Union: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 4265Lab., dated the 26th November 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication as a Tribunal under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Reference has been made in connection with the dispute over payment of puja bonus to the workmen.

The case of the Union is that the Company is an Engineering concern and was a party to the Engineering Industries Tribunal appointed by the Government of West Bengal with Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., as Chairman, that the Company is carrying on its business for about 40 years with marked success and is earning considerable profit. The clerks, subordinate staff, foremen and supervisors are granted bonus every year during the pujas and that the other employees of the Company were excluded from the benefit of such bonus and after serious agitation, in the year 1947 they were granted one month's wages as bonus along with the clerks. That the Company refused to offer any bonus to the workmen in the year 1948 without assigning any reason but the workmen carried on agitation by peaceful Satyagraha when the Company paid the workers some money as advance only which was to be refunded by monthly instalments. The Union urges that the same money may be treated as bonus.

The Company opposes the claim on the ground that under provisions of section 15(4) and section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, this reference is ultra vires and that the Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to consider the same.

In the next place, the Company urges that the labourers indirectly share in the profits by virtue of many concessions which they enjoy over and above their normal wages for many years, such as—

(a) Provident fund,
(b) sick leave on full basic pay for 15 days,
(c) premium bonus system for majority of workmen,
(d) efficiency bonus to those who are not on premium bonus system.

and other advantages. It is urged that the so-called puja bonus to the clerical staff had been granted in the past as these employees have no privilege to augment their pay as other workmen under the premium bonus or efficiency bonus scheme.

There was a question for the lock-out wages for 7 days but as this point had not been referred by Government to the Tribunal, this point will be left out of account.

Issues.

(1) Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to entertain the dispute?

(2) Payment of puja bonus of 1948.

Issue No. 1.—Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to entertain the dispute?

It is urged that this particular Company was one of the engineering firms whose dispute with their workmen was referred to a Tribunal which is popularly known as the Engineering Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal and that one of the demands of the workmen before the said Tribunal was for a direction on the Company to grant bonus. The said Tribunal after considering the demand framed an issue in respect of the said demand as bonus for past years and future years (Issue No. 18). The Tribunal it is so urged by the Company gave its Award on this issue refusing to direct the Company to grant bonus as claimed by the workmen. The said Award is in force up to 31st March 1949 and binding upon the workmen and the Company and that during this period when the said Award is in force, the claim for bonus it is urged is not maintainable under section 15(4) and section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Let us examine this contention. Reading the Award of the Major Engineering Tribunal and the relevant portion thereof, it is clear that the Tribunal in its Issue No. 18 in relation to bonus for past and future years made the following pertinent observation:—"In connection with this question, the rule adopted generally is that where a particular firm has been paying bonus from profits for several years, it should pay bonus for the year last ended provided it earned similar profits in that year. But we are not in a position to make any Award on bonus on the result of the last financial year, because no Company has placed the balance-sheet of the year ended on 31st March 1948 before us. Accordingly, we shall leave this issue with the recommendation that the Companies which have been paying a bonus in the last few years should pay a bonus for the year just ended, if circumstances are similar, i.e., if they have earned comparable profits." On reading the entire finding, it is quite clear that the above Tribunal was not in a position to make a definite Award for past bonus inasmuch as the balance-sheets of many Companies were not submitted at the time of hearing. The Tribunal, however, wanted to maintain status quo saying that the existing practice of paying bonus should not be disturbed or, in other words, the privileges which are already enjoyed by the workers in a particular Company should not be taken away. Regarding the propriety of bonus to be granted to workers who did not get it or to certain other sections who are deprived of the same, the Tribunal was not in a position to adjudicate for reasons already stated. Clearly, therefore, the question was left open and was not at all gone into nor decided this way or that. I myself had been a party to the Engineering Tribunal and I may say that it was far from our intention to prejudice the workers in the way now urged.

Mr. Sen put forward another strong plea in support of the Company that when the Tribunal has not specifically granted the claim for past bonus, it must be deemed to have rejected the prayer on the principle of constructive res judicata. In my opinion, the portion quoted above clearly shows that there was no adjudication nor could there be any adjudication for want of proper materials—so the question of rejection even by implication cannot at all arise. It was not possible for the Tribunal to go into the merits of the case not on account of any initial or inherent weakness of the claim but because there was no material before it sufficient for the purpose of adjudication. It would be twisting the plain meaning of the above Award to hold that the claim was rejected by implication.

The precise interpretation of what had been meant by the Major Engineering Tribunal over the question of bonus was a question twice raised before my learned colleague Mr. P. K. Sarker who was also a party to the Engineering Tribunal. He also had held in two very able pronouncements—one in Messrs. Jessop & Co. and the other in Burn & Co. that so far as the dispute over bonus for firms paying the same is concerned, it was a question left open and not decided adversely against the workers who are deprived of the privilege of the same. I also have given my clear view in the matter in the same line in my Award in Britannia Engineering Co., Ltd. According to the Company, there was never any practice of paying bonus to the factory workers and others who now demand the same. While according to the Union, the Company began to pay bonus on their agitation only in 1947 and therefore it was urged by the Union that the Company should pay similar bonus in 1948. Now two contentions are put forward—one is that it was never the practice to grant bonus to the present claimants and the other contention is that it has been the practice recognised though late in 1947. Whatever it might be in any view the seizin of the Tribunal cannot be challenged for if it is an existing practice, then according to the clear Award of the Engineering Tribunal, the claim should be granted. In the alternative, if it is a new claim, then certainly the Tribunal can decide this issue being an entirely new point.

Issue No. 2.—Payment of bonus of 1948.

The Union puts forward this claim on the ground that in 1947 the Company in clear and unambiguous terms granted bonus to the present claimants. According to the Company, however, the puja bonus of 1947 was extracted from them under duress in the following manner:

The workmen struck work on the morning of the 17th October 1947 and demanded a month's pay as a bonus and when this was not conceded, a section of them adopted a threatening attitude and made it clear that they intended preventing the Office Supervisory Staffs and Officers of the Company from leaving the premises until a promise to grant this bonus had been given.

The profit for the year ended June 1947 was nil and every effort was made by the Management on the 18th October after the men had struck work to make them see reason. The Assistant Labour Commissioner arrived in the afternoon and then came the Assistant Commissioner of Police but all failed in their attempt to persuade the men to leave the factory and at 11 p.m. after further discussion with the Police Officers, the Management gave way and agreed to give one month's basic pay as a bonus. It was made clear, however, that as this had been forced on the Company under duress, it would not be regarded as a precedent and would not be given in future.

I cannot accept the statement of the Company that under pressure they had to yield to the demand of the Union. It is preposterous to suggest that the high Government officers would coerce the Company to such submission. However, this contention of the Company is falsified by their own notice given on 17th October. The notice runs thus—

"The Company has decided to pay one month's basic wages as a bonus to workmen who have completed one year's service with the Company on the 17th October 1947.

This will be paid between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. on Monday, the 20th October 1947.

Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd.,
[ILLEGIBLE], Director.

17th October 1947.

It is thus clear that on the 17th October, the Company had in unequivocal term granted bonus ungrudgingly to the workers. Later on the Company took it into its head to go back upon original promise and on 20th October came out with a notice in Annexure A as follows:—

Re: Bonus. W. 53/47.

The promise to pay one month's basic wages as a bonus was extracted from the Company under pressure.

In spite of this, the promise is being fulfilled by the payment today, but this is not to be taken as an indication that the Company considers the giving of a bonus to be justified and it does not constitute a precedent for the giving of a similar bonus in future.

Saxby & Farmer (India), Ltd.,
C. M. HALL,

Reading these together, it is clear that the notice in Annexure A told a different tale and the Company was ill-advised to issue such notice. Whatever that might be, we are independently to consider if in 1948, the puja bonus can be claimed by the workers. Admittedly, in 1948, there had been good profit and the clerical staff had been granted puja bonus on the basis of one month's basic wages and dearness allowance. The Company had excluded other workers of this puja bonus. When an agitation was made and the workmen struck work, on the intervention of the Deputy Labour Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner of Police, the Company, it is stated, agreed to advance 6 weeks' pay as advance but not as bonus. It is to be decided whether this should be treated as advance or bonus.

In my opinion, payment of bonus to a certain section only to the exclusion of other workers is unfair labour practice—it creates ill-feeling, discontent and hatred amongst the workers and hampers industrial peace. It was pleaded, however, by the Company that this is not indiscriminate treatment but that the so-called unprivileged workers have opportunities to augment their income by indirectly sharing the profit by virtue of some concessions such as premium bonus system for majority of workers and efficiency bonus to those who are not on premium bonus system. In my opinion, the payment of such bonuses on production is not an act of grace on the part of the Company for the workers earn extra remuneration because of the extra labour they put and increase the production of the Company and as such it is certainly no concession shown to the workers if they have the opportunity to earn something extra by the sweat of their brow. In my opinion, therefore, this indiscriminate treatment should be discouraged. My finding, therefore, is that the present claimants should be paid one month's basic wages (pay and dearness allowance) as puja bonus. The sum already paid to them should not be any more deducted and that the entire advance for the period of one month's pay and dearness allowance should be treated as bonus pure and simple and the sum deducted if any should be refunded. Regarding advance over one month's wages, if any, the Company will be entitled to make suitable deductions.

The Award is to come into force on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Judge, Industrial Tribunal.
5th February 1949.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 685Lab.—17th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and their associate firms specified in column 1 in the two lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said order, and their clerical and all subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some trade unions mentioned against firms in column 2 of the lists aforementioned, and others represented by such other registered trade unions as might have been permitted by the Industrial Tribunal hereafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, were referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta, Additional District Judges as members;

And whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having no longer been available, the said Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty, another member aforesaid, have given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between Messrs. Allenberry & Co., Ltd., 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, being item No. 3 of list No. 1 aforementioned and their employees represented by Allenberry Head Office Employees' Union, 26A, Deodar Street, Calcutta, as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the firm aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 17th February 1949.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Allenberry Company, Limited, 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Allenberry Head Office Employees' Union, 26A, Deodar Street, Calcutta.

PRESENT:

SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,

and

SRI SAILES CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY, Member.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Government of West Bengal by order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, constituted a Tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta as members to adjudicate upon the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms had been divided in two lists in the Government order. Some of the firms compounded their differences with the employees while the employees did not come to us in a number of cases. These cases have already been disposed of by awards made from time to time.

Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta, one of the members, had been absent and as his services were not available, the matter was heard by the Chairman and the other member. Leaving aside a few stray cases the employees came to be represented in three groups:—Mercantile Employees' Federation, Bank Employees' Federation and the Federation of the Insurance Company Employees.

At a certain stage a question arose about competency of the Tribunal to deal with the cases of individual firms separately. We decided that this was a collection of references of separate disputes and we could deal with different firms separately. To this view we still adhere.

We now take up the case of Allenberry and Co., Ltd., Office, 62, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Allenberry Head Office Employees' Union, 26A, Deodar Street, Calcutta.

For the Company: Sri S. K. Ghose, Solicitor.

For the employees: Sri Chanchal C. Bosu, Secretary.

AWARD.

The first demand relates to fixation of pay and laying down scales of pay for clerical as also for subordinate staff and also dearness allowance and promotion.

The Company had been recruiting people for the clerical staff on two grades. The first grade commences from Rs. 60 and the second from Rs. 100. There had been no time-scale. Dearness allowance had been paid at a uniform rate of Rs. 20. We award the following scales of pay:—

(I) Rs. 70—4—132.

(II) Rs. 110—7—180.

Recruitment to Grade II shall usually be taken from men of Grade I.

Those who were recruited on the original salary of Rs. 100 will only come under Grade II. Those who were recruited on a salary below Rs. 100 will come under Grade I.

We award to all clerks a flat increment of Rs. 10. After giving this increment individual clerks will be placed in the time-scale. If the salary of any individual does not fit in with any stage of the time-scale he will be placed at the next higher stage in the time-scale.

The Union demands that vacancies in the superior posts shall be filled up from the clerical staff. We award that there should be no bar to promotion from clerical grade to the officer's grade. But selection must depend upon the management. We, however, like to remind that such promotions do change the outlook of the clerks and are conducive to more efficient work by the clerical staff.

In supersession of the present scale of dearness allowance clerks will get dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scale.

No person in the subordinate staff draws less than Rs. 30 as basic pay and we do not, therefore, consider it necessary to increase their salary. We award that the subordinate staff shall get uniform dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 30.

The next demand is about Provident Fund. The Union has not claimed any enhancement of the present rate but the demand is that the Provident Fund of this Company must not be linked up with funds of other concerns of Messrs. Dalmia Jain and share the same vicissitudes. We consider the contention to be reasonable. We award that the Provident Fund of this Company should be kept separate, though it may be managed by the same Board of Directors who manage the funds of the other concerns.

The next demand is about holidays and we award that the existing rules will prevail.

There has been no dispute about overtime and bonus.

The next item is about office hours. The following office hours shall be observed:—

9-30 a.m. to 4-30 p.m. with half-an-hour recess on week days.

9-30 a.m. to 1-30 p.m. without recess on Saturday.

The other demand is about security of service. We award that the period of probation shall be six months. On the expiry of six months the employees shall either be confirmed or if considered inefficient or unsuitable be discharged. There is no bar to early confirmation if the person is found suitable.

We award some rules about service record and enquiry before punishment. Service records shall be maintained.

Adverse remarks in the service records.

Before an adverse remark is incorporated in the Service Records, a notice should be given to the person concerned and his representation, if any, may be considered.

Enquiry before punishment: dismissal, discharge and retrenchment and other punishments.

In case of retrenchment, the principle of "last come, first go" should be applied. Exception may, however, be made in exceptional cases for people with exceptional abilities.

The employer has no doubt the right of punishing an employee but we frame the following rules which must precede any punishment:

The first thing to be done is that a charge shall be framed and the person proceeded against shall be furnished with a copy of the charge and the facts on which the charge is made and the person proceeded against shall submit his explanation. Then a future date should be fixed for the matter to be enquired into. If the person proceeded against is found innocent, the matter ends. If, however, he is found guilty, the clerk concerned shall be supplied with a copy of the findings and the punishment proposed to be imposed. The clerk will get an opportunity again to plead about the punishment only at this stage. If the Enquiring Officer himself is competent to inflict punishment on the person proceeded against, he will hear his pleadings and order what he thinks best. If the Enquiring Officer is anybody other than the General Manager, an appeal shall lie with him within seven days of the communication of the order punishing the clerk. In case, the Enquiring Officer is not competent to inflict punishment he will forward the proceedings to the authority competent to punish and that authority will hear the person again and then pass orders. If that authority be other than the General Manager an appeal shall lie likewise with the General Manager. In all cases where the proposed punishment is discharge or dismissal, the papers must be laid before the General Manager who will hear the person proceeded against and then pass orders. The clerks proceeded against shall have always the right to be defended by any other employee or by any other retired employee. These are domestic matters and bringing outside agencies is not helpful to the person proceeded against. Any outsider may defend a person proceeded against with the permission of the Enquiring Officer.

We hope that the rules framed by us will remove apprehensions about abrupt termination of services and will give to the employees a sense of security which is essential for efficient working.

The Union demands free medical aid to the employees and their dependants. We understand that the Company has a dispensary of its own within the compound of its office from which medicine is supplied to the employees free; and that there is a doctor who attends the dispensary for one hour every day. We are told that the doctor's attendance is not regular. Although we are not inclined to enlarge on the existing medical facilities we recommend that the Company will fix hours of attendance of the doctor so that each and every employee may know when the doctor will be available at the dispensary.

The Union has also demanded facilities for recreation and sports, games, free library and reading room. The demand is refused.

We are not also convinced about the propriety of the demand of the Union for distribution among the employees of the excess profits refunded by the Government. This demand is also refused.

The question of housing has already been considered in fixing the grades and scales of pay. We do not, therefore, make any separate award for house allowance.

AWARD.

On the 11th of May 1948, the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, published an award of the Industrial Tribunal formulating grades and scales of pay and laying down other conditions of service of the workmen in 169 Printing Presses of Calcutta and Howrah. Mondal Press was one of them. The employees of the Mondal Press insisted that the award should be implemented but the partners of the Press pleaded financial inability and splitted up the basic salary of the employees and added a portion of it to the existing dearness allowance to make it Rs. 22 which was the minimum dearness allowance awarded by the Tribunal. Total emoluments of the workmen including the basic salary and dearness allowance were not altered. Payments were made to the Muslim workmen, according to this scheme on 5th August 1948, and 6th August 1948, was fixed for payment to the Hindu workmen. On 6th August 1948, when payments were offered, according to this scheme, to the Hindu workmen, they refused. The matter was at once reported by the Press Employees' Association to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, by a letter dated 6th August 1948. 7th and 8th August were closed holidays. The Association alleges that on 9th August 1948, when the workmen attended the Press, 17 of them were not allowed to enter the premises and resume work and were verbally told that they were dismissed from services and thus declared a lock-out in respect of these persons. This Tribunal has been appointed to adjudicate the dispute relating to these 17 workmen by an order No. 3917Lab. of the 29th October 1948, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department. Since the order of reference four of the workmen have been re-appointed. The Press Employees' Association contends that these workmen were dismissed as an unfair labour practice and demands reinstatement of the remaining 13 workmen with all benefits from the date of their dismissal.

It has been urged on behalf of the Press that the management called a conference of the workmen soon after the award was published in which they agreed to split up the basic salary and to have a portion of it added to the existing dearness allowance so as to bring the total dearness allowance to Rs. 22, being the minimum dearness allowance awarded by the Tribunal and pleads that the workmen mentioned in the order of reference were temporary hands and were dismissed on the ground of inefficiency and lack of sufficient work.

The following points were formulated for adjudication:—

(1) Are the 17 workmen mentioned in the order of reference No. 3917Lab., of the 29th October 1948, and the schedule annexed thereto entitled to be reinstated?

(2) If so, on what terms?

(3) If not, are they entitled to any pension, gratuity or compensation?

(4) Were the wages of these 17 workmen reduced unjustly? If so, what relief, are they entitled to?

I take up all the points together. Before I enter into the merit of the case I should record my decision on two preliminary points raised by the management. The first point is that no notice was served on the Mondal Press in the proceedings of the previous adjudication. On a reference to the original record of the disputes of the employees of 169 Printing Presses of Calcutta and Howrah, I find that the address of the Mondal Press was 23, Dixon Lane, Calcutta. This is also the present address of the Press. It has not been suggested that the Press was ever housed in any premises other than 23, Dixon Lane, or that it is carrying on its business at its present address for a short time. On the other hand, the sworn testimony of the witness Balai Chandra Haldar is that the Press has been occupying the premises 23, Dixon Lane for at least seven years. This stands unrebutted. Attempts were made to have the notice of the disputes of the employees of 169 Printing Presses on each and every Press at the address given in the order of reference. The notices were issued by registered post. Attempts were made more than once. Still the notice could not be served on the Mondal Press. It is a mystery to me. The less I discuss on this point, the better. The Tribunal, did not stop there. It called from the Press Employees' Association correct addresses of the Presses which could not be served with notice. So far as the Mondal Press is concerned, attempts were made to have the notice served at the correct address. The Press Employees' Association could not supply any other address. As an additional precaution, with a view to notify the dispute to the absentees, a notification was published in four daily newspapers of Calcutta by an order dated 11th October 1947. Manindra Babu, one of the Partners of the Press, is an M.A. of the Calcutta University and is a writer. It is curious that he did not look up any of these notifications in the newspapers. Am I to presume that Manindra Babu does not regularly read any newspaper. I am compelled to remark once again that the less I discuss on this point, the better. In the circumstances, when the Tribunal did not get any response from the absentees after the notification in the newspapers, the Tribunal could not but hold that if these Presses really existed they had sufficient notice of the proceedings before the Tribunal and would be bound by the award passed in that case.

The second point urged before me is that some of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference are not members of the Press Employees' Association. The workmen of the Mondal Press were represented before the previous Tribunal by the Press Employees' Association. No objection was raised there. The management is now estopped from raising the question. When the management pleaded financial inability to implement the award, a good number of the employees appear to have authorised the Press Employees' Association to take up their case. In the written answer for the Mondal Press, this objection was not even suggested. However the sworn testimony of Balai Chandra Haldar that all the discharged workmen are members of the Press Employees' Association stands unrebutted. On the other hand Sanatan Purkait and Keshab Das who have been examined by the management corroborate Balai Chandra Halder. All the discharged employees have not been examined before me. Only Balai Chandra Halder and Baserali alias Baherali have been examined. They claim to be members of the Union. Even assuming that the other discharged employees are not members, the position will not be altered. That the Press Employees' Association represents at least Balai Chandra Halder and Baherali cannot be disputed. The Press Employees' Association is quite competent to represent at least these two discharged workmen. If these two persons are workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, they are quite competent to demand through the Association reinstatement of the other discharged workmen even though they are not members of the Association. The dispute, in the present case, arose in connection with the implementation of the award published in May 1948 and these workmen were discharged during this dispute. Hence they are workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Act. An industrial dispute has been defined as a dispute or difference between employers and employers, or between employers and workmen, or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of employment or with the conditions of labour, of any person. Even if the Press Employees' Association is not entitled to represent the discharged workmen other than Balai Chandra Halder and Baserali, it is competent, on the authority of Balai Chandra Halder and Baserali, to demand reinstatement of those discharged workmen. The point was made clear by the Hon'ble Mr. Justice A. N. Sen and the Hon'ble Chief Justice Mr. A. T. Harris in the case of Birla Brothers, Limited.

I now proceed to discuss the merit of the case. The management did not file a complete record of attendance of the employees. The evidence shows that the workmen put their respective signatures against their names in what is called an Attendance Slip. Pay Roll is prepared from this Attendance Slip and signatures of the workmen are taken when payments are made to them. The management has filed Pay Roll from December 1945. The following details may be necessary for proper appreciation on the cases of the discharged employees:—

	Name.	According to the Press Employees' Association.	According to the management.	As found from the Pay Roll.
			Appointed on—	Appointed on—
1.	Nirapada Chakrabartty	..	11-11-47. ..	11-11-47.

15.	Jobedali		....	December 1946.
16.	Kasemuddin		....	December 1945.
17.	Nawabali		....	Ditto.

Haripada Sarkar, Sanatan Purkait, Keshab Das and Asmat Ali have since been re-employed. There is, therefore, no dispute in relation to these four persons. And the others Gaganendu Dutta, Gourhari Chakrabartty, Balai Chandra Halder, Baserali alias Baherali, Ansarli alias Anarli, Kasemuddin and Nababali had been working in the Mondal Press at least from December 1945 till their dismissals and got increments from time to time. Gaganendu Dutta, Gourhari Chakrabartty, Balai Chandra Halder and Baherali were appointed initially on Rs. 50 per month. Subsequently their basic pay was increased from time to time and in July 1948 Gaganendu Dutta and Balai Chandra Halder got Rs. 55, Gourhari Chakrabartty got Rs. 58 and Baherail got Rs. 70. Ansarali who was appointed on Rs. 25 got three increments, his basic salary has been finally raised to Rs. 38. Kasemuddin was appointed initially on Rs. 49 and was given four increments up to Rs. 66. Nawabali who was appointed initially on Rs. 60 was getting Rs. 65 at the time of his discharge. Nirapada who was appointed in November 1947 on the basic salary of Rs. 60 was given an increment in February 1948 and at the time of his discharge he was getting Rs. 62. Jobedali was appointed on Rs. 20 a month and was given two increments up to Rs. 27.

The Mondal Press has no fixed rules about the terms and conditions of service. Nor does it maintain any record of service of the workmen indicating the date of appointment, terms of appointment, leave granted and nature of leave and such other particulars which are necessary for a decision as to whether a particular employee is a temporary workman or a probationer or a permanent hand. The management calls all the 17 workmen whose dismissals are the subject matter of the present adjudication temporary hands and relies on the rule in the award of the 169 Printing Presses, which provides for discharge of a workman at any time during the probationary period without giving any notice or compensation in lieu of notice. It may be noted that the parties to the adjudication of the disputes of the 169 cases came to an agreement about the terms and conditions of service in general in Printing Presses. The agreement was embodied in the award and is Annexure B. There is nothing on record to bring any of the dismissed workmen within the term "temporary" workman as defined in the said schedule. What the management means to say is that all these workmen were probationers and were discharged during the probationary period. As I have already noted the Mondal Press has no fixed rule as to what would be the period of probation of a workman to entitle him to confirmation. If any workman had been confirmed before publication of the award without undergoing one year's probation, he cannot be affected adversely by the award. The award was not given any retrospective effect on this point. If any workman were on probation on the date of publication of the award he undoubtedly comes under the award. In the present case, where there is no record, it is very difficult to decide which of the workmen were confirmed or made permanent at the time of the discharge. Sanatan Purkait who appears to have been working in the Mondal Press from December 1947 and who had not put in one year's service to entitle him to confirmation as required by the award says that he was a permanent hand up to the date of his discharge. He was re-employed in the very month of his discharge, namely, in the month of August 1948, and was treated as a temporary hand up to the end of August and from the beginning of the next month he was a permanent hand. He has been examined for the management and his evidence has not been refuted even by the partner Manindra Babu himself. It has been found out that Gaganendu Dutta, Gourhari Chakrabartty, Balai Chandra Halder, Baherali alias Baserali, Ansarali alias Anarali, Kasemuddin and Nawabali had been working in the Mondal Press at least since December 1945. Besides, taking periodical short leaves, they appear to have been absent for long periods. Gaganendu Dutta is found to have been absent from about the beginning of November 1947 to April 1948; Gourhari Chakrabartty in October and November 1947 and from March to May 1948; and Balai Chandra Halder from August to October 1947. Even if one year's service be insisted upon as a requisite condition for confirmation, these three workmen appear to have had served more than that period before they absented themselves for these long periods. Baherali alias Baserali, Ansarali alias Anarali and Nawabali do not appear to have had such long absence. Kasemuddin appears to have been absent for the whole of June and July 1947 and August 1946. The Mondal Press appears to have been closed for the entire latter half of August 1946. And this was possibly because of the communal riot which had struck a terror into the minds of every one to whatever community he might belong. Without looking into the records prior to December 1945, it is not possible to say whether the absence of Kasemuddin in August 1946 was after completion of one year's service in the press. Even assuming that he had not then completed one year's service, the absence for 15 days in August 1946 cannot, in the absence of any evidence about the nature of absence, be treated as a break in the service. Absence of 15 days of which only 9 days appear to have been working days cannot be treated as long absence. He was absent also for 7 days towards the close of July 1946. Even if this be added to his absence in August 1946 I am not inclined to consider the period as a break of service. Besides these 7 workmen Gaganendu, Gourhari, Balai Chandra, Baherali, Ansarali, Kasemuddin alias Kachi and Nawabali were given increments from time to time. Probationers are hardly given an increment during the probationary period, and I must admit that in my experience I have not seen a single instance of a probationer getting an increment during the probationary period. Nirapada was also given such increments, although he had not put in one year's service. If Sanatan Purkait, who was appointed in December 1947 and was not given any increment, could be treated as a permanent hand, I fail to understand how Nirapada who was appointed in November 1947 on a salary of Rs. 60 was given an increment of Rs. 2 in January 1948, should not be treated as a permanent workman. Sanatan Purkait did not get any increment. Manick Chandra Halder who also did not get any increment was appointed in November 1947, a month earlier than Sanatan Purkait. If Sanatan Purkait was a permanent hand I fail to understand why Manick Chandra should not be. Krishna Chandra Dutta who appears to have worked for the Mondal Press for 16 days in December 1945 on a salary of Rs. 40 appears to have worked for the Press again from February 1948 on a salary of Rs. 36. Chittaranjan Halder appears to have worked from August 1947 to a few days in October 1947 on a salary of Rs. 20 and again from May 1948 till his dismissal on a salary of Rs. 46. Krishna Chandra Dutta must have been appointed as a temporary hand for a few days in December 1945 and his present appointment began in February 1948. In my opinion, this was also the case with Chittaranjan Halder. This Krishna Chandra Dutta had hardly put in six months' service and Chittaranjan, three months' service before they were discharged. I do not think that they were permanent hands. There were probationers and the management had the right to discharge them during the probationary period without any notice or without any compensation in lieu of notice. Birendra Chandra appears to have been re-employed and to have worked for the Press from 22nd September to 8th October 1948. It appears that he did not turn up. So far as Birendra Chandra is concerned the dispute under reference was amicably settled. And we are not aware why he did not turn up after 8th October 1948. Jobedali appears to have declined to work for the Mondal Press on the ground that he had been earning much more by selling bidis. Obviously Jobedali does not press for his reinstatement. In the circumstances discussed above, Birendra and Jobedali are left outside the present adjudication and Krishna Chandra and Chittaranjan cannot be given any relief. I may note here that the rules about the conditions of service were formulated by the representatives of the management and the employees of different presses at the time of the last adjudication. And if the management of the Mondal Press seeks to justify his action by these rules, the Press Employees' Association has nothing to say. Thus we are left with the cases of Nira pada, Gourhari, Gaganendu, Balai Chandra, Manick Chandra, Baherali alias Baserali, Ansarali alias Anarali, Kasemuddin and Nawabali. The management wanted to justify the dismissal of these 9 men by saying that they had been temporary hands, not having put in even one year's service and were inefficient and that the Press had no sufficient work to enable it to maintain the same strength of staff as it was maintaining in July 1948. I have already held that these 9 men were permanent hands. About their inefficiency there is no evidence worth the name. The suggestion about the inefficiency of these workmen in the written statement of the Press was vague, and after the evidence on the side of the employees was closed, the management attempted to bring in specific charges against Nirapada and other workmen without caring to throw out any suggestion to the witnesses of the Press Employees' Association when they were cross-examined. Then about the plea of paucity of work we find from the Pay Roll of the Company that the present workmen had to work every time at least in September and October 1948 varying from 3½ extra days to 27 extra days in a month per head. No case has been made out as to how many workmen were necessary to cope with the then existing work. It was obviously not a case of retrenchment. The Company did not follow the time-honoured principle about retrenchment. In September 1948 there were 183 extra days worked in the Composing Department and 19 extra days worked in the Machine Department. Thus the management could retain at least 6 or 7 additional hands in September 1948. The grounds advanced by the Partner Manindra Babu are not at all convincing. He claims to be a distinguished graduate of the Calcutta University and to be a highly literary man but he did not hesitate to place any plea without having regard for its truth.

The evidence shows that after publication of the award in 167 Printing Presses to which the Mondal Press was also a party, the workmen of the Mondal Press were agitating for implementation of this award. We find from the record of the Labour Commissioner that on the 14th June 1948, the Press Employees' Association had written to the Labour Commissioner complaining that Nirapada had been dismissed on 12th June 1948 simply because he had inquired when the award of the Tribunal would be implemented. This letter was communicated to the partners of the Press. The partners denied the story. Nirapada appears to have been dismissed on 30th June 1948. In reply to the Labour Commissioner, the Press alleged that Nirapada had proved unsatisfactory in many ways. Nothing was said definitely that he was thoroughly incompetent. If he were incompetent, I fail to understand why he was given an increment. This was not a general increment and the Press had no rules prescribing periodical increments. It is still more curious that the Press could not formulate the definite charges against Nirapada till Manindra Babu came into the witness-box and told us a story which the section-holder of the department Keshab Das did not corroborate. The very fact that the workmen were given periodical increments proves their efficiency. If they were still serving a probationary period and if they had been inefficient I fail to understand what prevented the management from dismissing them much earlier without giving any increment. These periodical increments prove their high efficiency. That the Press Employees' Association raised the question of implementation of the award and connected with it the name of Nirapada at least on 14th June 1948 and that this was communicated to the management of the Press by the Labour Commissioner cannot be disputed. The management managed to keep away from the adjudication proceedings but it cannot escape the award which is binding on it equally with those who took part in the adjudication. The management pleads financial inability to implement the award. It should have taken the plea before the Tribunal which adjudicated the disputes of the 169 Printing Presses. Now the management is estopped both by his conduct and by the award to raise the plea. If he refuses or fails to implement the award he is guilty under the Act. To get out of this position, the management appears to have invented a story that the partners called a conference of the employees and that it was agreed that the basic salary would be split up and a portion of it would be added to the existing dearness allowance to make it Rs. 22 which is the minimum dearness allowance awarded by the Tribunal. Manindra Babu, Tara Mia and Keshab Das are the witnesses about the conference. At the hearing the evidence was that the conference was of the partners and of the section-holders and not of the workmen. The evidence is highly discrepant and I cannot believe it. The witness Tara Mia is still working for the Press and Keshab who was discharged was re-employed and it will be seen that he was re-employed along with three others on their undertaking to cut off all connections with the Press Employees' Association. It appears that the workmen of the Mondal Press including Tara Mia and Keshab Das wrote to the Secretary of the Press Employees' Association complaining that the Press was not implementing the award and praying for assistance of the Association in the matter. Keshab and Tara Mia could not deny the letter. The evidence of Keshab is that all the section-holders agreed to have the basic salary split up and that when the section-holders communicated this to the workmen of the respective department the workmen also agreed. If this was so, I fail to understand why Keshab refused to take the salary in August 1948 when it was offered according to this scheme. The only witness for the management who appears to have some regard for truth is Sanatan Purkait. He says that on the day just preceding the date fixed for payment (of the salary for July 1948) Keshab Das reported that the Malik had pleaded inability to implement the award and that the Malik had offered Rs. 22 as dearness allowance out of the basic salary, but that not even the section-holders did agree to take payment according to the Malik's proposal and scheme. From the circumstances both anterior and posterior to the occurrence under enquiry, it is clear that none had agreed to take the salary according to the scheme proposed by the management. The scheme was prejudicial to the workmen. Under the award, the Mondal Press was to introduce a Provident Fund Scheme, under which the contributions on both sides were to be calculated on the basic salary. The workmen had no reason to agree to take a lower salary and a higher dearness allowance, the total emoluments being unaltered. That the 17 workmen were dismissed is not disputed. In the statement submitted before the Labour Commissioner the management appears to have stated that these workmen were discharged on 5th August

1948 and 6th August 1948. All these workmen appear to have worked for the Press up to the date of their discharge as stated by the management. 7th and 8th August were closed holidays. The management suggests that the workmen stopped work on the 9th. On the other hand, the Press Employees' Association appears to have reported to the Labour Commissioner by a letter on the 9th August 1948 that the workmen of the Mondal Press were not being allowed to work and had been asked not to enter the premises. According to the Press Employees' Association, there was a lock-out. The Labour Commissioner apprised the management about the Press Employees' case and called for its report. But curiously enough, the management did not care to make a statement at that time that it was a case of strike and not a case of lock-out. That there had been a lock-out is clear from the evidence of Keshab Das who is a witness for the management. His evidence is that on the 9th August he came to the office and enquired as to whether other workers had come and ascertained that they had come but that the Babus had discharged them. In any case, there was no strike on the part of the employees. The 17 workmen were locked out and were subsequently discharged. This was because they did not agree to take their salary according to the scheme as proposed by the management who appears to have been avoiding implementation of the award on the plea of financial inability. The evidence is that the accounts of the Press were disbelieved by the Income-tax Officer at least in two cases. I did not look into the accounts of the Press for that was irrelevant. The management is estopped from raising the plea at this stage. Non-implementation of the award is itself an offence. Under section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, a lock-out during the period an award is in operation is illegal. Refusal of admission to the workmen who wanted to work amounts to lock-out. Demanding implementation of an award and insisting on legal wages and allowance is not an offence and cannot warrant dismissal of any workman. The management seems to believe that connection of the workmen with the Press Employees' Association was responsible for this position. He re-employed four of the discharged hands and got an undertaking from these re-employed hands and the other existing hands that they had cut off all connections with the Press Employees' Association. This statement was addressed to the Labour Commissioner and was forwarded by the management to the Labour Commissioner on the 28th August 1948, till then the re-employed workmen were not allowed to sign their Attendance Slip and were treated as temporary hands. From the 1st of September they were treated as permanent hands and were allowed to sign the Attendance Slip. I may quote from the evidence of the witness Sanatan Purkait in this connection:—

> "He (the Malik) told me that he would take me in if I would leave the Union. This is why I left the Union. This is a log on me."

The evidence of Keshab Das may also be referred to in this connection. It has been amply proved that the dismissal of Nirapada, Gaganendu, Gourhari, Balai Chandra, Manick Chandra, Baherali alias Baserali, Ansarali alias Anarali, Kasemuddin alias Kachi and Nawabali are instances of unfair labour practice and victimisation. And I award that they should be reinstated without any break of service with full salary and dearness allowance according to the terms of the award of the general Tribunal from the date of their discharge up to the date of their reinstatement. Haripada, Sanatan, Keshab Das and Asmat have already been re-employed. I do not propose to interfere in the cases of Krishna Chandra Dutta, Chittaranjan Haldar, Birendra Chandra Das and Jobedali on grounds already discussed.

(2) The Board may recover all expenses incurred by the District Health Officer in carrying out the measure under regulation 4 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 3427, dated 18th September 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I gave notice to the parties and on 30th September 1948 the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet which will hereafter be referred to as the Union filed written statement. The Company filed written statement on 29th October 1948. Issues were framed on 8th November 1948. The hearing of the case commenced on 3rd December 1948. The hearing was protracted because the Union challenged the balance-sheets and the production figures submitted by the Company. Both parties examined witnesses, nine witnesses being examined by the Union and one witness by the Company. The hearing was finally concluded on 10th January 1949. Thereafter I inspected one of the factories of the Company at 5, Chowringhee Place, Calcutta, on 12th January 1949.

Byron & Co. is a private Company of long standing manufacturing aerated waters. It was established in 1887. It has at present three factories, one at 5, Chowringhee Place employing 114 workers, another at 39, Dharmatolla Street employing 74 workers and the third at Howrah employing 48 workers. There are, besides, three lorry drivers. So the total number of workmen employed by the Company is 239. Mr. E. S. Olpadvala is at present the Managing Proprietor of the Company. The Byron Mazdoor Panchayet was formed on 30th May 1948 and was registered under the Trade Unions Act on 12th July 1948. It claims that the majority of the workers of the Head Office and the branches of the Company are its members. Immediately after its formation the Union submitted on 15th June 1948 its charter of demands to the Company and also sent a copy of the same to the Labour Commissioner. A copy of the said charter of demands has been filed by the Union. The Labour Commissioner moved in the matter and certain conferences were convened by him to settle the dispute by conciliation, but these being unsuccessful the dispute was ultimately referred to the Tribunal on the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner.

The demands of the Union include recognition of the Union, fixation of minimum basic wages and grades for the unskilled and skilled workmen, dearness allowance, city allowance, house-rent allowance, bonus, retiring benefits, leave and holidays, free uniforms and framing of service rules for the employees. The Union further alleges that one employee Paresh Nath Mistri has been wrongfully victimised by the Company and refused employment on return from leave. The Union demands that he should be permitted to resume his duties and get compensation for the period of non-employment. The Company's case is that the present scales of pay of the employees together with other benefits which they get are quite fair and reasonable and that the Company is not financially in a position to increase the pay scales and allowances. As regards Paresh Nath Mistri the Company's case is that he himself left the Company's service in the month of June 1948. The following issues were framed on the basis of the statements of the parties:—

ISSUES.

(1) Recognition of the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet.

(2) What should be the minimum basic pay and dearness allowance for—

(iii) Skilled workers?

(3) Who are the semi-skilled and skilled workers amongst the employees of the Company?

(4) City Allowance.

(5) House-rent Allowance.

(6) Bonus.

(7) Retirement benefits:—

(8) Leave and holidays.

(9) Free uniforms.

(10) Rules of service—

(c) Length of the probationary period and permanency.

(d) Should the Union be consulted in the matters of appointment, dismissal and discharge of workmen?

(11) Did Paresh Nath Mistri voluntarily leave the Company's service or has the Company locked him out? If he has been locked out, was it legal and justified? Is the Company bound to keep him in service and give him compensation?

Issue No. 1—Recognition of the Union.

The Company has objected to recognise the Union and the objections taken are legal. The first objection is that the question of recognition is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act and the second objection is that in view of the recent amendment of the Trade Unions Act providing for compulsory recognition of Trade Unions the Tribunal cannot and should not consider the question but should direct the Union to get itself recognised by following the procedure laid down in the said legislation. On behalf of the Union it has been argued that the Company is not entitled to take any legal objection, since no such objection was taken in the written statement. In the written statement the Company simply stated that the present Union did not include the majority of the employees and that in view of its absurd attitude it should not be recognised. Even though no legal objection might have been taken in the written statement, such objections can always be taken at the time of hearing and I agree with the Company's contention that the question of recognition of a Union is not an industrial dispute. It is also clear that in view of the recent legislation enacted for compulsory recognition of Trade Unions an Industrial Tribunal should not deal with the question. The Union should wait until Labour Courts are set up and approach them for recognition under the amended Trade Unions Act. Sri Niren De, on behalf of the Company, took another objection, namely, that the workmen of the Company must be represented by some office-bearer of a registered Trade Union according to section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I have already stated that the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet is itself a registered Union and so the office-bearers of the said Union are entitled to represent the workmen of the Company. I am satisfied from the Panchayet's registers and papers that Sri Jagannath Pande and Sri Ugra Sen Gupta who represented the workmen before me are respectively the duly elected President and Secretary of the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3.—Classification of the workers and the fixation of minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.

These issues concern the questions of fixation of minimum basic pay and dearness allowance for the workers and the classification of the workers into categories of unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled. I shall first take up the question of classification. As I have already stated, the Company employs in all 239 workers. The Company in its written statement has classified the workers into eight groups according to the nature of the work done. The first group consists of the largest number of workers who are described as cart-delivery men. Their total number is 162 in the three factories—73 in Chowringhee Place, 55 in Dharmatolla and 34 in Howrah. They are also known as coolies. There is no dispute that these men are unskilled workers. The second group consists of bottle packers and counters whose total number is 15. The Company maintains that they are also unskilled workmen but the Union contends that they are skilled. I do not find any justification for the Union's contention that they are skilled workers. Their business is to count and pack bottles in crates. I have seen their work in the Chowringhee Factory. No skill is necessary for this work. In my opinion, therefore, they must be treated as unskilled. The third group of workers consists of bottle fillers. They are 24 in number in the three factories. The Company maintains that they are also unskilled but the Union's case is that they are skilled. They have to work in the bottle-filling machines and they require some experience, though not what may be called "skill", for doing their work properly. At the most they may be called semi-skilled workers. The Union laid great stress on the fact that these men are described as mistries in the Company's papers but the Company says that they are so described in order to distinguish them from the ordinary coolies. In any case the designation "Mistri" is not apt in their case and is not sufficient to show that they are skilled workers. I have seen their work and, in my opinion, they can only be classified as semi-skilled workers. The fourth group of workers consists of syrupmen who are only four in number. They mix the materials for preparing syrup which is required for manufacturing lemonades and other sweet waters. The Company agrees that they are semi-skilled workmen and I think that they ought to be classified as such and not as skilled workmen. The next group consists of machine attendants, starters, hydro-operators and the head mistris. Their total number is seven. They start and operate the machines, viz., the hydro or bottle-washing machines and the bottle-filling machines. The Company states that they are also semi-skilled, but since they operate the machines they should, I think, be described as skilled workers, though I should state from what I have seen of their work that their skill is not of a high order. They cannot set right the machines when there is any disorder. For these purposes mechanics are supplied by a contractor whom I met when I visited the factory. That exhausts the categories of factory workmen. There are other employees like the sardars who are three in number and whose duty is to distribute and supervise the work of the coolies, the darwans who are 19 in number and the drivers of the lorries who are three in number.

All the workmen and employees enumerated above are paid wages on the monthly basis, there being none paid at daily rates. The present scales of pay of the different groups of employees per month are as follows:—

(1) Cart-delivery-men or coolies—their pay ranges from Rs. 27 to Rs. 31.

(2) Bottle packers and counters—from Rs. 30 to Rs. 35.

(3) Bottle-filling men—from Rs. 30 to Rs. 37.

(4) Syrupmen—from Rs. 33 to Rs. 35.

(5) Machine attendants—from Rs. 35 to Rs. 48. (There was one man getting Rs. 50 who has since died.)

(6) Sardars—from Rs. 33 to Rs. 35.

(7) Darwans—from Rs. 30 to Rs. 37.

(8) Drivers—Rs. 73.

None of these employees get any dearness allowance separately excepting some food concession valued at Re. 1 per head per month. The cart-delivery-men, however, get something from the owners of the depots to whom they deliver aerated waters as transport charges at the rate of 6 annas per head for each trip. When delivery is made by lorries the coolies going in them get 12 annas per head, out of which, however, they have to pay something to the man in charge of the lorry, so that their actual earning comes to 10 annas 6 pies per head per trip. On an average a delivery-man makes three trips a day and on the basis of this the Company estimates his daily earning at Rs. 1-2 per day. Of course, the coolies have also to work by turns inside the factories at the rate of 35 each day and while they do so they do not get the transport charges. The syrupmen are allowed to sell and appropriate the sale proceeds of empty crown cork cases. The employees also get certain payments at the time of their periodical visits to their homes in the shape of train fares, etc., to which I shall refer subsequently.

The Union has demanded that the minimum basic pay for the unskilled workmen should be fixed at Rs. 60 per month and for the skilled workmen at Rs. 100 per month. In the original demand submitted by the Union on 15th June 1948 the Union did not demand any minimum basic pay for the skilled workmen. All that the Union demanded then was that the minimum basic wage should be fixed at Rs. 60 per month. In the statement filed in this case the Union did not also demand any minimum basic pay for the semi-skilled workmen. The Union placed the bottle-filling men, syrupmen, sardars and darwans in the class of skilled workmen and demanded a minimum of Rs. 100 for them. At the time of hearing the Union demanded Rs. 60 as the minimum for the unskilled workmen, Rs. 75 for the semi-skilled workmen and Rs. 100 for the skilled workmen. In the case of the unskilled workmen the Union demanded annual increment at the rate of Rs. 2 rising up to Rs. 120 and in the case of skilled workmen at the rate of Rs. 5 rising up to Rs. 250. Over and above, the Union demanded dearness allowance at the rate of 70 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 45 per month. It was further demanded that the Company should pay six months' wages in a lump as dearness allowance or bonus for the past years since the workers did not get any dearness allowance in the past.

The Company pleaded incapacity to accede to the demands of the Union and raise the pay scales on account of its financial position. The Company, however, proposed to raise the minimum pay scale to Rs. 45 per month inclusive of dearness allowance for all workers on condition that it was permitted to appropriate the transport charges and discontinue the system of paying the same to the cart-delivery-men. That is, the Company proposed that in future the Company would realise the transport charges from its customers and credit the same to its funds and that with this additional fund it would raise the minimum pay scale of its employees to Rs. 45 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. The Union, however, did not agree to the abolition of the system of payment of the transport charges to the cart-delivery-men. The Union demanded that if the transport charges were abolished the minimum pay for the unskilled workers should be raised to Rs. 90. The Union stated that it had the strongest possible objection to the abolition of the said system as it would deprive the cart-delivery-men of their existing privileges. The Company agreed that the abolition of this system would be unfair to the cart-delivery-men but the Company's case is that unless this is abolished the Company has no means to get any extra fund out of which it can raise the pay scales of all the workers. It wanted to distribute the transport charges evenly among all the workers by depriving the cart-delivery-men. Since this is not agreed to by the Union, I do not think that I should be justified in asking the Company to abolish the system. Its abolition would certainly be most unfair to the cart-delivery-men as it would deprive them of a considerable income which they have been earning for long years past and which has now almost come to be regarded as a part of their wages. This system should, therefore, be retained but the fact that the cart-delivery-men have got this extra income should be taken into consideration in fixing their pay scales and dearness allowance.

The pay scales as enumerated above have been severely criticised by the Union and there can be no doubt that the scales are low considering the fact that they are inclusive of dearness allowance and that no separate dearness allowance is paid by the Company. I propose, however, to consider these pay scales from the standpoint of basic pay only exclusive of dearness allowance. The dearness allowance will be considered and fixed separately hereafter. Considered as basic pay the pay scales do not appear to be low or inadequate. I should state at once that I cannot consider as reasonable the demand of the Union that the minimum pay for the unskilled workers should be fixed at Rs. 60, that for the semi-skilled at Rs. 75 and that for the skilled at Rs. 100. These demands are not only out of proportion to the nature and condition of this particular industry but they are also very much higher than what would be considered suitable and adequate for bigger and much better organised industries. The Central Pay Commission recommended a minimum pay of Rs. 30 per month for the unskilled workers. This minimum basic pay was considered adequate by one of the major Tribunals in West Bengal for the Engineering Industries. The Jute Industries Tribunal fixed the minimum at a lower figure, namely, Rs. 26 per month, and the Cotton Industries Tribunal fixed at a still lower figure, namely, Rs. 20-2-5. There is absolutely no justification for the claim that the minimum should be fixed at such a high figure as Rs. 60 for the unskilled workers and it has not been shown that such minimum is being paid by any industry or has been awarded by any Industrial Tribunal. So far as the unskilled workers of this Company are concerned, it will be seen from what has been stated above that the coolies and the cart-delivery-men are getting pay ranging from Rs. 27 to Rs. 31 per month and that the others are getting Rs. 30 as the minimum. I do not think that there is any need to revise the pay scales of the coolies or cart-delivery-men. I only propose to raise the maximum to Rs. 32 and fix a grade for them with an annual increment of 8 annas. Annual increments at this rate have been recommended for unskilled workers by the Central Pay Commission and the Industrial Tribunals have also generally awarded these rates. Annual increment at the rate of Rs. 2, as demanded by the Union, is obviously quite unreasonable and cannot be allowed. The minimum pay of the coolies and cart-delivery-men is accordingly fixed at Rs. 27 per month and their grade is fixed at Rs. 27—½—32. The other group of unskilled workers, namely, the bottle packers and counters, get Rs. 32—35 per month. Though they are unskilled they perform a little more responsible work than the coolies and as they are already getting Rs. 30 I accept the same figure as the minimum for them. Their minimum pay is accordingly fixed at Rs. 30 per month and their grade at Rs. 30—½—35.

I have already decided that the two categories of workers, namely, the syrupmen and the bottle-filling men, are semi-skilled. The syrupmen get Rs. 33—35 per month and the bottle-filling men get Rs. 30—37 per month. Their pay scales require a little revision so far as the minimum and the maximum are concerned. I propose to fix the minimum at Rs. 33 and the maximum at Rs. 38. The bottle-filling men and the syrupmen should therefore have a minimum basic pay of Rs. 33 and a grade of Rs. 33—1—38, the rate of annual increment being Re. 1.

The Machine Attendants who are seven in number and whom I have classified as skilled workers are getting pay ranging from Rs. 35 to Rs. 48. I think that it will be sufficient to fix their minimum pay at Rs. 38. The Union's demand of a minimum of Rs. 100 for them cannot be accepted. Even though they may be called skilled workers, their skill is not of such a high order as to warrant any higher minimum than what I propose to fix. They are skilled only in comparison with the other workmen working in the factories of this Company. I therefore fix their minimum pay at Rs. 38 and their grade at

Rs. 38—1—48. Annual increments at the rate of Rs. 5 for skilled workers, as demanded by the Union, is most unreasonable and cannot be considered for a moment.

Sardars and darwans should have the same minimum basic pay and the same grade as the semi-skilled workers, namely, Rs. 33—1—38. So far as the lorry drivers are concerned, they are getting Rs. 73 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. I think that what they are getting is sufficient and I do not, therefore, propose to revise their pay scale. It is not also necessary to fix any grade for them and none was demanded by the Union.

As regards fitting in of the existing employees in the grades fixed above, no direction is necessary in respect of the coolies and cart-delivery-men and the bottle packers and counters whose pay scales have not been revised. They will be getting the pay which they are at present enjoying excepting that they will be entitled to the annual increment of their respective grades after completion of one year's service from the date on which this award will be enforced. There is, however, some difficulty in computing one year's service in respect of the coolies because, as a matter of fact, they work for only eight months in a year and then go home leaving badlis to work for them. This system is of long standing in this Company and neither the Company nor the Union is in favour of changing it. So far as this Company is concerned, the four months of winter from November to February constitute the slack season when there is not so much demand for aerated waters as in the summer season. The Howrah Factory of the Company remains closed every year for four months during the winter on account of the slackness in demand. The other two factories at Chowringhee and Dharmatolla, however, work throughout the year. The Company actually encourages the going home of the workers during winter after eight months' work by paying them train fare and certain other allowances. The Union wants the system to be continued because otherwise a large number of badlis will be thrown out of employment. The result of this system, however, is that the coolies do not work for full one year, whether in the Howrah Factory or in the other factories, but actually work for eight months only. Their badlis work in their place while they are at home and they again come back and resume their work after certain months. In these circumstances, it will be inequitable to provide that the unskilled workers and others who go home regularly after eight months should get an increment of pay after expiry of one calendar year. I think that in order to be eligible for the annual increment each worker should actually put in full one year's service, even if it may not be continuous service. I direct accordingly that a worker in order to get an annual increment of this grade should actually put in twelve months' service excluding the period during which he might have been at home. The Company should maintain proper registers indicating actual length of service of each worker after this award comes into operation and should grant increments to the workers who have actually put in twelve months' service excluding the period they might have been at home. In the Howrah Factory also the length of service of the workers should be calculated on the basis of actual service put in excluding the period for which the factory remains closed.

As regards the semi-skilled workers, namely, the syrupmen, the bottle-filling-men and the sardars and the darwans whose minimum pay has been raised to Rs. 33 I direct that those who are now getting less than this minimum should get the minimum fixed from the date the award will come into operation. It is, not, however, possible to give any direction regarding increments for past services because the Company has stated that it has not got any records to show the length of service of its workmen beyond the period of last three years. I therefore only direct that those who have put in three years' service, according to the records of the Company, should get one increment in the grade for such service and their pay should be fixed at the next higher stage in the grade. If any of the workmen who are entitled to these grades, goes home on leave like the coolies, his length of service for the purpose of annual increment should be calculated on the basis of actual service put in excluding the period during which he might have been at home. As already stated, the Company should from now on maintain proper registers showing the actual length of service of each such employee. Similarly the Machine Attendants who are now getting less than the minimum, namely, Rs. 38 fixed for them should get this minimum from the date this award will come into operation and if there is anybody who has put in three years' service he should get an increment for such service and should be placed in the next higher stage in the grade.

I now come to the question of dearness allowance. The Union has demanded dearness allowance at the rate of 70 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 45 per month. There is a further demand that six months' wages should be paid to all workmen in lump sum as compensation for non-payment of dearness allowance in the past years. The Company has pleaded that its financial position is not such as to enable it to pay any dearness allowance over and above any revision that may be made in the present pay scales. The Company was not even willing to agree to any revision of the scales on account of its financial position excepting on the condition that it was permitted to appropriate the transport charges that are now paid to the cart-delivery-men. It is therefore necessary to see whether the financial condition of the Company is such as not to warrant any increase, apart from the slight revision that has been made of the pay scales. The Company has produced its balance-sheets for the years 1946 and 1947. The financial year of the Company runs according to the calender year from the 1st January to the 31st December. According to the balance-sheets the Company made a net profit of Rs. 48,393 and odd in 1946 and of Rs. 38,568 and odd in 1947. In 1946 the Company did not pay any sales tax. In 1947, however, the Company had to pay Rs. 28,348 and odd as sales tax. On account of this payment the net profits were reduced in 1947. It is next stated that out of the net profits the proprietor had to pay income-tax and that in 1946 the income-tax paid amounted to Rs. 26,278 and odd and in 1947 to Rs. 17,471 so that the actual net profits after deduction of the income-tax amounted to Rs. 22,114 and odd in 1946 and to Rs. 21,096 and odd in 1947. The Company contends that the net profit it made in 1946 or 1947 was not thus sufficient to provide for a fair return on the capital invested by the proprietor. According to the Company's auditor who was called to explain the accounts, the proprietor Mr. Olpadvala normally draws about Rs. 36,000 a year from the funds of the Company. The capital account in the balance-sheet for 1946 stood at Rs. 2,12,086 and odd, but in the balance-sheet for 1947 the capital account was shown as reduced to Rs. 1,85,964 and odd. The auditor has explained that this reduction of capital account was due mainly to the drawings made by the proprietor from the Company's funds. Hence it is contended that the net profits shown in the balance-sheets are really illusory because they are not sufficient even to cover the normal drawings of the proprietor and that as such the Company's financial position does not warrant any further increase of expenditure.

The Union challenged the correctness of the figures in the balance-sheets and specially of the figures of sales shown therein and contended that the Company actually earned much larger sums in 1946 and 1947 which it concealed from the balance-sheets in order to avoid payment of income-tax and sales tax. The Union even filed a statement suggesting that the Company's net profits amount to five lakhs of rupees in a year. The sales, according to the balance-sheet for 1946, amounted to Rs. 5,96,436 and odd. In the balance-sheet for 1947 the total amount shown under sales is Rs. 6,34,722 and odd. The Union puts the figures of sales at eighty-nine thousand rupees every month. In order to show that the Company produces more aerated waters than shown in the accounts the Union has examined some witnesses from the workers in the factories and their evidence is that the three machines in the Chowringhee Factory produce 49 crates of aerated waters per hour—one crate containing 7½ dozens of bottles. As regards the Dharmatolla Factory the evidence is that the two machines in that factory produce 31 crates of 7½ dozens each per hour. The Howrah Factory is said to produce 14 crates of 7½ dozens each per hour. The total production per day, according to this evidence, on the basis of each machine working full eight hours a day, would be 5,640 dozens for all the factories. On behalf of the Company it has not been denied that each machine is capable of producing per hour the quantities mentioned by the Union's witnesses. The Company's case, however, is that no machine does, as a matter of fact, work for full eight hours a day and that the utmost period for which a machine can and does work is about six hours every day so that the daily production is about 4,000 dozens of bottles. That the machine cannot work for full time is also in a manner admitted by the Union's witnesses. They have admitted in cross-examination that the machines have to be stopped from time to time for changing syrups and corks and for changing from soda to sweet or from lemonade to ginger. It is also admitted that machines get occasionally jammed and that they have to be stopped on other grounds. According to the Company, the machines have to be stopped for a variety of reasons every day, e.g., when there are no bottles to fill, when bottles broken in the machines have to be removed, for oiling, for removing crown corks, for changing the supply from soda to sweet and vice versa and also for washing syrup containers with every change of syrup. Apart from these the machines stop owing to mechanical defects and when they get jammed. The Union's witnesses put the period of total stoppage every day at eight to ten or fifteen minutes, but this is certainly a gross under-estimate. It is admitted that a machine has to be stopped every time when a bottle is broken and I can say from my own experience that breakage of bottles was more frequent than the Union's witnesses were prepared to admit. I found during my visit to Chowringhee Factory that bottles break at the rate of four in an hour and the machines have therefore to be stopped for much more than fifteen minutes in a day on this ground alone.

It is impossible to believe the Union's case that the Company produces much more than what its sales figures would show and that it deliberately conceals the sales in order to avoid payment of income-tax or sales tax. This is a serious charge brought against the Company lightly and, I should say, most irresponsibly. The foundation of this charge is the evidence of the few workers that the machines work for 7¾ hours a day but that, as I have shown above, can hardly be true in view of the frequent stoppages of the machines necessitated by various factors. These witnesses never kept any account of the actual production of any day and had no knowledge about the number of bottles actually produced in any factory or by any machine on a particular day. The Company keeps proper and regular accounts of all sales from the factories and when the bottles are sent out of the factories to the dealers gate-sheets are written up showing the number of bottles so sent out and the amounts realised from the dealers are also entered therein. All sales of the Company are wholesale. The Company does not have any retail sale. The Company has regular customers and whatever it produces is delivered to the customers in the course of the day or on the next day for cash and in some cases on credit. It has got only one depot or godown at Mati Seal Street where aerated waters are sent from the Dharmatolla Factory for sale. There also the sales are generally wholesale, though the Manager in charge of the depot occasionally holds retail sales the profits of which are appropriated by the Manager by arrangement with the Company after crediting to the Company the wholesale prices. In these circumstances, when whatever the Company produces is sold immediately either on the very day or on the next day to regular wholesale customers and there are no retail sales, I do not think that it is possible for the Company to manipulate the figures of the sales and give a wrong picture in the daily gate-sheets in which all such sales are shown. The auditor stated that he had prepared the balance-sheets and the figures of sales shown therein from the daily gate-sheets and cash memos., and that all the sales found by him were at wholesale rates. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of the auditor. The Company produced a complete statement of its productions factory by factory and month by month for the year 1947. According to it, the total production for the year was 1,116,503 dozens of bottles and that for Chowringhee and Dharmatolla factories was 981,872 dozens. As the Howrah Factory was closed for four months of the year these figures show that the daily average of production could not have been more than 4,000 dozens of bottles in the three factories and that is the average according to the Company's case. The Company has also produced some gate-sheets for December 1948 for the Dharmatolla and Chowringhee factories. The Company's statement shows that production in any factory was not uniform from month to month and these gate-sheets show that it was not uniform from day to day. This is sufficient to disprove the theory that all the machines work for the same length of time every day. The total sales for the first ten days of December 1948 were 17,741 dozens for the Chowringhee Factory and 10,857 dozens for the Dharmatolla Factory. That gives a total average of about 2,860 dozens of bottles per day for these two factories taken together. As already stated, the winter is the slack season and the production or sale is higher in the dry season. I am not therefore prepared on the evidence to find that the average production is more than 4,000 dozens of bottles per day which is the figure given by the Company.

The Union has also adduced evidence regarding the quantities of raw materials required for producing aerated waters in the Chowringhee Factory every day. It is difficult to accept the Union's oral evidence on the point as against the figures supplied by the Company from its accounts. The Union accepted as correct the rates and prices of the raw materials as mentioned in the Company's statement but challenged the quantities as incorrect and also suggested that the quantities mentioned in the Company's statement would produce more bottles of aerated waters than what the Company has admitted to be the production in 1947. I cannot say that the Union's witnesses have been able to prove this. They have mentioned the quantities of some raw materials consumed daily at the Chowringhee Factory, but even assuming that they have given true evidence, those may be the quantities necessary for production of the quantity of aerated waters actually produced in the factory. The evidence is not sufficient to show that more is or can be produced. The Union has accepted the Company's figures for sugar as correct. That being so, I do not see how it can be contended that the production of sweet waters was more than shown in the Company's statement. The witnesses suggest that the Company now consumes less sugar than before and that the syrup is prepared with less quantity of sugar in it. The implication of this suggestion is that with the same quantity of sugar more sweets are produced than the Company was prepared to admit. I cannot obviously accept such a suggestion on the evidence adduced. The Company mentioned in its statement the number of crown corks consumed during the year 1947. The Company imports crown corks from England and a wrong figure about the import cannot therefore be put in its accounts. The total is 1,009 cases of 100 gross each. Each case will therefore contain 14,400 crown corks and the total will be about 12 lakhs dozens. This figure accords approximately with the production figure submitted by the Company for 1947 which is 1,116,503 dozens. Each bottle required a crown cork and allowing for some breakages and damages, the number of corks consumed would exactly tally with the number of bottles produced, according to the Company's statement. This is sufficient to show that the Union's case of more production and concealment of production cannot be true. I therefore accept the production figures and the sales figures submitted by the Company as correct. I similarly accept the figures in the balance-sheets which have been properly certified by the auditor as correct. It was finally urged by the Union that whatever might have been the position in 1946 or in 1947 the production figures for 1948 should be taken to be more on the basis of the evidence given by its witnesses. There is, however, no reason to think that the conditions in 1948 differed in any way from those in 1946 or 1947. Obviously, the Company's position must be judged with reference to its last balance-sheet. I have already stated that the gate-sheets for December 1948 for the two factories show that the rate of production in 1948 could not have been higher than what it was in 1946 and 1947. The Union also criticised the balance-sheets in other respects. The Company takes deposits from the owners of depots to whom aerated waters are regularly supplied for safe keeping of the bottles. These are known as bottle deposits. In 1947 the amount accumulated in the bottle deposit account was Rs. 66,180 and odd. Whenever bottles are broken in the custody of a depot-owner the price thereof is to be recouped from the amount in the bottle deposit account in the name of that particular owner. In such a case the amount so recouped ought to be transferred from the bottle deposit account to the profit and loss account and shown under the head receipt. The balance-sheets do not, however, contain any head for showing such receipts. This has been rightly criticised by the Union. If amounts so recouped are shown under the head of receipts this will increase the amount of net profit. It has also been urged by the Union that no interest on the bottle deposit account is shown in the balance-sheets, but the Company does not admit that the money in the bottle deposit account has been invested and earns an interest. The Union urged another point, namely, that when bottles are broken inside the factory the broken parts are sold as scraps and that as such breakage is considerable, the sale proceeds thereof must also be a handsome amount which is not, however, shown in the balance-sheets. To this the Company's reply was that the sale proceeds of broken bottles are included in the amount shown under the head "Sales". As regards income-tax the Union pointed out that it was to be paid by the proprietor personally and that it was not known whether the tax paid included tax on income from any other source. If it did include such income, the Union urged that the whole of the income-tax should not have been charged to the account by Byron & Co. This is a point which should be considered by the Company. Finally the Union urged that the accounts of the Company ought to show the retail sales which are admittedly undertaken from the depot or godown of the Company at Mati Seal Street. It is admitted by the Sales Manager Mr. Bhessania that some retail sales are actually undertaken from that godown, but, according to him, such sale proceeds are not credited to the Company but are appropriated by the Manager of the godown who only pays to the Company the wholesale prices. Nothing has been produced to show the amount of retail sales from this godown and the Manager of the godown has not been examined. The Union made a suggestion that the amount of retail sales from the godown was considerable. The retail prices are Rs. 1-2 per dozen for lemonades and 12 annas per dozen for soda-water. The differences between the wholesale and the retail rates are thus considerable and it is an unsatisfactory state of affairs to allow the Godown Manager to appropriate the proceeds of retail sales in this manner by which the Company is possibly deprived of a considerable amount, unless the retail sales are altogether insignificant, as has been suggested by the Sales Manager.

The question now is whether the Company in its present financial condition is capable of bearing the burden of further expenditure on account of dearness allowance to be paid to its employees and, if so, what should be the amount of dearness allowance. It is clear from the balance-sheets of the Company that it is not a losing concern. It is making a profit and I am sure that it is capable of earning more profit. I am satisfied that the Company is in a position to raise its production. Certain stoppages of the machines are avoidable, e.g., stoppage for want of bottles can be obviated by increasing the stock of bottles and by making better arrangements for supply of empty bottles in the factories. The Company has a high reputation as producer of aerated waters and its productions are in great demand. The Company is an old and well established concern. It has got a large number of regular wholesale customers and I am sure that it can increase their number still further. It sells its products to the wholesale customers at very cheap rates. The wholesale price of soda-water was only 6 annas per dozen up to 1946 and it was only in 1947 that the price was raised by 1 anna per dozen. The increase in the figure of sales in 1947 was due to this increase in rates. The retail price of soda-water is at least 1 anna per bottle and the retail price of a dozen is 12 annas. The Company's Solicitor argued that no further rise in the price would be justified in view of competition as this might bring down the sale of the Company. But I do not think that there is any possibility of real danger, if the wholesale prices are increased a little more in order to meet the increased expenditure that the Company will have to incur to pay its workers adequately. The Company can also undertake some amount of retail sales. It has been said that the Company confined its sales to wholesale for about 60 years and that it is not willing to change its policy. That is, of course, for the Company to decide, but it is important to remember that retail sales are actually undertaken by the Manager of the Company's depot at Mati Seal Street, though the Company is deprived of the profit of the same. The Company can at least keep to itself the profits of the retail Disputes Act the Government is to declare by an order in writing the award to be binding and under section 19(3) an award so declared to be binding shall come into operation on such date as may be specified by the appropriate Government and shall remain in operation for such period, not exceeding one year, as may be fixed by that Government. Thus it is for the Government to specify the period for which the award may remain in operation. In this state of law I do not see how a Tribunal can be expected to make an award retrospective in operation. Besides, seven months' time is not a long period and I do not think that the dispute has dragged for such a length of time as to call for an award having retrospective operation.

ORDER.

No. 2311D.C.S.—23rd February 1949.—In exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (1) of section 3 of the Essential Supplies (Temporary Powers) Act, 1946 (XXIV of 1946), read with clauses (d) and (j) of sub-section (2) of that section and with the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Food No. PY-603(2)/1, dated the 21st October 1946, the Governor, with the concurrence of the Central Government, is pleased to make the following amendment in notification No. 23040D.C.S., dated the 22nd December 1948, published at pages 38 and 39 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 6th January 1949, as subsequently amended:—

Amendment.

In Schedule II to the said order in column 1 under the heading "Areas" after the words "Basirhat subdivision and the police-stations" insert the word "Canning".

By order of the Governor,
R. S. KRISHNASWAMY,
Secy. to the Govt. of West Bengal.

Industries Tribunal. According to that award I direct that compensation for the period of involuntary unemployment should be payable at the rate of half the basic pay and half the dearness allowance for 30 days in each half year from January to June and from July to December and that to qualify for this benefit the worker must answer to a muster roll once a day at his usual place of employment, and a worker must be prepared to do work even of a different sort in his factory or in any other establishment under the same employers. On his refusal to do so he will not be eligible to get the benefit. Because of the fact that the Howrah Factory closes for four months during the winter season the Union has claimed that the workers in that factory should get compensation for involuntary unemployment during the period of closure, but the workers of this factory actually go home when the factory closes in the winter and they are paid train fares and other allowances as mentioned above. They are not therefore entitled to any compensation for involuntary unemployment so far as regular closing of the factory is concerned.

(c) Length of the probationary period and permanency.

The Union demands that every worker should be considered as permanent after three months' service and that the workmen who go home should be considered to be on leave without pay. It is difficult, however, to agree to this demand of the Union. As I have already stated, the system followed by the Company is that when one batch of workmen go home after eight months' service they leave badlis to work for them. When they come back the badlis go home. If the Union's demand is to be accepted, then both the regular workmen and their badlis would have to be made permanent because the badlis also work continuously for three months or more. So in these circumstances, all that I can direct is that only those workmen who have been continuously in the service of the Company for one year should be deemed to be permanent.

(d) The Union demanded that it should be consulted in all matters relating to dismissal, discharge or appointment of workmen. This is a demand which the Company cannot be forced to accept because it would take away the discretion of the Company in the matter of appointment, dismissal or discharge. These are matters over which the Company should have sole control and the Union cannot be allowed to interfere with them. Besides, this Union has yet to be recognised by the Company. The demand is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 11.

This issue was not pressed by the Union as Paresh Nath Mistri, who is working elsewhere, did not want reinstatement. The question of compensation was also settled amicably between the Union and the Company.

The Union finally urged that the award should be given retrospective operation since the dispute has been pending for about seven months. So far as this matter is concerned, it is for the Government to declare from which date the award will be in operation. Under section 15 of the Industrial whatever might have been the position in 1946 or in 1947 the production figures for 1948 should be taken to be more on the basis of the evidence given by its witnesses. There is, however, no reason to think that the conditions in 1948 differed in any way from those in 1946 or 1947. Obviously, the Company's position must be judged with reference to its last balance-sheet. I have already stated that the gate-sheets for December 1948 for the two factories show that the rate of production in 1948 could not have been higher than what it was in 1946 and 1947. The Union also criticised the balance-sheets in other respects. The Company takes deposits from the owners of depots to whom aerated waters are regularly supplied for safe keeping of the bottles. These are known as bottle deposits. In 1947 the amount accumulated in the bottle deposit account was Rs. 66,180 and odd. Whenever bottles are broken in the custody of a depot-owner the price thereof is to be recouped from the amount in the bottle deposit account in the name of that particular owner. In such a case the amount so recouped ought to be transferred from the bottle deposit account to the profit and loss account and shown under the head receipt. The balance-sheets do not, however, contain any head for showing such receipts. This has been rightly criticised by the Union. If amounts so recouped are shown under the head of receipts this will increase the amount of net profit. It has also been urged by the Union that no interest on the bottle deposit account is shown in the balance-sheets, but the Company does not admit that the money in the bottle deposit account has been invested and earns an interest. The Union urged another point, namely, that when bottles are broken inside the factory the broken parts are sold as scraps and that as such breakage is considerable, the sale proceeds thereof must also be a handsome amount making a profit and I am sure that it is capable of earning more profit. I am satisfied that the Company is in a position to raise its production. Certain stoppages of the machines are avoidable, e.g., stoppage for want of bottles can be obviated by increasing the stock of bottles and by making better arrangements for supply of empty bottles in the factories. The Company has a high reputation as producer of aerated waters and its productions are in great demand. The Company is an old and well established concern. It has got a large number of regular wholesale customers and I am sure that it can increase their number still further. It sells its products to the wholesale customers at very cheap rates. The wholesale price of soda-water was only 6 annas per dozen up to 1946 and it was only in 1947 that the price was raised by 2 anna per dozen. The increase in the figure of sale in 1947 was due to this increase in rates. The retail price of soda-water is at least 1 anna per bottle and the retail price of a dozen is 12 annas. The Company's Solicitor argued that no further rise in the price would be justified in view of competition as this might bring down the sale of the Company. But I do not think that there is any possibility of real danger, if the wholesale price are increased a little more in order to meet the increased expenditure that the Company will have to incur to pay its workers adequately. The Company can also undertake some amount of retail sales. It has been said that the Company confines its sales to wholesale for about 60 years and that it is not willing to change its policy. That is, of course, for the Company to decide, but it is important to remember that retail sales are actually undertaken by the Manager of the Company's depot at Mati Seal Street, though the Company is deprived of the profit of the same. The Company can at least keep to itself the profits of the retail sales from that depot. It was stated on behalf of the Company that it could not think of any way of expanding its business or of increasing its profits, but I do not see any reason why the Company should be so despondent as the position is by no means desperate. There must be several ways open to the Company for expanding its business and earning more profits and naturally the Company must find them out. What I have stated above are some of the ways open to the Company. In any case, I am not satisfied from what I have seen of the Company's affairs that it is not capable of paying anything more to the workmen by way of dearness allowance, though I agree that it is not capable of paying at present at the scale demanded by the Union, viz., at the rate of Rs. 45 per month. So far as dearness allowance is concerned I should state at the outset that the cart-delivery-men are not legitimately entitled to claim any dearness allowance, since they are already enjoying a privilege by which they can earn on an average Re. 1-2 per day. There are altogether 162 coolies in the employment of the Company in its three factories. Out of these, 35 men have to work inside the factory every month in turn after a lapse of approximately 4 to 5 months, according to the Company's statement. While working inside the factory the coolies have no extra earnings. They get transport charges only when they are employed for outdoor duty as cart-delivery-men. These coolies work generally for 8 months in a year and then go home. If 35 men have to work inside the factory every day by turns, it follows that the coolies get the chance of working as cart-delivery-men for about 6½ months during a period of 8 months. During these 6½ months if they earn Rs. 1-2 daily, their total earnings would amount to about Rs. 190. Therefore the monthly average during a period of 8 months will come up to Rs. 23 or Rs. 24. According to this calculation, therefore, each one of these 162 coolies would earn on an average at least Rs. 23 per month during the period of 8 months in a year when he is actually in the service of the Company. This ought to be considered as sufficient compensation in lieu of dearness allowance. I do not, therefore, fix any dearness allowance for the 162 coolies but I would direct the Company to see that the work of delivering bottles to the Company's customers is evenly distributed among the coolies so that each cooly may get a chance of working as cart-delivery-man for about 6½ months in a period of 8 months and also get a chance of making three trips on an average every day while working as such and that no cooly is compelled to work inside the factory for more days than he would be required to do according to his turn and thereby lose the benefit of the transport charges. The coolies should in addition get the food concessions they are now getting.

For the rest of the staff the Company should provide dearness allowance. As already stated, I consider the minimum of Rs. 45 demanded by the Union as dearness allowance to be beyond the means of the Company in its present financial position. Sri D. L. Sen Gupta at one stage referred to the award of the Engineering Industries Tribunal and suggested that the Tribunal should not in any case sanction any lower pay and dearness allowance than what was awarded by that Tribunal. The Engineering Industries Tribunal fixed the minimum scale of dearness allowance at Rs. 25. But I think that dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 25 per month will also be rather high for the Company in its present state. It will completely wipe out the net profits it made in 1947, even though it may not have to pay dearness allowance to the coolies. I mean by net profits the profits remaining after payment of income-tax. It is true that the cost of living index has gone up to a high figure but, as is now universally recognised by Industrial Tribunals, the employers are under no obligation to make good to the employees to the full extent the rise in the cost of living, unless it could be shown that the industry has benefited to a corresponding extent by the very contingency which has occasioned the rise. The capacity of the industry is always a very important factor to be considered in fixing the scales of pay and dearness allowance. Considering the scales of pay fixed and the financial position of the Company I think that a scale of dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 per month will be fair to both the parties. This will considerably raise the earnings of the employees other than the coolies. They should get in addition the existing food concessions which have been valued at Re. 1 per month. Together with the food concession the scale of dearness allowance would amount to Rs. 21 per month and I think that the Company will be able to bear this burden.

The three lorry drivers who are already getting Rs. 73 per month should not get any more dearness allowance as their pay should be deemed to be inclusive of dearness allowance. It is said that the syrupmen get the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases and thereby earn Rs. 20 to Rs. 25 per month on an average. If the Company maintains this system of paying them the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases, then the amount earned thereby every month by each syrupman should be taken into account and deducted from the dearness allowance payable to him or the Company can appropriate the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases and pay the syrupmen the dearness allowance in full. The rest of the employees (excepting the coolies) should get dearness at the rate of Rs. 20 per month from the date on which this award will be enforced.

Issue No. 4.—City Allowance.

The Union demanded city allowance on the basis of the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission at the rate of 10 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 10. The Central Pay Commission recommended city allowance for such employees of the Government as have to work in the cities like Calcutta and Bombay because the Commission recommended one uniform scale of pay for all employees whether working in the cities or in the mofussil. This consideration does not apply in this case since the Company's factories are all situated in the city of Calcutta or its suburb Howrah. Besides, in view of the financial position of the Company and the increments already granted no further increment is, in my opinion, justified. The demand is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 5.—House Rent Allowance.

The Company provides housing accommodation only to the darwans and the sardars and to some coolies. The total number so accommodated is about 40. The Company has not got any further accommodation for its workers and is not in a position to provide such accommodation. The Union had demanded house rent allowance at the rate of 20 per cent. of pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 per month for all workers who could not be given accommodation by the Company. The demand, in any case, is very high and beyond the capacity of the Company. Besides, it is not shown that the workmen have to incur heavy expenditure for their accommodation and that they cannot provide such accommodation within their pay. In these circumstances the Company cannot be held liable for paying house rent allowance to its workers and in the present financial position of the Company this is altogether out of the question. The demand is therefore rejected.

Issue No. 6.—Bonus.

The Union has demanded bonus of two kinds, viz., bonus for the past years representing four months' pay plus six months' pay on account of non-payment of dearness allowance in the past and annual bonus for the future at the rate of four months' pay. The demand is most extravagant and considering the profits made in the past by the Company, as shown in its balance-sheets for 1946 and 1947, no question of bonus for past years can legitimately arise. The Company does, as a matter of fact, pay what may be called a bonus to its workmen, when they go home after eight months' service, in the shape of train fare at rates varying from Rs. 8 to Rs. 25, according to the distance to be travelled, plus Re. 1 for each month's work and if the worker goes home after 12 months' continuous service, then the rate of allowance is increased to Rs. 2 per month. The Company wants to maintain this system of payments and the Union also agreed to the retention of the present system. These payments should really be considered as bonus and all that I can direct is that the Company should continue to make these payments. Subject to this the claim for bonus is rejected.

Issue No. 7.—Retirement Benefits.

The Union demanded both Provident Fund and gratuity under the head of "Retirement Benefits". The claim for Provident Fund was, however, dropped at the time of hearing because it was recognised by the Union that since under the present system very few workers do one year's continuous service or get wages for 12 continuous months, it will not be possible for the Company to introduce any Provident Fund. As regards gratuity I think that in the present financial position of the Company it should not be saddled with any kind of liability for paying gratuity. It will also be difficult for the Company to introduce any system of gratuity because, as already stated, the Company has no records showing the length of service of the workers beyond the last three years. I therefore reject the claim for gratuity for the present. I find, however, that the Company makes certain payments in the event of death of a worker in service and I would direct that such payments should be continued in future.

Issue No. 8.—Leave and Holidays.

The factories close on Sundays and for half a day on the dates of Muharram and Holi celebrations. Besides, ten days' holidays under the Factories Act are allowed to the workers who have worked for one full year. The Union has demanded casual leave for 15 days on full pay, privilege leave for one month on full pay and sick leave for one month on full pay and further sick leave on half pay until recovery. Besides, the Union has demanded that the workers should get all the gazetted holidays. Since the workers do not work in this factory generally for a full year but leave after eight months, I do not think that it is possible to provide for any privilege leave for them. Those who work for full one year will be entitled to ten days' holidays under the Factories Act. In the circumstances I think that it will be sufficient to provide for casual leave for seven days in a year on full pay and I direct that all workers will be entitled to get such leave from the date this award will be enforced. I also direct that all workers should get sick leave for 15 days on half pay in case of genuine sickness certified by the Company's doctor or any other registered medical practitioner, according to the award of the Engineering Industries Tribunal. The claim for privilege leave is rejected. The claim for all gazetted holidays is rather unusual in a factory and is therefore rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Free Uniforms.

The Union demanded free uniforms for coolies and for workers who work with acids. The Company states that only sulphuric acid is poured into a generator from a jar for manufacturing CO-2 gas and that this work is neither dangerous nor likely to spoil the clothes of the worker who does it. I find no justification for the claim for uniforms for the coolies or for such workers. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 10.—Service Rules.

(a) As regards working hours the factory hours are observed and there is nothing to be said about it. The factory never works overtime and in case of overtime work the Company is prepared to pay for it at double rates, as laid down in the Factories Act. One class of workers, namely, bottle-fillers, are allowed rest for one hour after each hour of work. They actually work for four hours by batches on the machine. This system has been prevalent since the introduction of the present machines and the Union says that this is necessary as continuous work on these machines is dangerous because of the fact that bottles burst frequently causing accidents. According to the Company, this system has been introduced because it is impossible to get a man work continuously for eight hours. At the time of hearing the Union was agreeable to half-an-hour's rest after one hour's work on the machines and to six hours' work daily in place of four as at present. The Company may, therefore, if so advised, revise the present system and introduce only half-an-hour's rest after each hour of work on the machines for the bottle-fillers. The cart-delivery-men are paid overtime at the rate of 3 annas per hour, if they are late in returning to the factory. The Union contends that this rate is not equivalent to double rate and that the rate should be 4 annas per hour as the wage rate even now is 2 annas per hour. But the cart-delivery-men do not actually work inside the factory and cannot be said to be factory workmen. They are employed on work outside the factory and hence they cannot demand overtime rates sanctioned by the Factories Act. On behalf of the Union reference was made to section 2(g)(i) of the Factories Act. A worker is defined in the Act as a person employed in any manufacturing process and "manufacturing process", according to section 2(g)(i), means any process for making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing or packing, or otherwise treating any article or substance with a view to its use, sale, transport, delivery or disposal. The cart-delivery-men cannot be said to be workmen employed in any of the processes mentioned in the sub-section. They are employed only for delivery of things outside the factory. Hence, while working as cart-delivery-men they cannot be entitled to overtime rates sanctioned by the Factories Act and the claim of the Union under this head is rejected.

The Company says that in the event of temporary stoppages due to breakdown, etc., the Company pays full wages to the workers and has no objection to pay the same. The Company has also no objection to pay compensation for involuntary unemployment at the rate awarded by the Engineering

Issue No. 6.—Bonus.

The Union has demanded bonus of two kinds, viz., bonus for the past years representing four months' pay plus six months' pay on account of non-payment of dearness allowance in the past and annual bonus for the future at the rate of four months' pay. The demand is most extravagant and considering the profits made in the past by the Company, as shown in its balance-sheets for 1946 and 1947, no question of bonus for past years can legitimately arise. The Company does, as a matter of fact, pay what may be called a bonus to its the Engineering Industries Tribunal. The claim for privilege leave is rejected. The claim for all gazetted holidays is rather unusual in a factory and is therefore rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Free Uniforms.

The Union demanded free uniforms for coolies and for workers who work with acids. The Company states that only sulphuric acid is poured into a generator from a jar for manufacturing CO-2 further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary further to amend the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (XI of 1922), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 42 of the Government of India Act, 1935 (26 Geo. 5, c. 2), the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Ordinance may be called the Indian Income-tax (Amendment) Ordinance, 1948.

2. Amendment of section 18A, Act XI of 1922.—In section 18A of the Indian Income-tax Act, 1922 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(i) in sub-section (5), after the words, "from the date of payment", the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"to the date of the provisional assessment made under section 23B, or if no such assessment has been made,";

(ii) in sub-section (6), in the first proviso, after the word "Provided" the word "also" shall be inserted, and before the proviso as so amended, the following proviso shall be inserted, namely:—

"Provided that where a provisional assessment is made under section 23B, interest shall be calculated in accordance with the foregoing provision up to the date on which the tax as provisionally assessed is paid, and thereafter interest shall be calculated at the rate aforesaid on the amount by which the tax as so assessed (in so far as it relates to income to which the provisions of section 18 do not apply) falls short of the said eighty per cent.".

3. Insertion of new section 23B in Act XI of 1922.—After section 23A of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

"23B. Power to make provisional assessment in advance of regular assessment.—(1) The Income-tax Officer may, at any time after the receipt of a return made under section 22, proceed to make in a summary manner, a provisional assessment of the tax payable by the assessee, on the basis of his return and the accounts and documents, if any, accompanying it, after giving due effect to (i) the allowance referred to in paragraph (b) of the proviso to clause (vi) of sub-section (2) of section 10; and (ii), any loss carried forward under sub-section (2) of section 24.

(2) A partner of a firm may be provisionally assessed under sub-section (1) in respect of his share in the firm's income, profits and gains, if its return has been received, although the return of the partner himself may not have been received.

(4) There shall be no right of appeal against a provisional assessment made under sub-section (1).

(5) For the avoidance of doubt, it is hereby declared that the provisions of section 45 (except the first proviso) and section 46 apply in relation to any tax payable in pursuance of a provisional assessment made under sub-section (1) as if it were a regular assessment made under section 23.

(6) Income-tax paid or deemed to have been paid under section 18 or section 18A in respect of any income provisionally assessed under sub-section (1), shall be deemed to have been paid towards the provisional assessment.

(7) After a regular assessment has been made under section 23, any amount paid or deemed to have been paid towards a provisional assessment made under sub-section (1), shall be deemed to have been paid towards the regular assessment; and where the amount paid or deemed to have been paid towards the provisional assessment exceeds the amount payable under the regular assessment, the excess shall be refunded to the assessee.

(8) Nothing done or suffered by reason or in consequence of any provisional assessment made under this section shall prejudice the determination on the merits, of any issue which may arise in the course of the regular assessment under section 23."

CHAPTER II.

INCIDENTS OF Thika TENANCIES.

Grounds on which a thika tenant may be ejected.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any contract, a thika tenant shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be liable to ejectment from his holding on one or more of the following grounds and not otherwise, namely:—

(i) on the ground that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent due to the landlord in respect of the holding;

(ii) on the ground that he has used the land comprised in his holding in a manner which renders it unfit for any of the purposes mentioned in clause (5) of section 2 or that he has broken a condition consistent with this Act on breach of which he is, under the terms of a contract between himself and his landlord, liable to be ejected;

(iii) on the ground that he has refused to agree to pay rent at such enhanced rate as may be determined under section 25;

(iv) except during any period limited by a registered lease under which a thika tenant may hold the land comprised in the holding, on the ground that the land is required by the landlord for his own occupation or for the purpose of building on the land or otherwise developing the land by discontinuing the system of letting to thika tenants;

(v) on the ground that he has failed himself to use or occupy a major part of the holding for his own residential, manufacturing or business purpose for more than six consecutive months;

(vi) when he holds the land comprised in the holding under a registered lease, on the ground that the term of the lease has expired.

Notice before ejectment.

4. It shall not be competent for a landlord to eject any thika tenant from his holding unless the landlord has given the thika tenant notice in the manner provided in section 106 of the Transfer of Property Act, 1882— IV of 1882.

(a) in the case where he wishes to eject the thika tenant on any of the grounds specified in clauses (i), (ii), (iii) and (v) of section 3 at least one month's notice in writing expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy; and

(b) in the case where he wishes to eject the thika tenant on the ground specified in clause (iv) of section 3 at least three months' notice in writing expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy:

Provided that—

(i) no thika tenant shall be ejected from his holding on the ground specified in clause (i) of section 3 during the period mentioned in sub-section (1) of section 9, and

(ii) save as otherwise provided in any contract in writing, no thika tenant shall be ejected from his holding on any of the grounds specified in clauses (iv) and (v) of section 3, except on payment to the thika tenant or on depositing with the Controller for payment to the thika tenant such compensation as may be agreed upon between the landlord and the thika tenant or, in the case where they do not agree, as may be determined in the prescribed manner by the Controller on application by the landlord or the thika tenant.

Proceedings for ejectment.

5. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force but subject to the provisions of section 28, a landlord wishing to eject a thika tenant on one or more of the grounds specified in section 3 shall apply in the prescribed manner to the Controller for an order in that behalf and, on receipt of such application, the Controller shall, after giving the thika tenant a notice to show cause within thirty days from the date of service of the notice why the application shall not be allowed and after making an inquiry in the prescribed manner either allow the application or reject it after recording the reasons for making such order, and, if he allows the application, shall make an order directing the thika tenant to vacate the holding and, subject to the provisions of section 10, to put the landlord in possession thereof.

(2) No order allowing an application under sub-section (1) shall be made in a case where compensation is payable under clause (ii) of the proviso to section 4 unless and until the amount of compensation so payable has been either paid to the thika tenant or deposited with the Controller.

Stay of ejectment for arrears of rent if the amount of arrears and damages are deposited with the Controller.

6. Every order made under section 5 allowing an application for ejectment of a thika tenant on the ground that he has failed to pay an arrear of rent due to the landlord in respect of his holding and directing the thika tenant to vacate the holding and put the landlord in possession thereof shall specify the amount of the arrear and of the interest, if any, due thereon, and no such order shall be executed if that amount, the costs of the proceedings arising out of such application and such damages as the Controller may allow, are deposited with the Controller within thirty days from the date of the order.

Restoration of possession where landlord does not use the land for the purpose for which the thika tenant was ejected.

7. If an order under section 5 directing a thika tenant to vacate any land comprised in a holding on any of the grounds specified in clause (vi) of section 3 is made and the landlord who recovers possession of the land as a result of such order does not within six months from the date on which he recovers such possession occupy the land himself or commence the building on, or the development of, the land or re-lets it within six months of the said date to any thika tenant other than the previous thika tenant without the permission of the Controller obtained in the prescribed manner, the Controller may on application in writing being made to him in this behalf by the thika tenant from whom the landlord has so recovered possession of the land within nine months from the said date, make an order directing the landlord to restore the thika tenant to possession of the land from such date and subject to such condition as may be specified in the order, or to pay him such compensation as may be fixed by the Controller:

Provided that the Controller may, on the application of the landlord, extend the period within which the building on, or the development of, the land is to be commenced by two months at a time and six months in all.

Surrender.

8. (1) A thika tenant not bound by any lease or other agreement for a fixed period may, at the end of a month of the tenancy, surrender his holding, provided that he gives to his landlord at least one month before he surrenders, notice of his intention to do so.

(2) When a thika tenant has surrendered his holding the landlord may, subject to the provisions of section 10, enter on the holding and either let it to another tenant or occupy it himself or dispose of it in any way he may think fit.

Abandonment.

9. (1) When a thika tenant voluntarily abandons his holding without notice to the landlord and without arranging for the payment of his rent as it falls due, the landlord may, at any time after the expiration of a period of two months from the date of such voluntary abandonment, file the notice referred to in sub-section (2) and subject to the provisions of sub-section (3) and of section 10 enter on the holding and let out the same to another tenant or occupy it himself.

(2) A landlord who intends to enter on a holding under this section shall file a notice in the prescribed form with the Controller stating that he has treated the holding as abandoned and intends to enter on it accordingly; and the Controller shall within fifteen days from the date on which the notice is so filed cause such notice to be published in the prescribed manner.

(3) After the publication of the notice under sub-section (2), the thika tenant may apply to the Controller at any time not later than the expiration of one month from the date of the publication of such notice for the cancellation of such notice and thereupon the Controller may, on being satisfied after such inquiry as he considers necessary that the thika tenant is entitled to continue in possession, cancel the notice and direct that the thika tenant shall continue in possession of the holding subject to payment of the arrears of rent due on the date on which the notice is so cancelled. If the thika tenant does not make any application under this sub-section or his application under this sub-section is rejected, the landlord may enter on the holding subject to the provisions of section 10.

Consequences of the determination of interests of thika tenants in certain cases.

10. (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any contract, on the determination of the interest of a thika tenant in the land comprised in a holding as a result of ejectment from the holding of, or of surrender or abandonment of the holding by, the thika tenant, or otherwise, any structure erected by the thika tenant on such land and existing on the date of such determination shall vest in the landlord.

(2) When any structure erected in any holding by a thika tenant vests in the landlord under sub-section (1) otherwise than as a result of ejectment of the thika tenant from the holding on any of the grounds specified in clause (iv) of section 3, any Bharatia in possession of such structure shall be entitled to continue in such possession and shall be deemed to be a tenant within the meaning of the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1948, holding under the landlord on the terms and conditions on which such Bharatia had been holding immediately before such structures vested in the landlord:

West Ben. Act XXXVIII of 1948.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall prevent either the landlord or such Bharatia so deemed to be a tenant holding under the landlord, from proceeding under the West Bengal Premises Rent Control (Temporary Provisions) Act, 1948, for fixing the standard rent payable in respect of such structure.

Devolution or transfer of holding of a thika tenant.

11. The holding of a thika tenant shall descend on his death in the same manner as his other immovable property and the person succeeding shall hold the land comprised in the holding under the terms and conditions on which it was held by the thika tenant. He shall also give to the landlord notice within one month of the succession in the prescribed manner:

Provided that in any case in which under the law of inheritance to which the thika tenant is subject his other property goes to the Crown, his interest in the holding shall be extinguished.

CHAPTER III.

PROVISIONS AS TO RENT OF Thika TENANCIES.

Payment of rent.

12. Any rent or instalment of rent payable by a thika tenant shall be paid, where there is a contract in writing in this behalf between the landlord and the thika tenant, within the time fixed in the contract or, in the absence of any such contract, by the fifteenth day of the month next following the month or period for which the rent is payable.

Time and place for payment of rent.

13. (1) Every thika tenant shall pay or tender rent or each instalment of rent before sunset of the latest day by which it is payable under the provisions of section 12;

Provided that a thika tenant may pay or tender the rent payable for a month or period at any time during such month or period before it falls due.

(2) The payment or tender of rent may be made—

(i) at the landlord's local office or at such other convenient place as may be appointed in that behalf by the landlord; or

A tender may also be made by depositing the rent with the Controller in accordance with the provisions of section 17 or section 18.

(3) Any rent or instalment of rent which is not duly paid within the time referred to in section 12 or is not duly deposited with the Controller within the time referred to in section 17 or section 18 shall be deemed to be an arrear.

Appropriation of payments.

14. (1) When a thika tenant makes a payment on account of rent, he may declare the month or period in respect of which he wishes the payment to be credited, and the payment shall be credited accordingly.

(2) If he does not make any such declaration, the payment may be credited to the account of such month or period as the landlord thinks fit.

Thika tenant entitled to receipt for rent.

15. (1) Every thika tenant who makes a payment on account of rent to his landlord shall be entitled to obtain forthwith from the landlord or his authorised agent a written receipt for the amount paid by him, signed by the landlord.

(2) A counterfoil of the receipt shall be prepared and retained by the landlord or his authorised agent.

(3) The receipt and counterfoil shall be in such form and shall contain such particulars as may be prescribed.

(4) If a receipt does not contain substantially the particulars required by this section, it shall be presumed, until the contrary is shown, to be an acquittance in full of all demands for rent up to the date on which the receipt was given.

Penalty for withholding receipts.

16. If a landlord without reasonable cause refuses or neglects to deliver to a thika tenant a receipt containing the particulars required by section 15 for any rent paid by the tenant, the Controller may, on application made in this behalf by the tenant within three months from the date of payment, by order direct the landlord to pay the tenant such penalty not exceeding double the amount of that rent as the Controller thinks fit.

Deposit of rent on refusal of the landlord to accept.

17. (1) Where a landlord refuses to accept any rent the thika tenant may, by an application in writing containing such particulars as may be prescribed,—

(a) deposit such rent with the Controller, within the period specified in sub-section (2), and

(b) unless the landlord signifies by notice in writing to the thika tenant his willingness to accept any subsequent rent which becomes due from such tenant, also deposit such rent with the Controller within the period within which it is payable under the provisions of section 12 together with the cost of transmission by postal money order of such money to the landlord.

Explanation.—A landlord shall not for the purposes of this sub-section be deemed to have refused to accept any rent unless the rent is remitted by the thika tenant by postal money order within the time specified and in the manner referred to in section 13 and the rent so remitted is returned to the thika tenant by the postal authorities as undelivered either on account of the landlord having refused to accept payment thereof or for any other cause.

(2) The deposit referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1) shall be made within a fortnight of the date on which the rent remitted by postal money order is returned to the thika tenant by the postal authorities as undelivered.

Deposit of rent in certain other cases.

18. (1) In either of the following cases, namely:—

(a) when any rent is payable jointly to two or more co-sharer landlords and the thika tenant is unable to obtain a joint receipt from them for the rent and no person has been empowered to receive the rent on their behalf,

(b) when a dispute has arisen as to the person who is entitled to receive the rent, the thika tenant may by an application in writing containing such particulars as may be prescribed deposit such rent with the Controller and may continue to deposit with the Controller any subsequent rent which becomes due from such tenant until the thika tenant is able to obtain a joint receipt from the co-sharer landlords or a person has been empowered to receive the rent on their behalf, or until such dispute has been settled by the decision of a competent Court or by settlement between the parties, as the case may be.

(2) The deposit of rent referred to in sub-section (1) shall be made within the period within which it is payable under section 13.

Receipt granted by the Controller for rent deposited to be a valid acquittance.

19. If it appears to the Controller to whom application for deposit is made under section 17 or section 18 that the applicant is entitled to deposit the rent under any of those sections, he shall receive the rent deposited and give a receipt for it under the seal of the Court and such receipt shall operate as an acquittance for the amount of the rent payable by the thika tenant and deposited as aforesaid, in the same manner and to the same extent as if the amount of the rent had been received—in cases referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-section (1) of section 17, by the person specified in the application as the person to whose credit the deposit was to be entered; in cases referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 18, by the co-sharers to whom the rent is due; and in cases referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 18, by the person entitled to the rent.

Disposal of rent deposited under section 17.

20. (1) On any deposit being made under section 17 the Controller shall forthwith forward the same by postal money order to the address of the landlord.

(2) Where any money has been deposited under clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 17, the cost of transmission thereof to the landlord by postal money order shall be recoverable from the landlord and, in forwarding the money so deposited to the landlord by postal money order, the Controller shall deduct therefrom the cost of such transmission.

(3) If the money sent by the Controller under sub-section (1) by postal money order to any landlord is returned undelivered, the Controller shall cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be served on the landlord and the amount lying in deposit may, subject to such rules as may be made under this Act, be withdrawn by the landlord on application made by him to the Controller in that behalf and if such amount is not so withdrawn before the expiration of three years from the date of service of such notice, it may, in the absence of any order of a Civil Court to the contrary, be repaid to the depositor on his application and on his returning the receipt given by the Controller with whom the rent was deposited.

Disposal of rent deposited under section 18.

21. (1) When the Controller receives a deposit under section 18, he shall forthwith cause to be affixed in a conspicuous place at his office a notification of the receipt thereof containing a statement of all material particulars, and, if the amount of the deposit is not paid away under sub-section (2) within the period of fifteen days next following the date on which the notification is so affixed, the Controller shall forthwith in cases referred to in clause (a) of sub-section (1) of section 18 cause a notice of the receipt of the deposit to be posted free of charge at the landlord's local office, if any, and at some conspicuous place in the locality in which the holding is situated, and, in cases referred to in clause (b) of sub-section (1) of the said section, cause a like notice to be served free of charge on every person who, he has reason to believe, claims or is entitled to the deposit.

(2) The Controller may pay the amount of any deposit notified under sub-section (1) to any person who proves to his satisfaction to be entitled to the same or is entitled to the amount as a result of a settlement referred to in sub-section (1) of section 18 or he may, if he thinks fit, retain the amount pending the decision of a Civil Court as to the person so entitled.

(3) If no payment is made under sub-section (2) before the expiration of three years from the date of notice issued under sub-section (1) or three months after the decision of the Civil Court, whichever is later, the amount deposited may in the absence of any order of a Civil Court to the contrary be repaid to the depositor upon his application and on his returning the receipt given by the Controller when the rent was deposited.

Saving.

22. (1) When a landlord accepts rent in respect of any holding sent by postal money order by a thika tenant under clause (ii) of sub-section (2) of section 13 or by the Controller under section 21 or withdraws any rent deposited under section 17 or section 18, the fact of this acceptance or withdrawal shall not be used in any way as evidence that he has admitted as correct any of the particulars set forth in the postal money order form or in the application for deposit of such rent.

(2) No suit, prosecution or other legal proceeding shall be instituted against the Crown or against any officer of the Crown in respect of anything done by the Controller receiving a deposit under section 17 or section 18; but nothing in this Act shall prevent any person entitled to receive any amount so deposited from recovering the same from any person to whom it has been paid under section 20 or section 21.

23. Any arrear of rent shall bear simple interest at the rate of six and a quarter per centum per annum from the expiry of the time within which the rent or the instalment of rent is payable under the provisions of section 12 or is to be deposited under section 17 or section 18, as the case may be, to the date of payment or of the institution of the suit, whichever date is earlier.

strictions on nancement of nt.

24. The rent of a thika tenant shall not be enhanced except as provided in this Act.

hancement of nt.

25. (1) The rent payable by a thika tenant for his holding may be enhanced by the Controller on application made to the Controller by the landlord in the prescribed manner on either or both of the following grounds, namely:—

(a) that the value of the holding has increased;

(b) that the landlord has effected some improvement to the land at his own cost which has increased the value of the holding:

Provided that no rent shall be enhanced under this sub-section so as to exceed the rent previously payable by the thika tenant by more than twelve and a half per centum.

(2) The rent fixed under sub-section (1) shall not be further enhanced during three years next following the date on which it has been last so enhanced.

Reduction of rent by the Controller.

26. Any rent payable by a thika tenant which has been settled within a period of three years immediately before the commencement of this Act, may be reduced by the Controller on application made in that behalf by the thika tenant if the Controller considers that the rate of rent so settled is unfair and inequitable having regard to the prevailing rate of rent payable by thika tenants of lands of a similar description and with similar advantages in the locality.

CHAPTER IV.

APPEALS AND CERTAIN SPECIAL PROCEDURES.

Appeal, review and execution.

27. (1) Any person aggrieved by an order of the Controller may, within thirty days from the date of the order, present an appeal in writing—

C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of two months with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial dispute between the Management of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, 6, Church Lane, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Standard Vacuum Employees' Union, 158, Muktaram Babu Street, Calcutta.

An industrial dispute relating to the claim of bonus for the year 1946 between the Management of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, 6, Church Lane, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Standard Vacuum Employees' Union, 158, Muktaram Babu Street, Calcutta, has been referred to me under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication.

For the Company: Mr. S. Chowdhury, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Sanderson and Morgans, Solicitors.

For the Union: The Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The Union claimed bonus for the years 1944, 1945 and 1946 along with other demands. The matter came up before me for adjudication on a previous occasion and I made an award on the 22nd March 1948. This award was accepted by Government order No. 961Lab., dated the 30th March 1948.

I refused the claim for bonus for the years 1944 and 1945 but kept open the claim for bonus for the year 1946. I observed thus:—

"It appears that the final figures for the year 1946 have not been obtained or the accounts of 1946 have not been adjusted. During other years the Company made a good profit before taxes were paid. After payment of income-tax, super tax, excess profit tax, etc., it appears that the net profit of the Company has been less than the interest on Government securities. It is, no doubt, true that the Company could afford to pay bonuses before the taxes were paid and this would not have affected the finances of the Company in any way. I am now concerned with the question whether, on the figures as they at present stand, I should compel the Company to pay a bonus. It was argued that Government is refunding monies out of excess profit tax and deposit. The refunds are being made on the grounds of rehabilitation and industry and this Tribunal considers it incompetent to ask the Company to divert the money otherwise than directed to do by Government of India.

In the recent time, some awards were made by which bonus has been granted but by other Tribunals—in Bombay, Madras, Cochin. In view of the figures disclosed to me I do not find any justification for upholding the claim for bonus for the years 1944 and 1945. However, I keep the claim for bonus for the year 1946 open as complete figures have not yet been obtained for that year."

The matter now comes before me by the reference noted above.

Both parties agree not to question my jurisdiction to make an award in this case. They have agreed not to do so in future.

During previous adjudication the claim was laid in the following terms:—"One month's salary for each of the years 1944, 1945 and 1946." The claim has now been laid in the following terms:—"Basic salary in December 1946 plus Rs. 15 (increment granted in January 1947) with effect from January, April or July 1946 and dearness allowance prevalent in December 1946."

Clearly there has been an enlargement of the claim by inclusion of dearness allowance. Till the date of reference there had not been any demand for this. This enlarged portion must be disallowed.

Another question mooted is whether bonus, if allowed, should cover increments granted in the first part of the year 1947 with retrospective effect. Salary includes what is earned as salary for the year and deferred payment does not affect it. I direct that in case of award of any bonus salary shall include the increments granted to take effect from any part of the year 1946.

Now remains the question whether bonus for the year 1946 should be allowed.

I have considered the statements of account submitted to me confidentially and new submissions and comments made by both parties. I have also considered what I said on the last occasion. I award that the Company shall pay bonus for the year 1946 at the following rates:—The bonus shall be equal to 1/12th of the earnings of the year 1946 to such of the employees as had put in service for at least 75 days in the year; to those who had put in less than 75 days' service but more than 30 days, half of 1/12th (i.e., 1/24th) should be paid. No payment will be made to those dismissed for misconduct. The payments are to be made within two months of the publication of the award.

I have already said that salary shall not include dearness allowance but shall include increments granted with retrospective effect.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTI,
Chairman, Tribunal.

ORDER.

No. 823Lab.—24th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department order No. 4414-Lab., dated the 3rd December 1948, the industrial dispute between J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6 Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah, which was not covered by the award enforced under notification No. 1997Lab., dated the 18th June 1948, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15, read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial dispute between J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6, Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah.

By order No. 4414Lab., dated the 3rd December 1948, Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries, commissioned my services to adjudicate on a dispute between Messrs. J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6, Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah.

A dispute between the workmen and the Management was before the adjudicator Srijut S. C. Datta Gupta and he made an award on 4th June 1948. Government of West Bengal by an order No. 1997-Lab., dated the 18th June 1948, made it binding for one year with effect from 26th April 1948. At the time of that adjudication the demand was for abolition of piece-rate system of work. There was no claim for higher rates if the claim for total abolition was refused.

The demand for total abolition was refused. The matter has now come before me mainly for increasing the rates and dearness allowance.

For the factory: Sri S. C. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Union: Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, with Sri Taradas Chakravarti, Secretary of the Union.

The following are the headings of the points for adjudication:—

(1) Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to consider the matters under the alleged dispute as those matters were covered by the previous award which is in force up to the 25th April 1949?

(2) Implementation of the general provisions of the award to the piece-rate workers—
- (a) Dearness allowance.
- (b) Casual leave.
- (c) Sick leave.
- (d) Provident Fund.
- (e) Rules for permanency.
- (f) Rules for dismissal.

(3) Fixed minimum of different categories of workers.

(4) Increment of the present piece-rate.

(5) Abolition of Slip Production system.

(6) Durwan's pay.

AWARD.

Points 2(a), 3 and 4.

The piece-rate system is to some extent unmethodical. The workers get on rates as also Rs. 16 per month as dearness allowance. The scientific system is to fix an enhanced rate as dearness surcharge. I am more concerned with the total emoluments. I have to see that in the total emoluments dearness allowance is not allotted a larger share.

Another factory producing similar goods is Messrs. Sriram Hosiery Factory, Ltd. In past the grievance was that the factory was not giving what Sriram Factory paid. Sriram Factory paid on monthly rate system. In July 1947 this factory agreed to raise the rates to enable the workers earn as much as the workers could earn with Sriram Hosiery Factory. In Annexure I, I give a comparative table of relevant figures to judge whether under the piece-rate system the workers are being exploited. The total emoluments paid by Sriram Hosiery Factory are considered fair. If the total earnings of the piece-raters of this factory be equal to the total earnings of the workers of Sriram Hosiery, no question of increasing the rates arises. This all depends on whether the basis in Sriram Hosiery adopted by this factory is practicable and a normal standard. The factory with the help of the Union representatives prepared a statement showing the amount of work and the earnings of each worker for six months. It appears to me that most of the workers do more work in eight hours except in body-cutting. It can therefore be safely said that the workers have secured as much as the workers can earn in Sriram Hosiery except body-cutters. It is, no doubt, true that in Sriram Hosiery idleness pays, but I cannot make any provision for idleness in piece-rate system. For body-cutters I fix the following basis and rates:—

R. N. S.—50 dozens at the rate of 1 anna per dozen.

R. N.—25 dozens at the rate of 2 annas per dozen.

B. F.—42 dozens at the rate of 1 anna 4½ pies per dozen.

In addition the workers shall get fixed dearness allowance of Rs. 16 a month. Enhancement of the rates of others is not justified.

There has been a demand for a minimum guaranteed amount. Earnings may fall short on account of any of the three conditions: (i) Failure of the machinery, (ii) Non-supply of materials and (iii) Failure of the workers to execute work up to the basis.

(i) Failure of the machinery.—This is a calamity common to the workers and to the Management, It is just and proper that the loss should be shared by both. I award that in case of breakdown or failure of machinery the workers shall get half of the total emoluments for the day according to the basis and dearness allowance.

(ii) Non-supply of materials.—Here the Management can arrange for regular supply. A surplus supply may be stored for future. It is not expected that more men than can be fed should be kept in service. In case of short supply the minimum guaranteed amount shall be two-thirds of the total emoluments for each day including dearness allowance. If on account of chronic short supply there be a surplus of men, retrenchment must be effected. If, however, to avoid retrenchment all the workers concerned agree to do away with the minimum guaranteed system, it will be permissible for the Management to accept that.

(iii) Failure of the workers to work up to the basis.—I am not prepared to guarantee any premium for indolence.

Point 5.—Slip Production System.

By this system, viz., the Slip Production system, the payment of wages to the workers are delayed for months. They do not get their wages within reasonable time. Apart from the inconveniences caused, this creates an amount of confusion which is not conducive to the peace of the industry. When payments are made long after, it is difficult for a workman to ascertain what he really earns for a particular month and this gives rise to discontent. The Company submits that some time is required for accounting, etc. I direct that wages for any particular week must not be held back in any case beyond two weeks.

Point 6.—Durwan's pay.

Durwan's pay.—The reference is confined to piece-rate workers. So this point cannot be adjudicated upon.

Points 2(b), Casual leave, 2(c) Sick leave, 2(d) Provident Fund, 2(e) Rules for permanency and 2(f) Rules for dismissal.

The award of Srijut Datta Gupta covers all these points. He awarded in general terms for all workers including piece-rate workers. The award is still in force and no further adjudication is permissible.

I think one word is necessary by way of clarification of the award of Srijut Datta Gupta. It appears from the award that he granted 15 days' privilege leave on full pay to the workers. This includes piece-raters. The time-rate workers were granted something more. The adjudicator was very particular in mentioning that the advantages were available only for time-rated workers. The matter is clear and no revision is permissible.

Point 1.—Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to consider the matters under the alleged dispute as those matters were covered by the previous award which is in force up to the 25th April 1949?

I have already excluded some points covered by the previous award. On those matters I have no jurisdiction. I have jurisdiction on the points on which I have given this award.

DIRECTORATE OF AGRICULTURE WEST BENGAL

Calcutta, the 28th January 1949.

Forecast of Winter Til (Sesamum) Crop of West Bengal for 1948-49.

Description.—There are two varieties of the crops, viz., "Summer til" and "Winter til". The former is generally sown in February and March and is harvested in May and June. The latter variety is generally sown in August to October and is harvested in November to January.

The season.—The weather conditions have not been favourable. There has been some damage to the crops in some districts owing to heavy rains in October.

Area and yield.—The total area sown with this crop is estimated at 10,200 acres this year compared to 11,400 acres last year. The decrease in acreage compared to last year is due to unfavourable weather condition. The outturn per acre of the province is estimated at 66·17 per cent. of the normal this year as against 67·83 per cent. of the normal last year. Taking 7 maunds as the normal yield of the crop per acre the gross yield of the crop for the province works out to 1,735 tons this year compared to 1,990 tons last year.

AWARD.

1. By the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3525Lab., dated the 25th September 1948, this industrial dispute between the Management of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., and the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., Belur, Howrah, and their workmen represented by (1) the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, (2) the National Iron and Steel Workers' Union, and (3) the Iron Factory Workers' Union in connection with the cases of 24 specified workers has been referred to me as a Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The dispute has arisen in consequence of the discharge of the 24 specified workers on various dates. The cases of these workers may be conveniently considered by dividing them into three distinct categories. Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah come under the first category. Kamala Singh comes under the second category. Ananda Maharana and 19 others, namely, Gupi Nath Ratha, Dandapani Mahanti, Kanai Adhikari, Ghana Baral, Bhikari Saw, Madhu Sohain, Ram Paria, Nilmani Tripati, Bata Krisna, Ananta Ram Manjhi, Kishori Mohan Malik, Sristidhar Dhara, Bibhuti Santra, Kanai Manna, Shyam Mondal, Brijanandan Singh, Bhutnath, Dulal Bagh and Nayan Garan, come under the third category. The cases of these three categories of workers as put forward by the respective parties may be briefly stated as follows:—

1. (1) Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah were workers in the production section of the machine shop under the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. It appears that owing to the alleged non-payment of what was called production bonus to a number of workers of the production section of the machine shop there was some trouble among the workers, and the question of payment of such production bonus on the same lines as were adopted in the case of the inspection section and other sections was being pressed on behalf of the workers. There was a cessation of work from some time in the afternoon on 1st March 1948, and this stoppage continued on 2nd March 1948. The factory, however, commenced to run from 3rd March 1948. It is alleged by the Company that the three workers were wilfully indulging in insubordination and in disobedience of orders and were interfering with the work of other employees. It appears that on 3rd March 1948 the police were called to the factory. It is alleged on the side of the employers that even on that date although the machines were being operated materials were not being put into them and no work for production was being done, and when the police came some materials were being put and a show of doing work was maintained, but as soon as the police left the show of work degenerated into practically no work again. The case of the employers is that for some time, presumably before the cessation of work on 1st and 2nd March, the production fell considerably as the workers or most of them failed to do adequate work owing to circumstances of coercion and intimidation created mainly by the three workers Pathak, Munir and Habibullah. On 3rd March 1948 the Management issued charge-sheets against these three men, the charges being insubordination, disobedience of orders and interference with the work of other employees. The workers submitted explanations in writing. These were found to be unsatisfactory, and the Management found on enquiry that the charges had been established, and the three workers were discharged on 20th March 1948. The case of the Union concerned is that these three workers were wrongfully discharged as a measure of victimisation, and the discharge in each of these three cases amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employers, and the real cause of the discharge was the participation of these workers in legitimate trade union activities. The case of the employers, on the other hand, is that the production was seriously impeded owing to the coercion and intimidation administered by these three workers, and the workers generally were afraid to maintain the production for fear of assault, and the three workers had to be discharged owing to their misconduct as indicated in the charge-sheets put forward against them.

1. (2) Kamala Singh was a worker in the Electric Furnace Department of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. The Company's case is that he offered a bribe of Rs. 10 to one Bindha Singh of the Inspection Department in order to induce him as a leader of the workers to negotiate with the Company and get another worker named Genaur Thakur employed in another more remunerative section of the factory, and Kamala Singh was found on enquiry to be guilty of misconduct and ultimately discharged from 29th April 1948. The case is that when the subject-matter of the alleged misconduct was brought to the notice of the Management on 23rd April 1948, a charge-sheet was put forward against him on that date asking him to explain his conduct, and he was suspended for three days. The explanation was not submitted, and the worker resumed work on 26th April 1948. But on and from 29th April 1948 he was discharged. The case of the Union is that the story of giving a bribe was got up, and the worker was discharged as a measure of victimisation.

1. (3) Ananda Maharana and the 19 other workers were workers under a contractor, named Lingaraj under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. The Company's case is that about the middle of March 1948 the contractor resigned, and under those circumstances, as the work of the factory had to be carried on, the Company took over direct management of the section in which these workers worked, and this was done as a tentative measure. The Company found in the light of experience that the work was not being done properly and the products manufactured were not satisfactory, a high percentage of them having to be rejected. The Company's case further is that most of the workers became anxious to return to the contract system, and the contractor also submitted a letter of withdrawal of his resignation. Under these circumstances, we are told, the Company discontinued the system of direct management about the middle of April 1948, when the contractor Lingaraj returned and recommenced the contract system. The 20 workers with whom we are concerned along with many others were desired by the Company to work under the contract system which was revived, and while most of the workers returned to work under the contractor as before, Ananda Maharana and the others with whom we are concerned, declined to go back to the contract system, and accordingly their services under the direct management of the Company were discontinued. The Company's case is that these workers resigned their service of their own accord in so far as they refused to go back to the contract system about the middle of April. The case of the workers, on the other hand, is that the conditions of their service were changed to their prejudice, and on their refusal to accept the change they were discharged by the Company. The case of the Company is that it had the right to change the system, and in so far as the workers concerned did not agree to continue the work under the contractor, they should be deemed to have wilfully resigned and are not accordingly entitled to any relief by way of either reinstatement or compensation. Towards the end of the present proceedings it was brought to the notice of this Tribunal that an industrial dispute between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen was referred to Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., as an Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal order No. 737Lab., dated the 10th March 1948, and the question of abolition of contract labour was raised as an issue in those proceedings, and the proceedings were concluded on 6th July 1948, the date on which the Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette by the Government of West Bengal order No. 2263Lab. It is contended by the Iron Factory Workers' Union on behalf of the 20 workers that the discharge of these workers amounted to an unfair labour practice under the particular circumstances, and further that the alteration of the conditions of service from the direct management system to the contract system about the middle of April 1948, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., was an illegal action on the part of the Company within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the Company cannot be allowed to take advantage of its own illegal action, and the discharged workers are entitled to reinstatement and compensation.

1. (4) On the statements submitted by the different parties and in the light of the discussions with reference to them, the following issues have been framed:—

(1) Was the discharge in respect of each of the 24 specified workers justified? If not, should there be an order for reinstatement with consequential relief?

(2) Should the contract system be abolished in respect of Ananda Maharana and 19 others?

1. (5) Before proceeding to decide the issues I consider it necessary to note briefly the progress of the present adjudication proceedings. The order of reference, dated the 25th September 1948, was received by this Tribunal on 28th September 1948 shortly before the commencement of the Puja holidays. The Puja holidays and my leave in continuation thereof intervened, and the matter was really taken up in the first part of November after my return from leave. Different categories of the workers concerned were represented by different lawyers and labour representatives. A considerable number of witnesses were examined by the parties concerned both in the court room and at the factory. When the proceedings were about to be brought to a close about the middle of December the Iron Factory Workers' Union filed a petition praying that the contractor Lingaraj might be made a party to the proceedings. This was allowed and a new stage in the proceedings began with the appearance of the contractor Lingaraj, who filed a new written statement, and the other parties were given the opportunity of filing their statements, if any. Further batches of witnesses were examined by the parties concerned in January 1949. Sri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel, on behalf of the workers Pathak, Munir Khan, Habibullah and Kamala Singh and Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate, for the employers concluded their arguments with regard to these four workers on 16th December 1948. The remaining part of the case with regard to the 20 workers had, however, to be carried on in the presence of the contractor. Arguments with regard to that part of the case were heard on 26th January 1949 and on that date Sri Sibnath Banerjee, President of the Iron Factory Workers' Union, in course of his argument introduced a new phase by putting in the Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in the matter of the earlier industrial dispute between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen as published by the Government of West Bengal order No. 2263Lab., dated the 6th July 1948. The Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., was thus confronted with a new situation, and when the Tribunal's effort to bring about an amicable settlement failed, the Company prayed for permission to file a statement, and this was allowed. The Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., did file a new statement with reference to the Award of Sri S. K. Sen and the implications thereof, and both sides were permitted to adduce further evidence, if any. The Company recalled two of its witnesses and they were examined and cross-examined, and then further arguments were heard on both sides, and eventually the hearing was concluded on 2nd February 1949. The various factors referred to have unfortunately caused some delay in the disposal of this adjudication, which was unavoidable under the particular circumstances. I shall now proceed to deal with the subject matter of each of the issues framed.

Issue No. 2.

2. For the sake of convenience I take up Issue No. 2 first. This issue on the subject of the abolition of the contract system in respect of Ananda Maharana and 19 others has been raised on their behalf by the Iron Factory Workers' Union. These men were workers under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., till about the middle of April 1948, and when the contract system was reintroduced their services were terminated. In the present case no question of abolition of the contract system as a whole could be appropriately raised, and therefore, the issue was restricted to the 20 workers concerned. I do not think it is practicable to abolish a system in respect of a handful of workers, and I pointed out this practical difficulty at the time when the Union pressed for the framing of an issue on the subject. Apart from this aspect of the matter, it appears that the question of abolition of contract labour was the subject matter of Issue No. 8 before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in the earlier adjudication proceeding between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen. The decision with regard to that issue runs as follows:—"It is recommended that contract labour should be replaced as far as possible by permanent workmen directly under the Company and in the meantime to minimise the evils of the contract system, the Company should insist when granting a contract that the contractor's labour is paid at a proper rate and should further insert a clause in the contract entitling an officer of the Company to supervise the actual payment of wages by the contractor to his labour". It appears, therefore, that the Tribunal, on that occasion, in dealing with the contract labour system as a whole refrained from directing any abolition of the system but recommended a gradual process of replacement, and prescribed certain things to be done by the Company in the meantime. The position, therefore, is that by virtue of the Award which would be operative for a period of one year from the 6th July 1948, the Company would be entitled to retain the contract labour system and to try to replace it by a system of direct management as far as possible, and it would be the Company's duty during the period of retention of the contract labour system to adopt certain steps prescribed by the Tribunal. I do not think it is permissible for the present Tribunal to direct or recommend any different course with regard to 20 specified workers. The Union would be well-advised to raise a specific claim regarding the question of abolition of the contract labour system at the proper stage in accordance with law. The position is that the present Tribunal cannot properly deal with the matter and I must answer Issue No. 2 in the negative, so far as our present purposes are concerned.

Issue No. 1.

3. I next take up Issue No. 1 with regard to the discharge of the 24 specified workers divided into three distinct categories and proceed to examine the remedies of reinstatement and compensation as prayed for by the Unions concerned. Before I proceed to tackle each of the three categories of workers separately it will be useful to lay down the principles which should govern my decisions. Recently I had occasion to lay down certain principles with regard to this subject in my Award in the matter of an industrial dispute between the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., and their workmen in connection with the cases of certain discharged employees, as published in the Calcutta Gazette by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 571Lab., dated the 6th January 1949. After discussing various Awards given by different Tribunals in West Bengal and in other Provinces, and particularly the Award of Sir H. V. Divatia in the case of the India United Mills, Ltd., Bombay, published on page 335 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of January 1947: I proceeded to lay down certain guiding principles in paragraph 9 of my Award. In dealing with the present dispute before me I shall adopt those principles for my guidance, and in the light of certain other factors which have arisen in the present case I consider it necessary to make an addition to the principles which I had occasion to lay down in the case of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd. It will be helpful to reiterate those principles here by incorporating the addition which I wish to make. In dealing with the present case I propose to be guided by the following principles:—

(1) An Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law. The powers of an ordinary Court of law are necessarily circumscribed by the limits set by the law as it stands, but the powers of an Industrial Tribunal have no rigidly fixed limits inasmuch as they have to be exercised in the light of equitable principles and in furtherance of peaceful industrial relations and in the interest of social justice.

(2) In a case where the discharge of an employee amounts to or is a consequence of an illegal action on the part of the employer, an Industrial Tribunal may direct reinstatement of the discharged employee with or without suitable compensation, although an ordinary Court of law cannot direct reinstatement.

(3) In a case where the discharge of an employee has been ordered owing to his participation in legitimate trade union activities, or where the order of discharge amounts to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, an Industrial Tribunal may direct reinstatement of the discharged employee with or without suitable compensation, although an ordinary Court of law cannot direct reinstatement.

(4) In a case of discharge of an employee, where the discharge does not amount to or is not a consequence of any illegal action on the part of the employer, or the discharge does not amount to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, or the discharge has not been ordered on account of the employee's participation in legitimate trade union activities, but it is found that the employee was dismissed wrongfully, that is, without just cause or excuse, or that the order of discharge was made with some ulterior motive or it amounts to arbitrary conduct or unnecessary harshness, an Industrial Tribunal will not ordinarily direct reinstatement of the discharged employee, but may award suitable compensation. An Industrial Tribunal can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law and is entitled, under appropriate circumstances, to go beyond such terms of contract or Standing Orders and Rules which may be in existence.

(5) Even in cases of discharge not covered by (2), (3) and (4), for instance, under circumstances of closure of the concern, retrenchment, etc., an Industrial Tribunal is entitled to exercise its powers in the interest of social justice and peaceful industrial relations, and may award suitable compensation, as such as an ordinary Court of law would not be entitled to do.

3. (7) I next proceed to deal with the cases of the first category of workers, namely, Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah, whose case was conducted on behalf of the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union by Sri S. K. Acharyya. With regard to this part of the case, the relevant witnesses are P.W. 1 Munir Khan, P.W. 2 Jnan Ranjan Pathak, P.W. 3 Habibullah, P.W. 9 Krishna Chandra Palit, a worker, P.W. 10 Gopal Ch. Makhal, a worker, P.W. 11 Talebali, a worker, P.W. 12 Amar Ganguli, a worker on the side of the Union, and O.P.W. 1 Himansu Bhusan Pal, Supervisor, O.P.W. 2 Rohini Kumar Mukherjee, Foreman, O.P.W. 3 Sudhir Kumar Ghosh, a mistri, O.P.W. 4 Bholanath Chakravarti, a mistri, O.P.W. 5 Manmatha Das, a mistri, O.P.W. 6 Durgapada Baral, a worker, O.P.W. 7 Dhirendra Nath Ghosh, a clerk on the side of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. P.W. indicates witnesses for the petitioners, i.e., the workers, and O.P.W. indicates witnesses for the opposite party, that is, the employers. The Company's case is what was stated in the charge-sheets put forward against these three workers, the charges being insubordination, disobedience of orders and interference with the work of other employees. As regards the charge of insubordination there is no satisfactory evidence. As regards the charge of disobedience of orders, the wording is of a general nature, and no specific orders having been indicated, the question of disobedience does not seem to be of great importance. The real charge is the allegation of interference with the work of other employees. It is alleged by the Company that each of the three workers Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah indulged in acts of coercion and intimidation in order to prevent other workers from doing their work adequately and properly, and they were thus instrumental in keeping down the production, and in fact the production became very unsatisfactory. The charge-sheet against each of the three workers was indeed issued on 3rd March 1948. It is clear, however, that the subject matter of the charge related not merely to what the workers did or omitted to do on 3rd March 1948, but also to their acts and omissions during a substantial period prior to that date, and in particular prior to the cessation of work from some time in the afternoon on 1st March 1948 up to the end of 2nd March 1948. The charge of interference with the work of other employees is a comprehensive charge and does not relate to any isolated act committed on a particular date. It is in evidence that Munir Khan was a member of the Committee of the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, and Pathak was the Treasurer of that Union and Habibullah was a member of the Union. It is not disputed that there was a cessation of work from about 4 or 4-30 p.m. on 1st March 1948 up to 2nd March 1948, and the work in the factory was resumed from 3rd March 1948. The nature of the strike and the origin thereof are not quite clear, and it is not known whether this strike was directed or approved by the Union concerned. The Union's case is that the three workers were proceeded against owing to their trade union activities, in so far as the Company failed to come to a satisfactory arrangement about the payment of production bonus to the workers of the production section of the machine shop to which these workers belonged, and these workers took part in negotiations with the Company with regard to the question of production bonus and pressed for the payment of the same. It is further contended by the Union that the workers had the right to strike, and the discharge of the three workers was an act of victimisation. On the other hand, it is contended on behalf of the Company that the charge of interference with the work of other employees did not relate to the short-lived strike at all, but had reference to the acts and omissions of the three workers before and after the strike. In this connection the explanations submitted by the three workers in reply to the charge-sheets are worthy of notice. The explanations of Munir Khan, Pathak and Habibullah have been marked as Exhibits 1, 4 and 6 respectively. Pathak's explanation is in English, and the two others are written in Urdu, and I have English translations of those two explanations before me. In reply to the charge of interfering with the work of other employees Munir Khan states as follows:—"All our work was going in full swing. Many machines were working and many were idle due to breakdown. The work was going on as of old". Similarly Habibullah in his explanation states as follows: "If you make enquiries you will find that the work was going on. It is not understood why explanation has been asked when the work was going on". Pathak evaded an answer by simply saying that he did not interfere with anybody's work. The workers concerned evidently intended to say that there was no interference with the work of any employee and everything was going on normally and regularly as hitherto. The P.W.'s 9, 10, 11 and 12, workers in the factory, have stated that they never heard that the three workers concerned obstructed the production. O.P.W. 1, a Supervisor in the machine shop of the Company, has stated that the workers generally complained that they were intimidated by Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah. The witness has further stated that when the police came a show of work by putting some materials into the machines was being kept up, but both before the police arrived and after they left the machines were running but no materials were being put and therefore, no real work was being done. Reference has been made to Exhibits A, A(1) and A(2), in which certain workers complained of obstruction and intimidation by Munir Khan, Pathak and Habibullah, they having been specifically named in Exhibit A. The allegation of obstruction and intimidation by the three workers concerned is amply corroborated by the employees O.P.W.'s 3, 4, 5 and 6, of whom three appear to be responsible mistries. O.P.W. 3 says that the three workers concerned stopped the work and prevented others from working, adding that Pathak assaulted O.P.W. 4 Bholanath and Munir Khan threatened to beat if the workers worked. O.P.W. 4 Bholanath a mistri, has testified to the fact that Pathak struck him with a piece of sugarcane. Although this incident took place after Pathak's discharge, it sufficiently indicates his attitude and mentality during the relevant period prior to his discharge. O.P.W. 5 has stated that the production fell as Munir Khan asked the workers not to work. O.P.W. 6, a worker, has stated that Munir Khan and Pathak prevented workers from working and the production fell as the workers were afraid of assault. O.P.W. 2, a Foreman, has stated that he received complaints during his enquiry that the three workers concerned indulged in intimidation and threatened to beat the workers if they produced much. O.P.W. 7, a clerk of the Company, has thrown some light on the position regarding the question of production bonus. The evidence does indicate that the three workers concerned took part in pressing the question of production bonus and the workers of the production section of the machine shop had perhaps a grievance about the non-payment of production bonus. The dispute regarding production bonus might have been properly taken to an Industrial Tribunal through the proper channel. At the most there might have been a regular strike in consequence of the dispute. As I have already said the nature and the origin of the short-lived strike on 2nd March 1948 are not quite clear, and it is not known whether it was approved or inspired by the Union concerned. Whatever that might be the present charge of deliberate interference with the work of other employees by the application of methods of coercion and intimidation relates to the activities of the three workers Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah during a period directly before the afternoon of 1st March 1948 when the strike commenced, and after the termination of the strike on the morning of 3rd March 1948. There is ample evidence to indicate that on 3rd March 1948 the machines were kept running but no materials were being put and therefore, there was no real work, and only a show of work was maintained during the visit of the police. It is true that during the day on 3rd March 1948 Habibullah was not attending, as he was a worker of the night shift. But as I have said the alleged activities relate to a period immediately before the commencement of the short strike, and also to the period commencing from the morning of 3rd March 1948. The representation made by certain workers including P.W.'s 9 and 10, to the management requesting them to reinstate the three discharged workers has been put in evidence as Exhibit 8. That representation by itself does not establish that the three discharged workers were not guilty of the charge laid against them. Many workers were naturally in sympathy with them on account of their help in connection with the matter of pressing the Company for the payment of production bonus. I have watched the demeanour of both sets of witnesses produced before me by the two sides and have come to the conclusion that there is no reason for disbelieving the witnesses on the side f the Company who have testified to the effect hat the three workers concerned were deliberately interfering with the work of other vorkers by adopting tactics of coercion and ntimidation. In the explanations submitted by he three workers concerned there is no reference o the stoppage of work amounting to a strike. They simply asserted that the work was going on as usual and there was no interference with anybody's work. I am fully satisfied that this assertion does not represent the true state of things and on giving full consideration to the evidence on both sides considered in the light of the circumstances and probabilities, I come to the conclusion that Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah were guilty of the charge of interference with the work of other employees, and this interference was deliberate, and methods of coercion and intimidation were adopted by them in pursuing a policy of obstruction in the matter of production. I can quite understand that the three workers concerned and many other workers of the production section of the machine shop might perhaps have had a genuine grievance about the payment of production bonus. The procedure of encouraging or initiating "go slow" or "no work" tactics by pursuing a policy of coercion and intimidation or otherwise during a period when there was no legitimate strike is highly reprehensible, and the Company had clearly no alternative but to take serious exception to such methods. As I have already indicated workers who want to have their grievances redressed may take a dispute to a Tribunal through the proper channel and they have of course the right of going on an open and regular strike. But they have no justification for adopting "go slow" or "no work" tactics by methods of coercion and intimidation or otherwise, while pretending to carry on the work in a regular and normal manner. Although Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah were members of the Union, and might have taken some active interest in the question of production bonus on behalf of the workers generally, I am fully satisfied that the charge of deliberate interference with the work of other employees during a normal period when there was no strike has been satisfactorily established, and the Company had ample reasons for discharging the three workers who are guilty of misconduct to the serious detriment of the interest of the Company in the matter of production, and it is not a fact that any of these three workers was discharged owing to his legitimate trade union activities or that the order of discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. Now applying the principles which I have enunciated above I hold that none of these three workers Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah is entitled either to reinstatement or any compensation. Each of them, however, is entitled to his wages, allowances and other dues up to the date of his discharge. I make my Award accordingly with regard to Issue No. 1 in so far as these three workers are concerned.

3. (2) I next pass on to consider the case of Kamala Singh, a former worker under the National Iron and Steel Company, Ltd. As already indicated in paragraph 1(2), the Company's case is that he offered a bribe of Rs. 10 to one Bindha Singh of the inspection department in order to induce the latter as a leader of the workers to negotiate with the Company and get another worker named Genaur Thakur employed in another more remunerative section of the factory. The alleged misconduct was brought to the notice of the management on 23rd April 1948 and on that date a charge-sheet was put forward against him asking him to explain his conduct and he was immediately suspended for three days. Kamala Singh failed to submit any explanation and on the expiry of the period of suspension he resumed work on 26th April 1948. But he was discharged finally on and from 29th April 1948. The case of the Union is that the story of giving a bribe was concocted by Bindha Singh and others and the discharge of Kamala Singh amounted to an act of victimisation on the part of the Company. There is no evidence to show that Kamala Singh was a member of any trade union, not to speak of his being an official of any Union. Nor is there any evidence to indicate that he engaged himself in any kind of trade union activities. The Company's case is that he was suspended and ultimately discharged solely owing to his misconduct is so far as he offered a bribe to Bindha Singh in order to get something done for another worker named Genaur Thakur in whom Kamala Singh was interested. It appears that Kamala Singh failed to submit any explanation in reply to the charge-sheet. The charge-sheet was written in English which was not intelligible to him but he should have got it explained by somebody in order to enable him to submit an explanation. Anyway in his evidence before this Tribunal Kamala Singh has given the explanation that he gave a loan of Rs. 10 to Bindha Singh on account of some Puja. Apart from the evidence of Kamala Singh, P.W. 4, with regard to this part of the case, we have got the evidence of O.P.W. 8 Bindha Singh and O.P.W. 9 Jagannath who corroborates Bindha Singh. Bindha Singh has stated that he was a leader of the workers for carrying on negotiations with the Company, and on the date in question Kamala Singh followed him and near the factory gate he put a letter and two five-rupee notes into his pocket. The letter is Exhibit C which is written in Hindi. It has been somewhat difficult to decipher the contents of this letter but it was transcribed by a fairly competent person into legible Devanagri, and it appears that the writer of the letter purports to be Genaur Thakur through Kamala Singh. It is not known who the actual writer is, and no attempt has been made on behalf of the Company to establish the author of the handwriting. The contents indicate something about a request to get Genaur Thakur employed in the moulding section of the factory, and there is a reference to the payment of Rs. 10. In his evidence Kamala Singh has not denied that an amount of Rs. 10 was handed over to Bindha Singh, but has given the explanation that the amount was given as a loan. This theory has been stoutly denied by Bindha Singh. The management appears to have taken action on a petition, Exhibit D, submitted by O.P.W. 9 Jagannath and some others requesting that proper action might be taken against Kamala Singh for his misconduct in giving a bribe. On behalf of the Union it has been argued with reference to the evidence available that Bindha Singh as a chipperman was getting lesser wages than Genaur Thakur, a blacksmith, and it is improbable that a lesser man like Bindha Singh would be approached with a bribe for getting Genaur Thakur employed in a more remunerative occupation. Bindha Singh, however, claims to be a leader of the workers for the purpose of carrying on negotiations with the Company and the evidence is to the effect that although he had no hand in the matter of employment he was in a position to put in a word with the authorities in favour of Genaur Thakur. Bindha Singh has said that Genaur Thakur saw him on the following day with regard to the matter but Bindha Singh declined to do anything for him. While it may be that Bindha Singh was not a highly paid person, it was not improbable that he was in a position to put in a word in favour of a worker, if he was recognised as a leader of the workers for the purpose of carrying on negotiations. The story, therefore, is not totally improbable. Kamala Singh has in a way admitted the act of handing over Rs. 10 to Binda Singh. If he paid the amount to Bindha Singh as an illegal gratification in order to induce him to do something for his friend Genaur Thakur, that would no doubt amount to a misconduct. It is, however, not clear that Kamala Singh was really aware of the true nature of his mission. O.P.W. 8 Bindha Singh has said that Kamala Singh followed him with a letter from one Deonandan Singh. The letter, Exhibit C, does not, however, appear to have any connection with any person named Deonandan Singh. There is no evidence to show that Kamala Singh is a literate person or he had any connection with the writing of the letter, Exhibit C, or that he was able to read the contents of that letter. It is not improbable that he was befooled by Genaur Thakur or somebody else and was induced to introduce the letter, Exhibit C, with some money into Bindha Singh's pocket without really understanding the implications of what he was doing. He was, however, aware that he was handing over some money along with a piece of paper, and he has explained in his evidence that he gave the money as a loan. This explanation is indeed not satisfactory and Kamala Singh may have concocted his present explanation as an after-thought. In any case the motive of Kamala Singh is not quite clear and should have been cleared up by the management in course of the enquiry which they held. It does not appear that Genaur Thakur who was, according to Company's case, the principal culprit, was examined or tackled in any manner at all. O.P.W. Jagannath has stated that Genaur Thakur left the factory shortly after the incident, but has since come back and is comfortably working under this Company. I do not understand this position which appears to me to be extremely inconsistent. If the Company was so very particular about discharging Kamala Singh on the ground of acting as a messenger of the real bribe-giver, it is not understood why they agreed to take back Genaur Thakur in their service after his return. Genaur Thakur appears to be a clever man in so far as he made a quick exit directly after the incident but when the storm blew over he quietly came back and the Company complacently re-engaged him forgetting the grave step which they had taken against the secondary culprit Kamala Singh if he was a culprit at all. Of course the innocence of Kamala Singh is not proved merely by reason of the fact that another guilty man has gone unpunished. But the circumstances sufficiently indicate the inconsistent manner in which the management happened to deal with the incident. As I have already said Kamala Singh might very well have been an innocent messenger of the principal culprit. If it were a criminal case the charge would not perhaps be taken as proved beyond reasonable doubt. I am, however, not dealing with a criminal case and what I have to consider is whether there were some grounds on the basis of which the Company was entitled to entertain at least a strong suspicion to the effect that Kamala Singh was guilty of some misconduct in connection with an affair of giving illegal gratification. The Company is entitled to take a grave view of corrupt practices, and that being so, I am not prepared to say that the decision of the Company as regards the guilt of Kamala Singh must be held to be wrong. The question, however, arises as to whether the punishment inflicted on Kamala Singh was unnecessarily harsh, particularly in view of the position that the Company allowed the principal culprit Genaur Thakur to return to his work after a period of absence. Considering all the facts and circumstances I come to the conclusion that the discharge of Kamala Singh did not amount to any unfair labour practice on the part of the Company, and that Kamala Singh was not discharged on account of any trade union activity, but that he was discharged on account of what the Company found or strongly suspected to be a misconduct. Weighing the circumstances in all its aspects, however, particularly in relation to the treatment accorded to the principal culprit, I am of opinion that the Company might have dealt with the case of Kamala Singh very reasonably with greater leniency, and the punishment of dismissal which was actually inflicted amounted to unnecessary harshness. Applying the principles which I have enunciated above I do not see any sufficient reason for directing reinstatement of Kamala Singh. I find, however, that he served the Company for over 7 years and he was suddenly dismissed after this long service for what was considered to be a misconduct. In fairness to Kamala Singh he should have been shown some consideration by way of an adequate notice, and in my opinion he should be given his wages and allowances for one month in addition to what might be due to him up to the date of his discharge. I, therefore, direct that Kamala Singh be paid compensation to the extent of his wages and allowances for a period of one month in addition to what was due to him up to the date of his discharge, and I make my Award accordingly with regard to this part of Issue No. 1.

3. (3) I next proceed to consider the case of Ananda Maharana and 19 others as presented by the Iron Factory Workers' Union, represented by Sri Sibnath Banerjee and lawyers. The relevant witnesses in connection with this part of the case are P.W. 5 Ananda Maharana, P.W. 6 Bhikari Saw, P.W. 7 Madhu Sohain, P.W. 8 Ghana Baral (since dead), P.W. 13 Nilmani Tripati, P.W. 14 Gupi Nath Ratha, P.W. 15 Bata Krisna, P.W. 17 Ram Paria, these eight persons belonging to the list of workers concerned in the order of reference, and P.W. 16 Pandab Sohain, a former worker under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and O.P.W. 10 Ganesh Biswas, Manager of Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., O.P.W. 11, Dinabandhu Dutta, Manager of contractor Lingaraj, O.P.W. 12 Raghunath Sarma, a worker, and O.P.W. 13 Bindah Singh, a worker. The workers concerned in this part of the case were employed under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., or by the contractor Lingaraj, as already stated. The present workers and many others used to work in the moulding shop of Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., under the employment of the contractor Lingaraj, and the contract labour system was discontinued some time in the middle of March 1948, and the Company took over direct management of the section. The Company's case is that the work deteriorated under the system of direct management and most of the workers were anxious to go back to the contract system, and the contractor eventually withdrew his resignation and he was allowed to come back, and the direct management system was terminated about the middle of April 1948 and the workers were asked to continue work under the contractor Lingaraj, but the present workers with whom this Tribunal is concerned declined to work under the contractor and therefore the Company had no alternative but to terminate their service. Out of the 20 workers concerned only 8, viz., P.W.'s 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, 15 and 17 appeared before the Tribunal and expressed their desire to be reinstated and put forward their claim to be paid compensation for the period of unemployment, and also stated that they were still unemployed. Out of the 8 persons Ghana Baral has since died, and in consequence of this unfortunate event it is not necessary for me to consider his case. So I am left with 7 workers who have actually appeared before me and stated their case. As regards the remaining 12 persons, it has been represented before the Tribunal that Bhutnath and Dulal Bagh have since been absorbed in its service by the Company. As regards the remaining 10 persons ample opportunity was given to the Union to contact them and to produce them before the Tribunal in order to enable them to state that they were not employed elsewhere and that they were still willing to be reinstated in their former service or that they had any claim to put forward. None of the 10 persons was available, and the Union apparently did not succeed in contacting them to ascertain their views. Under these circumstances I am of opinion that there is no case before me with regard to the 12 persons other than the 8 who have actually appeared before me and stated their case and put forward their claim. As I have already said Ghana Baral has since died and I am called upon to consider the case of 7 persons, namely, Ananda Maharana, Gupi Nath Ratha, Bhikhari Saw, Madhu Sohain, Ram Paria, Nilmani Tripathi and Bata Krisna. There does not appear to be any dispute about the facts that the Company took over the particular section under its direct management after terminating the term of the contractor Lingaraj about the middle of March 1948, and that the contractor Lingaraj was reintroduced about the middle of April 1948, and most of the workers continued to work in the particular section under the contractor. With regard to the workers with whom I am concerned the Company's case is that they discharged themselves in so far as they declined to continue service under the contractor on the latter being reintroduced, and the Company had the right to adopt any system of work it liked so long as there was no law or no Award having force of law with regard to the subject. The position, however, was substantially changed at the fag-end of the proceedings when the Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., published by Government of West Bengal order No. 2263Lab., dated the 6th July 1948, was brought to my notice by the Union. The question at once arose whether the Company was legally competent to bring about the change of conditions of service during the pendency of the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in view of the provisions of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company in its additional statement has taken its stand on the position that the contractor submitted his letter of resignation, dated 28th January 1948 and the resignation was not formally accepted, and the period of direct management for about 2 months from about the middle of March 1948 was more or less of an experimental or tentative character, and under those circumstances there was really no change of conditions of service about the middle of April 1948 when the contractor Lingaraj was reintroduced. Looking into the previous statements made by the Company and the rather inconsistent statement made towards the end of the proceedings, I must say that there is no substance in the proposition that there was no change in the conditions of service of the workers when the contractor Lingaraj was reintroduced about the middle of April 1948. The question has been raised as to whether this change was to the prejudice of the workers concerned. In judging this matter we are not concerned with the majority of the workmen, but we are to consider the case of the workers who are mentioned in the order of reference and in consideration of the difference between the amount of Pujah bonus paid by the Company and that paid by the contractor, and other points of difference bearing on the questions of leave, security of service, and other factors, if not the scales of wages, I must come to the conclusion that so far as the present workers are concerned they were definitely against the introduction of the contract labour system and such reintroduction amounted to an alteration of the conditions of service to the prejudice of such workers within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, in so far as the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., commenced on the 10th March 1948 and terminated on the 6th July 1948. The action taken by the Company about the middle of April 1948 was, therefore, illegal. The workers concerned refused to work under the contractor Lingaraj on the latter being reintroduced, and the Company refused to continue to employ these persons in the same manner as it was doing during the preceding two months. Let us look at the definition of "lock-out" in section 2(l) of the Industrial Disputes Act. "Lock-out" means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him. In accordance with this definition the refusal by the Company to continue to employ the persons concerned who were under the Company's employment so long amounted to a "lock-out". Section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down that no employer shall declare a "lock-out" during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings. The 7 workers with whom I am concerned were subjected to a "lock-out" about the middle of April 1948 during the pendency of the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S. A reading of the provisions of section 23, section 24, section 26 and the first part of section 33 makes it abundantly clear that the intention of the Legislature in enacting the Industrial Disputes Act was that the status quo must be maintained during the pendency of adjudication proceedings before a Tribunal. Irrespective of the question as to whether the aspects of prejudicial alteration of the conditions of service or of the illegal lock-out were brought to the notice of the Tribunal presided over by Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., I come to the definite conclusion that the alteration of conditions of service which the Company brought about some time in the middle of April 1948, amounted to an illegal action within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the lock-out to which the present workers before me were subjected amounted to an illegal lock-out, and the Company cannot be permitted under these circumstances to take advantage of the illegal procedure which it adopted knowingly or unknowingly. As regards the aspect of alleged unfair labour practice which has been argued on the side of the Union, to the effect that by introducing the contract labour system about the middle of April and by refusing to continue to employ the workers concerned the Company interfered with, restrained or coerced its workmen in the exercise of their rights to organise, form, join or assist a trade union and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection, within the meaning of section 28K of the amended Trade Unions Act, I find myself unable to agree with the view expressed. The action taken by the Company had really nothing to do with the organisation of a trade union and cannot be said to have amounted to any interference with the right of the workers to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection. Apart from any penal action which may be taken by the proper authorities, the question before me is what remedies can be applied to undo, as far as possible, the effect of the illegal action taken by the Company.

3. (d) The illegal action of the Company in so far as it altered the conditions of service from the direct management system to the contract labour system to the prejudice of the workers concerned simultaneously brought about the illegal "lock-out", during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S. It was faintly argued on behalf of the Company that the workers before me were not concerned in the dispute which constituted the subject matter of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in so far as that dispute was between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen as represented by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, whereas the present workers before me are represented in the present proceeding by the Iron Factory Workers' Union. I do not think this argument is well-founded. I may point out at once that the written statement before this Tribunal submitted by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union included the case of Ananda Maharana and 19 others in the same way as the Iron Factory Workers' Union's statement dealt with their case. In the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, it was an accident that the workers happened to be represented only by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, but in representing the workmen employed by the Company that particular Union was representing all the workmen irrespective of the question of their membership. The same may be said in the present proceeding before me, and it should be remembered that when a Union represents before a Tribunal the case of the workers as a whole there is no question of affiliation or membership. The question before me is what remedy can be properly applied in the particular case with regard to the 7 workers who were subjected to an illegal lock-out about the middle of April 1948. In accordance with the principles enunciated by me in paragraph 3 above, this Tribunal may reinstate the workers or may award compensation, or may apply both remedies. Though the Tribunal may order reinstatement in a particular case there is no absolute right of reinstatement to which the workers are necessarily entitled under all circumstances. In this connection I may pertinently refer to the Award given by Sir H. V. Divatia in the trade dispute between the Empire of India Life Assurance Co., Ltd., Bombay, and its employees as published on page 187 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of October 1947. That particular dispute was dealt with under the provisions of the Defence of India Rules, but many of the principles enunciated in that Award may be usefully adopted in our present case. Let us examine the question of reinstatement with regard to the 7 workers with whom I am now concerned. As indicated in my decision with regard to Issue No. 2, with reference to the Award given by Sri S. K. Sen which will continue to be operative till the 5th July 1949, the contract labour system can be retained by the Company for the present, with some modifications regarding the arrangements. It is, therefore, not open to me to interfere with the contract labour system which was introduced about the middle of April 1948, and the continuance of the contractor Lingaraj is a principal fact which should be taken seriously into consideration. At least 3 of the 7th workers, namely, Gupi Nath Ratha, Ram Paria and Bata Krishna have stoutly asserted in course of their evidence before me that they are under no circumstances willing to work under the contractor. Apart from this aspect the question is whether an order of reinstatement of the present workers can be imposed on the contractor Lingaraj on account of some illegal action on the part of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. It was the Company, and not the contractor, who resorted to an illegal alteration of the conditions of service and to an illegal lock-out. It is clear, therefore, that no kind of remedy can be imposed on the contractor Lingaraj under the present circumstances. The next question is whether there can or should be an order of reinstatement to the direct service of the Company. Now these workers worked in the moulding shop of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. (P.W.'s 14 and 15 erroneously stated that they worked under the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd.). That section is now wholly under the control of the contractor Lingaraj, and the Company does not take any direct responsibility for running its affairs. Reinstatement necessarily means restoration to the same jobs, and it does not mean absorption in any other jobs. In so far as the Company has no part of the moulding section under its direct management at present it will be impracticable for the Company to carry out an order of reinstatement of these 7 workers in their original jobs in the moulding shop without doing away with the contract labour system itself. It is not practicable for the Company to re-employ these 7 workers under its direct management in the moulding shop and continue to have the rest of the workers under the control of the contractor in the same section. I am, therefore, of opinion that it is not practicable under present circumstances to carry out an order of reinstatement, and that being the position I hold that there should be no order of reinstatement in this particular case. The question of compensation may, however, be seriously considered. Under somewhat similar circumstances Sir H. V. Divatia as an Adjudicator in the case of Empire of India Life Assurance Company referred to above, allowed compensation to the extent of the emoluments during the period from the date of discharge up to the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the adjudication proceedings. It also appears that in a recent Award in an industrial dispute between Spence, Ltd., and Spence, Ltd., Workers' Union in connection with the cases of 3 discharged employees as published by Government of West Bengal order No. 382Lab., dated the 28th January 1948, on page 199 of the Calcutta Gazette, issued on 3rd February 1949, my learned colleague Sri M. C. Banerjee has largely adopted some of the principles enunciated by Sir H. V. Divatia in his Award in the case of the Empire of India Life Assurance Co. I also propose to adopt some of these principles. As the lock-out imposed by the Tatanagar Foundry Company was illegal, the workers concerned should be deemed to have continued to be under the employment of the Company during the period from the date of discharge up to the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the adjudication proceedings. The adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., came to a conclusion on the date of publication, the 6th July 1948. The relevant period with regard to the subject of compensation will, therefore, be the period from the date of discharge some time in the middle of April 1948 up to the 5th September 1948. I am of opinion that payment of compensation to the extent of the wages and allowances payable to the 7 workers on the footing that they continued to be in service up to the 5th September 1948 will be adequate under the circumstances of the present case. It is not improbable that at the present moment some of these workers are doing odd jobs when they can find them, as one of the workers stated before me in course of his evidence. It appears from the Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., that with effect from 6th July 1948, the standards of wages and allowances underwent certain modifications in favour of the workers. As the seven workers before me are to be deemed to have continued in the service of the Company till the 5th September 1948 it is only fair that with effect from 6th July 1948, they should be paid wages and allowances in accordance with Sri S. K. Sen's Award. With regard to the seven workers, Ananda Maharana, Gupi Nath Ratha, Bhikari Saw, Madhu Sohain, Ram Paria, Nilmani Tripathi and Bata Krisna, I direct that while there will be no order of reinstatement, each of them shall be paid their wages and allowances and other dues up to the date of discharge, and also their wages, allowances and other dues on the previous scale up to the 5th July 1948 and also the wages and allowances and other dues to which they would be entitled under Sri S. K. Sen's Award for a period of two months from the 6th July 1948. I make my Award accordingly with regard to this set of workers under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., under Issue No. 1.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal order No. 3841-Lab., dated Calcutta, the 25th October 1948, I was appointed a Tribunal for adjudication of the above dispute under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The case of the Union is that the employer Messrs. Sen & Co. is an engineering concern employing 100 hands and that the Labour Union in a letter, dated the 12th August 1948, made formal request to the proprietors of the Company to implement the terms of the Engineering Award and at the time when the Union was endeavouring for a negotiation with the Company in the matter of (a) implementation of the terms of the Award of the Engineering Tribunal and (b) one month's pay as Puja Bonus demanded by the Union, the Company, with no previous notice nor with any previous warning to the workers, locked out the factory from the morning of the 1st October 1948. The Union urges that this lock-out was illegal and as such prays that the workers be compensated by full payment of wages for the whole period of lock-out.

The Union also prays for the Puja Bonus of the year 1948. There is a further prayer for weekly payment of wages in place of monthly system.

The employer Messrs. Sen & Co. appeared and filed a written statement alleging that the workers never demanded any Puja Bonus. It is also stated that the Company on 15th September 1948, gave a notice to the workers that due to want of coal, coke, iron and steel, the Company would be compelled to close up the workshop on and from 1st October 1948. Further, the Company came to know that on 29th September, the workers held a meeting and resolved to go on strike on the 30th September at 10 a.m. and to damage the properties of the Company if their demands were not fulfilled. On 30th September 1948, without giving any notice to the Company, the workers suddenly stopped work at about 10 a.m. and went on strike and damaged some machines.

ISSUES.

(1) Was lock-out justified as alleged, if not, are the employees entitled to compensation, if so, how much?
(2) Can employees get Puja Bonus?
(3) Can weekly payment be substituted in place of monthly payment?

Issue No. 1.—Lock-out.

The Company has examined one Ashutosh Sen, the Manager, who proves that a notice was given on the 15th September informing the workers that due to scarcity of iron, coal, etc., the Company would be compelled to close the firm for an indefinite period. This notice (Exhibit A) is proved to have been hung up on a prominent place of the factory. The Company also proves from some papers that the quota of coal was much reduced. As against this ex parte evidence of the Company, there is no denial on oath nor there is any witness examined on behalf of the Union to deny the service of such notice. It is also proved that the workers struck work on 30th September and damaged some machines of the Company. The evidence on this point is also ex parte and not at all challenged by any statement on oath by any of the workers. In my opinion, the Company has well proved that there were sufficient strong and reasonable grounds for locking out the factory from 1st October. The Company, however, had to resort to such step for on the 30th September 1948 the workers attended the factory and damaged some machines. This was a pre-meditated action on the part of the workers inasmuch as Mr. Sen, the Manager, proves that there had been a meeting of the workers on the afternoon of the 29th September and in it the workers resolved to go on strike and to damage the properties of the Company. Some of the machines were damaged on the 30th September and the police had been informed. All these evidences adduced by the employer are not at all challenged by the Union by any counter-statement on oath. So the case of the employer Company is established and proved without challenge.

It is thus clear that there were two reasonable grounds for closing up the factory—one was the scarcity of materials for which notice had already been given and the other was the sabotage tactics adopted by the workers which hastened the Company to close up the firm. In this case, notice of 15 days justifying lock-out was given and in the next place even assuming that no notice was served the damage done to the property of the Company by the workers was a sufficient justification for closing up the factory. In any view of the matter, the lock-out was justified. Whatever that may be, the Company has fully paid the full wages of September 1948, and also 10 days of October, so now there cannot be any grievance on the part of the workers on this score. I also find that some 50 workers have executed a bond in favour of the Company agreeing not to commit any breach of peace. That shows that the allegation made by the Manager regarding sabotage tactics of the workers has some substantial basis.

The workers in the above circumstances are not entitled to any further wages or compensation.

Issue No. 2.—Puja Bonus.

The Company has produced a chart showing a profit of Rs. 2,200 and odd in the year 1354 B.S. The year 1353 B.S. was a year of heavy loss. It is not proved before me if there was any Bonus paid previously. Whatever that may be, considering the negligible profit in the year 1354 B.S. I think it will be gross injustice to saddle the Company to pay suitable Puja Bonus to the workers for that year. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 3.—Can weekly payment be substituted in place of monthly payment?

The Company has agreed to make weekly payment of wages in place of monthly system. The Company should introduce weekly payment with effect from the month of March 1949, and should make payment on Monday and if that be a holiday on the next day.

The Award will come into force on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Summary of the recommendations.

Claim for compensation for lock-out period—Rejected.

Claim for Puja Bonus—Rejected.

Claim for substitution of weekly payment of wages in place of monthly payment—Allowed.

(g) prohibit the subscriber from leaving the accumulation to any person outside the family; and

(h) provide for the administration and management of the fund by the employer.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The Provident Funds Act, 1925 (Act XIX of 1925), is not applicable to workers employed in factories or labourers in industrial establishments such as house-buildings, quarrying, docks and other such establishments. Under section 58B(1) of the Income-Tax Act, 1922, the Commissioner of Income-Tax may accord recognition to any provident fund which, in his opinion, satisfies the condition prescribed in section 58C and the rules made thereunder. It will be evident that under section 58B(1) the first move to obtain recognition of provident fund, for employees in factories and in other industrial establishments, should be made by the employer. It is very rare that an employer would volunteer to establish a Contributory Provident Fund for his employees. The main object of this Bill is to make it compulsory for every employer of workers and labourers in the industrial concerns to establish provident fund for the betterment of such employees and their families. From the meagre pay they get, the employees are not in a position to lay by anything for themselves or their family for hay day. Establishment of provident fund will teach them frugality and the advantages of such a system will not meet with any objection or disapproval on their part as they would realise that the Bill aims at the good of their family and for themselves also.

2. The contribution by the employer will be an impetus for them to join the fund. The interests of the employers and the employees are generally found to be at variance. In order to establish mutual trust and confidence and to cement the differences between the employers and the employees, a measure like the one in this Bill would go a great way to promote mutual healthy relations between the capitalists and labourers. This Bill seeks to promote growth of spirit of confidence, and with co-ordination of employees, the employers would be able to yield better results. By creating such fund, the employers will attract to themselves a class of labourers which will be contented and in view of the provisions of the Bill, they would prefer to remain attached to a particular employer and there will be few occasions of strike in work.

Calcutta, the 9th February 1949.

Second Forecast of Winter Rice Crop of West Bengal for 1948-49.

[Note.—The estimates of areas and outturns of winter rice for the last year and this year shown in this forecast have been based on the results of random sample survey conducted by the Indian Statistical Institute. As this survey does not include the whole of Darjeeling, the acreages and outturns of this district have been estimated by the Directorate of Agriculture.]

Season.—As reported in the First Forecast, the sowing of winter rice took place at the normal time but owing to inadequate and irregular rainfall in June and early July, transplantation was delayed in almost all the districts. Subsequent rainfall however proved beneficial to its growth. The crop was thriving well till sometime before harvests when Nature struck in her ugly mood. Heavy rains fell and high winds blew in some districts in the third week of November, resulting in some loss of grains particularly in the districts of Midnapore, Bankura and Hooghly. Since then, however, weather conditions have been generally favourable to harvests.

Area and yield.—7,968,800 acres have been estimated to be under winter rice this year compared to 8,043,900 and 8,038,500 acres reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecast of last year.

The yield per acre of the province as a whole is estimated at 10·136 maunds per acre as against 10·291 maunds reported in the final estimate of last year.

Calculated on this basis the total outturn of the province works out to 2,967,200 tons this year as against 2,961,000 tons and 3,039,000 tons reported respectively in the corresponding and final forecast of last year.

D. BASU,
for Director of Agriculture, West Bengal.

And whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having no longer been available, the said Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty, another member aforesaid, have given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between Messrs. ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., 4, Lyons Range, Calcutta, and their employees represented by H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd. (Calcutta Branch) Employees' Union, Calcutta.

PRESENT.

SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,

AND

SRI SAILESH CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY, Member.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal by Order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, constituted a tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman, and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta as members to adjudicate upon the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms had been divided in two lists in the Government Order. Some of the firms compounded their differences with the employees while the employees did not come to us in a number of cases. These cases have already been disposed of by awards made from time to time.

Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members, had been absent and as his services were not available, the matter was heard by the Chairman and the other member. Leaving aside a few stray cases the employees came to be represented in three groups:—Mercantile Employees' Federation, Bank Employees' Federation and the Federation of the Insurance Company Employees.

At a certain stage a question arose about competency of the Tribunal to deal with the cases of individual firms separately. We decided that this was a collection of references of separate disputes and we could deal with different firms separately. To this view we still adhere.

We now take up the case of H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., 4, Lyons Range, Calcutta, and their employees represented by H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd. (Calcutta Branch) Employees' Union, Calcutta.

For the Company: Mr. P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Employees: Sri Nalini Kanta Mukherjee assisted by Mr. S. K. Murthy, Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

Salary and dearness allowance.

The present scales of pay and dearness allowance will appear in Annexure I. The firm designates dearness allowance as dearer living allowance. The difference in nomenclature does not trouble us. Recently we made an award in the case of Messrs. Bengal Chamber of Commerce to which all the firms including Messrs. H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., are affiliated. It had been our desire to treat the award already made as a standard. It will appear from Annexure I that salary ranges higher in this Company compared to what we have allowed in Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scale but dearness allowance is lower. We shall, however, look to the total emoluments. A higher salary range benefits the employees in many ways. We have compared the total emoluments on many points with the total emoluments on corresponding points in the award of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's case. And we are of opinion that in some cases, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's award is better and on some points the scheme in this firm is better. On the whole the two schemes bring in an average equal result.

The Company had under contemplation an improved pay scale which they put in effect by giving enhanced increments in July 1948. The improved scheme is given in Annexure II and the Company have no objection to its immediate enforcement. We consider the scheme to be very fair and in advance of what we have done for the employees of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. We accept it and award accordingly.

Now the question is about its implementation. As the lowest pay of the clerks had been raised by Rs. 10 we award a flat increment of Rs. 10. The Company however gave something in advance. In July 1948 they had to give increments according to the rates stated in Annexure I but they gave larger increments as a prelude to bring the scheme under Annexure II in operation. We award that the clerks shall get a flat increment of Rs. 10 less the amount of increment made in July 1948 which is in excess of the amount of increment stated in Annexure I. After the increment is given if the salary of any individual does not fit in with any stage of the time-scale he will be placed at the next higher stage in the time-scale. The present scale of dearer living allowance is approved.

Promotion to higher grades should usually be made from lower grades if suitable persons are found. So far as the subordinate staff is concerned no further improvement is called for.

Next point is about leave. Existing terms are fair and are accepted. The Company wants 48 hours' notice for casual leave. This is being opposed by the Union. When leave is granted to any employee then the employer has got to make arrangement for work during his absence. Therefore some time is necessary. We direct that 48 hours' notice shall be the general rule though an application for leave due to unforeseen circumstances may be made on shorter notice. We also award that casual leave for three days may be taken at one time.

The next point is about Provident Fund.

Contributions made by a member whose service does not exceed 10 years shall be at the rate of 5 per cent. of his or her salary. Thereafter as from the 1st April in the year succeeding the completed period of service with the Company of 10 years, should he or she so desire, their contributions may be increased to 10 per cent. of their salaries. Such contributions shall be deducted from each member's salary on the last day of each month and shall be paid by the Company to the Trustees and shall be credited to the members in column 3 of his or her account.

The above is an extract about contribution to be made for the Provident Fund. Though in the earlier part the rate of contribution is less on account of higher salary ranges the Company on the whole pays more for a clerk than Bengal Chamber of Commerce would have to pay in terms of the award. We do not, therefore, propose to disturb the scheme except that we consider that when an employee is discharged or his services are terminated for no fault on his part he should get his as also the employer's contribution to the Provident Fund. Provident Fund is considered a sufficient provision for old age after retirement. We do not, therefore, propose to introduce any pension scheme in addition to Provident Fund.

Another point mooted was about the recognition of the Union. Recognition of the Union is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and it is therefore outside the jurisdiction of the Tribunal.

The other point pressed is about security of service.

For this we award some rules about service record and enquiry before punishment. Service Records shall be maintained.

Adverse remarks in the Service Record.

Before an adverse remark is incorporated in the Service Record, a notice should be given to the person concerned and his representation, if any, may be considered.

Enquiry before punishment: dismissal, discharge and retrenchment and other punishments.

In case of retrenchment, the principle of "last come, first go" should be applied. Exception may, however, be made in exceptional cases for people with exceptional abilities.

The employer has no doubt the right of punishing an employee but we frame the following rules which must precede any punishment:—

The first thing to be done is that a charge shall be framed and the person proceeded against shall be furnished with a copy of the charge and the facts on which the charge is made and the person proceeded against shall submit his explanation. Then a future date should be fixed for the matter to be enquired into. If the person proceeded against is found innocent, the matter ends. If, however, he is found guilty, the clerk concerned shall be supplied with a copy of the findings and the punishment proposed to be imposed. The clerk will get an opportunity again to plead about the punishment only at this stage. If the Enquiring Officer himself is competent to inflict punishment on the person proceeded against, he will hear his pleadings and order what he thinks best. If the Enquiring Officer is anybody other than the General Manager, an appeal shall lie with him within seven days of the communication of the order punishing the clerk. In case the Enquiring Officer is not competent to inflict punishment he will forward the proceedings to the authority competent to punish and that authority will hear the person again and then pass orders. If that authority be other than the General Manager, an appeal shall lie likewise with the General Manager. In all cases where the proposed punishment is discharge or dismissal, the papers must be laid before the General Manager who will hear the person proceeded against and then pass orders. The clerks proceeded against shall have always the right to be defended by any other employee or by any other retired employee. These are domestic matters and bringing outside agencies is not helpful to the person proceeded against. Any outsider may defend a person proceeded against with the permission of the Enquiring Officer.

We hope that the rules framed by us will remove apprehensions about abrupt termination of services and will give to the employees a sense of security which is essential for efficient working.

The Union's demands for lunch allowance and train-fare as also for medical aid in addition to what is available to them at present are rejected. The demands in the additional written statement which are not covered by the original written statement of the employees are left out of adjudication on grounds stated in Orders Nos. 42 and 55, dated 30th April 1948 and 15th May 1948, respectively.

Existing benefits, if any, available to the employees which are not covered by this award shall not be withdrawn.

ORDER.

No. 1269Lab.—15th March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3950Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the industrial dispute between the management of Messrs. C. Lazarus & Co., Ltd., 21, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by C. Lazarus & Co., Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial dispute between Messrs. C. Lazarus & Co., Ltd., 21, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by C. Lazarus & Co. Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

By an order No. 3950Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, Government of West Bengal, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, constituted a Tribunal with me to adjudicate on the dispute between Messrs. C. Lazarus & Co., Ltd., 21, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen, represented by C. Lazarus & Co. Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

For the Company—Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

For the Union—Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader.

The Company is a well reputed firm of cabinet-makers. The items of dispute will appear from the following headings:—

Points for Adjudication.

(1) Recognition of the Union.
(2) Security of service.
(3) Working hours.
(4) Basic wages and grades.
(5) Dearness allowance.
(6) Free tiffin.
(7) House rent or housing accommodation.
(8) Medical aid.
(9) Leave and holidays.
(10) Bonus.
(11) Old age provision and retiring benefits.
(12) Arrears of wages of six workmen, namely,—(1) Manmatha Ghosh, (2) Michael Dolai, (3) Dwaraka Show, (4) Ubed Rahman, (5) Nibaran Adhikari and (6) Suren Maity.

AWARD.

Point No. 1.—Recognition of the Union.

This is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, as defined in section 2(k) of the Act. A statute has already been passed and it will be the function of the Courts constituted under that Act to deal with this question.

Point No. 2.—Security of service.

(a) The demand of the Union is that continuous service for 3 months shall entitle an employee to permanency of service. The Company contend that they are also Interior Decorators and have at times to take large contracts which necessitate employment of a large number of casual labourers for a pretty long time. It has thus been contended that if a rule be framed that a person, after service for 3 months, shall acquire permanency, this will be a great hardship on the industry. There is considerable force in this argument. On the other hand, the Company may have to take absolutely raw men who will be trained to do useful work. For them a period of probation for three months is insufficient. In the circumstances, I decide that after working in the factory for six months as a worker, a man, if found suitable, shall be treated as a permanent employee. If he is found not up to the standard, he shall be discharged. This rule, however, shall not apply to any batch of temporary workers appointed for execution of particular contracts, nor will this rule be applicable to apprentices who can only be confirmed after they acquire sufficient standard of efficiency.

(b) The demand of the Union is that no one should be appointed without any appointment letter from the Company. I decide that this should be done.

(c) The demand of the Union is that no one shall be punished, suspended or discharged without offering him a chance to know the charges against him and proper facilities to defend himself personally or through the Union. I decide that no one should be punished, suspended or discharged without giving him an opportunity to explain the charge against him and giving him opportunity to defend himself either by himself or through any other workman.

(d) The demand of the Union is that the contract system and daily system should be abolished and monthly rate of wages should be introduced for all. There is really no piece-rate system in this factory. There are contract systems of work and it is outside the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to abolish such systems. The demand for monthly system for all categories of workers is refused.

(e) The demand of the Union is that double payment should be given for overtime work. The provision is in the Factories Act and the rules framed thereunder shall prevail.

Point No. 3.—Working hours.

By agreement it is decided that working hours shall be from 8-30 a.m. except for the months November, December, January and February when working hours shall be from 8 a.m. as is now prevalent. The period of work shall be as allowed by the Factories Act.

Points Nos. 4 and 5.—Basic wages and grades and dearness allowance.

In this factory no separate dearness allowance is paid and, according to the Company's version, unusual increments have been given in wages to cover the high cost of living. The system of granting dearness allowance is new. It has been introduced to compensate the high cost of living without touching the basic pay. The Company, which had no provident fund or gratuity system, cared little to keep the distinction between wages and dearness allowance clear. The distinction has got to be maintained now. If it be found that increments have been given in the recent years and if these are more than usual, the legitimate inference is that increments have been given to compensate for the high cost of living. In that event it will be the duty of this Tribunal to divide the present wages into basic wages and dearness allowance. The principle of division must, to some extent, be arbitrary, but it must be done with as much sense as possible. The following table will show the increase in wages:—

Names of the workmen.	Wages in January 1940.		Wages in January 1949.
	Rs.	a.	Rs.	a.
Narayan (polishes) ..	0	12	2	4
Adhar	0	12	2	4
Bhagawat	0	14	2	4
India	1	0	2	6
Surendra	0	12	2	10
Muslimali (machine mistry) ..	1	4	3	8
Michael Kalipeda (machine mistry)	1	10	3	12
Sadhu	0	12	3	0
Antoney Gomesh	1	6	3	12
Nathuni (billiard fitter) ..	1	0	3	0

The table given above will clearly show that increments were obviously granted for increase in the cost of living. Now the question is about apportionment. I decide that 15 annas in the case of daily rated workers and Rs. 25 in case of monthly rated workers be treated as dearness allowance and the rest as basic pay and wages.

Now the task is to fix the minimum wages for the different categories of workers.

I fix 15 annas as the daily minimum wages for an unskilled worker. In addition he will get 15 annas as dearness allowance. Looking to the present rate of wages and the market for sale of goods, I think this should be fair. The question of further increment will arise with the progress of the market and the improvement of the industry which has now passed on to new hands. The position of the market is still unsteady. No time scale is fixed.

Now about the various categories of workers. At present Rs. 2-4 is the usual emoluments of a polisher though one or two men earn less. If 15 annas be deducted as dearness allowance, the wages come to Re. 1-5. I think Re. 1-6 is the fair minimum for a polisher. The wages of all polishers be increased by 1 anna per day and the minimum fixed at Re. 1-6.

The wages of machine mistries be increased by 1 anna a day; so also the wages of billiard fitters. The minimum daily wages for an unskilled worker is fixed at 15 annas and of other categories at Re. 1-6. The minimum pay of the other categories who are monthly rated shall not go below Rs. 25 except for part-time workers whose wages shall be determined by contract. The monthly rated workers shall get an increment of pay at the rate of Re. 1-8 and the machine mistries shall also get an increment of 1 anna a day.

Point No. 6.—Free tiffin.

The claim of the Union is that the Company should give free tiffin. The demand is disallowed.

Point No. 7.—House rent or housing accommodation.

The Union demands for housing accommodation. The factory is located in the town of Calcutta and houses on hire are available. The demand is refused.

Point No. 8.—Medical aid.

The Company need only arrange for first aid. There is arrangement for this. The extra demands are refused.

Point No. 9.—Leave and Holidays.

The demands are:—

(a) Privilege leave—one month's leave with full pay and dearness allowance, accumulation allowed up to three months.

(c) Sick leave—one month in a year with full pay and dearness allowance subject to the condition that during the whole period of service this will accumulate on medical grounds—three months with full pay and dearness allowance, next three months with half pay and dearness allowance, next six months without pay.

On these points I decide as follows:—

(1) Ten days' continuous holidays under the Factories Act, which is equivalent to eight or nine paid holidays according as there is one Sunday or two within the period of ten days;

(2) Eight festival days;

(3) Five or six days' other leave with pay which may be taken in continuation of the ten days under the Factories Act or separately at the option of the workmen. This other leave for five or six days will accumulate for two years, as provided for the ten days' leave under the Factories Act.

I also provide for fifteen days' sick leave on half pay in a year of service. This leave will accumulate, i.e., if in one year the employee does not take sick leave, in the next year he may take sick leave with half pay up to thirty days and so on, but this leave will be discontinued as soon as the Employees' State Insurance Act comes into operation.

Point No. 10.—Bonus.

I am not satisfied that the Company is making good profit. The market is dull and the management is in new hands. In the circumstances, no adjudication about bonus is made.

Point No. 11.—Old age provision and retiring benefits.

The demands are—

(a) Gratuity.—Gratuity should be paid on retirement, forced or voluntary, on the basis of one month's salary for each year of service.

(b) Provident Fund.—Provident Fund should be introduced with 10 per cent. contribution from each side.

The two cannot be allowed. The Company being small, it is difficult to work a Provident Fund scheme. I therefore frame a gratuity scheme with the following conditions:—

(1) On the death of an employee while in service of the Company.—One month's salary for each completed year of service, subject to the maximum of fifteen months' salary to his heirs, executors or nominees.

(2) On voluntary retirement or resignation of an employee after fifteen years' continuous service in the Company.—Fifteen months' salary.

(3) On termination of his service by the Company.—(a) After completion of service of five years but less than ten years.—Half a month's salary for every completed year of service.

(b) After ten years' continuous service in the Company but less than fifteen years.—Three-fourths of one month's salary for every completed year of service.

(c) After fifteen years' continuous service in the Company.—Fifteen months' salary.

(d) Gratuity will not be paid to an employee who is dismissed for dishonesty or misconduct.

I therefore direct that gratuity should be paid to the employees covered by this adjudication on the aforesaid scale.

Point No. 12.—Arrears of wages of six workmen.

The Union demands for reinstatement and the wages for the period of non-work coupled with an order for continuance of service of the six workmen—Manmatha Ghosh, Michael Dolai, Dwaraka Show, Ubed Rahman, Nibaran Adhikari and Suren Maity. They were dismissed by the Company on 13th January 1948 and soon after the formation of the Union. Some of them were important office bearers of the Union. After they were discharged the matter was referred to the Labour Commissioner. It appears that at the intervention of the Labour Commissioner a compromise was effected and pursuant to that the workers made an application to the Manager for their reappointment with an assurance that they would in future keep discipline in the factory. It is obviously clear that there was some indiscipline for which the labourers were discharged. Five of the workmen signed this petition and Manmatha Ghosh only did not sign it. On behalf of the Union it has been contended that since Manmatha did not sign it he can get the reliefs claimed though the others may be precluded by their own confession in the petition. Manmatha Ghosh is 71 years old. The Company contends that he is there on sufferance and is no employee. Be that as it may, it appears that after his discharge Manmatha remained at home and did not move about for his reappointment or reinstatement. His son also was working in the factory and after he learnt that he would get reappointment he came and joined. He himself confessed that he did not sign the petition along with others on account of his absence and he would have signed it if he had been present. In the circumstances, I do not see any justification for treating his case separately. The claim under this head is refused.

Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this ninth day of March one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine between the Indian Statistical Institute, a Society (Registered under the Societies Registration Act XXI of 1860), and having its registered office at Presidency College, Calcutta, hereinafter called the Society of the one part and the Governor of the Province of West Bengal (hereinafter called the Governor) of the other part.

WHEREAS for the purposes of increasing the accommodation of the Laboratory and Offices the Society has applied to the Government of West Bengal for the acquisition under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, of the piece or parcel of land containing 2·89 acres or thereabout situated in the village of Bonhughly, Baranagore police-station, in the district of 24-Parganas, and more particularly described in the schedule hereto and delineated in the plan* hereunto annexed.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal, being satisfied by an enquiry held under section 40 of the said Act that the proposed acquisition is needed for the aforesaid purpose and that the said work is likely to prove useful to the public, has consented to acquire on behalf of the Society the piece or parcel of land hereinbefore described.

AND WHEREAS the said Government of West Bengal has required the Society under the provisions of section 41 of the abovementioned Act to enter into the agreement with the Governor hereinafter contained. Now this indenture witnesseth that it is hereby agreed and declared as follows:—

1. On demand the Society shall and will pay to the said Government of West Bengal all and every compensation in respect of the said land tendered, paid or awarded or to be tendered, paid or awarded by the Collector under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, or by Court to which a reference under part III of the said Act may be made, or by the Court or Courts to which an appeal from the award of the said court may be preferred and all costs, charges and expenses of the proceedings in the aforesaid courts, or otherwise incidental to the proposed acquisition or payable in respect thereof under the provision of the said Act.

2. On demand made by the said Collector the obligations of the Society under the last preceding clause not being thereby limited the Society shall and will deposit with the said Collector such sum or sums of money as in his discretion the said Collector, may in anticipation estimate to be necessary for the purposes mentioned in the last preceding clause.

3. On payment by the Society of all demands under the foregoing first clause, or, in the discretion of the said Government of West Bengal (on deposit by the Society of all estimated amounts as provided in the second clause), but not before possession shall have been taken under the provisions of the abovementioned Act, the Governor shall make over possession of the said land to the Society and shall execute and do all such acts and deeds as may be necessary and proper for effectually vesting the same in the Society.

4. The said land shall be held by the Society for the purposes of such accommodation as is hereinbefore mentioned and without the sanction in writing of the said Government of West Bengal first had and obtained for no other purpose whatsoever.

5. The said work shall be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within two years from the date on which possession of the said land shall have been given to the Society.

6. Should the said work not be completed (and fully equipped in all respects ready for use) within the period stated in the last preceding clause or within such further period as in its discretion may be prescribed or allowed by the said Government of West Bengal or should the said land at any time thereafter cease for a period of twelve consecutive months, to be held and used or cease to be required for the purpose or purposes provided for in the foregoing fourth clause then and in any such case, the said Government may summarily re-enter upon and take possession of the said land together with all buildings thereon, whether such buildings were erected before or after transfer of the land to the Society and thereupon the interest of the Society in the said land and buildings shall absolutely cease and determine.

7. On taking such possession the said Government may sell or otherwise deal with the said land and buildings as it may think proper.

(i) Should the said Government sell the land with the buildings the said Government after deducting the expenses incurred in connection with the said taking of possession and with such sale shall pay the proceeds to the Society.

(ii) Should the said Government decide not to sell the land and buildings the said Government shall retain the said land and buildings thereon in which case the Governor shall repay to the Society the market value as on the day of re-entry of all the buildings erected by the Society and all sums received from the Society in respect of all and every compensation as provided in the foregoing first clause (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent. and less any amount received on account of trees and buildings which are not in existence at the time of resumption) but will not repay any sums paid and received on account of the costs, charges and expenses.

*Not printed but may be inspected in the office of the Special Land Acquisition Officer, Alipore, district 24-Parganas.

To enable audit to follow the prescribed time table during the coming year, it is requested that the statements for 1949-50 may kindly be sent on or before the 15th May, without fail.

Heads of Offices, who have not furnished the returns for 1948-49 as yet, are also requested to furnish the overdue statements without any further delay.

Subject:—Revised procedure for payment of house rent allowance under the Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, Order No. 1925-F/F/2A/86/48, dated the 21st October 1948, or under the Calcutta House Allowance Scheme, 1926, with effect from the 1st March 1949.

No. GAII/2349.—11th March 1949.—Attention of all gazetted officers under the Government of West Bengal is invited to the Finance (Audit) Department Order No. 290-F/F2A/100/48, dated the 10th February 1949, in which it has been decided that, in future, when an officer becomes eligible for drawing house rent allowance under the Government Order or the Scheme, referred to above, he should be required to submit to this office through the Head of the Department or through the Administrative Department where the drawing officer is himself the Head of the Department, an application showing therein detailed calculation of the house rent allowance intended to be drawn to enable this office to issue authority for drawing the allowance. This authority should invariably accompany the officer's first claim for house rent allowance. In respect of officers who are already in receipt of house rent allowance the above procedure should apply mutatis mutandis in respect of claims accruing from the 1st March 1949.

2. It is, therefore, notified for information of all concerned that with effect from the 1st March 1949, no further payment of house rent allowance admissible under the rules quoted above will be made to any gazetted officer except on production of a specific authority from this office. All gazetted officers concerned are accordingly requested to submit to this office through proper channel, an application showing therein detailed calculation of the house rent allowance intended to be drawn. Necessary authority for the drawal of the allowance from the 1st March 1949 will be issued in each individual case by this office after scrutiny of these details. The claim for house rent allowance in each case should also be supported invariably by a certificate prescribed in G. O. No. 1925F., dated 21st October 1948, or the Calcutta House Allowance Scheme, 1926, as the case may be.

3. All Treasury Officers in West Bengal are required to see that claims for house rent allowance from 1st March 1949 onwards are not paid without specific authority from this office.

Subject:—Verification of claims of Central Government servants for house-rent allowance.

No. TM/959.—9th March 1949. In continuation of this office circular letter No. TM/301, dated 21st July 1948, it is notified for information of all concerned that it has been decided by the Government of India, in their Ministry of Finance Office Memorandum No. F.5650-Est.(Spl.)/48, dated 20th January 1949, that a periodical physical check of rent-receipts of all Central Government servants for whom house-rent allowance is claimed should be conducted by the Controlling Officers, at intervals of six months, e.g., in January and July each year. This check will be necessary even in case of Government servants whose pay does not exceed Rs. 250 per month and in whose case the claims for house-rent allowance are conditioned by payment of some rent, irrespective of the quantum of the rent paid.

2. In the case of persons living in their own houses any authoritative document showing the assessed rental value of the accommodation occupied by the Government servant will form the basis for the half-yearly check.

3. It is requested that the half-yearly check of rent-receipts or the document referred to in paragraph 2 above as contemplated in the Government Order, in respect of all employees of the Central Government under audit of this office for whom house-rent allowance is drawn, should be conducted, and an additional certificate to the effect that "The claims for house-rent allowance included in the pay-bill for.....
.....have been verified with reference to the relevant rent-receipts" furnished with the bills for the months of January and July each year. The verification of rent-receipts in respect of claims for house-rent allowance included in the pay-bill for January 1949 may now please be completed at an early date and the certificate to that effect furnished to this office to enable it to admit the claims for house-rent allowance finally in audit.

4. In the case of Gazetted Officers, claims for house-rent allowance for January and July each year should be countersigned by Heads of Departments who are the authority empowered to approve the scale of accommodation, in token of having verified the claims with reference to rent-receipts, and a certificate in the following form furnished on the bills:—

"Certified that I have checked the..... claim of Sri..... ..... to house-rent allowance for the month of..... .....by a physical verification of the relevant rent-receipt. He is living at premises No..... .....".

In respect of claims for January 1949, the certificate referred to above should be obtained by all Government servants concerned and furnished to this office at an early date.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal constituted a Tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta as members to adjudicate the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

2. The firms have been divided in two lists in Government Order and we have maintained the serial number given in the list for the sake of convenience. In column 1 of the list the names of the firms have been stated, and in column 2 the names of the Unions representing the employees have been stated.

3. We have already decided that we can treat the 267 cases separately and we stick to our decision. It is now proposed to take up the cases of the following three firms:—

(1) Netherlands Trading Society, Pollock House, Calcutta—No. 177 of list No. 1 appended to the order of reference.

(3) Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society Ltd., 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta—No. 224 of list No. 1.

Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, represent the employers of Messrs. Netherlands Trading Society and Messrs. Volkart Brothers and the employees of these two firms are being represented by the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Union on the authority of their representative Unions—Netherlands Trading Society Employees' Union and Volkart Brothers Employees' Union. The employers of Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, Ltd., are being represented by Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors, and the employees by the Overseas Insurers Employees' Association.

Both the employers and the employees of the first two mentioned firms—Netherlands Trading Society and Volkart Brothers—have filed joint petitions before this Tribunal stating that the disputes between the employers and the employees of these two firms have been settled amicably.

The Overseas Insurers' Employees' Association informed this Tribunal verbally on 16th February 1949 that the disputes between the employers and the employees of the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, Ltd., had been amicably settled. This was confirmed by Mr. Kennedy of Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors. Thus there is at present no dispute between the employers and the employees of the aforesaid three firms. Our award in respect of these three firms accordingly is that there is no dispute between the employers and the employees of these three firms on this day.

The services of Sri Sudhir Kumar Dutta Gupta are no longer available. He could not take part in the proceedings leading to the award in the present case. The award, accordingly, is given by us two—Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty—under rule 8(7) of the rules framed under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

ORDER.

No. 1090Lab.—10th March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4304Lab., dated the 27th November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Maxim Machine Manufacturing and Foundry Works, 19/A, Chowringhee, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Maxim Co. Mazdoor Union, post office Sukchar, district 24-Parganas, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Maxim Machine Manufacturing and Foundry Works, 19/A, Chowringhee, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Maxim Co. Mazdoor Union, post office Sukchar, district 24-Parganas.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: None.

For the Union: Sri Byomkesh Mukherjee.

Award.

By Government Order No. 4304Lab., dated the 27th November 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication.

The case of the Mazdoor Union is that the rate of wages paid to the workers is miserably low and that there is no system of paying any dearness allowance to the workers in this hard days when the cost of living had increased by more than 400 per cent.; there is no provident fund and that there is no hard and fast rule regarding working hours, leave, payment of wages, etc.

The employer Company did not appear at the time of hearing but submitted a short statement alleging that the question for settlement with regard to labour does not arise at present at all for the entire property is attached under the enforcement instruction with regard to the income-tax payment of Rs. 49,37,971 and odd and that a receiver has been appointed in Central Bank of India and that the Company is not allowed to operate any account or to receive any amount. It is further urged that in view of the fact that the payment and operation of the bank account has been stopped, it is not possible to make any payment even for arrears due. It is further urged that the only item now to be settled is to lock up the factory and that at present there is no possibility to make any payment and that the wages of workmen are in arrears.

On the plea of the Company, the Central Bank of India was added as a party but it was contended by the Bank that they were not running the factory but were simply mortgagee of the machine and other properties of the Company and that there was no relationship of an employer and employee between them. On such contention, the Central Bank of India was struck off as an unnecessary party.

The question, is if an effective award can be made under the circumstances. In view of the plea already set up by the Company that they are at present not running the factory—a fact which is not denied by the Union and in view of the fact that no account is being allowed to be operated by them, I think no Tribunal can pass any effective award which can be enforced against this Company. To pass an ex parte award and to grant the reliefs claimed by the workers in the charter of demands either wholly or in part would be a mockery. In any view of the matter, the award will not be worth the paper on which it is written. I very much regret that most of the workers have not yet been paid their wages since November but the hands of Tribunal are tied—it cannot enforce the award by proceeding against the person and property of the Manager or by selling the goods of the Company like a Civil Court.

Under the circumstances, it is not possible to make any effective award and as such the case is disposed of with the above observations.

No award is possible to be made under the above circumstances.

P. R. MUKHERJEE,
Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

The 5th February 1949.

9. All markings shall be legible, distinct and in a colour not likely to be easily obliterated, which shall be different from the colour of the surface marked.

Where, however, a bundle is packed on the metric system the counts shall be accompanied by the words "metric counts" or by some other clear and definite indication conveying the fact.

11. Nothing in these rules shall be constructed as prohibiting the indication in any manner of other particulars relating to the cotton yarn or cotton thread so long as the conspicuousness of the required particulars is not affected thereby.

12. All premises where the work is done by the members of one family with or without the assistance of not more than ten other employees, and all premises controlled by a co-operative society where not more than twenty workers are employed in the premises shall be exempted from the operation of sub-section (3) of section 12 of the Act and of these rules.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly; and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

New Delhi, the 11th January, 1949.

No. F.102-I/48-A.—Under rule 39 of the Constituent Assembly (Legislative) Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business, the Governor-General has been pleased to order the publication in the Gazette of India of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly published for general information:—

A. BILL No. 1 OF 1949.

A Bill to limit the dividends which may be paid by public companies.

WHEREAS it is expedient to limit the dividends which may be paid by public companies;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Preliminary.

1. Short title, extent and duration.—(1) This Act may be called the Public Companies (Limitation of Dividends) Act, 1949.

(2) It extends to all the Provinces of India, and also to every Acceding State to the extent to which the Dominion Legislature has power to make laws for that State as respects the matters dealt with in this Act.

(3) It shall remain in force only up to the 31st day of December, 1950.

2. Definitions.—In this Act, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Companies Act" means the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (VII of 1913);

(b) "company" means a public company as defined in clause (13A) of section 2 of the Companies Act, and includes—

(i) the Imperial Bank of India constituted under the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920 (XLVII of 1920);

(ii) any trading, banking, insurance or finance corporation constituted by or under any other law in force in India, provided that such corporation, if it had been registered as a company under the Companies Act would not have been a "private company" within the meaning of that Act; and

(iii) any other incorporated body which the Central Government may, by general or special order, declare to be a public company for the purposes of this Act, but does not include a co-operative society registered or deemed to be registered under the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912 (II of 1912), or any other law relating to co-operative societies in force for the time being in any part of India;

(c) "financial year" means the year commencing on the 1st day of April.

Limitation of dividends.

3. Dividends not to exceed certain limits.—No company shall, after the commencement of this Act, distribute as dividend during any financial year, any sum which exceeds, or which, when taken with any sum already distributed as dividend during the same year whether before or after the commencement of this Act, will exceed—

(a) six per cent. of the paid-up capital of the company as on the last day of the period in respect of which the dividend is distributed, after deducting from such capital all amounts attributable to the capitalisation, on or after the 1st day of April, 1946, of one or more of the following, namely, reserves, profits and appreciation of assets, or

(b) the average annual dividend of the company, determined in the manner specified in sections 5 to 7,

whichever is higher.

4. Limit of six per cent. to be exclusive of income-tax paid by company.—The limit of six per cent. specified in clause (a) of section 3 shall be applied to the amount of dividend distributed by the company among its shareholders, payments made by the company by way of income-tax being ignored.

5. Dividends and periods to be taken into account for determining average annual dividend.—The average annual divided referred to in clause (b) of section 3 shall be determined with reference to—

(a) the total of the dividends distributed by such company (otherwise than by way of bonus shares) during the period of two years commencing on the 1st day of April, 1946, and ending with the 31st day of March, 1948, and

(b) the total of the periods in respect of which each such dividend has been distributed, no period however being counted more than once:

Provided that where an interim dividend for any period has been distributed before the 1st day of April, 1946, and a final dividend has been distributed in respect of the same period on or after that date but on or before the 31st day of March, 1948, such interim dividend shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a):

Provided further that where an interim dividend for any period has been distributed on or after the 1st day of April, 1946, and on or before the 31st day of March, 1948, and a final dividend has been or is distributed in respect of the same period after the latter date, then—

(i) if the final dividend was distributed before the 5th day of October, 1948, it shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a);

(ii) if the final dividend was or is distributed on or after the 5th day of October, 1948, the interim dividend and the period in respect of which it was distributed shall not be taken into account for the purposes of this section; but it shall be open to the company to claim that the interim dividend (but not the final dividend) shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a), in which case the period in respect of which such interim dividend was distributed shall be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b).

6. Date of distribution of dividend.—For the purposes of this Act, a dividend shall be deemed to have been distributed by a company on the date on which the shareholders or their legal representatives have a right to receive it from the company, whether or not it has been actually paid.

7. Provision for increase or reduction in paid-up capital.—(1) (a) Where, subsequent to the distribution by a company of any dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b) of section 3, its paid-up capital is increased by any amounts actually paid in cash, or

(b) where, before the distribution of any such dividend, the paid-up capital of a company is increased by any amounts actually paid in cash, but the amounts so paid are not entitled to the benefit of such dividend,

such dividend, and every prior dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been augmented—

(i) pro rata, if the increase took place before the 29th day of October, 1948; and

(ii) by a sum equal to six per cent. per annum of all amounts paid in cash both by way of share capital and by way of premia, if the increase took place after the 29th day of October, 1948.

(2) (a) Where subsequent to the distribution by a company of any dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b) of section 3, its paid-up capital is reduced, or

(b) where, before the distribution of any such dividend, the paid-up capital of a company is reduced, but the whole of the capital as it stood before such reduction is entitled to the benefit of such dividend, such dividend, and every prior dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been diminished pro rata.

Preference shares.

8. Special provision for preference shares.—Nothing contained in this Act shall be deemed to limit in any way the dividend payable on preference shares issued and subscribed for before the 29th day of October, 1948.

9. Prohibition of issue of preference shares at more than six per cent.—No company shall, after the 29th day of October, 1948, issue preference shares carrying a right to a dividend at a rate exceeding six per cent. per annum.

Miscellaneous.

10. Power to make rules.—(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(i) the adaptation of the provisions of this Act with a view to their application to all or any of the bodies declared to be public companies under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) of section 2;

(ii) the prevention of the evasion of the provisions of this Act, and the removal of difficulties in giving effect thereto.

11. Power to make exemptions, etc.—The Central Government may, by order, exempt any company or class of companies from all or any of the provisions of this Act or make any modification in the application of the said provisions to any company or class of companies.

12. Penalty.—Any director, managing agent, manager or other officer or employee of a company who contravenes or attempts to contravene, or abets the contravention of or attempt to contravene, any of the provisions, relating to the distribution of dividends, or the issue of preference shares, contained in this Act or in any rule, notification or order issued thereunder, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

13. Repeal of Ordinance XXIX of 1948.—(1) The Public Companies (Limitation of Dividends) Ordinance, 1948 (XXIX of 1948), is hereby repealed.

(2) Notwithstanding such repeal, any rules made, action taken or thing done in exercise of any power conferred by or under the said Ordinance shall be deemed to have been made, taken or done in exercise of the powers conferred by or under this Act, as if this Act had come into force on the 29th day of October, 1948.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Public Companies (Limitation of Dividends) Ordinance, 1948, limiting the amount which may be distributed as dividend by public companies, was promulgated on the 29th October, 1948, as one of the measures to combat inflation, and increase the financial resources available for industrial development. The present Bill seeks to continue the provisions of the Ordinance for a further period, that is, until the 31st December, 1950.

2. The Bill is limited to public companies, and it provides that the amount distributed as dividend should be limited to the average annual amount distributed in cash during the two years ending 31st March, 1948, or six per cent. of the paid-up capital of the company, whichever is higher. In calculating the amount of the average dividend, allowance is to be made for any alterations in the paid-up capital. The rights of holders of existing preference shares are not to be affected, but the return on future issues of such shares is to be limited to six per cent.

AWARD.

By Government order No 90Lab., dated the 12th January 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act I gave notice to the parties and on 6th February 1948 the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour filed written statements on behalf of the employees of eight of the clubs excluding the Bengal Club As regards the employees of the Bengal Club the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour stated that he would not represent them as they had not approached him. An application was received from a Union styled as the Calcutta Lower Grade Employees Union stating, that it would represent the employees of the Bengal Club. No representative of the said Union, however, appeared in person before the Tribunal and no appearance was put in by any of the employees of the said club The Bengal Club had appeared before the Tribunal through Messrs Orr, Dignam & Co The position with regard to the employees of the Bengal Club thus is that there is no dispute put forward before me on their behalf. Hence my award, so far as the Bengal Club is concerned, is that there is no dispute between that club and its employees. The adjudication made by this award relates to disputes raised by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour on behalf of the employees of the remaining eight clubs and whenever in this award the clubs are referred to in general terms it should be understood that the reference is to the remaining eight clubs excluding the Bengal Club

One of these eight clubs, namely, the Calcutta Light Horse Club, converted itself into a Limited Company while the dispute was pending before the Tribunal This was brought to the notice of the Tribunal on 6th November 1948 and on 9th November 1948. Messrs Orr, Dignam & Co. who originally represented the Calcutta Light Horse Club wrote to the Tribunal that they no longer represented the said club since it had ceased to exist in consequence of its conversion into a Limited Company. It was also submitted that the proceedings could not be continued further against the Calcutta Light Horse Club. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour then stated that he would apply to the Government for amendment of the Order of reference. On 9th December 1948 he filed a copy of Government's reply to his application which was to the effect that the order of reference could not legally be amended. Subsequently on 28th December 1948 the Secretary of the Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., appeared before the Tribunal and stated that the club would like to have the disputes between it and its employees adjudicated upon by the Tribunal and would not raise any objection on the ground that the Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., was not a party to the reference. The club also authorised Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co. to represent it. The Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., was accordingly added as a party to the proceedings on 28th December 1948 with its consent and with the consent of the Secretary, Bengal National Chamber of Labour.

After the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour had filed written statements on behalf of the employees of the eight clubs excluding the Bengal Club the said clubs filed objections on 20th February 1948 questioning the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to adjudicate upon the disputes between them and their employees on the ground that the clubs are not industries within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act and that hence such disputes could not be deemed to be industrial disputes as defined in the said Act. These objections were heard on 5th March 1948 and I held that the clubs in question were industries, as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, and that the disputes in question were industrial disputes within the meaning of the said Act. Thereafter the clubs headed by the New Club, Ltd., filed Application No. 25 of 1948 in the High Court of Calcutta praying for a writ of prohibition prohibiting me from adjudicating upon these disputes. They also prayed for a writ of certiorari and for an order under section 45 of the Specific Relief Act. Pending the hearing of this application further proceedings were stayed in this case by the Order of the Hon'ble High Court. The said application was ultimately dismissed by the High Court on 24th September 1948 and it was held that the clubs were industries, as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, and that disputes between them and their workmen were industrial disputes which could be referred to for adjudication under the said Act. On 28th October 1948 fresh notices were issued to the clubs and to the Bengal National Chamber of Labour. Additional written statements were filed by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour on 15th November 1948. Seven of the clubs then filed written statements on different dates and issues were framed on 11th December 1948. The Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., which appeared thereafter filed written statement on 7th January 1949. The case was heard on various dates beginning from 28th December 1948 and the hearing was concluded on 22nd January 1949.

The nature of the disputes and the demands made by the Union will appear from the following issues:—

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.

The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour demanded in the original written statements filed on behalf of the employees of the clubs that the minimum pay of the unskilled workmen should be fixed at Rs. 40 per month, that of the semi-skilled workmen at Rs. 45 per month, that of the skilled workmen at Rs. 50 per month and that of the highly skilled workmen at Rs. 60 per month. He also demanded time scales and grades for them. All the employees of these clubs are monthly paid and there are no daily-rated employees in the clubs. For the clerical staff various grades were demanded starting with Rs. 80 and ending with Rs. 325 per month. He also mentioned in the written statement who should be considered unskilled, semi-skilled, skilled and highly skilled workmen. It was found, however, at the time of framing issues that since the clubs are not industrial undertakings it would not be proper to classify their employees into categories according to skill obtaining in industrial concerns. It was therefore agreed on both sides that it would be better to mention the various categories of employees by their designation and fix minimum pay scales and grades for them. All these clubs generally employ the same kinds of employees with the same designations, though according to the position, importance and strength of membership of the clubs, the numbers and categories of the employees differ from club to club. The categories of employees mentioned in issue No. 1 are generally exhaustive of the different classes of employees serving in these clubs.

Though issue No. 1 has been framed in general terms it was found at the time of hearing of the case that it would not be proper to fix the same kind of grade or the same basic pay for each category of employees in all the clubs. Some of these clubs are very prosperous and consequently they can afford to pay and do actually pay their employees at higher rates than the other clubs who have only a few employees and a small income. I am glad to say that the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour recognised these differences between the clubs and therefore did not accordingly on the scale offered, as set out in Appendices I and II.

With regard to the Dalhousie Athletic Club which employs only eleven men, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to dearness allowance being fixed for the subordinate staff consisting of ten men at Rs. 20 per month and for the clerk at Rs. 30 per month in consideration of the financial position and other circumstances of the club. The scale of dearness allowance for the employees of the Dalhousie Athletic Club is accordingly fixed at Rs. 30 per month for the clerk and at Rs. 20 per month for the others, as set out in Appendix III. With regard to the Outram Club which employs only fourteen men, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to dearness allowance being fixed at the rate of Rs. 25 per month for the sweepers by increasing the rate of subscription. Fo club with a membership strength of more than it should not be difficult to improve the finan position by such means. There can be no deny the fact that the present minimum scale of d ness allowance, namely, Rs. 26-8 per month very low and even less than what has been off by clubs like the Calcutta Light Horse Club, I and the Outram Club. The scale of dear allowance must therefore be raised and taking account all circumstances I think that the should pay the same dearness allowance as the Club. I accordingly fix the scale of dear allowance at Rs. 40 per month for those emplo of the club who are now getting Rs. 26-8 or than Rs. 40. Those who are getting more Rs. 40 will be unaffected by the award. The d ness allowance to be paid to each employee is out in detail in Appendix VII.

press that the same minimum pay and grade should be fixed for the same kind of employees in all the clubs without taking into account the financial position of the clubs. I accordingly took up and considered the cases of the employees of each of the clubs separately in order to decide what pay scales should be fixed for them. Both the parties agreed to this procedure and there was also a large amount of agreement between them with regard to the grades to be fixed for the employees of a particular category in a club and also with regard to the pay to be fixed for each individual employee of that club within the grade, considering the length of his service and other factors. The minimum pay and the grades as also the pay of each individual employee of the different clubs as fixed by me are mentioned in detail in the appendices to this award. Each employee of a club is mentioned by name in the said appendices and certain other particulars, e.g., his designation, length of service and his present pay, i.e., pay before the award, will also be found therein. It is not therefore necessary to mention here the minimum basic wages and grades fixed for the different categories of employees. The same will appear from the appendices which should be treated as part of this award.

As regards dearness allowance also the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed that the same scales of dearness allowance could not be demanded from all the clubs in view of the differences in their position and prosperity, though in the written statements he had demanded dearness allowance at the same scales from all the clubs. In the original written statement he had demanded that dearness allowance should be fixed from January 1947 at the rate of Rs. 45 per month for the subordinate staff and on the scale recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for the clerical staff. In the additional written statement, however, he demanded dearness allowance for all classes of employees on the scales recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The Saturday Club and the Calcutta Rangers Club which are two of the most prosperous clubs offered to pay dearness allowance to all their employees on the scale recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. This scale is 80 per cent. on the first Rs. 100, 40 per cent. on the second, Rs. 100 and 20 per cent. on the succeeding Rs. 100 subject to a minimum of Rs. 49 per month. The Saturday Club has already been paying dearness allowance at these rates. The Calcutta Rangers Club which had been paying dearness allowance at the rate of 30 per cent. of the basic pay, subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 and a maximum of Rs. 70, offered to pay dearness allowance on the scale recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce with effect from the 1st October 1948. This offer was accepted by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour. The dearness allowance for the employees of the Saturday Club and the Calcutta Rangers Club is fixed accordingly on the scale offered, as set out in Appendices I and II.

With regard to the Dalhousie Athletic Club which employs only eleven men, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to dearness allowance being fixed for the subordinate staff consisting of ten men at Rs. 20 per month and for the clerk at Rs. 30 per month in consideration of the financial position and other circumstances of the club. The scale of dearness allowance for the employees of the Dalhousie Athletic Club is accordingly fixed at Rs. 30 per month for the clerk and at Rs. 20 per month for the others, as set out in Appendix III. With regard to the Outram Club which employs only fourteen men, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to dearness allowance being fixed at the rate of Rs. 25 per month for the sweepers and at the rate of Rs. 30 per month for the other employees. I accordingly fix the scale of dearness allowance for the sweepers of the club at Rs. 25 per month and for the rest at Rs. 30 per month, as set out in Appendix V. The Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., which employs only twenty-five men offered to pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 25 per month to the four sweepers and at the rate of Rs. 30 per month to the other employees. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour did not fully agree to this, but I find no reason why the Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., should be treated differently from the Outram Club. This club is in a bad financial position at present having run into debts and I think that it is not in a position to pay more dearness allowance than what it has offered. I accordingly fix the scale of dearness allowance for the sweepers of this club at Rs. 25 per month and for the rest at Rs. 30 per month, as set out in Appendix IV.

The New Club which employs forty-four employees offered to pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 40 per month to its subordinate staff. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour demanded dearness allowance for the employees of this club at the rate of Rs. 49. There can, however, be no comparison between the position of this club and that of the clubs which have offered to pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 49. In my opinion, the scale of dearness allowance offered by the New Club to its subordinate staff at the rate of Rs. 40 per month is quite reasonable and appropriate and I fix the scale of dearness allowance for them accordingly. For the clerical staff of this club the scales of dearness allowance are fixed as set out in Appendix VI.

The Three Hundred Club, Ltd., which employs eighty-eight employees, pays dearness allowance at the minimum scale of Rs. 26-8 per month. In this case also the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour demanded dearness allowance on the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale. This club cannot, however, be treated on the same footing as the Calcutta Rangers Club or the Saturday Club and I cannot agree that it should pay dearness allowance on the same scale as those clubs. The club has filed its statement of accounts for the year ended 31st March 1947, which shows that it sustained loss in that year amounting to Rs. 30,500. This was, however, due to certain exceptional circumstances, as was explained in a note circulated by the President of the club along with the statement of accounts. The statement of accounts for the year ended 31st of March 1948 has not been filed and it is not known what its financial position has been in that year. The club has a membership of more than 450. It has been argued by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour that a club depends upon the subscriptions of its members for its finances and that it can always improve the financial position by increasing the rate of subscription. For a club with a membership strength of more than 450 it should not be difficult to improve the financial position by such means. There can be no denying the fact that the present minimum scale of dearness allowance, namely, Rs. 26-8 per month very low and even less than what has been offered by clubs like the Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., and the Outram Club. The scale of dearness allowance must therefore be raised and taking into account all circumstances I think that the club should pay the same dearness allowance as the Outram Club. I accordingly fix the scale of dearness allowance at Rs. 40 per month for those employees of the club who are now getting Rs. 26-8 or more than Rs. 40. Those who are getting more than Rs. 40 will be unaffected by the award. The dearness allowance to be paid to each employee is set out in detail in Appendix VII.

Now there remains only the case of the Calcutta Swimming Club. This club employs more than 100 employees. So far as the clerical and the superior staff of this club is concerned, the rates of dearness allowance along with the scale of pay have been agreed to by both the parties and a signed agreement has been filed the details of which will appear from Appendix VIII. To the subordinate staff the club offered to pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 33 per month increasing the previous rate by Rs. 3. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour demanded dearness allowance for the subordinate staff at the rate of Rs. 49 per month. The authorities of the Calcutta Swimming Club submitted that the subordinate staff had agreed to this scale of dearness allowance. They did not, however, say that the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour who alone is authorised to represent the employees had ever agreed to this. There is no proof that the subordinate staff had really agreed to accept dearness allowance at this rate and the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour filed a statement purporting to be signed by several employees who denied that they had come to any agreement. It appears that a certain amount of money had accumulated in the hands of the club authorities on account of what is called bottle-money or sale proceeds of bottles and that the club authorities had distributed a portion of it among the employees and were prepared to distribute the remaining portion on condition that the employees agreed to dearness allowance at Rs. 33 per month. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour said that the employees were under the impression that the amount of accumulated bottle-money would be equivalent to four months' wages of the employees and that in the event of such payment being guaranteed they were willing at one stage to agree to the proposed rate of dearness allowance. The club authorities, however, cannot guarantee that the bottle-money would be equivalent to four months' or even three months' wages. They have offered to distribute bottle-money from time to time at their discretion and also make other ex gratia payments without any guarantee as to the amount provided the rate of dearness allowance is agreed to. To this the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour was unable to agree. He demanded dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 49 per month and said that if this scale was fixed the employees would be prepared to forego the claim to the bottle-money. It is undeniable that the scale of dearness allowance offered by the club is rather low in comparison with the scales of dearness allowance offered by other clubs of similar position. It appears, however, that the club is at present not in a sound financial position, because in the year 1947, for which the balance-sheet has been filed, it sustained a loss amounting to Rs. 17,269. Taking this loss into account I think that the scale of dearness allowance so far as this club is concerned should be fixed at a lower figure than Rs. 49 and I fix it at Rs. 40 per month as in the case of the New Club. This will be the scale of dearness allowance for the subordinate staff, as set out in Appendix VIII. The Appendices I—VIII contain names of all the employees of these clubs as supplied to me, but if it should turn out that the name of any employee has been left out, the club concerned should give him a pay and grade suitable to his post as compared to the pay and grade of an employee of similar position.

Issue No. 3.—Extra allowances.

Extra allowances have been demanded for the employees of the Three Hundred Club on the ground that they have to work till late hours at night and for some of the employees of the Calcutta Swimming Club on the ground that they have to run a great distance in order to serve the members. The authorities of the Three Hundred Club stated that apart from one hour's duty in the afternoon by rotation the general hours of duty for the staff are from 8-30 p.m. to 2 a.m. on week days and to 3 or 4 a.m. on week-ends. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour stated that the employees have to stay for the whole night but this does not appear to be correct. The hours of duty do not appear to be unusual considering that the employees have to work in a club the activities of which are confined to night. As will appear later, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to hours of duty for the subordinate staff being fixed at ten hours per day in all the clubs. According to club authorities, overtime is paid to the staff for any duty in the afternoon or evening before 9 p.m. apart from the hours of duty mentioned above. I cannot agree that any extra remuneration is necessary for the employees of this club because they have to work at night, since this is a term of their employment. The claim for extra allowance for the employees of the Three Hundred Club is therefore rejected. As regards the Calcutta Swimming Club, it appears that the employees have to walk over a pavement about 65 yards long in order to serve the members from the kitchen. This cannot be said to involve such hard work as to merit special allowance. I am not satisfied therefore that the employees of this club are entitled to any special allowance on this ground. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 4.—Housing and house-rent allowance.

The demand under this issue is that decent quarters should be provided for the employees of the clubs according to the Bombay Plan and that in lieu thereof house-rent allowance should be paid at the rate of 10 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 10. Accommodation is generally provided by the clubs for some of the employees and in some cases for most of them. The authorities of the clubs pleaded their inability to guarantee accommodation for all and also objected to payment of house-rent allowance. They say that after the increments of pay and dearness allowance which they have offered they are unable to bear any further burden. In the circumstances I do not think it reasonable to provide for any separate house rent allowance for the employees. They must provide for their housing accommodation themselves out of the pay fixed for them and it has not been shown that they are unable to provide such accommodation within their means. The claim is accordingly rejected. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour also complained about the nature of housing accommodation provided by some of the clubs and particularly mentioned the Saturday Club the employees of which are made to sleep on hammocks. This is a matter which may best be left to the authorities of the clubs and it is recommended that they should try to improve the conditions of living of the employees accommodated by them.

Issue No. 5.—Bonus and other benefits.

Bonus has been demanded under various heads. It is first of all demanded on the ground that during the years of war the clubs had been very prosperous but had not paid adequately to the employees. The demand accordingly is that the clubs should pay three months' wages to all employees as compensatory allowance for the war years. It is next demanded that bonus and such amounts as Christmas buckshis and bottle-buckshis or bottle-money which are customarily paid to the employees should continue to be paid to them. So far as bonus by way of compensation for war years is concerned, there is nothing to show that the clubs made any unusual or huge profits during the years of war. It is also doubtful whether such a claim can be deemed to be an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Engineering Industries Tribunal rejected such a claim holding that the claim for bonus for past years cannot be a subject-matter for an industrial dispute. The claim is accordingly rejected.

The practice with regard to bonus and buckshis is not uniform in all the clubs. Some of the clubs make collections from the members during Christmas and distribute the same among the workers by way of buckshis. Some clubs distribute a portion of the money realised from sale of bottles or the whole of it among the employees and this is known as bottle-money or bottle-buckshis. All these payments are ex gratia and the employees of some of the clubs have been in the enjoyment of the same for a long time. Some of the clubs have also paid bonus in the past, e.g., the Calcutta Swimming Club, the Outram Club and the Calcutta Rangers Club. The question raised by this issue cannot therefore be decided in general terms and it will be better to take up the case of each club separately in order to see what its practice has been in the past.

I will start with the clubs having the smallest number of employees. So far as the Dalhousie Athletic Club is concerned, no question of bonus or of any payment by way of buckshis arises, as it has not been stated that this club did in the past pay any bonus or any such buckshis. The claim for bonus and buckshis with regard to the Dalhousie Athletic Club is therefore rejected.

The Outram Club pays one month's wages as bonus every year and the authorities of the club agreed to continue this payment. I therefore direct that the Outram Club should pay bonus equivalent to one month's pay to all the employees every year as before.

The Calcutta Rangers Club at present pays one month's wages to the employees as bonus every year. The club also distributes Christmas collections and 40 per cent. of the money realised from sale of bottles among the employees. The club is agreeable to continue these payments in the future. I direct accordingly that the Calcutta Rangers Club should pay one month's wages to the employees as bonus every year and should also distribute Christmas collections and 40 per cent. of the bottle-money among them.

As already stated, the Calcutta Swimming Club offered to pay annual bonus, Christmas buckshis and bottle-money to the employees, provided the employees agreed to dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 33 per month, but the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour did not agree to it. He pressed for dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 49 and stated that if dearness allowance was fixed at that rate, he would not claim any Christmas buckshis or bottle-money. He did not, however, forego the claim for bonus but demanded that since the club had paid bonus in the past it should continue to pay bonus for the future. The other clubs who had paid bonus in the past have agreed to continue such payment, as I have already stated. I think that the Calcutta Swimming Club also cannot do otherwise, even though the scale of dearness allowance has been fixed at a rate higher than what the club offered. The employees cannot be deprived on that ground of the benefit of bonus which they have been enjoying for a long time past. I direct accordingly that the Calcutta Swimming Club should continue to pay bonus to its employees at the rate of one month's wages as in the past. As to Christmas buckshis this is not paid by the club out of its own funds but is paid out of collections made from the members and there is no reason why the club should cease to make such collections for the benefit of its employees because they are going to be paid dearness allowance at a higher rate. I direct therefore that the employees should also get Christmas buckshis out of the collections that may be made by the club. As regards bottle-money, I leave the matter to the discretion of the club without giving any binding award on the grounds mentioned in the next paragraph.

The other clubs have not been paying any bonus and it was submitted on their behalf that none of them was prepared to pay any bonus for the future. Obviously no direction can be given for bonus for the future as no bonus was paid in the past by these clubs. The clubs are, however, prepared to pay Christmas collections without any guarantee of the amount. The clubs which had been paying bottle-money in the past are not willing to do so in the future because the pay scales and the scales of dearness allowance of the employees have been substantially raised by this award. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour submitted that the payment of bottle-money was an existing privilege which should not be withdrawn by the clubs. The empty bottles which are sold are the property of the clubs and because in the past some of the clubs used to distribute at their discretion a portion of the sale proceeds thereof among the employees by way of buckshis, I do not think that the employees can, as a matter of right, claim this money as an existing privilege enjoyed by virtue of their employment. The clubs cannot therefore be compelled to distribute the whole or a part of this money among the employees and I cannot make any binding award on the point. I direct therefore that the remaining clubs should distribute only the Christmas collections that may be made by them among the employees. As regards bonus and the bottle-money I leave the matter to their discretion.

Issue No. 6.—Liveries and uniforms.

All the clubs do as a matter of fact supply liveries and uniforms to the employees and it has been submitted on their behalf that they are very much interested in seeing their employees properly dressed. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour did not deny that the employees get liveries and uniforms, but he demanded that some more items, as enumerated in the written statement, should be provided for them. I suggested to him that the best course would be to leave the entire matter to the authorities of the clubs and to this he agreed. The authorities of the clubs are therefore requested to look into this matter and set right any genuine grievance that the employees may have regarding their liveries. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour demanded shoes as part of the livery, specially for the employees of the Calcutta Swimming Club. He stated that the latter had to walk barefooted on an uncovered pavement in order to serve the members and that in the hot season it hurt their feet. The Secretary of the Calcutta Swimming Club stated that the club had provided rubberised mats on the pavement on which the members also walked barefooted. It is denied by the Secretary that walking on the pavement hurts the feet. When an employee does actually hurt or blister his feet the club allows him to wear shoes. The Secretary of the club stated that he had no objection to an employee wearing shoes when he actually needed it for the protection of his feet. The demand that the authorities of the clubs should provide shoes as part of the livery is obviously unreasonable and is rejected. As regards the Calcutta Swimming Club, what the Secretary of the club has stated is sufficient to dispose of the objections raised.

Issue No. 7.—Provident Fund.

All the clubs have started Provident Funds for their employees excepting the Calcuta Light Horse Club, Ltd., the Dalhousie Athletic Club and the Outram Club. The Calcutta Swimming Club pays 8¼ per cent. as its contribution and the Calcutta Rangers Club has agreed to pay 9⅜ per cent. All the other clubs who have started Provident Funds pay contribution at the rate of 6¼ per cent. I think that the rate 6¼ per cent. is a fair rate of contribution and I find no reason to revise it. The Calcutta Swimming Club should, however, pay contribution at the rate of 8¼ per cent. and the Calcutta Rangers Club at the rate of 9⅜ per cent. It is not demanded by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour that the Dalhousie Athletic Club, the Calcutta Light Horse Club, Ltd., and the Outram Club should introduce Provident Funds and in view of the very small number of employees employed by them, it would not be appropriate to ask them to do so. He, however, wanted that some system of gratuity should be introduced by these clubs. Considering the financial position of these clubs and the fact that the pay scales and the scales of dearness allowance of their employees have been substantially raised, I feel that I should not for the present be justified in asking these clubs to introduce schemes of gratuity. I leave the matter to the discretion of the clubs and hope that the clubs will be prepared to consider favourably any application for gratuity that may be made by an employee at the time of retiring after long service.

Issue No. 8.

(a) Permanency.—The Bengal National Chamber of Labour has demanded that an employee should be made permanent after six months' service. This was agreed to by the clubs and this is provided in the draft Standing Orders filed by some of the clubs which are set out in Appendix IX.

(b) Security of service and employees' conduct rules.—The draft Standing Orders mentioned above contain rules for security of service and for guidance of the conduct of the employees. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour agreed to the said Standing Orders after certain modifications. I have accepted the said standing orders which are fully set out in Appendix IX and should be treated as part of the award. I direct that these standing orders should apply to all the clubs and their employees and that the clubs should strictly observe them. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour complained of favouritism and discrimination against employees on the part of the authorities of the Calcutta Rangers Club. The club authorities did not admit it and gave an undertaking that in future no discrimination should be made by them between Indian and Anglo-Indian employees in matters of appointment, promotion, etc. It is expected that in all such matters the authorities of the clubs should be guided by considerations of merit and efficiency alone.

(d) Leave and holidays.—The conditions of leave differ in the different clubs and it will be better to consider the case of each club separately. As regards holidays the demand was not pressed as it was recognised by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour that the clubs must remain open and function on holidays. The employees of the clubs cannot therefore expect to enjoy holidays, but as compensation therefor all the clubs have agreed to provide for casual leave with pay for them. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour had demanded thirty days' privilege leave and fifteen days' casual leave with pay for the employees of all clubs together with fifteen days' sick leave on full pay, but at the time of hearing he recognised that the conditions of the clubs differed and that there should not be the same rule for all of them.

The Outram Club offered to grant one month's privilege leave and seven days' casual leave with full pay to its employees and this was agreed to by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour. I direct accordingly that the employees of the Outram Club will get one month's privilege leave and seven days' casual leave in a year with full pay.

The Calcutta Rangers Club offered fifteen days' privilege leave on full pay to its employees who have put in up to five years' service and one month's privilege leave on full pay to those who have put in more than five years' service. This was agreed to by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour. I direct accordingly that the employees of the Calcutta Rangers Club will get leave as mentioned above. The leave may be accumulated for two years. The club also offered casual leave on full pay to all its employees for ten days in a year. The employees of this club will therefore get such casual leave which should not, however, be joined with any other kind of leave.

The Calcutta Swimming Club and the Saturday Club offered to grant twenty days' privilege leave with full pay to their employees together with casual leave for ten days with full pay. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour also agreed to the same. I direct accordingly that the employees of the above two clubs will get twenty days' privilege leave and ten days' casual leave with full pay in a year.

The remaining clubs, namely, the Dalhousie Athletic Club, the Three Hundred Club, the New Club and the Calcutta Light Horse Club, offered fifteen days' privilege leave and ten days' casual leave with full pay to their employees. For these clubs I direct that the employees will get fifteen days' privilege leave and ten days' casual leave on full pay.

As regards Sick Leave I direct that all the clubs should provide for sick leave on half pay for fifteen days for their employees who may be genuinely sick on production of medical certificates from the doctors provided by the clubs or from other registered medical practitioners. Some of the clubs do as a matter of fact allow sick leave on full pay in suitable cases where the employees are treated by their doctors. Such clubs have no intention of abolishing this system and where such a system obtains this will not be affected by the above provision made for sick leave on half pay. Thus the Calcutta Rangers Club grants sick leave on full pay for fifteen days and on half pay for another fifteen days to an employee certified as sick by its medical officer and the Calcutta Swimming Club grants sick leave on full pay for thirty days. Such provisions will not be affected by this award to the detriment of the employees.

The clerical employees of all the clubs will have one month's privilege leave and ten days' casual leave on full pay. The provisions made above for privilege leave and casual leave for less than those periods will apply to the employees other than the clerical staff.

(e) Hours of duty and overtime.—These have been provided for in the Standing Orders set out in Appendix IX. The hours of duty for the employees of the clubs other than the clerical staff will be ten hours as set out therein. For the clerical staff the hours of duty should be as at present. For overtime work all the clubs have agreed to pay at the rate of 1½ of the pay calculated per hour as set out in the Standing Orders.

Issue No. 9.

It was demanded by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour that the award in this case should have retrospective operation in view of the fact that the case has been pending before the Tribunal for more than a year. In the written statement he had demanded that the award should be given retrospective effect from 1st January 1947. As stated in the beginning of the award this case has been pending for such a long time because it had been stayed by order of the High Court. I recognise that the employees had to suffer for this delay and I sympathise with them, but under the law I do not think that I am competent to direct that the award should have retrospective operation. Under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act it is for the Government to direct when an award shall come into operation and for what period it shall be in operation. The Tribunal can at best make a recommendation to the Government as to from which date the award should, in its opinion, be brought into operation, but under the law it is for the Government and not for the Tribunal to fix the date. The demand in the written statement that the award should be given retrospective effect from 1st January 1947 is an impossible demand going beyond the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act. Under section 19(3) an award can remain in operation only for a period not exceeding one year and so it is obviously impossible to declare an award made in February 1949 retrospective in operation from January 1947. At the most an award can be declared retrospective in operation for a few days or months from the date on which it is made.

The Calcutta Rangers Club has agreed to give effect to the scales of pay and dearness allowance offered by it from 1st October 1948. The Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour has also agreed to this date. I recommend therefore that so far as the Calcutta Rangers Club is concerned the award shall come into operation from 1st October 1948 and remain in operation for one year from that date.

The Calcutta Swimming Club has agreed that the pay scales and the scales of dearness allowance offered by it to its clerical staff shall become effective from 1st January 1949. The club had also made the same offer with regard to the subordinate staff but, as already stated, the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour did not agree to the dearness allowance proposed for the subordinate staff and so there was no agreement regarding the subordinate staff between the parties. But since the club has agreed that the scales of pay and dearness allowance of the clerical staff will be effective from 1st January 1949 I think that there should be no discrimination against the subordinate staff simply because the club's offer of dearness allowance has not been accepted by them and I recommend that the award so far as the Calcutta Swimming Club is concerned shall come into operation from 1st January 1949 and remain in operation for one year from that date.

There was no offer made by the remaining clubs regarding the date from which the scales of pay and dearness allowance fixed for their employees should be effective and it was pleaded on their behalf that it would be hard for them, if the award was given retrospective effect in their case, but as some compensation for the distress of their employees due to the delay in disposing of the case for which they were in no way responsible, I recommend that the award in respect of the remaining clubs should also take effect from 1st January 1949 and remain in operation for one year from that date.

Issue No. 10.

This issue was amicably settled between the authorities of the Calcutta Rangers Club and the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour and so it was not pressed at the time of hearing.

*The Secretary of the club states that the Committee is considering giving them (Nos. 13 and 14) a higher grade as they have reached the maximum of the present grade. I hope that the club will give them a higher grade.

It is stated by the Secretary of the Bengal National Chamber of Labour that Mrs. Paul is also the Personal Assistant of the Secretary and he demands that she should be given a higher grade or allowance on that account. The club states that it is part of her duty and that she is not entitled to any extra payment. I do not find any reason why she should get any extra allowance.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4147Lab., dated the 17th November 1948, this industrial dispute between the Eastern Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Titagarh, 24-Parganas, under the Managing Agency of Messrs. McLeod and Co., and their workmen represented by the Eastern Manufacturing Co. Employees' Union, Titagarh, has been referred to me as a Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The Company manufactures jute yarn, jute twist, jute webbing, jute carpet and jute sashcord and employs a little over 900 workmen in the different sections of the factory. Many of the processes of manufacture are practically the same as those in a usual jute mill particularly with regard to the manufacture of jute yarn and jute twist. In this mill however, the manufacture of jute webbing and jute sashcord is a speciality. The width of the webbing cloth manufactured is up to 54 inches and the looms used are smaller than the hessian or sacking jute looms used in a standard jute mill. The manufacture of jute carpet is also a sort of speciality. Besides these, sashcord, which is not usually manufactured in a jute mill, is manufactured on special sashcord machines in this mill. This mill is not exactly equivalent to a jute mill but in view of the fact that several occupations are comparable to corresponding occupations in a standard jute mill, the Company agreed in course of the negotiations which were started for the settlement of the industrial dispute which arose some time ago, to adopt the decisions of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal in its Award, dated the 31st August 1948, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette by the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3443Lab., dated the 20th September 1948, as far as such decisions were applicable to the workmen of the mill having jobs and tasks comparable with those prevailing in a standard jute mill. Eventually, this industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. It appears that there was a good deal of controversy as regards the nomenclature of the different occupations particularly with regard to sardars and head sardars. The contention raised on behalf of the workers was that several workers were known as head sardars in the Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill, and they should be given the scales of wages applicable to head sardars of a jute mill as per the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. The Company's case with regard to this aspect of the question has been that the jobs and tasks of sardar in the present mill are in no way comparable with those of head sardars or even perhaps line sardars in a standard size jute mill, and therefore, the sardars in the present mill cannot be placed, as regards the scales of wages, on the same footing as sardars or head sardars in a standard jute mill. The Union's case further is that although the industry pursued in the present mill may be said to belong to the Jute Textile group, it involves a distinctly different type of work, and the occupations pursued require more skill and more attention and involves greater strain than those in a standard jute mill producing hessian or sacking cloth. The Company, on the other hand, repudiates the idea that the work in the present mill involves greater skill or attention or strain. The Company's contention is that this is a comparatively small mill and the set up of the organisation of the different machines is somewhat different in many respects from that of an ordinary jute mill, and therefore, for the sake of convenience and economy of labour and time combination of functions should be permissible in this mill, and the wages corresponding to the different occupations should be ascertained on their own merits. The Company, however, is agreeable to adopt the decisions of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal as per its recent Award, as far as practicable, and the Company's case is that it has already started giving effect to many of the Tribunal's decisions with effect from 20th September 1948, the date of publication of the Jute Textile Award. On the statements submitted by the parties and in the light of the discussions with reference to the statements, the following issues have been framed:—

1. Nomenclature of workmen.
2. Fixation of wages for manual workmen.
3. Minimum basic wages and grades for clerks.
4. Dearness allowance.
5. Bonus.
6. Recognition of Eastern Manufacturing Co. Employees' Union.
7. Payment for period of involuntary unemployment.
8. Procedure for retrenchment.
9. Night allowance.
10. Standing Orders and Rules of service.
11. Provident Fund and Gratuity.
12. Rules of leave and holidays.
13. Housing and house allowance.
14. Medical facilities.
15. Cheap canteen.
16. Rest shelter.
17. Provision of creches.
18. Arrangements for educational facilities for adult workers and their children.
19. Improvement of working conditions and sanitary arrangements and provision against occupational diseases.
20. Free supply of uniforms for durwans and drivers.
21. Revision of working hours.
22. Retrospective operation of the award.

2. It will appear from the list of issues framed that they are mostly based on the scheme of issues adopted by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. In view of the history of the dispute and the attitude of both parties with regard to the decisions incorporated in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award published on the 20th September 1948, copious references were made to that Award in course of the discussions in respect of each of the issues in the present case. For the clarification of several points which arose in course of the discussions, I visited the factory twice, and in that connection I also visited the Kelvin and Empire Jute Mills at Titagarh and the maternity clinic attached to those mills. Apart from seeing for myself the state of things in the particular mill with which we are concerned, with reference to the different processes of manufacture, the housing conditions and other factors, I also visited the common dispensary located in the premises of the Britannia Engineering Co., close to the Eastern Manufacturing Co.'s factory. I have found that many of the initial processes of manufacture in this Eastern Manufacturing Co.'s mill are more or less the same as one would find in an ordinary jute mill. The plain and coloured tapes and the jute carpets which are manufactured in this mill are of course not usually manufactured in a standard jute mill. The same observation applies to the manufacture of sashcords. The evaluation of these special tasks and occupations is indeed to be judged on their merits. But I find it convenient to arrive at a decision by co-ordinating the nature of these tasks with similar or corresponding tasks in a jute mill. A weaver in this mill, for instance, looks after two looms simultaneously, as against one loom to be looked after by a weaver in a jute mill. I have found that this is quite practicable in view of the position that the width of the webbing cloth manufactured in this mill is much narrower than that of the hessian or sacking cloth manufactured in a jute mill. The looms in this mill are correspondingly narrower. I have not got the impression that the work in this mill must necessarily be considered to be more responsible or must be held to involve greater skill or attention or strain than that in a standard jute mill. In my view each occupation must be examined from its own point of view with reference to a similar or corresponding occupation in a jute mill and the wage value of the occupation should be judged after giving consideration to all the factors involved. It is not possible to make a sweeping observation applicable to all the occupations on the whole. In coming to a decision as regards the scales of wages and other points in dispute, I have felt it to be very useful to bear in mind the decisions in respect of the different issues in the recent Award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, and in giving my decisions in the present case, I shall necessarily make copious references to the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. It may be noted here that both the parties in course of the discussions before this Tribunal also made constant references to that Award. The Union, on behalf of the workers, pressed the point that the demand of the workers was to have the scales of wages and other amenities fixed at a level even higher than that allowed in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. I have felt, however, that in most cases the level decided upon by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal should be adopted for our present purposes, and the manufacturing concern with which we are dealing in the present case being largely allied to a jute mill, it is desirable that the decisions in the present Award should be more or less on a par with the decisions and directions given in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award as far as practicable. It seems to me that this mill is not unreasonably considered to be equivalent to a small jute mill, to all intents and purposes. The tendency of both parties has been to compare this mill with a jute mill whenever such a comparison has been feasible. There are several jute mills situated in the area where the present mill is located, and whatever is decided upon in respect of a jute mill is likely to have repercussions in the Eastern Manufacturing Co.'s Mill, and vice versa. It is of the utmost importance, therefore, that the level of decisions and directions in the Award which I am going to give in the present case should be more or less on a par with those involved in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award as far as practicable, so that the working population in the locality may realise that the workers of mills of a similar character are being treated for practical purposes in the same way. With regard to issues which were decided by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, I shall refrain from incorporating any elaborate reasoning in my present Award, and shall content myself by giving references to the reasoning pursued in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. It will be seen in course of my award in the present case that I have thought fit to adopt in this Award most of the decisions which were arrived at by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. I now proceed to discuss and decide the issues one by one.

Issue No. 1.

3. Issue No. 1 relates to the subject of nomenclature of workmen. The nomenclature of occupations in this mill should have similarity in many respects with that in a standard jute mill as per Appendix IV on page 135 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, dated the 31st August 1948, published in the Calcutta Gazette by Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3443Lab., dated the 20th September 1948. The nomenclature, however, cannot be exactly the same, and in view of the small size of this mill and of the existence of certain peculiar occupations, there must be some points of difference. The Company filed before me a preliminary list of nomenclature of occupations. This was thoroughly discussed in the presence of the Union's representatives, and I had occasion to examine the various occupations on the spot during my inspection of the mill. In connection with the subject of determining the nomenclature, the Union brought to my notice the cases of several individual workers claiming that the nomenclature in respect of each of these workers should be different from what has been actually given to him by the Company. Two lists of 20 and 6 workers respectively were filed by the President of the Union in this connection. It appears that two names, namely, those of one Sri Ram Upadhyay and one Makai are common to both the lists. The nature of the claim put forward by the Union with regard to these lists of individual workers is more or less on the footing that the nomenclature in respect of the particular worker should be that of a higher job than the job which has been actually assigned to him by the Company. For instance, some workers who are at present being called line sardars should, according to the Union, be styled as head sardars, or some worker who is at present being called a cooly should be styled as line sardar or some one who is being called a first dyer should be called a head dyeing sardar, and so on and so forth. I considered it necessary to go into the details of each of these individual cases placed before me in the nature of a complaint regarding unreasonable confusion of nomenclature, and I heard both parties in the court room and also at the factory in the light of what I personally observed on the spot with regard to the functions discharged by the different individuals. In the light of the discussions and of my personal observation, I have thought fit to make certain alterations in the list of nomenclature which was originally submitted by the Company. It is necessary, for a proper comprehension of the points raised by the Union, to discuss in brief the points of view put forward by the Union and by the Company respectively with regard to some of the important cases which have been brought to my notice. I propose to settle the final shape of the nomenclature of workmen in the light of my decisions with regard to these individual cases bearing on the question of nomenclature, and of the results of my personal observation regarding the working of the different processes in the factory. It is urged by the Union that two workers named Sarojit and Ram Chandra who are line sardars in the "A" and "B" shifts of the Batching Department should be called head sardars inasmuch as, it is claimed, each of them has to look after the work not only of the Batching Department but also of the Preparing Department as a whole, and has to supervise the work of the drawing line sardar in the Preparing Department in particular. On the side of the Company it has been conceded that the line sardar of the Batching Department (i.e., Sarojit or Ram Chandra) has to supervise not only the whole of the Batching Department but also the work of the dollop weighmen, breaker feeders, breaker receivers, finisher feeders and finisher receivers who appertain to the Preparing Department. The Company, however, contends that the line sardar is not required to supervise the work of the drawing line sardar who, on his part, looks after the drawing machines in the Preparing Department. The Company's contention is that although the jurisdiction of the line sardar of the Batching Department extends up to the finisher receivers in the Preparing Department, it is not true that the line sardar exercises any supervision over the rest of the Preparing Department, or that he supervises the work of the drawing line sardar or any other sardar. It is, therefore, argued by the Company that there is no reason for giving the name and style of head sardar to the line sardar of the Batching Department. From the entries in a fine Register Book which was brought to my notice by the Union it appears that Sarojit was at one time styled as a head sardar in the Batching Department. From this it is contended on behalf of the Union that Sarojit or Ram Chandra should continue to be styled as a head sardar of a combined Batching and Preparing Department. Here we must pause to consider the facts as they are at the moment, and weigh the tasks and functions of the line sardar, and come to a decision as to whether he is equivalent to a head sardar of a combined Batching and Preparing Department, or in other words whether he corresponds to a head preparing sardar of a jute mill. It has to be borne in mind that the Eastern Manufacturing Co.'s mill is a small mill, and the entire list of occupational nomenclature as shown in Appendix

IV on page 135 of Jute Textile Industry Award may not necessarily be applicable to this particular mill. It has to be noted that there are even jute mills where all the occupations, particularly those of head sardars, as shown in the Jute Textile Industry Award do not exist, for the mere reason that small or medium size jute mills do not require head sardars in all departments and cannot always afford to keep them. A worker might have been called at one time a head sardar in this small mill; but when the occupational nomenclature and scales of wages in this mill are going to be co-ordinated with those applicable to a jute mill, one should be able to appreciate the position that a former head sardar in this small mill may not be equivalent to even a line sardar in a jute mill of good size, not to speak of a head sardar of a jute mill. It is possible that previously the line sardar of the Batching Department also used to look after the drawing machines in the Preparing Department to some extent. The management, however, claims to have arranged that at present the line sardar of the Batching Department is not required to look after the drawing machines, which are being supervised by supervisors, apart from the position that the drawing line sardar is there to look after the drawing machines in the first instance. So the position is that a line sardar of the Batching Department has to look after some machines of the Preparing Department, up to the finisher receivers, but has nothing to do with the rest of the Preparing Department, and has no other sardar under him. There is no particular reason, therefore, why the line sardar of the Batching Department should be styled as a head sardar, merely for the purpose of attracting much higher wages of a head sardar in a jute mill. It appears that the line sardar in our case has to look after only six machines whereas in a jute mill a line sardar has ordinarily to look after ten or eleven machines, and of course a head sardar has a wider jurisdiction. Taking all the facts and circumstances into consideration I come to the conclusion that neither Sarojit nor Ram Chandra should be styled as head sardar, and the nomenclature of line sardar is quite appropriate for them. As dollop weighmen, breaker feeders, breaker receivers, finisher feeders and finisher receivers in the Preparing Department have to work under the supervision of the line sardar of the Batching Department, it is only proper that these occupations appertaining to the Preparing Department should come with all the occupations in the Batching Department, and all these occupations should be classified under what I have decided to call the Batching-Preparing Department. The Preparing Department should commence with the drawing line sardar. We next come to the cases of Mahabir, Mahadeo and Hari who are line sardars in the "A", "B" and "C" shifts respectively in the Spinning Department. It is claimed by the Union that each of these line sardars should be styled a head sardar because he exercises control over the shifter sardar and the rollerman in the same department, and over the twisting line sardar. The Company denies that the spinning line sardar exercises any control over the twisting line sardar and I have found in course of my inspection of the mill that the Company's version in this respect is correct. The only sardar over whom the spinning line sardar exercises some control is the shifter sardar who appertains to the Spinning Department. Mahadeo stated before me that he exercised control over only two shifter sardars and one rollerman. Merely because the spinning line sardar is in a superior position with reference to shifter sardars, it does not follow that the spinning line sardar must necessarily be called a head sardar, when we remember that the expression head sardar, for our present purposes must correspond to a head sardar in a jute mill. I am satisfied from what I have heard and seen that the spinning line sardar in this mill does not correspond to a head sardar in a jute mill, and it will be sufficient for our present purposes to continue to call him a line sardar, but of course he should be paid higher wages than those of a shifter sardar or any other worker in the Spinning Department. The next cases for consideration are those of Dhruba and Gopi who are beaming sardars in "A" and "B" shifts respectively. The Union's claim is that they should be called beaming head sardars. It appears that the "A" shift sardar looks after only four beaming machines, and the "B" shift sardar looks after only two beaming machines as against 15 or 16 beaming machines in a normal jute mill. It is clear, therefore, that there is no reason for calling these sardars head sardars, as their functions fall far short of the functions of even beaming sardars not to speak of beaming head sardars in a jute mill. In my opinion these line sardars should continue to be styled as such. We next come to the case of Kumar who is first dyer. The Union's claim curiously is that he should be called a dyer head sardar. I have personally inspected the work of the Dyeing Department and have talked to the first dyer who appears to be doing some odd jobs of a cooly in addition to his work as a first dyer. There is of course no objection to a combination of functions in a single worker, if that worker cannot be engaged for his whole time in one job. A combination of functions should be permissible particularly in a small factory like this provided that no undue strain is imposed in any way on any worker, and he is not required to work longer than the prescribed working hours. There is no sardar working under the first dyer, and I do not see any reason for calling him either a sardar or a head sardar. In my view the nomenclature of first dyer should continue, though he is engaged for supervising the work of the other dyers. Then comes the case of one Gora Chand, who is a sardar of coolies outside the factory proper. The Union claims that he should be called a head sardar. I have seen the man and understood the nature of the work and I do not see any reason for styling him a head sardar. I next come to the case of Bhulai who is a line sardar in the Packing and Despatching Department. In fact he is the webbing packing sardar. I have seen during my inspection of the factory that the functions of the webbing packing sardar are quite distinct from and independent of the functions of the sardar who supervises the loading and despatching and of another sardar who supervises the spool-packing. I have found that Bhulai does not control in any way the work of any other sardar in the department. There is therefore no reason for styling him a head sardar as claimed by the Union. Then comes the case of one Ram Das who is called a cop godown cooly. The Union claims that he should be given the name of a cop line sardar. I have seen this man and watched his work and I am not satisfied that his work corresponds to that of any kind of line sardar. He, however, works not only as a cooly in the cop godown but also comes to the cop winders and has something to do with their work, although this man's work is not exactly of a supervisory character. This worker appears to be a connecting link between the cop godown and the cop winders, and I am satisfied that he is on a higher plane than a mere cooly. There is no objection to call him a cop godown cooly but in view of the special functions of a cooly of this kind, I have decided to introduce a special nomenclature, namely, that of a "cop godown cooly-special". The next worker to be considered is Makai who is a cooly in the Batching and Preparing Department and who, according to the Union, should be called a line sardar. It is said that he has something to do with different machines. His job is certainly not that of a mistri, and it seems to me that he may be equivalent more or less to a picking cooly in the Preparing Department of a jute mill. Evidently, there is no whole time job for a picking cooly in this particular mill.

do not see any reason why this worker should be called a line sardar, and in my view he should continue to be called a cooly. As regards the next worker Ramlal who is described in the Union's list as a motor mistri, but is said to be engaged in driving lorries, the Company has conceded that he is a junior lorry driver. I have decided after consulting the parties that he should be given the nomenclature of an assistant lorry driver. Next I come to the case of one Nilmani who is described as a first beamer. The Union has urged that he should be given a special nomenclature in connection with dyed yarn which is the usual stuff he deals with. It is probable that the first beamer Nilmoni is usually given work in connection with dyed yarn as distinguished from plain yarn. But I have ascertained during my inspection that any first beamer can work on dyed yarn. Under these circumstances I do not see any reason for introducing a special nomenclature in respect of dyed yarn work in the Beaming Department, particularly because I am not satisfied that there need be any distinction in respect of wages between dyed and plain yarn, so far as first beamers are concerned. As regards two other workers named Ram Parikha and Debisaran who are twist sardars, the original claim of the Union for calling them head sardars was abandoned during the hearing. The next complaint is about one Mansur who is a line sardar in the "A" shift of the Weaving Department. The Union's claim is that he should be called a head sardar. There is already a head sardar in that department and the position is presumably held by a senior or better man. It is true that Mansur used to be a head sardar in the "B" shift of the Weaving Department at one time. But the "B" shift was eventually closed and has since been reopened with only 60 looms for the supervision of which no head sardar is required. The Company gives an undertaking to the effect that Mansur will get the chance of being appointed a head sardar in "B" shift if 200 or more looms are worked. At the present moment there is no position of a head sardar in the "B" shift of the Weaving Department, and the worker Mansur should be satisfied with his position as a line sardar. Now proceeding to the second list filed by the Union, I come across Kubar who is described as a selector in the Batching Department. The Union's claim is that he should be styled as a line sardar. I have watched Kubar at work. It is true that he may have sometimes to see that bales are opened and that the jute is cut and perhaps to see incidentally to the unloading of bales quite near his place of work. I have got the impression that in consideration of a considerably lesser number of varieties of jute to be dealt with in the Batching Department of this mill, as distinguished from a standard jute mill, the ector's work is not so exacting as the usual ector's work in a jute mill, where much more ection work has to be done, and the functions Kubar other than those of a selector proper are illary to the selector's work here. As I have ady indicated, a suitable and reasonable com- ation of functions must be permissible in a ll concern. Simply because the particular ector in the present mill has to see occasionally other things happening round about him, it s not follow that he becomes converted into a sardar. Under the circumstances of the ent case as I observed, it will be quite adequate Kubar continues to be called a selector and is n the wages of the selector's occupation, which the highest paid occupation which he has to sue. I next come to the case of Depu Bairagi, Hardeo who are rollermen in the Spinning partment. It is claimed by the Union that these ermen should be given the status of line sardars. the present mill a rollerman handles the gearing t of the spinning frame and it is true that in tandard jute mill the rollerman does not do t. But it has to be appreciated that in the present mill a rollerman looks after about 22 spinning frames, whereas in a standard jute mill the rollerman has to look after 30 to 40 spinning frames. The work of a rollerman in the present mill appears to be somewhat lighter than that of a rollerman in a jute mill, from the point of view of work connected with the spinning frames. Specially because a rollerman has to handle the gearing part occasionally there is no adequate reason for giving him the name and style of a line sardar. I have to emphasise in this connection again that a suitable and reasonable combination of functions should be permissible in a small concern. I am of opinion that Depu Bairagi and Hardeo should continue to be called rollermen. The Union has raised a grievance about the case of one Sri Ram Upadhyaya who has been described in the Union's list as a cop winder, but is in fact a twister in the "B" shift. The Union claims that Sri Ram Upadhyay should be styled as a line sardar. The position is that this man used to be a line sardar in the "C" shift of the Twisting Department and when that shift was discontinued he went on leave, and on his return from leave no post of line sardar was available for him and he accepted his present post as a twister in the "B" shift with effect from December 1948. This matter has not much bearing on the question of nomenclature, and the real question is regarding the availability of a suitable job for Sri Ram Upadhyay. I think he should await his chance for higher jobs in the future. I have thus finished the discussion about the individual cases which have been brought to my notice by the Union in connection with the two lists filed before me. It will be seen that most of the grievances are based on a mis-conception of the real state of things. I would earnestly appeal to the workers not to be misled by mere forms and names, and I would impress on them the necessity of understanding the realities. In spite of the position that I have not been able to accept most of the claims regarding names of higher jobs, I would urge the workers to appreciate that the scales of wages in respect of all the occupations and individual workers are going to be substantially raised by pursuing a policy of co-ordination with the decision in Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award as far as practicable.

3(1). After having discussed the grievances in respect of the nomenclature of individual workers, I now proceed to deal with a few points relating to the list of nomenclature of workmen as a whole. My final decision regarding the nomenclature is to be found in Appendix I. As already indicated in the preceding paragraph I have decided to introduce a Batching-preparing Department covering all workers from the line sardar up to the finisher receiver. The line sardar of this department will exercise supervision over the workers of this Batching-preparing Department. The drawing line sardar in the Preparing Department proper will exercise supervision over the drawing machines only, and the rest of the Preparing Department will be supervised in a general way by supervisors as at the present moment. At the end of the list of workers in the Preparing Department the nomenclature of a relieving preparing worker has been introduced. The functions of this worker will be to relieve workers at the breaker and finisher machines in the Batching-preparing Department and at the drawing machines in the Preparing Department proper. As will be seen in my Award in respect of issue No. 2, this relieving preparing worker will be paid on the same scale as is provided for the highest paid occupation, namely, that of a breaker feeder. As regards the Spinning Department the line sardar is superior to other workers in the Department, and will exercise control over all others including shifter sardars and rollermen. The line sardar of the Spinning Department will have nothing to do with the Twisting Department and will have no control over the line sardar or the shifter sardar in the Twisting Department. In a standard jute mill the Twisting Department is not recognised as a separate department, but in the present mill there should be a separate Twisting Department as hitherto. The Twisting Department will have a line sardar of its own. In the Winding Department I have thought fit to introduce the nomenclature of a special cop godown cooly in order to meet the special case of the present worker Ram Das. As regards the Beaming Department the question was raised as to whether the nomenclature of third beamers should be retained and it was urged by the Union that third beamers should be abolished and all beamers below the first beamer should be called second beamers. The Union's idea of course is to have the wages of the third beamers raised. Their wages are certainly going to be raised even if the nomenclature remains. The question is whether the nomenclature of third beamer should be retained. I have watched all categories of beamers at work. The third beamber is a sort of assistant to the second beamber and sometimes to the first beamer, and is ordinarily of junior standing. It has been represented to me by the Campany that the third beamer was added for rendering assistance to other beamers, and comparatively junior men are usually appointed third beamers. It appears that the number of threads on a beaming machine to be looked after in the present mill is much less than those in a standard jute mill, and the organisation of work is somewhat different. Under these circumstances there is no adequate reason for doing away with the system of third beamers, although this nomenclature does not exist in a jute mill. The present mill has its own peculiarities, and in view of the points of difference I do not think that the system of third beamers need be disturbed. It will be seen from my decision under Issue No. 2 that the scale of wages of third beamers will be substantially raised. The Dyeing Department is not to be found in a jute mill. As I have already indicated in the preceding paragraph the nomenclature of first dyer is satisfactory, and there need not be any nomenclature of a sardar in this department. The sashcord department is again not to be found in a standard jute mill. The nomenclature adopted at present in this department is satisfactory. Similarly the nomenclature now in vogue in the Weaving Department and in the Packing and Despatching Department is satisfactory. I have not made any substantial changes in the nomenclature with regard to the Maintenance Department, except that I have put the lorry driver and the assistant lorry driver under the general category of durwans and drivers. I make my award with regard to the nomenclature of workmen under Issue No. 1 as under Appendix I.

Issue No. 2.

4. I pass on now to next important issue, namely, Issue No. 2 relating to the fixation of wages for manual workmen. Pursuing the arrangement in the list of workmen under Appendix I, I shall first deal with the time rate workers connected with the different processes of manufacture in the factory proper. I shall leave aside, for the moment, the piece rate workers connected with these processes and also the workers classified under the Maintenance Department and under the heading of durwans and drivers, who will be dealt with separately. The scales of wages for the time rate workers connected with the different processes, which I have finally decided upon, will be found in Appendix II. It is necessary here to note some of the reasons which have led me to fix the wages at the scales shown in Appendix II and also to indicate the manner in which I have resolved the controversies raised by the parties during the hearing with regard to some particular occupations. It will be found that most of the occupations have been valued at the same level as was adopted in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, wherever the occupations have been found to be more or less of a corresponding nature. In cases where the occupations in this particular mill are not quite the same as can be found in a standard jute mill, some amount of independent judgment has had to be exercised in the light of the submissions made by the two parties before me and of the results of my own observation as regards the nature of the work on the spot. In the Batching-preparing Department practically all the workers have been given the same scale of wages as are shown in Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. There was, however, some controversy about the wages of the line sardar. As he has to supervise the softener machines, the breaker machines and the finisher machines it is resonable to give him the wages of the breaker card sardar of the Preparing Department in a jute mill, and I have accordingly fixed the wages at Rs. 46·58 per month of 26 days or 208 hours. As regards the Preparing Department I have largely adopted the scales of wages of workers in the Preparing Department of a jute mill as per the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. The Company, in accordance with its decision for raising the wages up to the standards adopted in the Jute Textile Award, is at present giving the relieving cooly wages to the extent of Rs. 26 per month. I have fixed the wages of the relieving cooly at Rs. 27·08. The job of a cleaner in the Preparing Department appears to be somewhat more responsible than that of an ordinary departmental cooly. A cleaner should, therefore, be paid wages to the extent of Rs. 27·08 and not Rs. 26 which the Company recommends. The relieving preparing worker as already indicated in paragraph 3(l) is expected to do relieving work in respect of breaker machines, finisher machines and drawing machines, and he has been given the wages of the highest paid worker who is to be relieved by him, namely, the breaker feeder. I now come to the Spinning Department. As I have already indicated no head sardar on the jute mill level is necessary in this department. The line sardar is a sardar superior to the shifter sardar and rollerman in this department but he will have nothing to do with the Twisting Department. It appears to me that the jute mill scale of Rs. 55·25 per month for the line sardar is adequate in our case. This will mean an increase of pay of the holder of the job from Rs. 42·52 to Rs. 55·25, and this increase must be regarded as very substantial. A controversy has been raised with regard to the wages of shifter boys whose scale of wages under the Jute Textile Industry Award has been fixed at Rs. 28·17. It has been contended by the Union that the shifter boys in the present mill have to do more strenuous work than those in a jute mill, because in this mill 9 shifter boys work at a spinning frame as against 12 such at a spinning frame in a jute mill. I have watched the shifter boys at work in this mill and also those at work in a neighbouring jute mill. In the present mill there are three gangs of shifter boys numbering 9, 9 and 8, respectively, and each gang has to tackle 69, 80 and 61 spindles, respectively, as against 102 hessian warp spindles being handled on the average by a shifter boy in the Kelvin and Empire Jute Mills at Titagarh. Shifter boys have to attend to several spinning frames one after another. Although in the present mill there are 9 shifter boys working at a spinning frame as against 12 shifter boys working at a spinning frame in a jute mill, the work done by a shifter boy in the present mill does not appear to me to be in any way more strenuous than that done by a shifter boy in a jute mill. That being the position there is no reason for deviating from the scale of wages for shifter boys adopted in the Jute Textile Industry Award. As regards rollermen I have adopted the scale determined by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. Although a rollerman in the present mill has to handle the gearing part of the spinning frame, he has to look after about 22 spinning frames in this mill as against 30 to 40 spinning frames to be looked after by a rollerman in a jute mill. I am not satisfied that the work of a rollerman in the present mill is in any way more strenuous or more responsible than that of a rollerman in a jute mill. There is, therefore, no reason for any deviation from the scale adopted in the Jute Textile Industry Award. The scales of wages of the other workers in the Spinning Department in this mill have been placed more or less on the same footing as the corresponding workers in a jute mill under the Jute Textile Industry Award. As regards ordinary spinners and self-doffing spinners in this mill the Union contended that their wages should be placed on the same footing as those of sacking weft spinners who happen to be the highest paid spinners in the Spinning Department of a jute mill. I am of opinion that spinners in the present mill can be more appropriately placed on the same level with hessian warp spinners in a jute mill, and therefore, the wages have been fixed at Rs. 33·58 and not Rs. 35·75, as contended by the Union. I next come to the Twisting Department. As regards the line sardar in this department, the Union's contention that he should be placed on the same footing as the line sardar in the Spinning Department does not appear to be quite sound. In my opinion the line sardar of the Twisting Department should be on a somewhat lower level than the line sardar of the Spinning Department. It is more appropriate to place the line sardar of the Twisting Department on the same level as a winding sardar in the Winding Department of a jute mill. I have accordingly fixed the wages of the line sardar of the Twisting Department at Rs. 52. As regards the reeling cooly I have observed his work in the present mill and also that of a reeler in the Winding Department of a jute mill. I have found that the reeling cooly in this mill is not very different from a reeler in the Winding Department of a jute mill whose wages have been fixed at Rs. 31·42 under the Jute Textile Industry Award. In my opinion although a reeling cooly in this mill may be slightly lower than a reeler in a jute mill, the position of a reeling cooly is certainly not lower than that of a twister, and therefore, I would place the reeling cooly and the twister on the same level as regards the wages. I do not accept the Company's suggestion that the reeling cooly's wages should be fixed at Rs. 27·08, and I fix the wages at Rs. 30·33. As regards the other categories of workers in the Twisting Department I have practically adopted the scales of wages for the corresponding workers in a jute mill under the Jute Award. I pass on now to the Winding Department. Cop winders, warp winders and dyed yarn winders being piece-rate workers are left for separate consideration. The function of the hank conditioner is to prepare yarn for the dyed yarn winder, and I have fixed the wages of the hank conditioner at Rs. 31·42. As I have already indicated in my award under Issue No. 1, I have introduced the occupation of a special cop godown cooly in consideration of the functions of a present worker named Ram Das who discharges special functions in so far as he is a connecting link between the cop godown and the cop winders. The responsibility of this special cop godown cooly is not lower than that of a twister or of a reeling cooly, and I have accordingly fixed the wages of the special cop godown cooly at Rs. 30·33. As regards the other occupations in the Winding Department I have practically adopted the scales applicable to a jute mill under the Jute Award. In the Beaming Department the beaming sardar, the first beamer, the second beamer and the beaming cooly have been placed on the same level as the corresponding workers in the Beaming Department of a jute mill under the Jute Award. In a jute mill all beamers lower than the first beamer are on the same level. In the present mill, however, as I have indicated in my award under Issue No. 1, it is necessary to have a category of 3rd beamers, whose wages should be on a somewhat lower level than those of second beamers Previously the wages of a third beamer used to be Rs. 23·49 as against the previous wages of Rs. 27·83 for a second beamer, the difference being a little more than Rs. 4. Under the present award the wages of a second beamer have been fixed at Rs. 40·08. In determining the wages of a third beamer under this award I would maintain more or less the same standard of difference, and I have fixed the wages of a third beamer at Rs. 35·75. As regards the starch cooly, the Company has suggested that his wages should be Rs. 27·08. It has been contended by the Union that the functions of a starch cooly are not very different from those of a starchman in the Beaming Department of a jute mill, whose wages have been fixed at Rs. 40·08 under the Jute Award. I have observed the starch cooly at work in the present mill, and also a starchman at work in a standard jute mill. The starchman in a jute mill usually works at a pumping plant which does not exist in the present mill, and I am of opinion that the function of a starch cooly in this mill is on a definitely lower level than that of a starchman in the Beaming Department of a jute mill. I do not agree with the Company's view that the starch cooly's wages should be only Rs. 27·08, and I have fixed the starch cooly's wages at Rs. 30·33, as I am of opinion that the starch cooly is not on a lower level than a twister or a dyer. I next proceed to deal with the Dyeing Department. The Company's suggestion is that the wages of the first dyer who is the headman of this department should be Rs. 33·80, whereas the Union has contended that the first dyer's wages should be Rs. 40·08, that is the same as the wages of a second beamer. I have observed the work of the first dyer and have talked to the man who holds the job at present, and I am of opinion that the first dyer should be placed at a level somewhere between the second beamer and the third beamer. I have fixed the wages of the first dyer at Rs. 37·92. The dyer's wages have been adopted from the scale determined under Jute Award. Coming now to the Sashcord Department which does not exist in a standard jute mill, I shall leave aside the machineman who is a piece-rate worker. The winder in this department prepares small and big sashcord bobbins for the machineman, and the process appears to be allied to the work of a hessian warp winder in a jute mill. But on the whole the work of a winder in the Sashcord Department of this mill appears to be less strenuous than that of a hessian warp winder in a jute mill whose wages are Rs. 33·58 under the Jute Award. The Company has suggested that the wages of a winder should be Rs. 27·08, and the Union has contended that the winder in the Sashcord Department should be placed on the same level as a hessian warp winder. The previous wages of a winder in the Sashcord Department were Rs. 20·17. In my opinion it would be quite proper to fix the wages of the winder at Rs. 30·33, that is to say, the scale applicable to a twister or a dyer. As regards the hanker, I do not accept the Company's suggestion to the effect that his wages should be Rs. 27·08, and holding the view that the hanker should be on the same level as the winder I have fixed the hanker's wages at Rs. 30·33. I pass on now to the Weaving Department. The head sardar, the line sardar, the weaver, and the cloth reeler are piece-rate workers and they will be dealt with separately. As regards cloth examiners, coolies and sweepers I have adopted the scales applicable to the corresponding workers in a jute mill under the Jute Award. The occupations of a carpet sardar and a carpet weaver are not ordinarily to be found in a standard jute mill, and the wages of these two categories of workers are to be fixed independently. I have observed them at work on the spot. The carpet sardar is only a line sardar exercising supervision over only two weavers at two looms placed side by side. The Company has suggested that the wages of the carpet sardar should be Rs. 66·08 which scale has been fixed for a hessian line sardar under the Jute Award. The Union has contended that the carpet sardar's wages should not be lower than Rs. 75·83 which are the wages of the sacking line sardar under the Jute Award. So far as I can see the work of the carpet sardar in this mill is lighter than that of a usual hessian line sardar in a jute mill who is to supervise the work of several looms. But the carpet produced here is a special variety of cloth and seems to require greater skill. I have therefore fixed the wages of the carpet sardar at Rs. 68·25, that is something higher than the wages of the hessian line sardar but lower than those of a sacking line sardar in a jute mill. As regards the carpet weaver, the Company has suggested that his wages should be Rs. 44·42, that is to say the wages of a hessian weaver under the Jute Award. The Union has contended that the wages of a carpet weaver should be equal to those of a sacking weaver in a jute mill which have been fixed at Rs. 49·83 under the Jute Award. So far as I have observed, carpet weaving in the present mill is more skilful than ordinary hessian weaving in a jute mill. The wages of a carpet weaver should, in my opinion, be more than those of a hessian weaver in a jute mill. The previous wages of a carpet weaver in the present mill were Rs. 37·03. I have decided to fix the wages of the carpet weaver at something between the wages of a hessian weaver and those of a sacking weaver under the Jute Award, and I have fixed the carpet weaver's wages at Rs. 47·67. I come now to the Packing and Despatching Department. The Company has suggested that the wages of a sardar in this department should be Rs. 37·92. The previous wages of the sardar were Rs. 27·03. The Union has suggested that the sardar in this department should be placed on the same level as a second beamer whose wages have been fixed at Rs. 40·08. I have decided to draw a mean between the two suggestions and have fixed the sardar's wages at Rs. 39. As regards the cooly in the Packing and Despatching Department I have observed the work and I have found that the Union's contention that the work of the cooly is of a somewhat responsible character in so far as the packing involves neat stitching is correct. Under these circumstances I have thought it fair to fix the cooly's wages at Rs. 28·17 as against Rs. 27·08 as suggested by the Company. I have now finished my comments regarding the manner in which I have determined the wages of the time-rate workers connected with the different processes of manufacture in the factory proper. It will be permissible for the Company to combine two or more occupations in respect of one worker where necessary, provided that the work-load imposed on the worker is not heavier than the normal work-load which a normal worker is expected to bear during the normal working hours. Where there is a combination of standardised occupations in respect of one worker the basic wages applicable to the highest paid occupation shall be paid to him. I make my award with regard to the basic wages for the manual time-rate workers connected with the different processes in the factory under Issue No. 2 as under Appendix II.

4. (1) I now take up the case of manual workers other than the categories of workers mentioned in Appendix II. Such workers come under the headings of "Maintenance Department" and "Durwans and Drivers" in the nomenclature of workmen determined in Appendix I. The workers under these categories are neither piece-rate workers nor time-rate workers connected with the different processes of manufacture in the factory proper. With regard to such workers I have decided to adopt the scheme shown in paragraph 6(5) on page 29 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. The scheme involves a method of giving increments over the existing or previous scales of basic wages. The Union prays for higher wages for boilermen on the footing that the existing or previous scales of wages of boilermen in this mill are abnormally low. On giving careful consideration to this suggestion for making an exception in respect of boilermen, I have come to the conclusion that no exception should be made unless there are very cogent reasons for such action. There is no tangible evidence before me to indicate that boilermen in the present mill are paid exceptionally low wages in comparison with other factories. As regards the assistant lorry driver again it was suggested that his wages were also exceptionally low, and he should be given a lift apart from the general increment permissible under the scheme. In the light of the informations as regards the wages of the assistant lorry driver which have been given to me by both sides, I do not think that there is adequate reason for making an exception in the case of the assistant lorry driver who appears to be a worker of junior standing. The increments which I am going to direct in respect of the manual workers belonging to the "Maintenance Department" and to the category of "Durwans and Drivers" shall have reference to the scales of wages prevalent in the Eastern Manufacturing Co.'s Mill, just before the publication of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, that is to say, just before the 20th September 1948. It is understood that the Company has already given effect to a scheme of increments on the basis shown in the Jute Award with effect from 20th September 1948. I direct that the following scheme shall apply to all manual workers, who are not piece-rate workers, other than the manual workers shown in Appendix II:—

(a) Manual workers getting basic wages up to Rs. 45 per month shall get an increase of 18¾ per cent. or of 3 annas in the rupee, subject to a minimum of Rs. 26 per month.

(b) Manual workers getting basic wages above Rs. 45 and up to Rs. 75 per month shall get an increase of 12½ per cent. or of 2 annas in the rupee, subject to a minimum of Rs. 54 per month.

(c) Manual workers getting basic wages over Rs. 75 per month shall get an increase of 6¼ per cent. or of 1 anna in the rupee, subject to a minimum of Rs. 85.

4. (2) I now proceed to deal with the wages of piece-rate workers. I first take up the case of cop winders, warp winders and dyed yarn winders in the Winding Department. The existing piece-rates applicable to these categories of piece-rate workers are to be found in Appendix III-A. It appears from the figures of wages paid to cop winders during the 9 months from January to September 1948, covering a substantial period prior to the publication of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, that the average monthly wages paid to a cop winder during that period were Rs. 33·04 as against the standard of Rs. 34·67 applicable to a hessian weft winder as per Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. The position is that the average monthly wages paid to a cop winder were slightly lower than the standard prescribed for a hessian weft winder under the Jute Award. The rates prescribed by the Company in our present case, however, do not appear to compare unfavourably with the rates fixed by the Jute Tribunal in respect of hessian weft winders under Appendix V on page 139 of the Jute Award, and in fact, some rates fixed by the present Company are definitely higher. That being the position it is difficult in our present case to decide upon higher rates. It is possible that the complement is slightly larger than what it should be. As regards warp winders, the average monthly wages paid by the Company to a warp winder during the abovementioned period of 9 months were Rs. 20·23 as against the standard of Rs. 33·58 applicable to a hessian warp winder under Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. Here there is a wide difference in respect of the monthly wages. But in this case again it appears to me that the existing rates fixed by the Company as shown in Appendix IIIA do not compare unfavourably with the piece-rates for hessian warp winders as shown in Appendix V on page 139 of the Jute Award. The Company is probably right in pointing out that the complement in respect of warp winders is unnecessarily larger than what it should be. Coming now to the case of dyed yarn winders I observe that the average monthly wages paid to a dyed yarn winder during the abovementioned period of 9 months were Rs. 22·07 as against the standard of Rs. 33·58 applicable to a dyed yarn winder under Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. Here again there is a wide divergence. But the rates fixed by the Company with regard to dyed yarn winders do not compare unfavourably with the rates for dyed yarn winders as shown in Appendix V on page 139 of the Jute Award, and that being the position I am unable to say that the rates are unreasonable. It is possible that the Company's contention that the complement in respect of dyed yarn winders is unnecessarily larger than what it should be is correct. The Company has suggested that the complements in respect of these 3 categories of piece-rate workers in the Winding Department should be suitably reduced so that the workers may be able to earn wages up to the standards indicated in Appendix VI of the Jute Award. The Union has naturally opposed any idea of retrenchment in respect of piece-rate workers in the Winding Department. Under the circumstances which I have discussed it is not reasonable to increase the existing piece-rates in the Winding Department. At the same time existing workers can by no means be allowed to be deprived of their jobs, in order to provide adequate work for a smaller complement of workmen. The Company will be at liberty to reduce the complement in a suitable manner only on condition that the workers who happen to be taken out of the Winding Department shall be absorbed and properly employed on the same or higher standards of wages in other departments. It shall be up to the Company to devise such arrangements as would ensure proper standards of wages for the piece-rate workers, and at the same time would not lead to any cases of discharge of workers without any fault of their own. The standards of monthly wages to be aimed at in respect of cop winders, warp winders and dyed yarn winders shall be Rs. 34·67, Rs. 33·58 and Rs. 33·58 respectively, or lesser amounts which differ from these figures by a maximum amount of Re. 1, provided that the workers work with diligence and efficiency and maintain the average and reasonable standard of production. The Company shall complete the arrangements indicated within two months from the date of publication of the present award, and in case the arrangements are not completed within the time thus fixed, the Company shall, on the expiry of two months from the date of publication, pay such extra wages to the piece-rate workers in the Winding Department, proportionately to the number of days worked, as would bring their monthly wages up to the level of Rs. 34·67, Rs. 33·58 and Rs. 33·58 in respect of cop winders, warp winders and dyed yarn winders, respectively, or amounts lesser than these figures by a maximum amount of one rupee, provided that the workers work with diligence and efficiency and maintain the average and reasonable standard of production. Subject to these directions I have decided not to increase the piece-rates in the Winding Department of this mill. I make my award accordingly as regards piece-rate manual workers in the Winding Department under Issue No. 2.

4. (3) I pass on now to consider the piece-rate wages of machinemen who are the only piece-rate workers in the Sashcord Department. The previous rates of wages for machinemen have been shown in Appendix IIIB. On examining the wages actually paid to machinemen during the period of 9 months from January to September 1948, I find that the average monthly wages paid to a machineman were Rs. 35·77. A machineman attends to 3 sashcord-making machines, and his duties are to watch that the previously wound yarn bobbins which contain the jute yarn and from which the sashcord is made, are properly fitted in the machine and these bobbins when empty are replaced by full bobbins, each sashcord machine requiring usually 4 smaller bobbins and 4 bigger bobbins. The Company suggests that the task of a sashcord machineman is not more responsible than that of a hessian weft winder whose standard of monthly wages has been fixed at Rs. 34·67 in Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. On the basis of my own observation of the work performed by a sashcord machineman, I am of opinion that his task is somewhat more responsible than that of a hessian weft winder. The average monthly wages earned by a machineman during the abovementioned period of 9 months were Rs. 35·77. The Company has suggested that the previous rates as shown in Appendix IIIB may be increased by 10 per cent. If that suggestion is accepted, and if the outturn of work continues to be the same as in the abovementioned period of 9 months of 1948, the average wages earned by a machineman on the basis of an increment by 10 per cent. in the previous rates would amount to more than Rs. 39 per month. This would place the machineman in a better position than a hessian weft winder in a jute mill, and his position would not be substantially lower than that of a rollerman or a second beamer. In my opinion the suggestion of increasing the previous rates by 10 per cent. should be accepted under the particular circumstances. I, therefore, direct that the rates for sashcord machinemen which were prevalent just before the publication of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, as shown in Appendix IIIB of the present award, shall be increased by 10 per cent. and I make my award accordingly with regard to the piece-rate workers called "machinemen" in the Sashcord Department under issue No. 2.

4. (4) I next take up the case of the piece-rate workers in the Weaving Department, namely, head sardar, line sardar, weaver and cloth reeler. The head sardar's rates as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award are shown in Appendix IIIC(a). On examining the figures of wages paid to the head sardar during the period of 9 months from January to September 1948, I find that the average monthly wages earned by the head weaving sardar were Rs. 124·7 as against the standards of Rs. 125·67 and Rs. 140·83 as determined by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal as per Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. The Company has suggested that the previous rates for the head sardar may be increased by 10 per cent. If that suggestion is accepted, and if the standard of outturn continues to be the same as in the abovementioned period of 9 months, the average wages earned by the head sardar would be something like Rs. 137·1. I consider this standard to be satisfactory. I, therefore, direct that the rates for the head sardar in the Weaving Department as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award, as shown in Appendix IIIC(a) be increased by 10 per cent. and I make my award accordingly with regard to this part of the case under Issue No. 2.

I next take up the case of line sardars in the Weaving Department. The rates for line sardars as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award are shown in Appendix IIIC(b). On examining the average wages paid to line sardars during the period from January to September 1948, I find that the average monthly wages earned by line sardars during the period were Rs. 53·29 as against the standard of Rs. 66·08 for hessian line sardars is shown in Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. The Company has suggested that the previous rates should be increased by 10 per cent. If that suggestion is accepted the average monthly wages would be something like Rs. 58·61, which figure is rather much lower than Rs. 66·08. I am unable to accept the Company's suggestion about increasing the previous rates by only 10 per cent. If the previous rates are increased by 20 per cent. the average monthly wages would be in the neighbourhood of Rs. 65 which can be said to be not very far from Rs. 66·08. In my opinion the previous rates should be increased by 20 per cent. I accordingly direct that the previous rates in respect of line sardars in the Weaving Department as shown in Appendix IIIC(b) be increased by 20 per cent. and I make my award accordingly with regard to this part of the case under Issue No. 2.

I then pass on to the case of weavers. The rates for weavers as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award are shown in Appendix IIIC(c). On examining the wages paid to weavers during the period of 9 months from January to September 1948, I find that the average monthly wages paid to a weaver during that period were Rs. 29·4 as against the standard of Rs. 44·42 for a hessian weaver under Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. It is clear that the wages earned by weavers during the abovementioned period of 9 months were very low as compared with the standard of wages determined by the Jute Tribunal. The Company has suggested that the rates for weavers should be increased by 20 per cent. If that suggestion is accepted the average monthly wages of a weaver would be something like Rs. 35·2 which is far below the standard of Rs. 44·42. In course of the hearing it was suggested on behalf of the Company that a weaver should be given the task of looking after 3 looms as against 2 looms which he actually looks after under the present system. On behalf of the Union this suggestion regarding 3 looms was vehemently opposed. It is not feasible under the present circumstances for this Tribunal to direct any change in the system, and the system of a weaver looking after only 2 looms has to continue for our present purposes. A prominent feature of the piece-rate wage structure in the Weaving Department is the much too low rates given to weavers. It has been represented on behalf of the Company that the manufactutre of webbing cloth which is the main purpose of the Weaving Department is in a bad way and the market is dull and if the wages applicable to the Weaving Department are substantially increased there is a danger of the manufactured products not finding much scope for sale in the present market. It appears to me that this representation made by the Company may be at least partially correct, and I am, therefore, inclined to arrive at my decision with a certain amount of cautiousness in the interest of the workers themselves. Weavers in the Weaving Department constitute the largest single category in this factory, and any increase in the rates of weavers will mean a considerable increase in the total cost of manufacture. Taking all factors into consideration I am of opinion that the increase in rates in respect of weavers should be substantial and should be definitely more than 20 per cent. but should not be more than 40 per cent., although a 40 per cent, monthly wages of a weaver to the standard of Rs. 44·42. I direct that the rates for weavers as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award as shown in Appendix IIIC(c) shall be increased by 40 per cent. and I make my award accordingly with regard to this part of the case under Issue No. 2.

The next case to be considered is that of cloth reelers. The function of a cloth reeler may be briefly described as putting examined products into rolls with the aid of a cloth reeling machine and it is in no way similar to the function of a reeler in the Winding Department of a jute mill. The previous rate for cloth reelers as obtaining just before the publication of the Jute Award is shown in Appendix IIIC(d). On examining the figures of average wages paid to cloth reelers during the period of 9 months from January to September 1948, I find that the average monthly wages were Rs. 50·4, as against the standard of Rs. 31·42 for a reeler in the Winding Department of a jute mill as per Appendix VI on page 153 of the Jute Award. I do not say that this kind of comparison should be made as the function are quite different. At the same time, in the light of my observation of the work of a cloth reeler in the Weaving Department of the present mill I am unable to say that the task of a cloth reeler necessarily involves such a high standard of responsibility, skill or attention as to merit the standard of Rs. 50·4 as monthly wages. I agree with the Company's view that cloth reelers are already being paid at a definitely high rate and there should be no further increase. I direct that the previous rates in respect of cloth reelers as prevailing just before the publication of the Jute Award as shown in Appendix IIIC(d) shall continue, and I make my award accordingly with regard to this part of the case under Issue No. 2.

4. (5) In case there has been any omission to mention any particular type of manual worker in connection with the directions given in the preceding paragraphs under Issue No. 2, the basic wages in respect of such manual worker shall be determined by the Company consistently with the principles enunciated above.

Issue No. 3.

5. I pass on now to Issue No. 3 relating to the minimum basic wages and grades for clerks. The Union has demanded that the minimum basic wages for clerks should be Rs. 80 per month. The Company is agreeable to follow the Jute Tribunal's directions with regard to this matter and it is stated that the Company has already given effect to those directions as far as they are applicable to its clerical staff. In the course of the proceedings on 7th January 1949, a member of the clerical staff of the Company appeared before the Tribunal with a representation signed by the vast majority of the clerks, and the representative of the clerical staff submitted that the Eastern Manufacturing Co. Employees' Union did not represent the clerks, and they were satisfied with the arrangements made by the Company. Eventually, the Union did not press for placing the clerical staff on a basis higher than that of the clerical staff of jute mills as determined in the Jute Award. I have decided, for the purposes of the present adjudication, to adopt the relevant portions of the scheme with regard to clerical workers as shown in paragraph 6(7) of pages 29 and 30 of the Jute Award. I direct that the following scheme with regard to clerical workers employed in the factory, or in the office or elsewhere under this concern shall apply:—

Lower grade clerical workers shall be put in the two following time-scale grades, the first figu monthly wages, the last figures representing the maximum monthly wages, and the middle figure representing the amount of increment per year of service—

Grade I—Rs. 70—4—130.

Grade II—Rs. 55—3—85.

Clerical workers including new entrants who are graduates, shall be placed in Grade I. Non-graduate clerical workers shall ordinarily be placed in Grade II, but there will be no bar to placing such clerical workers in Grade I, and suitable and efficient non-graduate clerical workers may be placed in Grade I. As regards the question of fitting the clerical workers on existing lower scales of basic wages into the grades of basic wages now fixed by this award the following scheme shall be observed. Subject to the directions given in this award it will be at the discretion of the employer concerned to determine the grade applicable to a particular clerical worker. When a clerical worker on an existing lower scale of wages is brought on to the corresponding scale as determined by this Tribunal, his initial wages should be fixed at the stage in the new scale which is equal to or next above the scale he is drawing at present and to this should be added special increments at the rate of one increment in the new scale for every three completed years of service. The figure thus obtained shall be the scale of basic wages applicable to that particular clerical worker. In no case shall a clerical worker be placed in a grade less favourable to him than the existing grade and terms of service. The question of basic wages and grades for higher or special grade clerks is left to the discretion of the Company. I make my award accordingly with regard to basic wages and grades for clerks under Issue No. 3.

Issue No. 4.

I next take up Issue No. 4 relating to dearness allowance. The claim put forward by the Union is that dearness allowance should be Rs. 49 per month or 80 per cent. of the pay whichever is higher, as under the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme to cover the rise in the cost of living index figures. The Company in its statement is agreeable to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal, and it is stated that it has already given effect to the directions given in the Jute Award as far as they are applicable to the workers of this Company. I adopt the reasons set forth in paragraph 7 on pages 30 and 31 of the Jute Award, and am of opinion that it is not practicable at the present stage to link dearness allowance with the varying cost of living index figures, and the best policy for our present purposes would be to fix dearness allowance at a flat rate in the manner pursued by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. As indicated in paragraph 7(1) on pages 31 and 32 of the Jute Award, dearness allowance is to be considered under two heads, namely, dearness allowance proper and the value of food concessions. I have decided to fix the dearness allowance proper at Rs. 23-13-3 per month as in the Jute Award. As regards the value of food concessions, it will, in the nature of things, be a variable amount according to the rise and fall of market prices of the food materials supplied. It is presumed that the present Company is supplying food materials per week to each worker in accordance with the standard followed in jute mills as indicated below:—

Cereals, i.e., rice, atta, gram and dal, to the extent of at least 5 seers in all.

Mustard oil—¼ seer.

Extra dal—1 seer.

The present Company shall supply food materials in accordance with the above standard, if that is not being already done. These quantities of food materials must be supplied at fixed concession prices such as were prevalent in jute mills just before the publication of the Jute Award. The supply of food materials at fixed concession prices will not in any case be affected by the rise and fall of market prices from time to time. When prices rise the Company will take upon itself the extra burden, and when prices fall it will pay less for the food materials supplied. Ordinarily speaking, however, the average value of food concessions allowed will be about Rs. 2 per week or Rs. 8-10-9 per month consisting of 4½ weeks. Adopting more or less the scheme of directions regarding dearness allowance given by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, I make my award with regard to Issue No. 4 relating to dearness allowance by giving the following directions:—

(1) The dearness allowance proper in respect of all categories of workers, both manual and clerical, shall be fixed at Rs. 23-13-3 per month.

(2) Food materials, namely, cereals, mustard oil, and extra dal of the quantities indicated above shall be supplied per week to each worker at such fixed concession prices as were prevalent in jute mills in West Bengal just before the publication of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, the average value of food concessions thus allowed being about Rs. 2 per week, or Rs. 8-10-9 per month. The value of food concessions allowed will be a variable amount depending on the rise and fall of market prices of the food materials supplied. In a particular case where the Company decides to give the cash value of the food concessions instead of supplying the food materials, such cash value shall be calculated at Rs. 2 per week or Rs. 8-10-9 per month, irrespective of the market prices of the food materials. In a case where the cash value of food concessions is received the total dearness allowance for one month will thus be Rs. 23-13-3 as dearness allowance proper plus Rs. 8-10-9 as cash value of food concessions, i.e., Rs. 32-8-0 in all.

(3) The dearness allowance proper shall be linked with attendance.

(4) The food concessions will depend on the condition that the worker shall attend and work at least for one day in the week.

Issue No. 5.

7. The next Issue to be considered is Issue No. 5 relating to bonus. The claim put forward by the Union in its statement is in respect of three months' wages as yearly bonus to the workers. The Company on its part has stated that it never paid any bonus, and it has contended that its financial condition does not admit of the payment of any bonus at all. In justification of the claim regarding bonus the Union has made the statement that the Company is a prosperous concern and the payment of a share of the profits to the workers as bonus is a modern industrial practice. The basis of the claim, therefore, is that the Company has been making and is likely to make substantial profits. In course of the discussion it was made clear by the Union that there was no claim regarding profit-sharing bonus, but what was claimed was simple bonus to the extent of three months' wages, and ultimately the Union took up the position that only bonus for the year 1948 was being demanded. Whether the bonus claimed is called profit-sharing bonus or simple bonus, it seems to me quite clear that it must necessarily depend on the fact of profits having been derived by the Company, and if there have been no profits there will be no case for awarding any bonus. One pertinent factor in the present case is that bonus has never been paid by the Company in any previous year. As bonus for 1948 is being demanded, it is necessary to examine if any substantial profits have been derived in course of the business done in 1948. It appears from certain balance sheets of previous years which have been produced before the Tribunal that in some years dividend to the extent of 10 per cent. was paid. We are, however, concerned with the financial condition and the position regarding profits in respect of the year 1948. The Company has submitted before the Tribunal that during 1948 it has made no profits at all, and this proposition has been seriously controverted by the Union. Now this controversy cannot be resolved before full and regular accounts and balance sheets for the year 1948 are available. It is not practicable for this Tribunal, therefore, to give a decision on the question of payment of bonus for the year 1948 at the present stage. It is also necessary to watch the effect of a system of increased emoluments directed by the present award. Under the particular circumstances I feel that the Issue regarding bonus may be kept open for the present, and it may be raised again, if necessary, when the proper materials in the shape of full and regular accounts and balance sheets become available. The Issue is, therefore, kept open without any decision being arrived at for the present.

Issue No. 6.

8. I next proceed to deal with Issue No. 6 relating to the question of recognition of Eastern Manufacturing Co. Employees' Union. Adopting the reasoning given in paragraph 2 on pages 8 and 9 of the Jute Award I come to the conclusion that the dispute regarding recognition is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, and this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with this Issue of recognition and the subject can only be dealt with by a Labour Court set up under the Indian Trade Union Amendment Act of 1947. That being the position I must decline to adjudicate upon this Issue.

Issue No. 7.

9. I next take up Issue No. 7 relating to the subject of payment for period of involuntary unemployment. I have come to the conclusion that the present mill being allied to a jute mill the provisions made by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal in its award with regard to different points in dispute may be adopted with great advantage for our purposes in the present award. As I have already indicated, there are jute mills in the neighbourhood of the present mill, and it is highly desirable that the conditions introduced with regard to the present mill should be more or less on a par with the conditions provided for in the Jute Award, and in my opinion there need not be any deviation, unless such deviation is urgently called for under exceptional circumstances peculiar to the present mill. The Union has claimed under this Issue that the Company should pay 75 per cent. of the basic wages and full dearness allowance and food concession. The Company is agreeable to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal with regard to this subject. Adopting more or less the scheme of the Award given by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal as per paragraph 9(8) on page 49 of the Jute Award, I direct that the following scheme for payment for periods of involuntary unemployment should be observed by the present Company:—

The Award relates only to short-term involuntary unemployment due to stoppage of work owing to fire, catastrophe, breakdown of machinery, stoppage of power-supply, epidemics, civil commotion, shortage of coal or of raw materials or of essential stores, changes in lines of production, and other causes beyond the employer's control.

(II) Benefits to be given.

(a) The benefits to be given to each worker should be on the scale of 50 per cent. of the basic wages and of the dearness allowance proper, and each worker should continue to receive the weekly rations at the normal subsidised rates, or the cash value of the food concession.

(b) In the case of a piece-rate worker the rate of wages should be taken to be the average wages of the preceding seven days during which the worker actually worked.

(c) The duration of the benefit should be one month in each half-year from January to June and July to December, respectively.

(d) This involuntary unemployment benefit will not qualify a worker for bonus determined by reference to earnings over any period.

(III) Conditions attached to benefit.

(a) To qualify for the benefit, a worker must answer to a muster roll once a day at his usual place of employment, or with the permission of the employer, at any other place.

(b) A worker will be ineligible for the benefit if he unreasonably refuses work even of a different sort in the factory, provided that his wages and other emoluments and amenities do not undergo any reduction.

(c) The scheme in the award will not affect the right of the employer to discharge the worker, or the right of the employee to discharge himself with due notice according to law and the prevailing rules of service.

Issue No. 8.

10. I pass on now to Issue No. 8 relating to the subject of procedure for retrenchment. In its statement the Union has claimed that there should be no retrenchment by the Company without consultation with the Union and certain definite principles should be laid down as regards the procedure for retrenchment. Apart from the position that the Company is not agreeable to adopt the suggestion regarding consultation with the Union with regard to matters of retrenchment it seems to me that this subject of consultation can not be properly dealt with in the present award unless and until the question of recognition of the Union by the Company is settled. As regards principles governing the procedure for retrenchment, it has been suggested in course of the hearing that the Company should follow a system of "last come first go" which means that in considering a question of retrenchment the Company should first terminate the service of a worker who came last or, in other words, the juniormost workers would be the first to be retrenched. The Company is agreeable to adopt this policy of "last come first go" provided that it is applied to the same category of workers and not to the whole mill. In my opinion this view of the Company is reasonable from the practical standpoint. I accordingly direct that the Company shall pursue a policy of "last come first go" with regard to the same category of workers, though not necessarily with regard to the whole mill. As regards the right of consultation with the Union I refrain, under the particular circumstances, from giving any direction. I make my award accordingly under Issue No. 8.

Issue No. 9.

11. The subject of night allowance may then be considered under Issue No. 9. The present factory is run in 3 shifts, called A, B and C shifts. The A shift runs from 6 a.m. to 11-30 a.m. and from 2 p.m. to 4-30 p.m. The B shift runs from 11-30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4-30 p.m. to 10 p.m. The C shift runs from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. and from 2-30 a.m. to 6 a.m. It is clear that the A shift and the B shift run for 8 hours, whereas the C shift which is the real night shift runs for 7½ hours. The workers of the C shift thus do actual work for 7½ hours and they are paid on the basis of 8 hours' work. The Company has stated that the C shift workers are supplied some tea at night. The claim put forward by the Union is that workers of the B and C shifts should get 25 per cent. of their basic wages as night allowance in addition to their usual emoluments. The Company does not agree to pay the night allowance claimed. The Jute Textile Industry Tribunal had no occassion to consider any claim of a similar nature. It appears that the B shift is not really a night shift in the proper sense, and the workers of the B shift get ample time for sleep at night. As regards the C shift the position is not that some day time workers are made to work at night. The Company runs the C shift for 7½ hours as against the usual 8 hours, in consideration of the fact that the work is done at night. There is no definite evidence to indicate that night allowance of the kind claimed is paid in any factory of a similar nature. Taking all things into consideration I am not impressed that the claim for night allowance is really justified under the particular circumstances. I therefore reject the claim and make my award accordingly under Issue No. 9.

Issue No. 10.

12. The next issue, namely, Issue No. 10, relates to Standing Orders and Rules of service. This subject was discussed at length during the hearing by representatives of both parties with reference to the Standing Orders and Rules of service as shown in the first part and second part of Appendix VIII on page 160 and succeeding pages of the Jute Award. The Company has stated that it is agreeable to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal in this matter and has already adopted the Standing Orders and Rules of service framed by the Indian Jute Mills Association in conformity with the directions in the Jute Award. On behalf of the Union, however, certain changes were urged during the hearing. After giving the fullest consideration to all the points in respect of which alterations were suggested on behalf of the Union I have come to the conclusion that the best and most advantageous course would be to adopt the Standing Orders and Rules of service as per Appendix VIII of the Jute Award for our present purposes in the present Award, except for any matter which may be inappropriate as regards the present case. I proceed to consider the contentions raised on behalf of the Union with reference to the Standing Orders under Appendix VIII of the Jute Award. My attention was drawn by the learned Pleader for the Union to clause 7 of the Standing Orders on page 162 of the Jute Award and it was suggested that in addition to the provision covered by the words "those with the shortest term of service being discharged first", there should be a provision to the effect that the oldest employees who have gone beyond 30 years' service should be discharged first. Though the Union raised this contention, I do not feel quite sure that old employees under this Company would be quite agreeable to the introduction of the rule suggested. Further it appears that this factory was established only in 1925, and there is not a single employee who is likely to complete 30 years' service in the near future. The award I am going to give will be in operation for not more than a year. I do not think there is any reason for my introducing something in the award which will not hold good during the period of operation of the Award. I should, therefore, leave clause 7 of the Standing Orders as it is. As regards clause 8 of the Standing Orders it was suggested by the Union that it should be clearly laid down that the sufficiency of reason is to be investigated. I think that when the words "without sufficient reason" occur in the clause, the question of sufficiency of the reason must be presumed to be subject to investigation. I, therefore, leave clause 8 as it is. As regards clause 9(a) the Union wanted to omit the words "contract, custom and usage". I do not see any reason for accepting this suggestion and I decide to leave the clause as it is. Similarly there is no reason for deleting the last portion of clause 9(b) as suggested by the Union. As regards clause 9(c) the Union wanted to replace the words "eight days" by the words "one month". I do not see any reason for making the change suggested. The Union suggested that clause 12(b) should be modified in accordance with its claim under Issue No. 7. In view of my decision under Issue No. 7 clause 12(b) should remain as it is. I do not see any reason for making any other change in clause 12 except that the words "or from one jute mill to another" must necessarily be omitted from clause 12(c). I do not see any reason for making any change as regards clause 13. As regards clause 14(c) the Union suggested that the words "personally or through the Union" should be added after the words "opportunity to explain" in the first sentence. As the question of recognition of the Union still remains pending, the change suggested does not appear to be appropriate at the present stage. I next proceed to consider the other rules of service in the second part of Appendix VIII of the Jute Award on page 166. As regards clause 5(a) it was suggested by the Union that the following words should be added at the end of sub-clause (a):—"and shall be entitled to food cash allowance of Rs. 2 per week provided that they offer themselves for work for one day in a week". It was contended on behalf of the Union that the system with regard to badli workers indicated in the additional provision suggested was in vogue in the jute mills. In order to clarify the position I issued a letter to the Indian Jute Mills Association and also to the Jute Mill Workers' Federation, Bengal, for opinion on the subject, as it appears that this aspect of the matter was not raised before the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal and that Tribunal had no occasion to consider it or to give a decision. The replies from both the Indian Jute Mills Association and the Jute Mill Workers' Federation make it perfectly clear that mere attendance by way of offer of work on one day in a week does not entitle a badli worker to the food cash allowance. It further appears that the system is that in order that registered badli workers who are not actually employed may be entitled to receive an amount per week as food cash allowance, they are required to attend the labour bureau for all six days in a week, that is, at the beginning of the day's work where there is one shift and at the beginning of the morning shift when there are two shifts. The Jute Mill Workers' Federation in its reply states that to be entitled to receive an amount per week as food cash allowance the registered badli workers are required to report to the labour bureau twice in a day and in some mills no food cash allowance is given even if they have attended the bureau. The replies received by me do not support the Union's case at all. I do not think it will serve any useful purpose if I introduce a provision to the effect that a badli worker would be entitled to an amount by way of food cash allowance if he attends the factory at the beginning of each shift on each of the six days in the week. I do not think that this matter, which was not considered by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, calls for any urgent attention under the particular circumstances, and I would prefer to stick to the body of rules of service as framed by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, as I feel that there is no urgent need of making any addition of an ineffective character. In the result I direct that as regards the Standing Orders and Rules of service applicable to the Eastern Manufacturing Company, the Standing Orders and Rules of service as shown in the first part and second part respectively under Appendix VIII of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award on page 160, and succeeding pages shall be adopted by the Company, except that the words "or from one jute mill to another" in clause 12(c) of the first part shall be deleted.

Issue No. 11.

13. I then pass on to Issue No. 11 relating to provident fund and gratuity. The Union appears to have made a claim in respect of provident fund on a basis higher than what was adopted in the Jute Award. The Company is agreeable to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal with regard to this matter. In my opinion the decision in respect of the present issue and most of the other issues which remain to be considered should be more or less on the lines of the directions in respect of similar issues adjudicated upon by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal. It is not necessary to dilate on the reasoning with regard to each of these issues. As regards the present issue on the subject of retiral benefits it is presumed that there is no system of pension, and I direct that if there is any system of pension on paper or in actual fact, that system shall be discontinued. I further direct that the Eastern Manufacturing Company shall introduce with regard to all its permanent employees the Contributory Provident Fund system defined in Appendix X on page 169 and succeeding pages of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award within two months from the date of publication of this award. In the meantime the following system of gratuity in respect of all employees shall come into operation. The provisions of the system of gratuity shall be as follows:—

(1) On retirement after continuous service for not less than fifteen years.—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic wages for each completed year of service subject to a maximum of fifteen months' basic wages.

(2) On retirement before completing fifteen years' service by reason of superannuation on medical grounds or owing to any other sufficient cause approved by the employer in this behalf.—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic wages for each completed year of service.

(3) On death.—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic wages for each completed year of service (payable to the employee's nominee or nominees or heirs), subject to a maximum of fifteen months' basic wages.

(4) The basis of calculating gratuity shall be the average basic wages, not including overtime wages or any allowances, bonuses or other benefits, during the last twelve months of service on full wages.

(5) For the period for which the Provident Fund has been in operation in respect of an employee, he or his nominee or nominees or heirs will receive the whole amount at his credit in the Fund, including the amount of the employer's contribution, subject to the operation of rule 13 of the Provident Fund Rules as regards deductions; but in calculating the number of years of service for which gratuity will be payable, the period for which the Provident Fund has been in operation in respect of the particular employee shall be deducted from the total period of service.

Issue No. 12.

14. The next issue is Issue No. 12 relating to rules of leave and holidays. In dealing with the question of leave and holidays the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal considered the workers under three categories, namely, (a) manual and clerical workers within the meaning of the Factories Act, (b) clerical employees in the office, and (c) other manual and clerical employees. I propose to do the same. At the time when the Jute Tribunal was considering the quetsion of leave the new Factories Act LXIII of 1948 had not yet been enacted, and that Tribunal had before it only the new Factories Bill. It appears that the subject of annual leave with wages has been dealt with under section 79 of the new Factories Act on a more generous scale than what was contemplated in the old Factories Act or in the new Factories Bill, as it appears that under section 79 of the New Factories Act a worker may get under suitable circumstances annual leave with wages up to 15 days in 12 months. The Jute Tribunal in its award in paargraph 14 and succeeding paragraphs on page 60 and succeeding pages has provided for a scheme of privilege leave, casual leave, leave without pay, sick leave on half pay and holidays. I propose to follow more or less the directions given in the Jute Award except that the provision for privilege leave for five days on full pay in the year over and above the period of 10 days' annual holidays allowed by the Factories Act is not necessary in connection with our present case, in so far as the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal evidently intended that the annual leave with wages should be for 15 days as against the 10 days provided for by the Factories Act, and that that standard of annual leave has already been provided for by the new Factories Act LXIII of 1948 which will come into force on the 1st April 1949. Under these circumstances all that I need do in the present case is to direct that annual leave with wages on the basis provided for by section 79 of the New Factories Act shall be allowed with effect from the date of commencement of operation of the present award irrespective of the position that the new Factories Act itself will come into force from 1st April 1949. In the light of the above observations I make my award with regard to the subject of leave and holidays on the following lines:—

(1) Leave.—(a) For manual and clerical workers within the meaning of the Factories Act—

Holidays on first days of the week or substituted holidays and annual leave with wages in accordance with the provisions of the new Factories Act LXIII of 1948.

Casual leave without pay.—Ten days in a year.

Leave without pay.—Fifteen days in a year, cumulative for two years.

(b) For clerical employees in the office—

Holidays on first days of the week or substituted holidays on the lines of the new Factories Act of 1948.

Privilege leave on full pay.—Twenty-one days in a year, cumulative for three years.

Casual leave with full pay.—Ten days in a year.

(c) For other manual and clerical employees—

Holidays on first days of the week or substituted holidays on the lines of the new Factories Act, 1948.

Privilege leave on full pay.—Fifteen days in the year, cumulative for two years.

Casual leave without pay.—Ten days in a year.

For all categories of employees—

Sick leave on half pay.—Fifteen days in a year on the basis of a medical certificate from the Medical Officer of the mill or from a qualified and registered medical practitioner approved by the mill authorities.

This direction regarding sick leave, however, will hold good till the Employees' State Insurance Act of 1948 comes into full operation, that is to say, till the "sickness benefit" as provided for by section 49 of that Act becomes actually available to the employees.

(2) Festival holidays.—All employees shall be allowed eight festival holidays in a year, namely, two days for Durga Puja, one day for Doljatra or Holi, one day for Id-ul-fitr, one day for Id-uz-zoha, one day for Muharram and two other days to be determined by the Company in consultation with the employees.

(3) Maternity leave.—Maternity leave or maternity benefit shall be given in accordance with the provisions of the Bengal Maternity Benefit Act of 1939 for the time being and in accordance with the provisions of the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948, when the latter Act actually comes into operation.

(4) Leave in case of miscarriage.—Sickness leave on full pay up to a maximum period of two months after the date of miscarriage, to be allowed on the basis of a medical certificate from the Medical Officer of the mill or from a qualified and registered medical practitioner approved by the mill authorities.

Issue No. 13.

15. I next take up Issue No. 13 relating to the subject of housing and house allowance. The claim of the Union is to the effect that the Company should take the responsibility for scientific housing accommodation for the workmen, and every workman should be provided with a bedroom with a verandah, a kitchen, a lavatory, and also electric light and water pipe arrangement, or in the alternative each workman should be paid Rs. 10 or 10 per cent. of the pay whichever is higher as house rent pending the arrangement for housing. During my inspection of the mill I found that there was some housing accommodation for the manual workers, but it was certainly inadequate. There are no quarters for the clerical staff. The cooly lines at one place are back-to-back rooms with brick walls and tiled roofs, each room having one door and one window with a verandah, the size of the room being about 12 feet × 10 feet. There are eight such rooms accommodating 4 or 5 persons in each. There are two big rooms accommodating 20 or 21 persons. In this part of the cooly lines there appears to be accommodation for about 60 persons. At another place there is a set of rooms which are not of the back-to-back type. There are 15 rooms, the size being about 10 feet × 8 feet. Each room has a window at the back and a door, a window and a verandah in front. Each room is said to accommodate 3 or 4 persons. Apart from some manual workers of the factory, about 13 durwans occupy part of the accommodation at this place. It appears that the housing accommodation so far provided gives shelter to about 120 male employees. It does not appear that there are any latrines attached to the workmen's quarters. There are no quarters for the females. The total working population of this mill would exceed 900. It is clear, therefore, that the housing accommodation so far provided is inadequate. The amenities given also are not quite satisfactory. There is, therefore, much room for improvement and it is expected that the Company will do its best to improve the position as early as possible. I wish to follow the reasoning adopted by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal with regard to the question of housing and house allowance in paragraph 16 and succeeding paragraphs on page 74 and succeeding pages of the Jute Award. While giving no direction about house building I recommend that the Company should push forward its building programmes not only in the interest of the workers, but also in the interest of the Company itself, as better housing for the labour forces must necessarily mean more contented and efficient labour and consequently a greater capacity for output. As regards the question of house rent allowance in the absence of adequate housing accommodation, I adopt the reasoning pursued by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal in paragraph 16(3) of its award in view of the position that the scales of wages, dearness allowance, etc., have been determined in the present case practically on the same lines as in the Jute Award. Under the particular circumstances I decline to give any direction in the present award on the subject of granting a house rent allowance for the workers at present. I make my award accordingly under Issue No. 13.

Issue No. 14.

16. The next issue is Issue No. 14 relating to medical facilities. At present there is no dispensary or medical staff attached to the Eastern Manufacturing Company's factory itself. There is, however, a dispensary with one qualified doctor, one compounder and one dresser located on the compound of the Britannia Engineering Company's factory, which is close to the Eastern Manufacturing Company's factory and is under the same Managing Agency of Messrs. McLeod and Co., Ltd. It appears that this dispensary though located on the compound of the Britannia Engineering Company's factory, is run jointly by that Company and by the Eastern Manufacturing Company, and it has been represented before the Tribunal that the expenses of the medical staff and medicines, etc., are shared by the two Companies. The system appears to be that when a worker under Eastern Manufacturing Company requires medical aid he applies to his overseer for a medical pass and this pass enables him to enter Britannia Engineering Company's compound and to reach the dispensary. As regards more serious cases I am told patients may go to Dr. B. N. Bose Charitable Hospital at Barrackpore which is not far from Titagarh area. There is a maternity clinic with six beds and a delivery room with a staff of one passed nurse and two sweepers located on the compound of the Kelvin Jute Mill at Titagarh under the same managing agency. This maternity clinic is said to be available to female employees of Eastern Manufacturing Company. The complaint put forward on behalf of the Union is that the dispensary located on the Britannia Engineering Company's compound is not always available to workers of the Eastern Manufacturing Company, and they are very often confronted with serious difficulties in getting admittance to that dispensary. Whatever may be the arrangement on paper it seems to me that it is sometimes very inconvenient, owing to various causes, for workers of the Eastern Manufacturing Company to get access to the dispensary located on Britannia Engineering Company's compound, although that dispensary is not very far off. I do not wish to say much about the maternity clinic and I give the simple direction that the Managing Agents will arrange things in such a way that needy female workers of Eastern Manufacturing Company may get easy access to the maternity clinic located on the Kelvin Jute Mill compound. As regards the ordinary dispensary, however, the position seems to be somewhat different. The Company has pleaded that instead of having an ill-equipped dispensary in every mill it is better to have one well-equipped dispensary for two or more mills situated in the same locality. There may be some point in this argument. But medical facility has something of a psychological element and employees to whom facilities are intended to be given should be made to feel that they always have easy access to those facilities. When access becomes difficult, the facility itself loses much of its utility. That is evidently the reason why the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal directed in clause (5) of paragraph 17(6) on page 89 of the Jute Award that a dispensary should be opened in every jute mill where there was no dispensary. The same idea should apply to our present case. Adopting more or less the trend of decisions arrived at by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal with regard to the subject of medical facilities in paragraph 17 and succeeding paragraphs of that award, I give the following directions:—

(1) There shall be provided and maintained so as to be readily accessible during all working ho first-aid boxes or cupboards equipped with the contents prescribed by rule 42 of the Bengal Factories Rules, 1940, and the number of such boxes or cupboards to be provided and maintained shall not be less than one for every 150 workers ordinarily employed in this mill.

(2) Nothing except the prescribed contents shall be kept in the boxes or cupboards referred to in clause (1), and all such boxes or cupboards shall be kept in the charge of a responsible person who is trained in first-aid treatment and who shall always be available during the working hours of the mill.

(4) A dispensary with an adequate quantity of medicines to meet the needs of the workers of this mill and with other equipment of a moderately adequate standard under the supervision of a qualified medical practitioner assisted by other staff (such medical practitioner being a whole-time officer as far as practicable) shall be opened within three months from the date of publication of this award. In the meantime the system of utilising the dispensary located on the compound of the Britannia Engineering Company should continue.

Issue No. 15.

17. I next proceed to deal with the subject of cheap canteen under Issue No. 15. During my inspection I saw a light refreshment canteen providing tea and ordinary light refreshment but no cooked food. The Company is agreeable to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal with regard to this subject. Without going into further details I adopt more or less the directions given by the Jute Tribunal in paragraph 19(3) on page 97 of the Jute Award, and I give the following directions:—

(1) The present canteen should be maintained, and should be improved as far as practicable, for the provision of tea and light refreshments, and also of cooked food if possible and if required by a substantial body of workers.

(2) With regard to the running of the canteen the Company shall provide the room or rooms and shall pay for the fuel, light and the supply of necessary utensils and implements. The food supplied to the workers shall be available at cost price which will include the cost of food materials supplied and of attendants.

Issue No. 16.

18. The next issue is Issue No. 16 relating to the subject of rest shelter. The Union's demand in this respect is that the Company should provide a rest house for the workmen for resting during the tiffin period as well as before and after the working hours and there should be provision for recreation like indoor games, radio, etc. In effect the demand is in respect of provision for a rest shelter and a recreation centre and I propose to consider both of these under the present issue in the same manner as was followed by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal as per that Tribunal's award in paragraph 20 and succeeding paragraphs on page 97 and succeeding pages of the award. I make my award in the present case by giving the following directions:—

(1) The Company shall provide for and maintain an adequate and suitable shelter or shelters for the use of the workers. The canteen shall be regarded as part of the accommodation provided for the shelter or shelters, and should be as near the latter as possible. Specifications regarding the shelter or shelters should be according to the directions of the Provincial Government under rule 45 of the present Bengal Factories Rules, 1940, or under any law or rules which may come into force on the commencement of operation of the new Factories Act of 1948.

(2) A recreation centre shall be opened in this mill, and there shall be provision for indoor games and other amenities at such centre. I do not propose to give any specification regarding the size and equipments of the recreation centre. In order to minimise the cost of construction the question of having the recreation centre in the rest shelter or shelters which I have already directed to be established may be considered, wherever possible, provided that such shelters can be made accessible to the workers during non-working hours without detriment to the safety of the factory. If the suggested combination of a shelter room and a recreation centre is not practicable or desirable, the recreation centre should be separately maintained.

(3) The rest shelter or shelters and the recreation centre shall be opened within four months from the date of publication of this award.

Issue No. 17.

19. I pass on now to Issue No. 17 relating to the subject of provision for creches. The number of female workers in this mill appears to be 51, though it has been suggested by the Company that the number is probably below 50. The Company is, however, agreeable to have a creche even if the number of female workers is slightly below 50. I adopt more or less the reasoning and directions given by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal in paragraph 21 and succeeding paragraphs of that Tribunal's award and I make my award in the present case by giving the following directions:—The Company shall provide a suitable room or rooms for the use of children under the age of six years belonging to women workers of the factory. Such rooms shall provide adequate accommodation, shall be adequately lighted and ventilated, shall be maintained in a clean and sanitary condition and shall be under the charge of a woman experienced in the care of children and infants, assisted by other suitable staff. As regards specifications regarding the location and the standards in respect of construction, equipments and other particulars, directions should be obtained from the Provincial Government under the law and rules in force for the time being. The creche should be opened within three months from the date of publication of this award.

Issue No. 18.

20. I next take up Issue No. 18 relating to arrangements for educational facilities for adult workers and their children. At present the Eastern Manufacturing Company as such does not maintain any school for its adult workers or their children. There is, however, a primary school situated near the Kelvin and Empire Jute Mills in the Titagarh area and it is maintained since the year 1935 for the benefit of the children of employees within the McLeod group of mills in that area, including the Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill. I inspected this school and saw the children, both male and female, in the classes. There are four classes in which instruction is given in Hindi and Urdu, most of the children belonging to up-country families. The staff consists of 4 teachers including the Head Master. There is a play-ground attached to the school premises. The total number of children on the registers of the school was stated to be about 150, and at the time of inspection I was told that 125 children were in attendance. Scholarships are available which entitle students to continue further studies in a Middle English School at Barrackpore which is not far from Titagarh. The school tuition is free and books are provided. The cost of running this school is borne by the various mills in the McLeod group agency. Theoretically this school is indeed open to children of the employees of the Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill. But in actual practice employees of Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill do not usually send their children to the school, presumably because the location of the school at some distance from this mill is not very convenient. There is no kind of night school or any other institution where the adult workers can receive any education. The question is whether this Tribunal will give a direction for the starting of a proper school for the employees' children and an educational institution for the adult workers so far as the present mill is concerned. The question has been elaborately dealt with in paragraph 22 and succeeding paragraphs on page 103 and succeeding pages of the Jute Award, and I do not propose to dilate further on the subject. It is not practicable or advisable under the prevailing circumstances to give any direction on the Company to start any new educational institution of a specific character or standard. I direct that the existing school for the children of the employees of the mills within the McLeod group agency in the Titagarh area should be maintained at an adequate level of efficiency and should be improved as far as practicable, and that the employees under the Eastern Manufacturing Company should be encouraged to send their children to that school. I do not wish to give any further direction, but I recommend that a primary school for the employees' children and some kind of school for the adult workers be started by the Eastern Manufacturing Company, on its own account, as soon as practicable in consultation with the Department of Education, Government of West Bengal, and in co-ordination of such schemes as may be contemplated by Government.

Issue No. 19.

21. I pass on now to consider Issue No. 19 relating to the subject of improvement of working conditions and sanitary arrangements and provision against occupational diseases. Taking the subject of occupational diseases first, I observe that there is no definite indication to show that there is any occupational disease peculiar to this factory. The industry carried on here is allied to the usual Jute Textile Industry carried on in a jute mill. As has been observed by the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal in paragraphs 18(5) and 18(6) on pages 93-95 of the Jute Award the existence of any occupational disease peculiar to Jute Textile workers has not yet been established, and it may very well be a subject to be investigated by research scholars in a suitable Research Institute. I recommend that if any investigation in respect of jute mills, on the subject of occupational diseases, is carried on, the Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill should be brought within the purview of such investigation. I am unable to give any further direction on the subject till the existence of any occupational disease is established.

I then proceed to the question of improvement of working conditions and sanitary arrangements. During my inspection of the factory I have noticed that there is considerable room for improvement of latrines and urinals and washing facilities and various other matters. It is needless for me to dilate at length on this subject, as the new Factories Act LXIII of 1948 has amply provided for satisfactory working conditions and good sanitary arrangements. I direct that all provisions of the new Factories Act on the subject of working conditions and sanitary arrangements, which will be found in Chapter III relating to Health, Chapter IV relating to Safety, and Chapter V relating to Welfare be fully complied with by the Company.

Issue No. 20.

22. The next issue is Issue No. 20 relating to a claim for free supply of uniforms for durwans and drivers. The Company has agreed to follow the directions of the Jute Tribunal with regard to this matter. The subject has been dealt with in paragraph 23(1) on page 108 of the Jute Award. I direct that the Company shall supply summer and winter uniforms and water-proofs to durwans and drivers.

Issue No. 21.

23. I pass on now to consider Issue No. 21 relating to the subject of revision of working hours. The Union's claim is that the number of working hours should be reduced from 48 to 40. The Company has not agreed to the proposed reduction. The Jute Textile Industry Tribunal dealt with this subject in paragraph 11(3) on pages 51 to 53 of the Jute Award, and in that Award the Tribunal gave its cogent reasons for refusing a demand for the reduction of working hours from 48 to 40 per week. I adopt the same reasoning and decline to give any direction for the reduction of working hours and make my award accordingly under this issue.

Issue No. 22.

24. I have thus completed my decisions in respect of all the material issues in this industrial dispute, and the only issue that now remains to be considered is Issue No. 22 relating to the subject of retrospective operation of the award. The Union has suggested that the award should be given retrospective effect from the date of publication of the award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal, that is to say, the 20th September 1948. The Company has stated that it has already revised the new rates in accordance with the directions in the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's award with effect from the 20th September 1948. It is clear, therefore, that there is no serious controversy with regard to the proposition that the present award may be made operative with effect from the 20th September 1948 as far as practicable. Under section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act it is for the Provincial Government to specify the date with effect from which this award will come into operation, and it is not really for this Tribunal to decide Issue No. 22 in the manner in which it has been framed. It will be useful, however, for this Tribunal to make a recommendation, under the particular circumstances, on the subject of the dates from which the different parts of the present award may be made operative under the orders of the Provincial Government. The parts of the award under Issues Nos. 1, 3 and 4 may be made operative with effect from the 20th September 1948. As regards Issue No. 2 all parts of the award under that issue except the decision regarding the piece-rate workers in the Winding Department as per paragraph 4(2) of the present award may be made operative with effect from the same date. Under the peculiar circumstances surrounding the decision under paragraph 4(2) relating to piece-rate workers in the Winding Department, that part of the award under Issue No. 2 cannot be made operative with retrospective effect, and should be made operative with effect from the date of publication of the present award. As regards the decisions under the other issues, namely, Issues Nos. 5 to 21, they may be made operative with effect from the date of publication of the present award as usual. If these suggestions are accepted by Government, the position will be that parts of this award will come into operation with effect from the 20th September 1948, and will cease to operate after the 19th September 1949, on the assumption that the period of operation will be one year. The position further will be that other parts of the present award will come into operation on and from the date of its publication, and it is highly desirable that those parts also should cease to operate after the 19th September 1949, so that the whole of the award may cease to operate on the same date, which is the date after which the award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal will also cease to operate. The Eastern Manufacturing Company's mill will thus be placed more or less on the same level as the jute mills in West Bengal, so far as the period of operation of the award is concerned. In view of what I have discussed above I recommend that the parts of the present award under Issues Nos. 1, 3 and 4 and all parts of the award under Issue No. 2 except the decisions relating to piece-rate workers in the Winding Department as per paragraph 4(2) of the award be made operative with effect from the 20th September 1948, and that the part of the award as per paragraph 4(2) relating to the piece-rate workers in the Winding Department and all other parts of the award under the remaining issues from Nos. 5 to 21 be made operative with effect from the date of publication of the present award, and that all parts of the award as a whole be declared to cease to operate after the 19th September 1949, the date up to which the award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal will be operative.

S. N. MODAK,
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, CALCUTTA.

PRESENT: SRI MATISH CHANDRA BANERJI, Additional District Judge, Tribunal.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. Balmer Lawrie, & Co., Ltd., 103, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., Employees' Union, 30, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, in connection with the cases relating to Sri Sadhan Chandra Koley, Sri Hiren Kumar Bose, Sri Nagendra Nath Bose and Sri Balai Chand Seal, as referred to by Government in their order No. 3795Lab., dated 23rd October 1948.

AWARD.

Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. (hereinafter mentioned as the Company), is a mercantile firm of considerable size carrying on business by themselves, as well as on behalf of a number of companies as their managing agents. The Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., is one of such companies in their managing agency. The Company maintains separate departments in its office for management of the work of the companies for whom it acts as the managing agents and the appointments, payments and dismissal, of the staff for all the departments are made and controlled by the authorities of the Company. The employees of the Company in all its departments formed themselves into a union styled as the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., Employees' Union (hereinafter mentioned as the Union), in August 1946, and forthwith submitted to the Company a charter of demands in respect of terms of employment and conditions of labour. According to the statement of the Union, a notice of strike by the employees was served on the Company on 4th March 1947 although the strike was not actually effected at the intervention of the Labour Commissioner. The Company on 1st April 1947 retired from service one Sri Bilash Chandra Mitra, a clerk drawing a monthly basic salary of Rs. 110 and a dearness allowance, on a monthly pension of Rs. 31, on the ground of unsatisfactory work and also discharged one Sri Santimay Mitra in July 1947 on the same ground. The Union assailed the retirement and the discharge aforesaid as instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice on the part of the Company, and a dispute arose on the question which was referred on 10th October 1947 by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, for adjudication, to Sri N. C. Chakravarti, Tribunal. The Award of the Tribunal on this dispute was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 5th February 1948, and it was decided that the termination of the employment of two employees was a result of unfair labour practice on the part of the Company and the employees were reinstated.

In the meantime on 17th January 1948, the Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour, by order No. 135Lab., appointed a Tribunal for adjudication of disputes existing or apprehended, between the employees and the employers in 267 mercantile firms in Calcutta, of which Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., is one.

There were other instances of termination of service of employees of the Company, and on 9th March 1948, the Union applied to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, complaining that the services of six employees of the Company were terminated by way of unfair labour practice and victimisation. The Labour Commissioner started conciliation proceedings, but failed to effect any settlement and submit a report under section 12(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, recommending a reference to the Tribunal, the dispute over the termination of service of four of the employees, viz., (1) Balai Chand Seal, (2) Nagendra Nath Bose, (3) Sadhan Chandra Koley and (4) Hiren Kumar Bose.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 3795Lab., dated 23rd October 1948, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the dispute between the Company and the Union, in connection with the four abovementioned employees, to me for adjudication.

Notices were issued to the parties who appeared and filed written statements.

The Union's case in brief is that the employees in question were prominent members of the Union and that their services were terminated with a view to crush the Union and coerce the employees against engaging in concerted activities of the Union. It is also stated that the Award of Sri N. C. Chakravarti in respect of Sri Bilash Chandra Mitra and Sri Santimay Mitra was not implemented by the Company and the subsequent orders of retirement and discharge were made by the Company as a challenge to the above Award.

The Company in its written statement denied the allegations of unfair labour practice in relation to the termination of the employment of the four clerks in question and averred that the Company took the steps complained of in the honest discharge of its administrative duties in course of management of its interest. The Company further contended that Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were employees of Messrs. Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., of which it was the Managing Agent, and that the adjudication of the disputes over employment and non-employment of these two ex-employees could not proceed against the Company. In particular, it was stated that Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were retired from service on monthly pensions for unsatisfactory work, that Sadhan Chandra Koley was discharged for inefficiency and Hiren Kumar Bose was discharged for negligence in duty.

The Issues were framed on 9th December 1948, and the case was heard on 23rd December 1948, 14th January 1949, 17th January 1949, 19th January 1949, 22nd January 1949, 24th January 1949, 25th January 1949, 26th January 1949, and 27th January 1949.

The appearances of the parties were as follows:—

For the Union—Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, Sri J. N. Banerji and Sri Nirmal Chandra Sen.

For the Company—Sri S. K. Mallick, Solicitor, of Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans, Solicitors.

The Issues framed were as follows:—

ISSUES.

1. Were (1) Balai Chand Seal and (2) Nagendra Nath Bose employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., and is their claim against that Company in this case competent?

2. Were Balai Chand Seal, Nagendra Nath Bose, Sadhan Chandra Koley and Hiren Kumar Bose unlawfully discharged from service? Are they or any one of them entitled to reinstatement?

3. Are any one of the four employees in question entitled to any compensation from the Company?

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1.—Were (1) Balai Chand Seal and (2) Nagendra Nath Bose employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., and is their claim against that Company in this case competent?

The Company states in paragraph 8 of its written statement as follows:—

".....the Company states that Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose are not the employees of this Company and as such no relationship of employer and employee exists between the Company and the said Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose. The Tribunal has, therefore, no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the alleged industrial dispute between the Company and the said Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose, nor has the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., Union any locus standi to represent them in these proceedings." The case of the Company is that Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were employees not of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., but of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., and that the latter Company is their master and employer, and that, therefore, the dispute in regard to employment and non-employment, if any, of these two employees, existed between them and the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., and not Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. There is really no question of jurisdiction of the Tribunal involved in this matter but the plea really means that there was no industrial dispute between the two ex-employees on the one hand and the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., on the other, and that the present proceedings against the Company so far as demands of these two ex-employees are concerned must fail.

The Union contended that it was the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., who appointed Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose and had complete authority over their employment, and non-employment, terms of employment and conditions of labour and that it was this Company that paid them their remuneration while they were in service and retired them and paid their pensions after retirement.

The question is if the contract of employment of Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were such that the Company (The Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd.) would be saddled with the duties and liabilities of the employer in regard to employment and non-employment, terms of employment and conditions of labour. If this question can be answered in the affirmative the conclusion would be that the dispute has been rightly raised against the Company under the Industrial Disputes Act. We shall now discuss the documentary and the oral evidence available on the point on record.

Both Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose are about 50 or 51 years of age now. Both of them were in the service of the Company for 27 or 28 years till they were retired in June 1948. It appears that there was a reorganisation of the employees in the Company in January 1947, and the salaries and grades of the clerks were revised. Letters, Exhibits 1, 1(a), 2 and 2(a) show, that the salaries of both were fixed at Rs. 100 per mensem and that they were ultimately placed in the Senior Grade of the Clerical Staff. All the four letters have been signed by the Director of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., and the clerks are shown as of the Indian Galvanising Department of the Company. Letters, Exhibit 3 (dated 16th February 1948) and Exhibit 3(a) (dated 2nd February 1948), are letters of the Directors of the Company ordering retirement of Nagen and Balai respectively and granting each a pension of Rs. 40 per month with effect from June 1948. All these letters show that the employment and discharge of the two clerks in question were made by the Company. Exhibits A, B and C are petitions addressed by the clerks in question to the Company; Exhibits E, E1 and F are departmental reports of the Staff Officer of the Company about these two officers. Exhibits D and D1 are the service records of these two employees maintained by the Company. All these papers show that Balai and Nagen were employed under the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., but in their Indian Galvanising Department.

The oral evidence on the point was adduced by Balai and Nagen on the side of the Union and Captain J. K. Biswas, Staff Officer and Mr. P. J. Dyer, Manager of the Indian Galvanising Department, on the side of the Company. In evidence the two ex-employees claimed that they were employees of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., in the Indian Galvanising Department. It appears that at a certain period Nagen was transferred to the General Accounts Department of Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. Both of these officers are in the service of the Company since before the incorporation of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., which was made in December 1926. Exhibit 3, the order of discharge of Nagen, shows that the Director of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., granted the pension because he was in the service of the Company for 27 years. Captain J. K. Biswas, the Staff Officer of the Company, states clearly in his evidence that the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., are the appointing and dismissing authorities of all the employees in all companies in their managing agency and that the management and discipline of the officers of the office of the Indian Galvanising Department were in charge of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. The evidence of Mr. P. J. Dyer is to the same effect, although he stated that the Indian Galvanising Company Department is nothing but the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd. Although Mr. P. J. Dyer is the Manager of the Indian Galvanising Department he appears to be a subordinate officer under the Directors of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd.

The evidence on record—oral and documentary—would, therefore, go to show that the two ex-employees Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were employees of the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., attached to the Indian Galvanising Department of the Company, which was the department for the management of the affairs of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd. It will be seen from what will be discussed below in regard to the powers and the duties of the Company as Managing Agents, that the circumstances disclosed in the oral and documentary evidence shown above are amply justified by the terms and conditions of the Articles of Association of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd.

The Articles of Association (Exhibit G) for the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., was referred to by the learned Solicitor for the Company to show that the employers in question in this dispute were the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., but not the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., inasmuch as the Managing Agent could not exercise any authority to the exclusion of the control and supervision of the principal Company and referred to Article 88 of the Articles which runs thus:—

"The Managing Agent shall (subject to the general control and supervision of the Directors) carry on and manage the business of the Company and in particular shall have power and it shall be their duty to engage and dismiss managers, engineers, experts, clerks, assistants and servants, to direct and control such persons and fix and pay their remuneration, to make and sign, rescind and vary all such contracts.....and generally to do all such acts and things as may be done by the Company and are not hereby or by Statute expressly directed or required to be done by the Company in general meeting or by the Directors."

The Managing Agent has not the limitations of a Manager and in the case of a Managing Agent there is an agreement by virtue of which the Directors may have agreed to divest themselves of or to restrict several of their powers. The powers and duties of the Managing Agent have been defined in several clauses in Part VI of the Articles (Exhibit G). It appears that while the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., retained for its Directors the right of general control and supervision of the management by the Managing Agents, this right has been defined in clause 120, as one to advise and control the Managing Agents without taking any active part in the management of the Company's business. It, therefore, clearly appears that under the terms of the contract of agency, the active management by way of appointing or dismissing clerks and servants, directing and controlling such persons, fixing and paying their remuneration vested on the Managing Agents, the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. That being so, it is abundantly clear that the Managing Agents, over and above being the Agents of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., have also a personal liability in the matter of the contracts of employment and non-employment, terms of employment and conditions of labour of the two ex-employees Balai and Nagen, that is co-existent with that of the principal, the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd. It, therefore, follows that the two ex-employees may treat the Managing Agents the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., or the principal Company or both of them as their employers in connection with their employment and non-employment, terms of employment and conditions of labour (vide section 233 of the Indian Contract Act). It, therefore, appears that the dispute as raised against the Managing Agents is not incompetent and that the Tribunal is bound to adjudicate on it as raised.

It may be mentioned here that the same question was raised by the Company in the previous dispute with Santimay Mitra before Sri N. C. Chakravarti and the learned Tribunal also came to the same conclusion on a construction of the definition of "employer" in the Industrial Disputes Act in view of the preamble of the Act and the definition of the term "Industrial Dispute" in section 2(k) of the Act. I also generally agree with the conclusion of the learned Adjudicator in the previous dispute and it has been shown above that the same conclusions also follow from the terms of the contract of the managing agency and the conduct of the Managing Agents in fact.

This issue is accordingly answered in the affirmative.

Issue No. 2.—Were Balai Chand Seal, Nagendra Nath Bose, Sadhan Chandra Koley and Hiren Kumar Bose unlawfully discharged from serivce? Are they or any one of them entitled to reinstatement?

The Union contends that the four employees (1) Balai Chand Seal, (2) Nagendra Nath Bose, (3) Sadhan Chandra Koley and (4) Hiren Kumar Bose were unlawfully discharged from service and it is claimed that they were entitled to reinstatement from the respective dates of their discharge. I shall consider the case of Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose together and the question in regard to the other two employees separately.

Balai Chand Seal was in the service of the Company for 28 years till February 1948, when he was discharged (vide Exhibit 3(a)). Nagendra Nath Bose was in the service of the Company for 27 years till February 1948 (vide Exhibit 3). The orders of discharge of these two employees being Exhibits 3 and 3(a) are on identical terms and that of Balai Chand Seal is reproduced below:—

"2nd February 1948.

Babu Balai Chand Seal, Indian Galvanising Department.

DEAR SIR,

You have now been working for the Company for 28 years and recent reports indicate that your work has suffered a deterioration, which is not surprising in view of your advancing years.

We have accordingly decided that you should retire as from the end of this month, receiving in the first instance leave with pay and allowance for March, April and May. Thereafter, in view of your length of service with the Company, we will be pleased to grant you a pension of Rs. 40 per month which we trust you will live to enjoy for many years.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,
BALMER LAWRIE & CO., LTD.,
(Sd.) O. T. JENKINS, Director."

Each of them was allowed leave on full pay and allowance for March, April and May 1948, and was put on retirement on a monthly pension of Rs. 40, with effect from June 1948. The Union assails the discharge of the two employees as instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice and asserts that both the employees, who were members of the Union, were discharged as a challenge to the Union as also the Award of reinstatement of discharged employees made by Sri N. C. Chakravarti, which was published by a Government notification, dated 22nd January 1948, in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 5th February 1948. The Company opposed the allegations of the Union and claimed that the employees in question were put on the retired list in the ordinary course of administration of the Company, for reasons adequately explained in the orders of discharge on them.

In oral evidence Balai and Nagen stated that they suspected that they were got rid of as they were members of the Union. Exhibit 4, being the list of the members of the Union, shows that both of them were members of this Union. It, however, appears that there were numerous other employees who were members of the same Union. Balai was also a member of the Executive Committee when it was first formed in July 1946 (vide Exhibit 5), but ceased to be so some time in 1947, as it was admitted by him. Balai was discharged in February 1948 some time after he ceased to be a member of the Executive Committee.

Service records (Exhibits D and D1), Departmental Report (Exhibit F) on Balai and Report (Exhibit H) on both, were proved by the Company to show that the clerks were deteriorating in efficiency and the reports, Exhibits E and E1, were shown to prove that action against them was taken after due care and caution and in conformity with the opinion of their departmental heads.

I do not find any sufficient evidence to justify the conclusion that the Company discriminated against these two employees because of their being members of the Union and the plea of victimisation must fail.

The suggestion of the Union that the retirement of these two employees was made as a challenge to the Award of Sri N. C. Chakravarti directing reinstatement of Bilash Chandra Mitra and Santimay Mitra which was not yet implemented by the Company has not also been substantiated. The explanation of the Company for their omission to implement the Award of Sri N. C. Chakravarti is that they were awaiting the result of the decision of the Hon'ble High Court and thereafter that of the Hon'ble Federal Court on the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to order reinstatement of discharged employees. I do not consider that the Company could gain anything by deliberately multiplying instances of discharge and retirement which could not be expected to gain support with the Tribunal and the Union's plea of the challenge to the Tribunal's Award is not, therefore, acceptable.

The orders of retirement of these two clerks in February 1948 was, however, unlawful under the Industrial Disputes Act, owing to the pendency of the mercantile disputes case before the Major Mercantile Tribunal, as the retirement of these two clerks were instances of illegal lock-out on the part of the Company.

It has been discussed above that the two clerks in question—Balai and Nagen—were employees of the Comapny, although they were attached to its Indian Galvanizing Department. The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Commerce, Labour and Industries (Labour) by order No. 135Lab., dated 17th January 1948, referred the Industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of the mercantile firms and their associate firms mentioned in the order and their clerical and subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some of their Unions also mentioned in that order. Firm No. 16 in this order is the Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., of 103, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta. The Union representing the clerical and subordinate staff of the office of this Company is mentioned as Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. Employees' Union of 30, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta. Exhibit 4 shows the names of the employees of the Company who were members of this Union and Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose of the Indian Galvanising Department of the Company also appear to be members of this Union along with many others of that department. The learned Solicitor for the Company argued that the Indian Galvanizing Company (1926), Ltd., was one of the engineering companies that were involved in the industrial dispute in the engineering industry in West Bengal, the Award whereon was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 3rd July 1948, by Government notification 2161Lab., dated 30th June 1948, and it was also pointed out by the learned Solicitor that this Award also covered the dispute between the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., and their clerks in the head office. It is true that the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., was the Company No. 41 in the list of the companies involved in the dispute as mentioned in the Award of the Major Engineering Tribunal; it is also true that this Award adjudicated on the disputes as to the terms of employment and conditions of labour of the clerical staff of the factory and the head office of the companies concerned. The learned Solicitor contended that the terms of employment and conditions of labour of Balai and Nagen were to be governed by the Award of the Major Engineering Tribunal and not of the Major Mercantile Tribunal. The proceedings before the Major Engineering Tribunal commenced on 31st October 1947 and continued till the Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 3rd July 1948. The retirement of these two clerks was, therefore, made also during the pendency of the dispute before the Major Engineering Tribunal. As a matter of fact, however, Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose were employees of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., in their Indian Galvanising Department and were not employees of the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., in their head office. It does not appear that the Indian Galvanising Company (1926), Ltd., has any head office at all, as the Company is managed by the Managing Agents by their own office. It is, therefore, abundantly clear that the dispute between the employees of the Indian Galvanising Department of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., represented by Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., Employees' Union, 30, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd. of 103, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, was included in the industrial disputes before the Major Mercantile Tribunal referred to it by Government Order No. 135Lab., dated 17th January 1948.

Under section 20(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act the proceedings before a Tribunal are deemed to have commenced on the date of the reference of the dispute for adjudication and to have concluded when the Award is published by the Government. It is, therefore, clear that the proceedings of the Major Mercantile Tribunal in regard to the dispute between Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., and their employees represented by the Union commenced on 17th January 1948 and has not been concluded yet as no Award on the dispute has yet been published by the Government. The dispute was pending in the month of February 1948 when Balai and Nagen were ordered to be retired from service and on 1st June 1948 when their retirement actually took place. "Lock-out" under section 2(l) of the Act means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him. Under the present Act, the closing of a place of employment or a suspension of work, or refusal by employer to continue to employ one or more persons irrespective of any other consideration amounts to a "lock-out". This "lock-out" has been made illegal and punishable under certain specified circumstances as laid down in sections 22 and 23 of the Act. Section 23(b) of the Act prohibits a "lock-out" of every description during the pendency of the proceedings before a Tribunal ıd two months after the conclusion of such proedings. Section 24 makes a "lock-out" in conavention of section 23 of the Act illegal. Secon 26(2) of the Act punishes an illegal "lock-ıt". It, therefore, follows from the provisions of sections 22 and 23 of the Act that an employer is forbidden to discharge or dismiss or refuse to employ any workman during the pendency of an adjudication proceeding and till two months thereafter as he will thereby commit an offence of effecting an illegal "lock-out", punishable under section 26(2) of the Act.

The question, however, remains if this Tribunal has the jurisdiction to reinstate an employee if it is found that he was dismissed in circumstances amounting to an illegal "lock-out" by the employer. If the dismissal of the workmen in question is an industrial dispute, the Tribunal has the jurisdiction to adjudicate on it, provided the dispute is referred to it by the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act. In this industrial dispute the workman has a right of claiming the remedy of reinstatement when his discharge is prohibited by law and the Tribunal has to adjudicate on this claim, if such a jurisdiction was vested in it under the Statute. Sir H. V. Divatia in his Award in the Trade Dispute between the Empire of India Life Insurance Co., Ltd., Bombay, and its employees (Bombay Labour Gazette, October 1947, page 187) observed in similar circumstances as follows: "The only ground on which reinstatement can be claimed is an order under rule 81A, which says that when matter has been referred for adjudication, no employer in any undertaking shall lock-out or continue to lock-out his employees until the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the proceedings. Apart from the remedy of criminal prosecution under this rule, the employees can ask either for reinstatement or for compensation of illegal lock-out." The learned Adjudicator further observed that the power of reinstatement was a discretionary one, to be exercised in view of all circumstances of the case. In that case he awarded pay by way of compensation to some of the discharged workers for the period of adjudication proceedings and till the expiry of two months thereafter, being the period during which no lock-out could be declared. The claim of reinstatement was refused in the circumstances of the case. I consider that the observations of Sir H. V. Divatia are worthy of respect and that the same considerations will follow from the provisions of section 23(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is, therefore, decided that although an illegal lock-out may entail criminal prosecution and punishment as laid down in section 26 of the Act, the workmen can claim the relief of reinstatement or compensation in an industrial dispute over the matter and the Tribunal has the jurisdiction to entertain the question and to adjudicate on the claims of the workman and decide whether he is entitled to reinstatement or compensation in the special circumstances of the case. (Vide Award of the dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd 23, Convent Road, Calcutta, and the Spence Ltd. Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta, published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 3rd February 1949, Part 1, page 199).

From what has been discussed above it is clear that Balai Chand Seal and Nagendra Nath Bose, two employees of the Company, in its Indian Galvanising Department, were retired from service and refused employment, at a date, when such an action on the part of the Company amounted to an illegal lock-out. In this industrial dispute between the Union and the Company over the retirement of the two employees, the Tribunal has ample jurisdiction to adjudicate on the claim of their reinstatement or payment of compensation to them. Although the Union pressed for reinstatement of the two employees, in view of their records of service I do consider, that they should not be reinstated to their posts; but even then they should be considered to be in the employment of the Company with full pay and allowances for the period during which the termination of their employment would amount to an illegal lock-out; or in other words, the period commencing from 1st June 1948 till the expiry of two months after the publication of the Award of the Major Mercantile Tribunal in the Calcutta Gazette. The orders of retirement on these two employees will be effective after the expiry of the period abovementioned, being the period when they could not be refused employment. These two employees received full pay and allowances up till May 1948 and pension at the rate of Rs. 40 thereafter. It appears that Balai Chand Seal also received for some time an extra payment of Rs. 3 per month as school fees of his children. Any payments made to the employees by the Company shall be considered to be towards their pay and allowances during the period when they have been found to be entitled to receive pay and allowances, as if they were in service of the Company.

Sri Sadhan Chandra Koley joined the Company on 9th November 1943 and was discharged on 23rd August 1947 for inefficiency and unsatisfactory work. The Union in paragraph 16 of its written statement has mentioned the order of discharge on this clerk, which shows that the clerk was given one month's extra pay and allowance in lieu of notice, at the time of his discharge. This clerk was not examined before me and there was no evidence on record to justify the conclusion that his discharge was by way of victimisation or unfair labour practice. The claim for reinstatement of this clerk shall not, therefore, succeed.

The case of the Union in regard to dismissal of Sri Hiren Kumar Bose on 11th December 1947 appears in paragraph 13 of the written statement. It is stated that Hiren Kumar Bose was employed on or about 1st December 1945 on a monthly salary of Rs. 30 and that on or about 3rd July 1947 he was placed in Grade I, as from 1st June 1947 at a monthly salary of Rs. 60. It is then stated that on the 27th of November 1947 when he arrrived at the place of his duty he was told by the Warehouse Supervisor that he was late by 3 minutes and that as he showed the time to be right by his watch, the Supervisor became angry and did not allow him to sign the Attendance Register and that he was warned by the Company in a letter, dated 1st December 1947. It is further stated that immediately thereafter, the charge was brought against him that he made a mistake in checking the weighment of an invoice of six chests of tea and he was dismissed on 11th December 1947, without being given an opportunity of proving his innocence and without the matter being referred to the Union prior to the said dismissal. It was also alleged by the Union that the dismissal of Sri Hiren Kumar Bose was a gross violation of the terms of security of service, agreed upon by the Company and a challenge to the directions given by the Tribunal in regard to the reinstatement of Bilash Chandra Mitra and Santimay Mitra.

The Company's answer to these statements of the Union will appear in paragraphs 11 to 15 of its written statement. In paragraph 14 it is stated by the Company that the facts leading to the dismissal of this ex-employee which have been suppressed from the Tribunal are as follows:—

"In August 1947 he was found to be negligent and careless in discharging his duties. On the 28th (27th?) November 1947 he was found to be guilty of gross insubordination and again on the 1st December 1947, he was found to have discharged his duties with gross negligence on the 20th November 1947. The explanation that he gave to support himself against the Company's charge against him in respect of his negligence of the 20th November 1947 was found on enquiry to be incorrect. He was thereafter discharged. Save as aforesaid the Company denies each and every allegation contained in those paragraphs. In particular the Company denies that any decision against this ex-employee was arrived at behind his back and/or that he was dismissed without giving him any opportunity to prove his innocence as alleged or at all."

Oral and documentary evidence was adduced on the point and while Hiren Kumar Bose examined himself on the side of the Union the Company examined Mr. F. C. Wells, Assistant Manager, Mr. K. R. Holden, Warehouse Supervisor, Sri Sudhir Kumar Sarkar, Floor Supervisor, Sri Kamal Chatterji, Weighment Clerk, and Sri Khagen Mitra, Supervisor. Exhibit 7 shows that Hiren was appointed to the service of the Company at Rs. 30 per month on 23rd July 1945. Exhibit 7(a) shows that he was appointed as a permanent servant of the Company with effect from 1st December 1945 in Grade No. A (Rs. 30—2½—40/40—2½—50). The staff letter [Exhibit 7(a)], dated 3rd July 1947, shows that the grading and basic salary of the clerk was revised and his pay was fixed at Rs. 60 per month in Grade No. 1 with effect from 1st June 1947. Hiren was working as a weighman in the Kartapukur shed of the Company and his duty was to check the weights of tea chests with the aid of a scale. He used to sit in front of the scale, and tea chests brought by coolies were put on the scale and any discrepancy between the real weight found by weighing and that mentioned on the chest used to be noted with chalk marks on the chest by him as well as by his assistant, who is also called the Actual Babu. No such marks were used to be placed on a chest when there was no discrepancy between the gross weight appearing on the chest and the weight found by measurement. The coolies that brought the chests, were in the service of Messrs. Bird & Co., Contractors. His duties were from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. On 27th November 1947 there was an incident over his attendance in office. Mr. K. R. Holden, the Warehouse Supervisor, found him late in attendance by 3 minutes and asked him to sign the late attendance register. He refused to sign the late attendance register and argued, on the strength of the watch he was carrying, that he was not late. Mr. Holden did not accept the time shown by Hiren's watch and refused to allow him to work unless he signed the late attendance book. He then went home. Mr. Holden reported the matter on the phone to Mr. F. C. Wells. Mr. Wells went to the warehouse on the same morning and learnt that Hiren had refused to sign the register in spite of the orders of Mr. Holden. The Union states in paragraph 13(c) that on the next date, i.e., 28th November 1947, Hiren sent a report about the matter to the superior authority but the matter was not investigated and a decision was arrived at ex parte behind his back and he was warned by the Company in its letter, dated 1st December 1947. This report appears to be nothing but the application (Exhibit I) submitted by Hiren for leave on 27th November 1947. In the statement of the reason for leave Hiren states that the Warehouse Supervisor did not allow him to sign the attendance register and asked him to sign the Black Book telling him that he was late by 3 minutes, and that he in reply stated that the watch of the Supervisor might be wrong on which the latter became angry and asked him to go home. Mr. Holden endorsed on the application that when Hiren was asked to sign the late attendance book he refused in an insolent manner and requested for necessary action being taken against the clerk. Exhibit 7(c) is a letter of the Company on the incident of 27th November 1947 and the Company warned Hiren for his indiscipline and cautioned him that any recurrence of such a conduct will entail his dismissal. There is no doubt that the evidence on record clearly shows that the conduct of Hiren with the Warehouse Supervisor Mr. K. R. Holden over the incident of 27th November 1947 amounted to a misconduct and the letter of the Company on 1st December 1947 [Exhibit 7(c)] was fully justified.

On 1st December 1947 Messrs. Carrit Moran & Company, Brokers, requested Mr. F. C. Wells, Assistant Manager, for a check weighment of an invoice of six chests of tea on the ground that the weights reported by the Company did not tally with the advised weights received from the tea garden. These weighments were purported to have been made on 20th November 1947 and Sri Hiren Kumar Bose was the weighment clerk on duty on that day. Mr. Wells ordered for these chests to be again weighed by the same weighment clerk under the supervision of the Warehouse Supervisor. On a re-weighment being made, each of these chests was found to have an excess weight of 11 lbs. The Company took exception to the conduct of Hiren in the matter of weighment of chests on 20th November 1947, had an enquiry made on the matter by Mr. Wells and finally discharged him from service on 11th December 1947, on the grounds of negligence of duty and the warning conveyed in letter [Exhibit 7(c)], dated 1st December 1947 [vide letter, Exhibit 7(a)].

Hiren explains in his letter [Exhibit 7(d)], dated 22nd January 1949, to the Burra Sahib of the Company that it was the coolies who, in order to minimise their work, took the unweighed chests to the stacking area and prevented them from being put on the scale for verification of their weights and that this defect in the system of procedure of weighment had resulted in a wrong weighment report on the part of the Company and that he was not responsible for this omission. The Company, however, held Hiren responsible for the wrong weighment report on the conclusion that these chests were put on the scale and Hiren did not weigh them correctly. If such a conclusion can be made on the circumstances of the case, the decision of discharge of Hiren from service should be upheld.

The evidence on record, however, does not justify such a conclusion. It is admitted by Hiren that he was the weighment clerk on the date in question. His defence is that the chests in question were not placed on the scale for weighment and that he was not responsible for any discrepancy between the marked weight on the chest and the real weight. He states that the chests used to come from a space at his back and it was not possible for him to watch if all the chests from the dump were brought to the scale. Mr. F. C. Wells, the Assistant Manager, gives in his evidence the entire procedure in detail. It appears that chests are unloaded from wagons and carried to the Company's godown and to the dump after taking a tally. From this dump they are taken to the weighmen's scale and are removed to the stacking area when they are again tallied. The tally taken after entry into the warehouse is compared with the tally taken after entry into the godown. The weighman puts a chalk mark at one end and his assistant puts a similar mark on the other end, in every case there is a difference between the gross weight marked on the chest and the real weight found on weighing. The assistant weighment clerk puts in these differences in his register which is signed by the weighment clerk at the end of the day. The goods are carried by labour contracted by Messrs. Bird & Co. from the dump to the weighman's scale and thence to the stacking area. There is a man in the dump to see that every chest goes to the scale. Messrs. Bird & Co. has a leading hand who is also responsible to see that all the chests go to the scale. There is also a representative of the broker concerned who attends the operation. There is a shed Supervisor who is to pay more attention to this operation than to anything else. In cross-examination Mr. Wells states "the weighment clerk is not responsible to see that the chests come to the scale but he is to see that the chest is correctly weighed. We have five other staff there to see that the chests come to him". He also states that there were five persons of the staff for seeing that chests are put on the scale. Mr. K. R. Holden, Warehouse Supervisor, stated that the weighment clerk was responsible for the weighment of the chests. That is true. According to the evidence of Mr. Wells this means that the chests which are actually brought to the scale must be correctly weighed. Mr. Holden also states that it is impossible for the chests to go to the stacking from the dump without being placed on the scale, that there were three or four men watching the operations of the weighman, that the broker's representative, a leading hand of Messrs. Bird & Co., the assistant of the weighment clerk, the location Babu and also the tally clerks, who took the tally of the chests coming from the wagon to the dump, see that chests come to the scale. He did not see any mark on the chests when they were re-weighed. It, therefore, appears that when the chests were re-weighed they did not contain any mark. A chest which had no chalk mark on it may be either of two things. It might not have been one brought to the scale at all or if it was so brought the weighment clerk did not find any discrepancy between the real weight and the weight marked on it. The evidence of Mr. F. C. Wells clearly shows that Hiren was not responsible for seeing that the chests were really brought to the scale. There were other persons, four or five in number, who were responsible for that task. The same is the evidence of Mr. Holden. Sudhir Kumar Sarkar, Floor Supervisor, says that the leading hand of Messrs. Bird & Co., an Actual Babu (assistant of the weighment clerk), a tally clerk and a broker's representative are present and see that the chests come to the machine and that it is not possible that chests would go to the stacking area without being placed on the machine. Sri Kamal Chatterji, another weighment clerk, states in cross-examination that he never notices if any chests come from the dump to his scale. This evidence shows that it is not for the weighment clerk to watch chests to be actually brought to the scale. The evidence of Sri Khagendra Mitra shows that the Actual Babu notes discrepancies in weight, the leading hand of Messrs. Bird & Co. sends the chests to the scale, the brokers' staff sees the conditions of chests, and the location Babu notes the place where the chests are kept after weighment. In cross-examination he again says that the leading hand of Messrs. Bird & Co. is to send the chests from dump to scale and that he stands at the dump. It appears in the evidence of the witnesses that the dump is 15 or 20 feet away from the scale. The evidence on record, therefore, brings out the fact that the weighment clerk is not responsible for seeing that the chests really come from the dump to the scale, that he is responsible only for a correct weighment once a chest is brought to his scale and that there are other persons who are responsible for seeing that all the chests are actually brought to the scale. The evidence of Mr. Wells is also conclusive on the point. As the six chests in question did not contain any chalk mark of the weighment clerk or his assistant, no conclusion of a wrong weighment can be drawn unless it can be proved that they were brought to the scale. The presumption of the Company that as so many persons were present in the warehouse at different places round about the weighing machine, the chests must have been brought to the machine and the consequent decision that the absence of the chalk mark on the chest was the result of a negligent discharge of duty on the part of Hiren were unjustified. On the face of the evidence of Mr. Wells, Hiren cannot be made responsible for the arrival of the chests from the dump to the weighing machine and unless it can be found that the chests were really brought on the machine Hiren cannot be punished. As a matter of fact there is nothing to show that these chests were really brought to the weighing machine. It is also impossible that a discrepancy of 11 lbs. on as many as six chests in the same invoice would have escaped the notice of the weighment clerk if they had been brought to the scale. The plea taken by Hiren on his application to the superior authority of the Company [Exhibit 7(d)] should have been more carefully considered and it does not appear that there was any ground for Mr. Wells to be fully satisfied that Hiren had been neglectful in weighing, as he stated he was.

I have no doubt the procedure of weighment in the shed of the Company is itself defective. There is really no check as to whether all the chests are brought to the scale. The discharge of Hiren Kumar Bose was, therefore, unjustified.

I do not accept the claim of the Union that Hiren Kumar Bose was victimised for his Trade Union activities, as I find no evidence of any substantial character to justify such a conclusion. I only find that Hiren was unfairly discharged under circumstances that did not disclose any guilt on his part. I accept the plea of the Union that the incident on 27th November 1947 gave the weighment matter an unfavourable background. The letter of discharge [Exhibit 7(e)] clearly states that the decision was based on the act of gross negligence in weighing coupled with the letter [Exhibit 7(c)] where it is stated that in the event of any further act of indiscipline of the same nature Hiren should be discharged. I am of opinion that the discharge of Hiren on 11th December 1947 was very much influenced by the incident on 27th November 1947, although the matter was closed by the warning letter [Exhibit 7(c)] by the Company. There was no instance of indiscipline of the nature occurring on 27th November 1947. The matter of the weighment of chests was, therefore, decided with an unfair attitude and resulted in the discharge of the employee which was wholly unmerited. This is, to my mind, an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, and the employee is entitled to reinstatement in this adjudication proceeding.

I do not, however, find that the Company in discharging Hiren had any intention of victimising him or was actuated by any malice against him. The discharge occurred as a result of an error of judgment amounting to an unfair treatment of the employee. In the circumstances, I do find that justice of the case shall be met if Hiren be reinstated with effect from the date on which this Award comes into operation. The period of non-employment of Hiren should be considered as leave without pay, and his service should be deemed to be continuous notwithstanding the period of non-employment.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 3.—Is any one of the four employees in question entitled to any compensation from the Company?

From what has been discussed above it is clear that both Sri Balai Chand Seal and Sri Nagendra Nath Bose shall continue to receive their pay and allowances with effect from 1st June 1948 till the expiry of two months after the publication in the Calcutta Gazette of the Award of the Major Mercantile Tribunal, in respect of the dispute between Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., and Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., Employees' Union, less amounts already received by them by way of pension or otherwise.

Sri Sadhan Chandra Koley shall not be entitled to any compensation.

Sri Hiren Kumar Bose shall not be entitled to any compensation. His reinstatement to his previous post shall be effective with effect from the date on which this Award comes into operation and he shall be deemed to be in the service of the Company and entitled to receive pay and emoluments with effect from that date.

(3) Professor of Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta, and Surgeon to the College Hospital.

(4) Professor of Clinical and Operative Surgery, Medical College, Calcutta, and Surgeon to the College Hospital.

(5) Professor of Midwifery, Medical College, Calcutta, and Obstetric Physician and Surgeon, Medical College Hospitals.

(6) Professor of Clinical Midwifery and Gynaecology, Medical College, Calcutta.

When necessary the Presidency Surgeons shall call at the residence of the gazetted officers.

2. If a gazetted officer is in need of a medical certificate, he may obtain the same from the Presidency Surgeon under whose treatment he has placed himself, for which the Presidency Surgeon consulted shall not be entitled to charge any fee.

3. Gazetted officers in Calcutta, who are entitled to free treatment by Presidency Surgeons, shall be allowed,—

(a) bacteriological examination at the Medical College Hospital on the recommendation of the Presidency Surgeon, free of charge,

(b) cardiographic examination at Government institutions on the recommendation of the Presidency Surgeon, at a fee of Rs. 3 per case,

(c) X-ray examination at Government institutions providing facilities for such examination at a fee of Rs. 5 for each examination,

(d) advice from the consultants of the Medical College and the School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta, free of charge, if the consultation takes place at the institution in which the consultant works, provided that—

(i) if the gazetted officer is physically unable to visit the institution, the Presidency Surgeon attending him may request the consultant to have a consultation at the place where the gazetted officer is, in which case no fee shall be paid,

(ii) the consultant may fix the consultation at a place convenient to the gazetted officer and himself other than the institution at which he is working, in which case as well no fee shall be paid.

Explanation.—The expression "consultants" includes the specialist in Radiology and diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat in the Medical College.

4. The concessions provided in rule 3 regarding specialised treatment shall not apply to dental requirements.

Government and if any charge is borne by a Government servant in connection with the said treatment, he shall be reimbursed by the Provincial Government to the extent of the amount so borne. This concession is admissible to a Government servant whether on duty or on leave, when he is attacked and injured in the above said circumstances. In the case of a Government servant on leave it may, in actual practice, be difficult for a Government servant to prove that he was attacked and injured because he was a Government servant; in such cases it should be assumed, unless the facts of the case give a clear indication to the contrary, that the Government servant on leave was attacked and injured on account of his official position.

Note.—A certificate from a registered medical practitioner may be accepted if there is no Government physician available in the locality.

6. Medical Officers attached to any of the institutions noted below in case of illness, shall be entitled to free treatment in cabins of the institutions:—

The attendance of the Civil Surgeon should be given in all cases of emergency or of great danger or difficulty, when applied for by the subordinate Medical Attendant.

3. All clerks of all Government offices located outside Calcutta are entitled to medicines free of cost for themselves from Government Hospitals or Sadar Hospitals maintained by local bodies.

4. The concessions provided in rule 3 in Part I shall apply in the cases of gazetted officers outside Calcutta, provided such specialised treatment is recommended by the Civil Surgeon of the station.

5. Rules 4 and 5 of the rules in Part I shall apply mutatis mutandis in the cases of the officers outside Calcutta.

6. Policemen and police officers of the subordinate ranks shall be entitled to get free medical treatment and advice in Police Hospitals. In exceptional cases when the Civil Surgeon certifies that treatment of any such policemen and police officers is necessary and unavoidable in a hospital other than the Police Hospital, the policemen and the police officers concerned shall be treated in such a hospital nearest to his station. The Provincial Government shall, in such cases, subject to recovery of diet charges, bear the hospital fee charged, if any, as well as the cost of X-ray and bacteriological examinations or any special treatment that may be considered necessary on the recommendation of the Civil Surgeon.

7. Officers, subordinates and menials under the Forest Department are, in addition to the concessions provided in this Part, entitled to call in private doctors for their medical treatment when it is not possible for them for topographical or other reasons to attend Government or District Board dispensaries or dispensaries of tea gardens which render free treatment to Government servants owing to the receipt of Government grants. The cost of such medical attendance by private doctors and of those medicines supplied by the doctors that are usually stocked in Government or aided hospitals shall be borne by the Provincial Government.

8. Non-gazetted and ministerial officers who are not entitled to any concession in Calcutta, are entitled to the concessions provided in rules 1 to 5, in this Part, when they are on tour or exodus outside Calcutta.

AWARD.

The industrial dispute between Messrs. Jessop & Company, Ltd., and their workmen represented by Jessop's Labour Union, 36, Station Road, Dum Dum Cantonment, 24-Parganas, on the question whether the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance of workmen should be Rs. 57-15-4 as agreed between the said Company and the said Jessop's Labour Union on the 27th April 1948, or a lesser amount in terms of the award enforced under Government order No. 2161Lab., dated the 30th June 1948, has been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 4849-Lab., dated the 30th December 1948.

The material facts are not in dispute and may be briefly recapitulated here. Early in May 1947, the dearness allowance payable to the workmen of the Company was linked to the Jagatdal cost of living index, and the Company by its notice, dated the 3rd May 1947, cancelled with effect from the day-shift commencing at 8 a.m. on 5th May 1947 all previous dearness allowance and food concessions and recombined in one consolidated cash dearness allowance of 24 pies per hour, which was subject to an increase or decrease of 3 pies per hour for each 25 points by which the Jagatdal cost of living index might vary in future. After a few months it was found that the Jagatdal cost of living index which was issued by the Labour Commissioner's office had actually been received some two or three months after the date for which the index applied. This in consequence caused dissatisfaction among workmen. Then followed a long series of discussions and interchange of letters between the Company and the Union. Eventually at the suggestion of the Union and under the acceptance of the Company, a meeting was held at the Writers' Buildings under the Chairmanship of the Hon'ble Sri Kalipada Mukherjee, the Labour Minister, under whose intervention a settlement was arrived at and it was to the effect that "the Labour Commissioner would furnish to the Company the Jagatdal cost of living index as soon as it was calculated and that appropriate rate of cash dearness allowance according to the scales given in the Company's notice, dated 3rd May 1947, would apply to the wages payable for the week during which the increased figure was received, and would continue to apply until the next figure was received." The Company implemented this agreement and arranged with the Labour Commissioner to have the index figure regularly supplied. Within less than a month, the Union by its letter, dated 7th April 1948, asked for a revision of dearness allowance. A conciliation proceeding was accordingly started by the Labour Commissioner and a meeting was held on 16th April 1948. In the meantime a Tribunal, which has come to be popularly known as the "Engineering Tribunal" had been appointed by the Government of West Bengal by its order No. 718Lab., dated the 31st October 1947, and the Company and the Union were parties before that Tribunal (the Company being 51 in the list No. 1 of the firms mentioned in the order of Reference). The Company submitted before the Labour Commissioner that the matter must wait until the award of the Tribunal had been published, but the Union was not willing to wait inasmuch as it was not known when the award would be published. Eventually in the course of the conciliation proceedings a settlement was arrived at on 27th April 1948 and both the Company as well as the Union signed the document which contained the terms of agreement as follows:—

"In a meeting between Messrs. Irving & Sitwell of Messrs. Jessop & Co. and the representatives of the Jessop's Labour Union held in the office of the Labour Commissioner on 27th April 1948 it was decided that the payment of dearness allowance to all daily-paid members on the sliding scale as at present in force should be discontinued from the week ending 25th April 1948.

It was agreed that henceforth dearness allowance to all daily-paid members should be at the rate of 29½ pies per hour which comes to Rs. 31-15-4 pies for a month of 208 hours. These rates will continue to be in force till the award of the Engineering Tribunal is published, upon which the rates paid by the Tribunal will be adopted."

The Engineering Tribunal gave its award on 4th June 1948 and the award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 3rd July 1948. By Government of West Bengal order No. 2161, dated the 30th June 1948, the award was given retrospective effect from 1st April 1948, and would remain operative up to 31st March 1949. Issue No. 2 before that Tribunal was "Dearness allowance for such workers", and the dearness allowance awarded by the Tribunal for the Pay Range up to Rs. 50 per month was Rs. 25 per month.

After revision of the wage-structure in pursuance of the award, the Company offered to pay a minimum basic wage of 28 pies per hour which comes to Rs. 30-5-4 for the standard month and a dearness allowance of 23½ pies per hour which comes up to Rs. 25-7-4 per standard month (as. 7-4 higher than the rate fixed by the Tribunal), the total remuneration coming up to Rs. 55-12-8 per standard month.

The Union's contention is that in the month of April 1948 the minimum basic wage was Rs. 26 per month, but the daily allowance had been raised by agreement on 27th April 1948 to Rs. 31-15-4 per month; that the Engineering Tribunal made it clear that its award would not affect adversely any existing higher total remuneration and therefore the workmen are entitled to get Rs. 57-15-4 (i.e., Rs. 26 per month as basic wage plus Rs. 31-15-4 per month as dearness allowance = Rs. 57-15-4). The difference is only Rs. 2 and odd, but the Company submitted that it contends on a matter of principle.

The following Issues were framed: —

(1) Is the Company entitled to reduce dearness allowance from 27½ pies per hour to 23½ pies per hour in pursuance of the agreement, dated 27th April 1948?

(2) Is such reduction of dearness allowance legal or permissible in view of the Engineering Tribunal's Award?

(3) Are the workmen entitled to get dearness allowance at the rate of 25½ pies per hour with effect from October 1948?

I take all the Issues together for the sake of convenience.

Sri Sanyal appearing on behalf of the Union argued that the Engineering Tribunal's award does not adversely affect the workmen if the existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance is higher than the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance fixed by the award.

The award itself is very clear on the point. I quote the following passage from it (appearing at page 33): —

"Application of the Award.—Where the existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance in a particular firm is higher than the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance fixed by this award, the total remuneration of the present employees will not be adversely affected by this award. Where the existing total remuneration is more but the minimum basic pay is less than that fixed by this award, the basic pay should be increased to the minimum fixed, and the dearness allowance reduced by the same amount, keeping the total remuneration unaltered. This is necessary for the purpose of calculating the contribution to the Provident Fund and calculating gratuity.

We desire that the rules for holidays and leave should be standardised by all the firms as soon as possible, in order to eliminate one of the important causes of labour trouble. If, however, any firm has already announced leave and holidays for the current year at a scale more liberal than what the award provides, the right to such leave and holidays should not be affected by this award. Further leave at credit of any person under the existing leave rules of a firm will not lapse in spite of any provision as to leave contained in this award.

This award will not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by this award, unless an express provision has been made in this award concerning such advantage.

The Unions have claimed that this award should be given retrospective effect from the 31st October 1947, the date of the Government order appointing this Tribunal. We consider however that retrospective effect to that extent would place an undue burden on the employers. We therefore recommend that the award of this Tribunal should be made operative from 1st April 1948."

Sri Sen appearing for the Company argued that the terms "existing" appearing in the phrase "existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance" should be taken to mean as existing on 1st April 1948, the date when the award came into operation retrospectively. If this interpretation is given to the word "existing" then the workmen cannot claim the benefit of 29½ per hour dearness allowance, because this higher rate of dearness allowance came into existence by the agreement, dated 27th April 1948.

Looking closely into the award of the Engineering Tribunal, I do not think that the interpretation of the word "existing" as suggested by Sri Sen is either reasonable or just. The award makes it clear that it is not intended to adversely affect the case of the present workmen, that it should not only adversely affect the higher total remuneration already being received by workmen of any firm but also that "this award will not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by this award". That being so, I would hold that it would be altogether wrong in principle to use the award itself as a weapon against the workmen to curtail the higher total remuneration which they were already enjoying. In my view, the natural and plain meaning of the term "existing" is not antecedently and retrospectively on a past date, but existing actually on the date the award was signed. This interpretation clearly and naturally follows if the reason why the Tribunal recommended the award to have a retrospective effect, is studied carefully. "The Unions have claimed" says the award, "that this award should be given retrospective effect from the 31st October 1947, the date of the Government order appointing this Tribunal. We consider however that retrospective effect to that extent would place an undue burden on the employers. We therefore recommend that the award of this Tribunal should be made operative from 1st of April 1948." The recommendation for a retrospective effect was made solely at the instance of the workmen and not of the employers. The reason why recommendation was made with effect from 1st April 1948 and not an earlier date was that the burden on employers might not be unduly increased. By making the recommendation for a retrospective effect from 1st April 1948, the Tribunal granted in effect additional advantages to the workmen and its intention was by no means to curtail in any manner whatsoever any advantages already being actually enjoyed by the workmen. This is how I read the award, and in my view the award itself is the best guarantee that the workmen are entitled to a daily allowance of 29½ pies per hour which amounts to Rs. 31-15-4 per month.

I do not think that even if the argument advanced by Sri Sen is accepted, it will affect the workmen's case. Both parties to a dispute can by a voluntary mutual agreement opt out of any specific term in an award, provided such a term does not affect any third party including the public. There is nothing in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which bars such a course. Remuneration is a term which concerns the employer and the employee and no one else. Therefore, even if Sri Sen's argument is accepted, there is no bar for the parties to enter into a voluntary agreement as to the rate of dearness allowance subsequent to the date when the award came retrospectively into operation. In that view also the agreement, dated 27th April 1948, stands. Section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, does not in my opinion apply, inasmuch as a voluntary agreement between the employer and the employee increasing the rate of dearness allowance cannot be regarded by any stretch of imagination as a "breach of an award". That section applies to unilateral conduct, as when an employer refuses to carry out any express term or condition prescribed in the award, to the detriment and injury of the employee, or vice versa.

Coming now to the agreement itself, it is to be noted that the agreement was a written one and signed by both parties. It is clear and unambiguous in its terms and hence the prayer of the Company to examine a Labour Officer to interpret the terms of the agreement was rejected by me.

The agreement says "that henceforth dearness allowance to all daily-paid workers should be at the rate of Rs. 31-15-4 for a month of 208 hours. These rates will continue to be in force till the award of the Engineering Tribunal is published upon which the rates fixed by the Tribunal will be adopted".

It is common knowledge that Tribunals almost invariably give a direction that their awards are not to affect adversely any higher remunerations, i.e., basic pay and dearness allowance, or any other advantages already being enjoyed by the present workmen. It may well be presumed that at the time when the agreement, dated 27th April 1948, was being written both parties shared the common knowledge above referred to. Yet, there is no clause in the agreement to indicate that a direction which was likely to appear in the award to the effect that existing higher rates were not to be adversely affected, was to be abrogated or set at naught. In these circumstances, I hold that the total remuneration of Rs. 57-15-4 actually received by the workmen on the date of signing of the award should be regarded as the existing total remuneration as contemplated in the award under the heading "Application of the award," and that it shall remain unaffected, as laid down by the award itself.

According to the award "where the existing total remuneration is more but the minimum basic pay is less than that fixed by this award, the basic pay should be increased to the minimum fixed and the dearness allowance reduced by the same amount, keeping the total remuneration unaltered".

On this principle, the basic pay shall be Rs. 30 (the minimum fixed by the award) and the dearness allowance Rs. 27-15-4 per month, i.e., 25½ pies per hour (one month being equal to 208 working hours).

The workmen refused to draw their dearness allowance from 8th October 1948. I hold that they are entitled to get dearness allowance at the rate of 25½ pies per hour or Rs. 27-15-4 per month of 208 working hours with effect from 8th October 1948. The Issues are answered accordingly. I have discussed the Issues from the legal aspect of the case and I have held that in law the agreement between the parties must be given effect to. Considerations of equity and fairness also lead to the same conclusion. The Engineering Tribunal has made it clear that its award is not to affect adversely any existing higher total remuneration. In my decision I have given effect to the same view. Sri Sen for the Company has argued that production has fallen on account of the "Go slow" tactics followed by the workmen and so they are not equitably entitled to claim any increased dearness allowance. I notice from the "Statement of output" that the output tons per man per month has steadily fallen from ·79 to ·40 in the period from May 1948 to January 1949. This fall which is nearly half of the original output is really deplorable. The workmen's representatives explained this by stating that due to constant friction between the management and the workers, the latter had no peace of mind left and they could not wholeheartedly attend to production. I am thankful to the workmen for this candid admission. There is no reason to lose hope. Now that the demand of the workmen is met to their advantage, I hope they will do their best to increase production. They should not take it merely as a pious wish. The question of renewing the terms of the award will soon arise, as the period of the award is to expire on 31st March 1949. If clear indications are not forthcoming that in the meantime output per man per month has considerably improved, the claim of the workmen to continue to receive the higher total remuneration is very likely to be disregarded.

PART V—Acts of the Indian Legislature assented to by the Governor-General and Ordinances promulgated by the Governor-General.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Ministry of Law.

New Delhi, the 29th October 1948.

ORDINANCE No. XXIX OF 1948.

AN

to limit the dividends which may be paid by public companies.

WHEREAS an emergency has arisen which makes it necessary to limit the dividends which may be paid by public companies;

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 42 of the Government of India Act, 1935 (26 Geo. 5, c. 2), the Governor-General is pleased to make and promulgate the following Ordinance:—

Preliminary.

Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Ordinance may be called the Public Companies (Limitation of Dividends) Ordinance, 1948.

It extends to all the Provinces of India, and also to every Acceding State to the extent to which the Dominion Legislature has power to make laws for that State as respects the matters dealt with in this Ordinance.

It shall come into force at once.

Definitions.—In this Ordinance, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(a) "Companies Act" means the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (VII of 1913);

(b) "company" means a public company as defined in clause (13A) of section 2 of the Companies Act, and includes—

(i) the Imperial Bank of India constituted under the Imperial Bank of India Act, 1920 (XLVII of 1920);

(ii) any trading, banking, insurance or finance corporation constituted by or under any other law in force in India, provided that such corporation, if it had been registered as a company under the Companies Act would not have been a "private company" within the meaning of that Act; and

(iii) any other incorporated body which the Central Government may, by general or special order, declare to be a public company for the purposes of this Ordinance, but does not include a co-operative society registered or deemed to be registered under the Co-operative Societies Act, 1912 (II of 1912), or any other law relating to co-operative societies in force for the time being in any part of India;

(c) "financial year" means the year commencing on the 1st day of April.

Limitation of Dividends.

3. Dividends not to exceed certain limits.—No company shall, after the commencement of this Ordinance, distribute as dividend during any financial year, any sum which exceeds, or which, when taken with any sum already distributed as dividend during the same year whether before or after the commencement of this Ordinance, will exceed—

(a) six per cent. of the paid-up capital of the company as on the last day of the year in respect of which the dividend is distributed, after deducting from such capital all amounts attributable to the capitalisation, on or after the 1st day of April, 1946, of one or more of the following, namely, reserves, profits and appreciation of assets, or

(b) the average annual dividend of the company, determined in the manner specified in sections 5 to 7,

whichever is higher.

4. Limit of six per cent. to be exclusive of income-tax paid by company.—The limit of six per cent. specified in clause (a) of section 3 shall be applied to the amount of dividend distributed by the company among its shareholders, payments made by the company by way of income-tax being ignored.

5. Dividends and periods to be taken into account for determining average annual dividend.—The average annual dividend referred to in clause (b) of section 3 shall be determined with reference to—

(a) the total of the dividends distributed by such company (otherwise than by way of bonus shares) during the period of two years commencing on the 1st day of April, 1946, and ending with the 31st day of March, 1948, and

(b) the total of the periods in respect of which each such dividend has been distributed, no period however being counted more than once:

Provided that where an interim dividend for any period has been distributed before the 1st day of April, 1946, and a final dividend has been distributed in respect of the same period on or after that date but on or before the 31st day of March, 1948, such interim dividend shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a):

Provided further that where an interim dividend for any period has been distributed on or after the 1st day of April, 1946 and on or before the 31st day of March, 1948, and a final dividend has been or is distributed in respect of the same period after the latter date, then—

(i) if the final dividend was distributed before the 5th day of October, 1948, it shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a);

(ii) if the final dividend was or is distributed on or after the 5th day of October, 1948, the interim dividend and the period in respect of which it was distributed shall not be taken into account for the purposes of this section; but it shall be open to the company to claim that the interim dividend (but not the final dividend) shall be added to the total of the dividends referred to in clause (a), in which case the period in respect of which such interim dividend was distributed shall be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b).

6. Date of distribution of dividend.—For the purposes of this Ordinance, a dividend shall be deemed to have been distributed by a company on the date on which the shareholders or their legal representatives have a right to receive it from the company, whether or not it has been actually paid.

7. Provision for increase or reduction in paid-up capital.—(1) (a) Where, subsequent to the distribution by a company of any dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b) of section 3, its paid-up capital is increased by any amounts actually paid in cash, or

(b) where, before the distribution of any such dividend, the paid-up capital of a company is increased by any amounts actually paid in cash, but the amounts so paid are not entitled to the benefit of such dividend,

such dividend, and every prior dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been augmented—

(i) pro rata, if the increase took place before the commencement of this Ordinance; and

(ii) by a sum equal to six per centum per annum of the amounts paid in cash as aforesaid, if the increase took place after the commencement of this Ordinance.

(2) (a) Where subsequent to the distribution by a company of any dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes of clause (b) of section 3, its paid-up capital is reduced, or

(b) where, before the distribution of any such dividend, the paid-up capital of a company is reduced, but the whole of the capital as it stood before such reduction is entitled to the benefit of such dividend,

such dividend, and every prior dividend which has to be taken into account for the purposes aforesaid, shall be deemed to have been diminished pro rata.

Preference shares.

8. Special provision for preference shares.—Nothing contained in this Ordinance shall be deemed to limit in any way the dividend payable on preference shares issued and subscribed for, before the commencement of this Ordinance.

9. Prohibition of issue of preference shares at more than six per cent.—No company shall, after the commencement of this Ordinance, issue preference shares carrying a right to a dividend at a rate exceeding six per centum per annum.

Miscellaneous.

10. Power to make rules.—(1) The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, make rules to carry out the purposes of this Ordinance.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for—

(i) the adaptation of the provisions of this Ordinance with a view to their application to all or any of the bodies declared to be public companies under sub-clause (iii) of clause (b) of section 2;

(ii) the prevention of the evasion of the provisions of this Ordinance, and the removal of difficulties in giving effect thereto.

11. Power to make exemptions, etc.—The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, exempt any company or class of companies from all or any of the provisions of this Ordinance, or make any modification in the application of the said provisions to any company or class of companies.

12. Penalty.—Any director, managing agent, manager or other officer or employee of a company who contravenes or attempts to contravene, or abets the contravention of or attempts to contravene, any of the provisions relating to the distribution of dividends, or the issue of preference shares, contained in this Ordinance or in any rule, notification or order issued thereunder, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years, or with fine, or with both.

ORDINANCE

(ii) in the proviso to sub-section (2), for the words "or compulsorily acquired" the words ", compulsorily acquired, transferred, or resumed" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is designed to remedy certain minor defects in the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938, which have come to light in the course of the working of the Act.

K. C. NEOGY.

NEW DELHI;
The 5th January, 1949.

Notes on clauses.

Clause 2.—The expression "owner of a tea estate" will ordinarily denote the owner of the soil of the land occupied by the estate. But it is intended to denote the person having the right to grow tea on the land and his agent, if any. The definition of "owner" in the Act has, therefore, been suitably amplified and recast.

Clause 3.—It was not the intention to nul permissions for the new planting of tea gran but not utilised, in respect of any period end on the 31st March 1948. But under section 28 the Act as amended in 1948, unless the permiss has been renewed on a fresh application submit after the 31st of March 1948, it will lapse. Ow to ignorance of the exact effect of the amendme made in 1948, fresh applications have not b made in most cases. It is, therefore, proposed provide that any written permission which co have been acted on on the 31st March 1948, wo continue in operation without any need for a fr renewal.

The words "on or before the 31st March 19 1946" which occur in section 28, will also co pre-control periods, that is, periods before 19 and are consequently likely to lead to administ tive difficulties. The intention all along has b that the acreage of land carrying tea on the 3 March of the relevant year should serve as basis with reference to which we should calcul the area in which infilling or supplying of vac cies or replacement may be permitted. The wo "or before" have, therefore, been omitted in the places where they now occur.

Although the intention was to provide for replacement only of "worn out" areas yet the te "worn out" has not been mentioned in the dr International Tea Agreement on which the Ind Tea Control Act is based. The term "worn ou has been deleted from section 26, to bring it i accord with the language employed in the Int national Agreement.

Clause 4, sub-clause (i).—In one case, the G ernment of Assam, instead of acquiring some t bearing land under the Land Acquisition A merely purchased it from the owner. If the la had not been sold, they would have been comp sorily acquired; and it was really this fact wh led the owner to sell it. It is clear that the p vilege of replacement should be extended to su lands. New clause (c) covers all cases of volu tary transfer whether to the Central or a Prov cial Government or to a local authority.

Sub-clause (ii) makes an amendment consequ tial on sub-clause (i).

RESOLUTION No. L.S.-G.1M-6/49A.

Calcutta, the 24th March 1949.

The extremely unsatisfactory financial condition of the English Bazar Municipality, in the district of Malda, due to low taxation and heavy arrears and the consequent deterioration in civic services and general administration has been attracting the attention of Government since the year 1944. Government have since been carefully watching the financial position and collection of the municipality, but no satisfactory improvement has been noticed. In August 1947 at the recommendation of local officers, the municipality was given six months' time to improve matters. In November 1947 a warning was issued that if the collection of rates and the general condition of the municipal affairs did not improve within three months, Government would seriously consider the question of supersession. When on the passing of the West Bengal Act XI of 1947, the appointed Commissioners vacated their seats, the new Chairman, elected by the votes of the elected members, wanted another six months' time to show appreciable improvement. This was allowed but when the District Magistrate, Malda, inspected the municipality on the 22nd April 1948 there were no signs of improvement. Again further time was given to the municipality to put its house in order. The report of the District Magistrate which was submitted to Government on the 8th November 1948 it appears that in spite of repeated warnings and opportunities given by Government, the new Board failed to bring about any improvement in the collection and general condition of the municipality. The current collection varies from 30 to 40 per cent. during the last 7 years while the arrear collection during the same period varies from 42 to 50 per cent. During the first quarter of 1948 arrear collection was 1 per cent. while current collection was 1 per cent. The arrear which in 1936-37 was Rs. 26,149 has mounted to to Rs. 68,939 at the end of 1947-48. Government have reason to believe that this poor collection is not due to economic reasons but to the apathy and unwillingness of the municipal Commissioners.

Government are satisfied that the Chairman is unable or unwilling to control the Sanitary Inspector who in his turn has no control over the sweepers. As a result road refuses have accumulated, sanitation, drainage and trenching grounds have deteriorated and the District Magistrate has often had to interfere to keep the conservancy services going. The condition of roads is generally very unsatisfactory. The water works have reached a breaking point because pipes have become choked up on account of long neglect.

While civic services have fast deteriorated, the municipal Commissioners have by chronic apathy, incompetent handling of affairs, and factious squabbling over trifles brought the administration to a point where a complete breakdown can only be averted if the Commissioners are relieved of their responsibility.

After careful consideration Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the English Bazar Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform and have persistently made default in the performance of the duties imposed on them by or under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. In exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the said Act, the Governor is, therefore, pleased to declare the Commissioners to be incompetent and in default and to supersede the said Commissioners for a period of one year with effect from the 1st April 1949.

ORDERED that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 1393Lab.—22nd March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3945Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co. of 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI SAILES CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI, Chairman, Tribunal.

By an order No. 3945Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, Government of West Bengal, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, constituted a tribunal with me to adjudicate on the dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co. of 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta.

For the Company—Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors, Calcutta.

For the Workmen—Jonab Saffatullah Khan, Secretary, Bengal National Chamber of Labour.

AWARD.

Messrs. Fraser & Co. own 68 inland river transport boats and, as such, have to maintain crew. They are the employees. The dispute has been filed on behalf of the persons engaged in the boats and they may be divided into two groups: Manjhees and the Dandees. Under the rules of the Port of Calcutta, there must be one Manjhee for each boat and the licence is issued in the name of the Manjhee. According to the carrying capacity of each boat, the port authorities fix the number of Dandees. So far as the Manjhees are concerned, they are direct employees of the Company. The Company, however, maintain that the Dandees are employees of the Manjhees and not their direct employees though they work in boats engaged by them.

As the employers in the dispute are Messrs. Fraser & Co., it has got to be considered whether the Dandees are direct employees of the Company. Messrs. Fraser & Co. are members of the Calcutta River Transport Association and have got to follow their whips. The Association fixed the rates of wages for Manjhees and Dandees. This Company pay to the Manjhee his wages and a lump sum calculated on that basis for Dandees. Dandees are not paid directly nor are amounts disbursed against any particular Dandee. The names of Dandees do not appear in any of the books of the Company. These facts indicate that they are like gangmen or contractor's labour and are not direct employees of the Company.

It has got to be considered whether the conclusion following from the above is displaced by some other factors.

It has been argued that the Company has got to pay compensation for injuries to Dandees. An "employer" has been very widely defined in section 2 of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and cover such persons with whom a contract of service was not effected. This is not a circumstance displacing the conclusion.

Another fact is that the Dandees are allowed to draw ration from the employers' Ration Shop. This is a centre for convenient distribution. It was to the interest of Messrs. Fraser & Co. that the Dandees took ration from this shop. If the 5 Dandees in a boat had taken out ration cards from different shops, all would not have obtained ration on a particular day and this would have meant also absence from the boat. This involves dislocation of work. In this context any admission in the application for ration card does not mean existence of a direct contract for service.

Another point is that Dandees falling sick are sent to the Mayo Hospital on the letters from Messrs. Fraser & Co. Times have changed. Frequent change of Dandees when one falls sick is not possible. Fraser & Co. must have been interested to see that the Dandees were well cared after. These facts do not displace the conclusion that the Dandees are not direct employees of the firm. I hold that the Dandees are not direct employees of the Company and they cannot seek any adjudication against it.

Now comes the question of Manjhees. The Company alleged that the cases of Manjhees should not be adjudicated as they do not want it. Jonab Saffatullah Khan protested. Out of 68 Manjhees 64 were examined by me separately and in camera. Every one of them said that he did not want any adjudication. Assuming that the four absent persons want adjudication, I shall not be prepared to disturb a system which is supported by an over-whelming majority. So far as Manjhees are concerned, there is nothing for adjudication.

I award that there is nothing to adjudicate.

I have one word of caution to the Company. If they allow things to drift in this way and do not protect the Dandees, this matter may reach out of their control.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTI, Chairman,
Tribunal.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETD.), Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal, Calcutta.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the management of Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., Serampore, and their workmen represented by Rampooria Cotton Mills Workers' Union, in connection with the question of Puja Bonus.

For the Company—Sri H. N. Sanyal, Counsel, assisted by Messrs. Dutt and Sen, Solicitors.

For the Union—Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

AWARD.

1. By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4253Lab., dated the 25th November 1948, this industrial dispute between the management of the Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., Serampore, Hooghly district, and their workmen represented by Rampooria Cotton Mills Workers' Union in connection with the question of payment of Puja Bonus has been referred to me as a Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The dispute is regarding the question of payment of what is being called Puja Bonus for the year 1948 to the workmen. A three-Judge Industrial Tribunal was constituted by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 627Lab., dated the 7th October 1947, for the adjudication of various disputes in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal between the employers of 36 cotton mills and their workmen. The Award given by that Tribunal was published in the Calcutta Gazette by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2956Lab., dated the 21st August 1948. By that order the Government has declared that the Award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the cotton mills concerned and their workmen as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 1st August 1948. The Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal considered the question of bonus under point No. 5, and in giving its Award on the subject laid down a formula for the payment of bonus linking it with the dividend declared. It appears that the Company has given effect to the Tribunal's direction regarding the payment of bonus on the basis of the formula prescribed. The workmen, however, claimed what was called Puja Bonus for the year 1948 irrespective of what was payable under the Tribunal's Award in accordance with the prescribed formula. The Company was not agreeable to pay Puja Bonus in addition, the Company's contention being that all such varieties of recurring annual bonus came under the consideration of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal and the Tribunal aimed at placing the whole subject of payment of bonus on a basis of uniformity and directed discontinuance of other varieties of annual bonus and introduced a particular kind of bonus which would depend on the profits derived and would be linked with the dividend declared. In other words, the contention raised by the Company is that the question of what is being styled Puja Bonus was definitely included in the Award of the Cotton Textile Tribunal, and the Workers' Union cannot now be permitted during the period of operation of the Award to reopen the question and press for the payment of Puja Bonus in addition to the bonus actually allowed in the Award. It is contended by the Workers' Union on the other hand that the question of Puja Bonus never came under the consideration of the Cotton Textile Tribunal as that was not a subject-matter of the dispute referred for adjudication, and the Tribunal only considered a sort of bonus depending on profits and left the question of festival bonuses like Puja Bonus alone. The Union contends that the present question of Puja Bonus did not form a subject-matter in dispute before the Cotton Textile Tribunal, and in so far as it stands outside the scope of the Award given by that Tribunal, the claim now put forward by the workers is completely justified. It appears that the claim for Puja Bonus as an additional bonus was pressed so hard on behalf of the workers that some workmen resorted to hunger strike for a few days. That strike was, however, happily terminated on the basis of an agreement by which both sides agreed to have the matter referred to a Tribunal for adjudication as to the correct interpretation of the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal. That is how this matter has been referred to me as a Tribunal for adjudication. In the light of the statements submitted by both parties and of the discussions relating thereto the following issue has been framed by this Tribunal:—

> In view of the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal, is the claim for Puja Bonus maintainable? If so, on what basis should Puja Bonus be paid?

2. The scope of the adjudication by the present Tribunal should be clearly understood by all concerned at the outset. The primary question before me is to find out, on a correct and reasonable interpretation of the language used in the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal, whether the present claim for what is being styled Puja Bonus should be held to be covered by that Award. If the answer to this question is in the affirmative the present Tribunal will not proceed any further. If on the other hand, the answer is in the negative it will be for this Tribunal to consider the question of payment of Puja Bonus on its own merits. It should be clearly understood that so far as the present adjudication is concerned there can be no question of revising or reviewing the Award given by the Cotton Textile Tribunal and further it is not open to either party to ask for anything which will have the effect of reopening that Award. The only task imposed on me as a Tribunal in the first instance, is to interpret the Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award in a reasonable manner in the light of such intention of that Tribunal as can be gathered from the language used and the line of reasoning pursued. It is certainly not for me to import my own ideas regarding bonus into the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. I must take the Award as it is and proceed to interpret it for a correct interpretation consistently with the intention of that Tribunal.

3. In order to understand the underlying principles adopted by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal and the dominating intention which that Tribunal was actuated in coming to its conclusion on the subject of bonus as per [illegible] 5, it will be useful to make copious [illegible] to certain important passages in the [illegible] would like to quote the following passage in particular: "The underlying principle for the payment of bonus is that the employees has contributed by labour for the earning of profits made by the Company. A part of the profits so earned which determined at the end of the year will go to the employees. * * * *. Festival Bonus, Independence Bonus, etc., may be described as ex gratia bonus but there is a marked difference between such bonuses and bonus in general on which labourers seem to have got some claim, however thin it may be. * * * *. The only just and equitable principle upon which an employer may be called upon to grant a bonus to the employees is to consider the amount of profits made by the employer in any given year and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear this additional burden of granting bonus without impairing the efficiency or injuring the business in any vital matter. It is clear that bonus, as described above, is obviously dependent on the prosperity of the business concerned inasmuch as certain conditions of prosperity may make the payment of it possible, other conditions of depressions may make it impossible". I give further quotation from the latter part of the Tribunal's Award under point No. 5 as follows: "It is obvious that it is time to bring about some uniformity in regard to the distribution of bonus. It has been said that almost all the mills in the Province except the Basanti Cotton Mill paid some bonuses during the years prior to 1947. Some of the mills paid bonus equivalent to a month's wage and some for a longer period. We consider that the method adopted in Madras for distribution of bonus is fair and reasonable. In the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills the bonus paid is linked with profits distributed. If the dividend declared to the shareholders is 12½ per cent., the bonus is 12½ ÷ 100 × 12 or 1½ months' wages. When 30 per cent. dividend was declared by the Madras Mills three months' bonus was paid. In the Award of the Industrial Tribunal on the conditions of labour in the Textile Industry in the Madras Presidency Rao Bahadur M. Venkataramaiya, the Adjudicator, favoured distribution of bonus in the Textile Industry in that Province on the method adopted by the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills. His observation on the point is that "if the shareholders who have contributed towards capital get a certain percentage of dividend, the same percentage should be made available to the workers whose investment, viz., labour is evaluated at the wages paid to them in the year. We also consider that adoption of that principle for distribution of bonus in this Province would bring about some uniformity in the matter and be fair to both capital and labour and recommend accordingly. The bonus [illegible] shall be linked with the dividend declared." The Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal in West Bengal then proceeds to give certain directions and to lay down a formula more or less in accord with the principles laid down in the Madras Award. It will be clear from the passages which I have quoted above among other passages which occur in the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal that—

(1) the Tribunal was aware of the existence of varied practices regarding the payment of bonus in different units of the Cotton Mill Industry,

(2) the Tribunal felt the necessity of bringing about some uniformity in regard to the distribution of bonus,

(3) the Tribunal recognised that the only just and equitable principle upon which an employer might be called upon to grant a bonus to the employees was to consider the amount of profits derived and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear the additional burden, and with that end in view and also for bringing about some uniformity in respect of the payment of bonus the Tribunal decided to follow to a great extent the Award of Rao Bahadur M. Venkataramaiya as per paragraphs 86, 87, 88, etc., of the Award of the Industrial Tribunal on the conditions of labour in the Textile Industry in the Madras Presidency, and holding that a policy of linking bonus with the dividend declared would be fair to both capital and labour the Tribunal laid down a formula governing the distribution of bonus. It appears from the earlier part of the Tribunal's Award under point No. 5 that the demand of the workers regarding bonus was for four months' wages with a minimum limit of Rs. 150 to be paid out of the profits earned by the Companies during the years 1942-1945 to all workmen employed during the period, on the profit sharing basis, and three months' wages to all who worked or would work for 3 months in a year as annual recurring bonus, for every year subsequent to 1945. At another place of the Award the Tribunal has observed that bonus was claimed under two heads, viz., profit-sharing bonus and annual bonus for the period 1942-1945 and also for the period posterior to 1942-1945. It is clear, therefore, that the Tribunal had under consideration not only a subject of profit-sharing bonus but also all kinds of annual recurring bonus, and after fully considering the subjects from different angles the Tribunal laid stress on two fundamental things, namely, (1) uniformity and (2) fairness to both capital and labour, and then came to its conclusion about the formula linking bonus with the dividend declared. In coming to its conclusion, as I have already indicated, with reference to the passages quoted from the Tribunal's Award, the Tribunal was fully conscious of the existence of varied practices regarding the bonus paid from year to year in different mills of the industry and the Tribunal obviously wanted to put a stop to these varied practices and to introduce a uniform system in the same manner as Rao Bahadur Venkataramaiya of Madras did in his Award. I must come to the conclusion that if the present claim regarding Puja bonus is in respect of an annual recurring bonus, irrespective of its nomenclature, it must be held to be covered by the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal.

4. I may now proceed to examine the character of the bonus claimed in the present dispute as Puja bonus. I must say in this connection that the name by itself cannot be the sole guide, and in judging the character of the bonus we must pay attention to all the circumstances surrounding it. The Company appears to have paid a bonus to its workmen from year to year for the last few years starting from the year 1943. In 1943 bonus to the extent of 15 days' wages was decided upon or paid in the month of December which was not the Puja season. In 1944 and again in 1945 bonus to the extent of 15 days' wages was paid in the month of November which also does not appear to have been the Puja season. In 1946 bonus to the extent of one month's wages was paid in the month of October which was probably the Puja season. In 1947 bonus at a flat rate to the extent of Rs. 101 was paid to the workers as a temporary measure pending the publication of the Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award, and bonus to the extent of two months' wages was paid to the clerical staff. It is not clear from the materials placed before me as to whether the bonus for 1947 was paid in the puja season. We may, however, assume that it was so paid. It is clear that although there might have been some connection between the payment of extra emolument in the shape of bonus and the additional expenses which the majority of the employees would probably incur during the Puja season, the bonus actually paid from year to year during the last few years did not necessarily have any intrinsic connection with the festival known as Puja. The whole idea on the part of the workers was to get extra emoluments at some convenient time during the year and the idea on the part of the Company was probably to mitigate the hardship of the workers due to the rise in the cost of living. In paragraph 11 of the Union's statement in connection with the present adjudication I find a reference to the Company's having made substantial profits during the years 1947-48, the implication being that the payment f bonus would have something to do with the fact of profits having accrued. There is nothing before me to establish the proposition that what is being called as Puja Bonus is essentially a mere festival bonus, and on analysing all the facts and circumstances surrounding the payment of bonus by the present Company from year to year during the last few years, I can come to no other conclusion than that the bonus claimed is nothing more and nothing less than an annual recurring bonus. It is quite clear from the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal that that Tribunal had the question of annual recurring bonus fully under its consideration, and the Tribunal evolved a definite formula with regard to the payment of such annual recurring bonus with the idea of doing away with all varieties of annual recurring bonus which were in existence in many of the individual units of the Cotton Textile Industry. In view of what the Tribunal has actually recorded in its Award I am unable to interpret the language in a manner which would permit the grant of an annual bonus for the year 1948 in accordance with the formula prescribed by the Tribunal and also another annual bonus in the garb of a particular nomenclature. This being the position I must come to the conclusion that the present claim for the bonus called Puja Bonus is not maintainable in view of the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal. That being the answer to the first question involved in the issue framed the second question as to the basis on which Puja Bonus should be paid does not arise. I decide the issue and make my Award accordingly.

5. In conclusion I would appeal to the workers under the Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., to appreciate the implications of the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal in the proper spirit, and to accept the Award as it is and not to try to circumvent it by raising issues which are not applicable during the period of operation of the Award. The Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award will cease to operate after the 31st July 1949. If any party finds the terms of the Award inconvenient from its own point of view in the light of actual experience, and wishes to reagitate the whole question of bonus including what is sometimes loosely called Puja Bonus or by any other name, the time for putting forward such claims will be after the 31st July 1949 and not before the expiry of the period of operation of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. I would earnestly appeal to all parties concerned to exercise a little patience and to accept the Award in the correct spirit during the declared period of operation, and, if there are any real grievances, to take such steps as may be necessary when a procedure of reagitating the matter will be legally permissible.

For the Union: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader, and Sri Surjya Roy, Secretary, Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union.

AWARD.

1. By Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 657Lab., dated the 16th February 1949, this industrial dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Birlapore, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union, Birlapore, 24-Parganas, over the question of payment of puja bonus for 1948 has been referred to me as an Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The case put forward on behalf of the workers is that the Company paid puja bonus in various forms in the puja season every year since 1937 and this payment of puja bonus has become a special attractive feature for the workers employed in the Birla Jute Mill, and it has become a term of employment. The Company's case, on the other hand, is that puja bonus of a small value was given purely as an ex gratia payment since the year 1937, that the payment of such bonus was never a term of employment and the workers have no legitimate claim regarding such payment and the Company actually gave bonus from year to year sometimes in the form of cash, and sometimes in the form of wearing apparel or even utensils, such as an employer would ordinarily give as a token of love to household servants in the puja season. It appears that during the pendency of the proceedings before the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal which was constituted on the 15th August 1947, a question of payment of puja bonus for the year 1947 was referred to a special Industrial Tribunal constituted by Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., and the latter Tribunal gave its Award on 2nd January 1948 directing that puja bonus to the extent of Rs. 4 for each worker for 1947 should be paid to the workmen represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union giving a certain undertaking relating to abstinence of lightning strikes. Under the direction of the special Tribunal appointed for adjudication of the matter about puja bonus for 1947, the amount of puja bonus awarded was paid on the necessary undertaking having been given by the Workers' Union. The Jute Textile Industry Tribunal gave its Award on the 31st August 1948 and that Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette by an order, dated the 20th September 1948. The Jute Tribunal dealt with the question of bonus under Issue No. 7, but under the particular circumstances discussed in the Award the Tribunal left the issue open for future decision. On the statements submitted by the parties in connection with the present adjudication the following issues have been framed:—

(1) Was payment of puja bonus for 1948 a term of employment as alleged in the Union's statement?

(2) If so, are the workers entitled to puja bonus for 1948, and on what basis?

(3) If not, should the workers be paid puja bonus for 1948 and on what basis?

Issue No. 1.

2. I now proceed to deal with the issues one by one and take up Issue No. 1 first, the question being whether the payment of puja bonus for 1948 was a term of employment as alleged in the Union's statement. The Secretary of the Union and the Secretary to the Company have been examined as witnesses on the two sides respectively. The Union Secretary, in his evidence, has said that he considers the payment of bonus to be a term of employment inasmuch as the workers got bonus from year to year and they expected to get it for 1948. The Secretary to the Company has definitely stated that the bonus was paid by the Company only when the Company felt like it, or, in other words, that the payment of bonus was entirely an ex gratia affair and it depended on the sweet will of the employers. It is not disputed that bonus in some form or other was paid since the year 1937. It is interesting to note that apart from cash amounts having been paid on some occasions, chaddars, khaddar pieces, dhotis, saris, banians and even brass thalis were given in some years. It does not appear that bonus to the extent of one month's wages, as now claimed by the workers in the present proceeding, was paid on any occasion. In the light of the facts and circumstances appearing from the materials placed at my disposal I am satisfied that the small bonus given in the puja season from year to year, in cash or in kind, was an ex gratia payment, and in spite of the expectation which the practice might have created in the minds of actual or prospective workers, it is difficult to say that the payment of bonus of this kind has actually developed into one of the terms of employment. The subject may be considered on its own merits in the light of the particular circumstances arising from year to year, but, as matters stand, I must answer Issue No. 1 in the negative. I make my award under Issue No. 1 accordingly.

Issue No. 2.

3. Inasmuch as Issue No. (1) has been answered in the negative, Issue No. (2), which depends on an affirmative answer in respect of Issue No. (1), does not arise.

Issue No. 3.

4. I pass on next to Issue No. (3) which arises on a negative answer in respect of Issue No. (1). Though the payment of puja bonus for 1948 cannot be held to be a term of employment, the question is whether the workers should be paid puja bonus for 1948 as a measure of justice and fairness, and, if so, on what basis such bonus should be paid. At this stage it may be useful to dispel any idea in the mind of any one to the effect that simply because puja bonus has been given hitherto as an ex gratia payment, and it cannot be said to be one of the existing terms of employment, this subject cannot form the subject matter of an industrial dispute which can be adjudicated upon. However petty the bonus given may have been and whatever may have been its nature or nomenclature, it is claimed that it has been a recurring annual bonus, irrespective of its ex gratia character. The whole subject of bonus being an ex gratia payment has been elaborately dealt with in paragraphs 8(1) and 8(2) on pages 34 to 37 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal's Award, dated the 31st August 1948. It is now well-settled that bonus, irrespective of its character or nomenclature when demanded by the employees and refused by the employers becomes a subject matter of an industrial dispute in so far as such a dispute is connected with the terms of employment, though the subject matter does not in fact constitute one of the existing terms of employment. The subject matter of the dispute need not be one of the existing terms of employment at all, and it will be sufficient if the controversy between the parties relates to a subject which, according to either party, may or should be a term of employment. The connection between the dispute and the terms of employment is established as soon as the employees demand that the subject matter is or should be a term of employment and the employers resist by contending that it is not, or should not be, or cannot be a term of employment. There is no manner of doubt, therefore, that this subject of puja bonus for 1948 can properly constitute the subject matter of an industrial dispute which can be legally referred for adjudication. As regards the Award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal on the subject of bonus, that Tribunal evidently left the matter completely open for future decision, and consequently there is no bar to any subject of bonus, being considered on its own merits by the present Tribunal. The sole and whole question here is whether the petty bonus which has been actually paid by the Company from year to year should be paid in respect of the year 1948, in the interest of industrial peace. There is no manner of doubt that in view of what has actually happened from year to year a sort of expectation has been created in the minds of the workers to the effect that the petty bonus would be paid to them as before. Expectation unfulfilled sometimes gives rise to bitterness or lack of good will, and, as far as I can judge, the non-fulfilment of the expectation in respect of the year 1948 has been causing a certain amount of bitterness. I perfectly appreciate that the practice of giving the petty bonus owed its origin to the generosity of the employers whose attitude was undoubtedly highly commendable. So far as one can see without going into details, the present Company is a prosperous concern and one would be justified in thinking that the Company can very well continue the practice of giving the petty bonus as in previous years, for purchasing the good will and co-operation of the workers if not for anything else. I must say that when the whole question of bonus in its various forms comes to be considered in a comprehensive manner with regard to the Jute Textile Industry as a whole, this subject of puja bonus may have to be subjected to scrutiny and revision by the Tribunal concerned in the light of all the surrounding facts and circumstances. But till that event happens, the expectation in the minds of the workers continues to persist, and in my opinion, it would not be too much of a burden on this highly respectable and properous concern to pay the petty bonus as claimed by the workers. It may be that many other mills were not paying any bonus of this character and they will not be called upon to pay any bonus, either petty or big, till perhaps the whole question of bonus comes to be considered in a comprehensive manner in the future. But there is no reason why the Birla Jute Mill should not continue to hold its head high over the others and maintain its serene dignity. It is from that point of view that I have decided to appeal to the employers in this case to continue the practice as a measure of good will in the best interest of industrial peace.

I think the direction given by Sri S. K. Sen in his Award, dated 2nd January 1948, with regard to the puja bonus for 1947 will be very appropriate in our present case. Although there were no pronounced strikes during the year 1948, it has been brought to my notice that there was partial cessation of work on the 5th January and the 13th October 1948. It is probable that the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union was not quite responsible for what happened on those occasions, and there is no reason for taking a serious view regarding the partial cessation of work. But the necessity of getting an assurance for good behaviour still remains and I have come to the conclusion that the condition which was imposed in the Award of Sri S. K. Sen is still necessary. I have, therefore, decided to reiterate the direction which was given by Sri S. K. Sen in his Award, dated 2nd January 1948. I accordingly direct as follows. The workmen under the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., who have not received any puja bonus for 1948, shall be paid a puja bonus to the extent of rupees four only per head, on the workmen as represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union giving a written undertaking not to launch any lightning strike. This undertaking, however, would not apply to the case of any one day hartal held for a political or other cause under a mandate issued by the All-India National Trade Union Congress to which the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union is affiliated.

ORDER.

No. 1424Lab.—23rd March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 366Lab., dated the 27th January 1949, the industrial dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees, represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj.

Government of West Bengal, acting under the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, constituted a Tribunal with me to adjudicate on the dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees, as represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, in relation to the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj.

The services of these men were terminated on the following dates:—

Sri Anoop Dobey—16th December 1947.

Sri Nanbu Dubey—8th August 1948.

Sri Show Gobind—1st July 1948.

Sri Suruj—1st July 1948.

The grievance is that they have been discharged as being members of the Union. The Association say that they had a surplus on account of reduction in work and discharged these men as they were irregular in attendance.

AWARD.

All the menials are members of the Union. Nothing has been shown to prove that the four persons were more militant than others. The four persons fall under two categories, jamadars and ordinary servants. Anoop and Nanbu Dobey were jamadars and Show Gobind and Suruj were ordinary servants. I give below a list of the servants in employ at the time of the discharge of Show Gobind and Suruj with respective dates of appointment:

Show Gobind Ram—1st July 1945.

Ganesh Ram—September 1944.

Somnath—22nd June 1944.

Samaru—2nd March 1945.

The two persons discharged were juniormost men and when all were equal members of the Union, no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice arises. No order for re-instatement can be made in their favour.

Now about the two jamadars: Anoop and Nanbuku. The names of jamadars with relevant dates of appointment are given below:—

Anoop—4th November 1944.

Nanbuku—1st February 1945.

Sachidananda Pande—June 1945.

Kesen Dobey—26th July 1945.

Shew Kailas Pathak—September 1945.

Shew Prasad—18th October 1945.

Anoop and Nanbu were senior to all though the latter was not much senior to others in employ. The employers' version is that they had a surplus and had to retrench some and selected those who were most irregular in attendance to duties.

I have examined the attendance register of these persons and I am satisfied that these were worst in the matter of absence. remained away from Calcutta for one rea other. All the persons were members Union. No malice against these two proved. In the circumstances, I cannot that the termination of services involved any victimisation or unfair labour practice. No direction for re-instatement can be made. As they discharged not for misconduct but for business, I direct that they be given pre the Association has to recruit new me

The claims are disallowed and award accordingly.

The Union pressed for other demands about wages, etc. The question is whether these matters come within the scope of the reference

The text of the reference is: "Whereas an industrial dispute has arisen including that in connection with the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj, between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta and their employees represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, and it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act to appoint Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge to be the Tribunal and to refer the dispute to the said Tribunal for adjudication." The use of the words "including that" give rise to the idea that the reference covers other disputes. This however does not define what the disputes are. To ascertain this, I am to refer to the report of the Labour Commissioner on which Government constituted the Tribunal. It appears from the report of the Labour Commissioner that the disputes related to the discha[illegible] of 13 men out of which 9 men were re-instated at his instance, leaving these four. [illegible]e is [illegible]mand for re-instatement of the 9 men, nor ca[illegible]e. It is thus abundantly clear that wher[illegible] Government constituted this Tribunal, the ref[illegible] adjudicate on the dispute centering [illegible] four discharged men. In these circumstances, the other matters are outside the scope of the reference and cannot now be considered. I was requested to look into the file of the Labour Commissioner to see what were the items of dispute. I am afraid, in the present situation this will serve no useful purpose as I am concerned to know only what dispute was in the mind of the Government when the reference was made. For this purpose the report of the Labour Commissioner to Government is the only relevant document. So the other matters cannot be gone into now despite the inartistic language of the reference.

2. After carrying out a detailed investigation into the cost of production of certain main types of paper for the half year ended March 1948, at six representative mills situated in different regions of the country, the Board has made the following recommendations in regard to sales to the public:—

(1) That the selling price of white printing paper should be fixed at Rs. 0-10-1 per pound.

RESOLUTION.

New Delhi, the 28th February 1949.

No. 20(2)-T.B./48.—In their Resolution in the Department of Commerce No. [illegible] dated the 27th April 1947, the Government of India referred to the Tariff Board [illegible] to protection received from the bobbins industry. The Board, having considered this claim, has submitted its report to Government. [illegible] main recommendations are as follows:—

"(1) So long as the licensing [illegible] of bobbins is continued for [illegible] payments considerations, [illegible] desirability of maintaining and [illegible] expanding the indigenous production of the article should be kept in view and the question of imports should be regulated [illegible] such

(4) The manufacturers of bobbins should take early steps to equip their units with modern machinery and tools. Government should give them facilities to import such machinery and tools.

(5) The present facilities for the supply of the three types of timber to the bobbin mnaufacturers, viz., haldu, kalam and mango should be enlarged. Government should arrange to have adequate tests carried out regarding the suitability of different kinds of timber for the manufacture of bobbins and secure the co-operation of textile mills for this purpose.

(6) So long as import restrictions on timber continue for balance of payments consideration imports of foreign timber for the manufacture of bobbins should be permitted only to the extent necessary to supplement the supply of indigenous timber and that all applications for permits to import timber for this purpose should be scrutinised before such permits are issued.

(7) The two Sub-Committees recently appointed by the Indian Standards Institution to evolve standard specifications for jute mill bobbins and cotton mill bobbins respectively, should be required to expedite their work.

(8) Pending adoption of standard specifications, Government should appoint two timber experts, one from the Director General of Industry and Supply and another from the Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, to carry out a rapid survey of the industry and draw up a list of factories which are suitably equipped to produce quality bobbins. Such factories may be called 'approved' factories.

The jute and cotton mill industries should buy their requirement of bobbins, as far as available, from 'approved' factories''

As regards recommendations (1) and (6) [illegible] due consideration in the [illegible] of the policy regarding imports, [illegible] revision of that policy from time to [illegible] so long as import control is necessitated [illegible] considerations. So far as recommendation (2) is concerned, the existing import restrictions on bobbins cover spare parts of jute mill bobbins as well.

[illegible] Government accept recommendations (3) and (7) [illegible] necessary action will be taken to implement them. Recommendations (5), (8) and (9) are under [illegible] consideration in the Ministries of Industry and Supply and Agriculture.

The Government of India wish to draw the attention of the industry to recommendation (4) referred in paragraph 1 of this Resolution and expect the industry to take necessary steps to implement it; Government will grant all reasonable facilities in this regard when approached by the industry.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 457L.—28th March, 1949.—The following Act of the West Bengal Legislature, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information:—

West Bengal Act XII of 1949

THE WEST BENGAL FINANCE ACT, 1949.

[Passed by the West Bengal Legislature.]

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, of the 31st March, 1949.]

An Act to extend the operation of certain provisions of the West Bengal Finance (Amendment and Repeal) Act, 1948.

WHEREAS it is expedient to extend the operation of certain provisions of the West Bengal Finance (Amendment and Repeal) Act, 1948; West Ben. Act X of 1948.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the West Bengal Finance Act, 1949.

Amendment of section 2 of West Bengal Act X of 1948. 2. In section 2 of the West Bengal Finance (Amendment and Repeal) Act, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act),—

(a) in clause (1), the brackets and words "(hereinafter in this section referred to as the said Act)" shall be omitted; and

(b) clauses (2) and (3) shall be omitted.

Insertion of new sections 2A and 2B. 3. After section 2 of the said Act, the following sections shall be inserted, namely:—

"Amendment of section 15 of Bengal Act V of 1922. 2A. In section 15 of the Bengal Amusements Tax Act, 1922,— Ben. Act V of 1922.

(a) the words and figures 'as from the second day of April, 1922,' shall be omitted; and

(b) for the words 'four per cent.', in both places where they occur, the words 'twenty per cent.' shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 18 of Bengal Act V of 1922. 2B. In section 18 of the Bengal Amusements Tax Act, 1922,—

(a) the words and figures 'as from the second day of April, 1922,' shall be omitted; and

(b) for the words 'four per cent.', the words per cent.' shall be substituted."

(b) after sub-section (2), the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(3) The provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2) shall apply in relation to an order or award as they apply in relation to a decree, if the order or award—

(a) is passed or made against the Dominion of India or a Province or a public officer in respect of any such act as aforesaid, whether by a Court or by any other authority, and

(b) is capable of being executed under the provisions of this Code or of any other law for the time being in force as if it were a decree."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 82 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, provides that, where a decree is passed against the Dominion or a Province or against a public officer in respect of an act done by him in his official capacity, a time should be specified in the decree within which it shall be satisfied and that if it is not so satisfied, a report should be made to the Government; and no execution is to issue unless the decree remains unsatisfied for a period of three months from the date of the report. It has been held by the Calcutta High Court [See I.L.R. (1942) 2 Cal. 528 at page 532] that "the section is confined to decrees passed in suits which are referred to in the previous sections and which can only be instituted after service of notice under section 80".

The object of this Bill is to make it clear that section 82 applies to decrees in all suits and to extend its provisions to orders and awards made by a Court or any other authority and capable of being executed as if they were decrees. It is clearly as necessary to give the Government and their officers an opportunity to satisfy the claims allowed against them in these cases as in those dealt with at present in section 82.
